Nixon Accorded Warm Welcome By DeGaulle

Two-Hour Session By Pair

PARIS (AP)—President Nixon came to Paris to a cordial welcome today and met more than two hours with Charles de Gaulle in what the French called a good beginning to the climactic talks with American leaders.

A spokesman for the French president at the Elysee Palace said the talks lasted two hours and 10 minutes in a "frank and cordial atmosphere."

"This is a good beginning for the conversations, which will continue tomorrow," he added.

SUBJECTS UNTOLD

There was no indication of what subjects the two chiefs of state discussed. President Nixon said in his arrival address that he had come here seeking De Gaulle's help in efforts to "build a new sense of Western purpose" and to seek a "just and lasting peace." He had urged that old quarrels be forgotten in the search for a better future.

De Gaulle long has been a balky ally of the United States.

There was little sign of hostility among the crowds who welcomed the U.S. chief executive to this "City of Light." The outpouring was not massive, but it was markedly warm to the American visitor. The Communist Party had called for anti-Nixon demonstrations when he arrived in the city. Informants said fear of violent Red demonstrations kept many Parisians away.

FRIENDSHIP HAND

Nixon at once extended the hand of friendship to De Gaulle's France, with which U.S. policymakers have long been at odds.

In return, De Gaulle recalled traditional French-American friendship and said he attached the greatest importance to the exchanges he will have with his guest. De Gaulle ended his brief welcome address at Orly Airport with the worlds, "Long live the United States."

After a moving ceremony at which Nixon presided at the placing of a wreath on the memorial to France's unknown soldier, the American President was driven down the broad Champs Elysees, crowded with well-wishers, to De Gaulle's Elysees Palace for the first of a series of meetings with the French leader.

Nixon underscored the importance he attaches to this visit by planning to devote 10 hours of his 48-hour stay in France to talks with De Gaulle, some in private, some with advisers of both present. The talks concern the most urgent problems facing the United States in Europe and Asia.

There discussions came against a background of strained U.S.-French relations dating many years. But Nixon expressed hope he would be joined by the French in looking

BAY POLLUTED

Official Stresses Shellfish Danger

An urgent warning to Marin County residents not to take shellfish from Richardson Bay was issued yesterday by County Health Officer Carolyn B. Albrecht who said tests on clams and other edible shellfish have indicated "gross sewage contamination."

The contamination of the bay was discovered among bacteriological samples recently taken by the state Department of Public Health. The state report indicated that the contamination is the result of raw sewage being discharged into the bay.

Health officials said such diseases as typhoid, infectious hepatitis and salmonella can be caused by eating the contaminated shellfish.

Dr. Albrecht said the problem has been increased by heavy rainfall which causes raw sewage to bypass treatment facilities and enter directly into bay water. Furthermore, she said, untreated wastes are being discharged directly into the bay from houseboats without sewage facilities.

Sewage treatment plants bypassed because of heavy rains are at Sausalito, Richardson Bay, Mill Valley and Tiburon, health authorities said.

In a letter to the Marin health department, Frank E. Jones, senior sanitary engineer for the state bureau of sanitary engineering, said, "The high bacteriological density found in both the shellfish and the water overlying the beds confirms this gross sewage contamination."

Rioting Continues In Rome

ROME (AP) — Rioters set fire to a U.S.-owned printing plant, shattered windows of the American Express building and burned American flags in the streets today in a second day of violence during President Nixon's visit.

Demonstrators battled police who kept them from marching on the Palazzo Chigi while Nixon conferred with Premier Mariano Rumor, prior to his departure for Paris.

Still others tried to fight their way into a carabinieri barracks, as disorders mostly involving leftists and students erupted in one section of the city after another.

ONE DEATH

This followed riots yesterday in which one student was killed, scores were injured and 199 demonstrators were arrested.

About 100 youths smashed the windows in the American Express building and burned U.S. flags in the Piazza di Spagna.

On the other side of Rome, demonstrators broke into the printing plant of the Rome Daily American. After fighting with 40 employees, they smashed equipment and set fire to $20,000 worth of newsprint.

Police arrived and dispersed the rioters and the fire was put out.

A final check on yesterday's riots, which raged through the streets of Rome, listed 85 policemen and 34 demonstrators injured. The student was killed in a fall from a window of a building at the University of Rome one of the scenes of the disorders.

ACTION DEMANDED

Christian Democrat and Liberal party legislators filed questions in Parliament demanding that the government take firm action to halt the spreading violence and restore order in the nation.

The Communist Party officially backed the disorders, which it called "a protest against the imperialistic policy of the United States."

At the same time, a scholastic group announced the organization of a "Roman Association of Democratic Students" to clear the occupiers out of the campus and resume classes in the closed university.

REINECKE'S VIEWS

No Settlement In Teacher Fuss

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke, California's acting chief of state, firmly declares that state college trustees' vote for a new discipline appeals procedure "has nothing to do with the teachers' strike" on the San Francisco campus.

Reinecke held a news conference yesterday as confusion continued over whether trustees actually acted on a proposed settlement of the strike which began Jan. 6. (See another story, page 21.)

"I want to reassure you that I was there and to indicate that the governor did not at any time change his position, that we did not in fact agree to any settlement of any kind with reference to the teachers' strike," Reinecke told newsmen.

Reinecke and Gov. Ronald Reagan both voted with the majority to accept new faculty discipline appeal procedures. A representative of the American Federation of Teachers Union local included the new rules among conditions necessary for teachers to return to work.

"Acceptance of those new rules has nothing to do with the teachers' strike," Reinecke said.

Reagan left for the National Governors Conference in Washington, D.C., shortly after the trustees' meeting in Los Angeles Wednesday. He has said that trustees have no authority to negotiate with striking teachers.

Reinecke said he called the news conference "to clarify misunderstandings" in published reports of the trustees' meeting.

"While trustees did accept an

Striking S.F. Faculty Votes To Remain Out

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Striking teachers at San Francisco State College have voted to stay off the job until Monday —and perhaps longer.

The vote came after a seven-hour meeting yesterday that left them deadlocked.

"Quite frankly, I don't know where we stand," said Gary Hawkins, president of striking Local 1352 of the American Federation of Teachers.

The meeting, called to discuss a proposed settlement agreement with the college's board of trustees, did set up a study committee to analyze the proposal and try to determine whether the college and trustees will honor it.

This committee is to report back to a meeting Sunday night.

"The only thing we're sure of is the grievance procedure," said Hawkins. He said otherwise the settlement appears ambiguous.

"We think the trustees have decided to allow the proposals to be developed by the local administration, which is fine, but we don't know," said Hawkins.

In Los Angeles, Chancellor Glenn Dumke said no further talks would be conducted with the AFT until the teachers return to work.

Dumke also said issues besides the grievance procedure were being referred back to the college as within its prerogative to deal with.

He and college executive vice president Frank Ballard noted that the grievance procedure is the product of two years work by the Academic Senate.

Ballard said also that if the teachers aren't back on the job by Monday "the administration will have to take some sort of action." He did not specify just what would be done in regard to courses for which students have registered and

Eisenhower Weakens Due To Lung Ailment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, struggling to recover from a series of heart attacks and high-risk surgery last Sunday, has developed pneumonia, Army doctors reported today.

A mid-morning bulletin from Walter Reed Army Hospital said the 78-year-old general "is generally weaker this morning, but is cooperative and determined to overcome this latest complication."

Eisenhower, at the hospital since last April after suffering a heart attack in California, underwent abdominal surgery Sunday after doctors found an intestinal obstruction that threatened his life.

Hospital bulletins earlier this week called attention to the former president's progress, including a statement Tuesday describing his recovery as "little short of remarkable" and saying Eisenhower had progressed to the point where he felt well enough to read.

Doctors' reports remained encouraging Wednesday, saying his "postoperative course has followed the expected pattern" and reporting his "vital signs have remained stable."

The vital signs refer to such things as blood pressure, pulse and breathing rate.

Observers felt yesterday's bulletin seemed more guarded as it reported Eisenhower "continues satisfactory considering his age, past medical history and the fact that he is still in the critical postoperative period."

That was the last bulletin until today's which said the general "experienced some respiratory difficulty during the night which is due to pneumonia which has developed in the right lung base."

And, for the first time , the bulletin was relayed first through the Pentagon before being released at the hospital.

Eisenhower's wife, Mamie, and son, John, returned to the hospital from their Gettysburg, Pa., and Phoenixville, Pa., homes for his surgery. John left Wednesday but the former First Lady remained in a hospital suite next to her husband's.

While Eisenhower was in the hospital recovery from the April heart attack, he suffered two more attacks Aug. 5 and Aug. 16—his sixth and seventh.

At the time of his surgery, he had rallied to the point where he was walking short distances and receiving visitors such as President Nixon and former President Lyndon B. Johnson.

A private surgeon not associated with Eisenhower's case said today the lung complication could be very serious because of his age and past medical history.

He described the complication as a usual thing in operations of the type the former President underwent Sunday.

The doctor, who asked that his name not be used, said that in an ordinary case lung complications usually clear up in about 24 hours.

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — The Turkish government said yesterday a visit next month of U.S. Navy Sixth Fleet ships to Izmir has been postponed, a move seen as a result of the violent demonstrations on the fleet's last visit.

The Go-Between

GLADWYNE, Pa. (AP) — Translator for President Nixon on his visit to Rome yesterday was a Pennsylvania housewife — hired by the Italian government.

She is Mrs. Vivian Bonaccorsi Lewis, mother of two, who was born in Italy and worked for the government there before her marriage four years ago to Edward David Lewis, a Philadelphia architect.

Even though she lives in America now, the Italian government keeps her on call as a free-lance translator.

Strike Costly

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Ireland appears near the end of a three-week-old strike that has closed factories throughout the country, caused serious shortage and cost the country an estimated $3 million a day in industrial production.

Thirty-five thousand workers kept off the job by the nationwide strike of 3,000 maintenance craftsmen were expected to go back to work on Monday.

The strikers were offered a raise of nine cents an hour and another six cents in October. The union recommended the offer be accepted.

Clothing Deaths

NEW YORK (AP) — State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz told a safety hearing yesterday 26 persons have died in the city since 1966 of burns suffered when highly inflammable clothing and household furnishings material caught fire.

Guam Memorial

AGANA, Guam (UPI)—Construction of a war memorial to Japanese dead is expected to begin soon on Guam, government sources said today. Some citizens opposed to honoring the Japanese occupiers tried to defeat the memorial in the legislature but that effort failed.

Lost DC3 Feared Buried In Snow

HAWTHORNE, Nev. (AP) — An airliner with 35 persons aboard, missing for 11 days in snow-covered mountains along the Nevada-California border, may not be found until spring, search officials said today.

The Mineral County Airlines DC3 vanished early Feb. 18 while returning 32 gambling casino patrons from Hawthorne to Burbank and Long Beach. It had a crew of three.

Snow, wind and icy cold have kept search planes grounded much of the time.

CAPITOL FLAP OVER EGRETS

Seeking to preserve a Humboldt Bay nesting area for white plumed egrets, Assembly Democratic Leader Jesse M. Unruh has aroused the wrath of Sen. Randolph Collier, R-Yreka, and Eureka residents who want to build a bridge to Gunther Island. Unruh has asked for an Assembly Rules Committee hearing on the conservation issue and a resolution against the span. "This thing has been heard to death," Collier says. Eureka bought the island for $60,000, aiming to develop it as a tourist attraction. (AP Wirephoto)

Auto Mileage Loophole Plug Voted

SACRAMENTO (AP) — With one member accusing the news media of building distrust in the legislature's intent, an Assembly committee has approved a bill to repeal a law passed last year allowing some auto dealers to turn back the mileage indicators of new cars.

Assemblyman Frank Lanterman, R-La Canada, said he was "so bitterly angered at the distrust created by some members of the press that I would have liked to take legal action." But he voted with other members of the Assembly Transportation Committee yesterday to send the repeal bill to the Assembly floor.

Assemblyman Paul Priolo, R-Pacific Palisades, who introduced the repealer, said last year's measure "was meritorious, I am sure in its intent, but its consequences went far beyond what those who voted for it thought they would."

Last year's law allows a new car dealer to disconnect the odometer, the mileage indicator, of a new car if it is being driven from one dealer to another before sale. It was intended to give the purchaser a warranty covering the mileage he actually puts on the car.

But the bill caused a public outcry, Priolo said, because it would enable an unscrupulous dealer to disconnect the odometer of a demonstrator model.

And it drew national attention, he said, when the "Rowan and Martin Laugh-In" television show presented the legislature with its "Flying Fickle Finger of Fate Award" because of the bill.

State Tax Study Will Call For Withholding

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A special tax study commission will tell Gov. Ronald Reagan Monday that California should adopt a system of withholding state personal income taxes, sources in the Capitol said today.

"Withholding is a recommendation," said a source close to the Advisory Commission on Tax Reform, who declined the use of his name.

Reagan, who set up the commission, has opposed taxing by payroll deduction for years and has shown no signs of relenting. The governor favors the present system of paying taxes once a year so "they hurt."

The commission chairman, State Controller Houston I. Flournoy, backs withholding and is expected to fight for it in the legislature. Both Reagan and Flournoy are Republicans.

Chairman William T. Bagley, R-San Anselmo, of the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee, who will carry Flournoy's plan in the legislature, said he hopes the governor changes his mind.

"I hope the governor doesn't oppose the report simply because it has withholding as part of it," said Bagley.

Bagley, using estimates provided by the state Franchise Tax Board, said the system of payroll deductions of personal income taxes would bring in at least $130 million more a year to the state treasury.

At least $50 million would come from collecting taxes from people who now evade them.

Another $70 million, he said, would come from the speedup in tax collections, which allows the state to take immediate advantage of the growth of the California economy.

And $10 million, he said, would come from taxes paid by people who didn't owe them — but neglected to apply for a refund.

In addition, he said, withholding would provide a one-time $500 million boost to the treasury. That's because taxes normally not collected until April 15, 1971, would come in on Jan. 1, 1971, if the system were put into effect this year.

This money, said Bagley, could pay for new construction for the University of California and the state colleges.

Flournoy has asked commission members to remain silent about the report until it goes to Reagan.

But one member indicated there would be a proposal that would generally involve the state collecting more taxes, and then redistributing them back to local governments.

American's Jets Still Grounded

NEW YORK (AP)—Thousands of passengers are receiving apologies instead of service from strikebound American Airlines. The lucky ones made connections, despite delays and round-about routings, aboard other airlines.

Since the nationwide strike by 15,000 ground employees hit American at 12:01 a.m. yesterday, other lines have made efforts to provide seats for those scheduled to fly American.

Most major airlines that have routes served by American increased their ground personnel and flight traffic to minimize inconvenience.

Meanwhile, American suspended all flight operations until at least 6 a.m. tomorrow. Airline and Transport Workers Union representatives meet today with the National Mediation Board in Washington.

SPAIN, PORTUGAL HIT

Three Moroccans Dead In Quake

LISBON (UPI)—The world's strongest earthquake in five years and several aftershocks rumbled across Spain, Portugal and Morocco today, killing three persons, injuring dozens and sending frightened thousands into the streets.

In Sale, Morocco, two apartment buildings crumbled under the quake's onslaught and two persons were killed. Another death was reported in Rabat, Morocco, where 50 persons were treated for shock.

A half-dozen parked cars were crushed beneath the front wall of an old house that collapsed in Lisbon. The city was without power or telephone service for 15 minutes. Pajama-clad residents fled their homes.

The major quake, the first in this area in five years, sent shock waves rumbling for 15 seconds. After-shocks 30 seconds long followed. Hours later, just before dawn, still another tremor shook the region.

In Madrid, residents worried about relatives and friends in the stricken area hurried to telephones, causing what was described as the worst telephone jam in the city's history.

The quake was felt as far away as Madrid and shook virtually every town in Portugal. The tremor was believed centered in the Atlantic, near the Azores.

But Santa Maria Airport, in the Azores, reported it had felt nothing.

Thousands of Portuguese and tourists fled homes and hotels, dressed in their pajamas, and sat for hours on street benches and in cars, fearing a second tremor. One small aftershock was felt in Lisbon about an hour and a half after the main quake.

Police in Rabat reported one man was killed when a house collapsed on him. Houses also collapsed in Casablanca and Marakech, Morocco.

Light Quake Hits Palmdale

PALMDALE, (Los Angeles County) (AP) — A light earthquake felt over a distance of 60 miles downed telephone and shattered a few windows last night but otherwise little damage was reported.

The shock, centered near here on the San Andreas fault which runs nearly the length of California, sent residents scurrying from their homes into the street.

Deputy Charles Jensen, who was in the sheriff's substation, said, "I myself thought the roof was going to fall. It was the most extreme I ever felt. Our units (patrol cars) in the field saw people running from their homes."

The temblor, rated 4.3 on the Richter scale, occurred at 8:54 p.m. Seismologists at the California Institute of Technology said the quake could have caused slight damage to buildings around its epicenter.

The only reports of destruction were of telephone lines down near here and broken windows in Los Angeles.

Sniper Fire

TEL AVIV (AP) — Two Israeli soldiers were wounded by Arab snipers today along the Suez Canal dividing Israel and Egypt, the army said.

A spokesman accused the Egyptians of sniping intermittently for two hours at four places along the east bank of the waterway. He did not say whether fire was returned.

Sniping incidents have increased on the canal in recent weeks, wounding at least a dozen Israelis, the army said.

Flowers Convicted Of Extortion

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Former Alabama Atty. Gen. Richmond Flowers and two other men have been convicted of conspiring to extort money from persons and firms doing business in Alabama while Flowers was in office from 1963-67. A federal court jury of eight men and four women returned the verdict yesterday against Flowers, businessman Oscar Hyde of Miami and Birmingham and former Asst. Atty. Gen. Joe Breck Gantt of Birmingham.

Flowers

U. S. Dist. Judge Clarence Allgood said he would pronounce sentence March 10 and freed the men on their own recognizance. Defense attorneys said they would appeal.

Flowers and Hyde were convicted of all four counts charged in an indictment returned last August. Gantt was convicted of the three counts in which he was named.

Maximum penalty is $10,000 in fines and 20 years in prison per count.

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — The Turkish government said yesterday a visit next month of U.S. Navy Sixth Fleet ships to Izmir has been postponed, a move seen as a result of the violent demonstrations on the fleet's last visit.

The U.S. State Department confirmed the postponement but said it was made for operational reasons.

updating or a renewal of academic discipline and grievance procedure," Reinecke said, "this had been under consideration for about three years . . ."

He also said the procedures would apply to all (19) college campuses, not just to San Francisco State College.

Reinecke was asked if he had any objection if the new discipline rules helped end the strike.

"I would like to see teachers go back to work," he said.

The order of events at the meeting:

Trustee Louis H. Heilbron of San Francisco introduced the new discipline plan designed to give faculty more say in choosing discipline appeal boards. Trustee Charles Luckman of Los Angeles asked that trustees at the same time take up the report of the special committee on the San Francisco State College teachers' strike. The committee was headed by Heilbron.

Trustees Dudley Swim of Carmel and George D. Hart of Ross, voted against accepting the disciplinary procedures recommended in the strike settlement.

Chairman John Stafford of the colleges' Academic Senate explained that the discipline plan was developed after long study by the senate. He said it was revised recently, but not in order to satisfy demands of the striking teachers at San Francisco.

However, Heilbron said his committee brought the Senate's recommendations to the attention of the San Francisco Labor Council. He said development of the new discipline appeals plan helped his committee in discussing the San Francisco strike with the teachers' union.

Heilbron reported he sent a letter to George W. Johns, secretary-treasurer of the labor council. In it, he listed nine recommendations to the trustees—including the discipline appeals plan—designed to end the strike. "It was called a package—but it was not any word used by us," Heilbron said.

Reagan had contended Heilbron's committee did not have authority to negotiate a strike settlement.

The first of the nine points in Heilbron's letter noted that the board of trustees or its representative "is authorized by law on proper request to meet with employee organization representatives" and that the teachers' union was such an organization.

Reagan said, "I think it is regrettable a letter written and signed by a trustees' committee should have been distorted . . . to indicate capitulation to strikers demands."

Trustee Edward O. Lee of Oakland commented, "I'm interested in solving the situation rather than in our image of how something is going to look." But Swim referred to Heilbron's proposal as "appeasement . . . If this isn't an unmistakeable record of negotiation, I don't know one when I see it."

After lengthy debate in which Heilbron said his group "met and conferred" with a number of San Francisco campus groups, Reagan proposed a motion to permit discussions with faculty groups, but not when they are on strike.

"The governor's motion in no way precludes a subsequent vote on grievance procedures," Luckman said, referring to the discipline plan. Reagan's motion passed 14-4.

Heilbron's motion then was adopted 15-2, with Reagan voting for it.

Trustee Alec Cory of San Diego moved to accept all points in Heilbron's letter, including means of reinstating dismissed teachers. Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke said, "The letter is just a restatement of existing policy and I suggest we let it lay." Cory withdrew his motion.

Following the board's vote, it was announced by Reagan's office in Sacramento that Heilbron, whose term had expired on the panel, was being replaced by William O. Weissich, San Rafael attorney and former Marin County district attorney. Weissich's term is for eight years.

Heilbron's term was one of two that had expired. The other new appointee is E. Litton Bivans, a Glendale industrialist, whe replaced Paul Spencer of San Dimas, Los Angeles County.

Youth Booked As Suspect In Burglary Case

A Petaluma youth was arrested on suspicion of burglary yesterday after leading police in a chase ending at Calvary Cemetery.

Thomas Chassereau, 19, of 180-B Cherry Street, was arrested in connection with the Feb. 9 burglary of the Bernard E. Eldredge School. A record player valued at $83 and a tape recorder valued at $135 were stolen.

Police Lt. Henry Eslick said he had received reports that Chassereau and his 18-year-old brother, Roger, had been attempting to sell items similar to the stolen goods. Armed with a search warrant, the police found the items still bearing the school stencil marks at Chassereau's home on Wednesday, according to Eslick. He said that when police attempted to arrest the youth yesterday, he fled on his motorcycle and was chased into the cemetery where he was apprehended.

Chassereau was scheduled for an arraignment in Petaluma Municipal Court this afternoon. His brother is being sought, Eslick said.

NIXON

forward and forgetting past aggravations.

Nixon continued to look fit and happy despite the grueling schedule since Sunday when he began this 10,500-mile tour. France is the fifth capital of Nixon's stop—appropriately, he said, the last of the allied capitals. This again underlined the importance of France in Nixon's hopes for Europe's future and a stable peace. His next stop is Rome again for a call on Pope Paul.

At the Arc de Triumph, after standing with closed eyes during a muffled roll of drums and a bugle call in honor of France's dead, Nixon mingled enthusiastically with a throng of French and American well-wishers.

Then, on his way from the ceremony, en route to the Elysees Palace and his first meeting with De Gaulle, he ordered his limousine stopped when he spotted girls in the Champs Elysees crowd carrying parasols of Stars and Stripes fabrics.

To the dismay of security men, Nixon leaped from De Gaulle's spanking new limousine and approached the sidewalk throng behind police barriers to shake hands with the teen-age girls.

Saying goodbye in Rome, Premier Mariano Rumor expressed Italy's apprecation of Nixon's plan to negotiate outstanding issues with the Soviet Union. He told Nixon those negotiations "will be a great contribution toward the solution of the problems which trouble the life of the people and the construction of a more stable and specific international order."

Supervisors' Dues Going Up

The price of belonging to the County Supervisors Association of California is going up.

For the 1969-70 fiscal year, Marin County has been asked to contribute $6,745, up from this year's $6,155.

William R. MacDougall, general counsel and manager of the association, requested the appropriation in a letter to the Marin County board yesterday.

A fee schedule enclosed by MacDougall shows that San Francisco's share will go up from $15,390 to $16,465; Contra Costa from $13,680 to $14,935; Sonoma from $5,245 to $5,805; Solano from $3,875 to $4,310; and Napa from $2,395 to $2,610.

STATE

teachers are not showing up.

Hawkins, in discussing the possibility of returning to work Monday, refused to say whether it hinged on settlement of the student strike that began Nov. 6. Since they struck Jan. 6, the teachers had insisted that the student strike be settled before they would return.

"There must be a return to a tranquil and academically free atmosphere," said Hawkins yesterday. "The trappings of a police state on campus are intolerable."

Failure of the teachers to approve the settlement and return to work could cost them the strike sanction granted by the San Francisco Labor Council.

This has resulted in food service workers, truck drivers and other employes respecting the AFT picket lines.

The Teamsters Union now has requested that the sanction be withdrawn on grounds it was granted only to support "genuine labor demands . . . in no way connected with the students."

The terms to which a committee of trustees had agreed in San Francisco negotiations, and which were accepted as a basis for settlement but ruled "not negotiated" by 13-5 vote of the state college trustees Wednesday, include:

A school of ethnic studies is to be set up in the fall semester, financed separately and with its own staff not drawn from the existing number of faculty positions.

Provision is to be made for a community board, representing ethnic areas involved, to assist in administering the new school.

No reprisals are to be taken against striking teachers and the college is to recommend full reinstatement of teachers who may lose tenure rights and other benefits because of striking.

Amnesty for teachers arrested or disciplined during the strike is to be worked out by college and union officials.

Individual departments are allowed to reduce the teaching load from 12 units to nine units without reducing teacher's pay.

College personnel files are to be open for inspection by teachers.

One provision scuttled by the trustees' "no negotiations" resolution called for a guarantee that the union will continue to have the right to represent its members before the trustees.

Man Booked For Exposure

A Petaluma man was arrested yesterday on charges of molesting a 9-year-old girl.

Robert Paul Robert Noles, 29, of 155 Edith Street, on probation for two prior child molesting offenses, was held in lieu of $31,250 bail and scheduled to be arraigned this afternoon in Petaluma Municipal Court.

Police said that Noles was in a car parked on East D Street yesterday at 10:25 a.m. When he attempted to entice the child into his car and exposed himself. The girl said she wrestled from his grip and fled into Figones Market, 428 East D Street, where clerks summoned police.

Six Cited In Liquor Probe

Six teen-age Novato boys have been cited to Marin Juvenile Hall after a Loma Verde man found them consuming liquor which had been stolen from his home Sunday.

Wendelin Gaehwiler of 447 Via Del Plano, Tuesday spotted the liquor in a hollow tree behind a house on Alameda de la Loma and waited until after school to see the boys come to the tree.

Sheriff's deputies said that the youths told varying stories about where they obtained the liquor.

Officials Study Extradition In Two Slayings

MUSKEGON, Mich. (UPI)—California and Muskegon County authorities continued discussions today to determine whether a couple held for armed robbery here would stay in Michigan or be extradited to California where they are suspects in two slayings.

Chester Johnson, 21, who was arrested in Jackson, Mich., yesterday, was placed under $25,000 bond on armed robbery charges after demanding examination on armed robbery charges in district court.

His blonde girl friend, Terry Phelps, 19, Jackson, Mich., was apprehended Monday night shortly after the $1,262 holdup of a liquor store.

Warrants are out in California for the pair in the deaths of Dr. Glenn K. Olsen, 54, an Oakland dentist, and Loren Silliphant, 18, Hollywood, son of a noted writer-producer.

Miss Phelps implicated Johnson in both slayings, according to Det. Capt. Willie Howell of the Muskegon Heights Police Department.

Second Slaying In Apartment

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The second dead body has been carried out of a seemingly jinxed apartment in less than a year.

A San Francisco man was killed last night in the same apartment where a 14-year-old girl was brutally murdered last March 30.

The victim, Clifton Lacy, 20, was shot to death by a friend who accompanied him to the apartment, according to Lillian Grigsby, Lacy's girlfriend. Miss Grigsby said the shooting followed an argument between herself and the unidentified assailant.

Lacy died only a few feet from where the battered body of a blonde high school student was found last year. The girl had been babysitting two young boys when she was assaulted and stabbed with a carving fork.

RAIN

43.95 inches fell by the end of February. Fourth came 1966-67 with a total of 59.18, and of that 42.57 inches had fallen by the time the calendar turned to March.

The rainfall this year has been most like that of the record year 1940-41 — it started early and has kept up consistently. But in every month exept December, this year's rainfall has exceeded that of the previous all-time record year. The totals by months run as follows, with this rainfall year first, followed by the figure for 1940-41:

September, .32 and .11;
October, 3.25 and 2.27;
November, 4.46 and 3.88;
December, 13.67 and 16.45;
January, 17.52 and 15.88;
February (with 12 hours to go yet this year), 13.08 and 6.81.

Normal rainfall from March 1 to the end of the rainy season is about nine inches. But in the four record years, the totals after February were: 22.12 inches in 1940-41; 20.48 inches in 1889-90; 18.3 inches in 1957-58; 16.61 inches in 1966-67.

Heavy Rain, Stall Snarl Commuters

Heavy rain this morning snarled traffic north and south bound on Highway 101, the California Highway Patrol reported.

A five-car rear-end accident on the Golden Gate Bridge at 6:50 a.m. backed up San Francisco-bound commute traffic to the Greenbrae turnoff for more than one hour, Officer Thomas Foley said.

The accident started when a car ran out of gas on the bridge and stopped, Foley said.

One unidentified woman received minor whiplash injuries but declined hospital treatment.

A second accident, involving six cars, occurred at 7:30 a.m. near the Mill Valley-Tiburon offramp, dealiyng northbound traffic briefly, Foley said.

Guitar, Jewelry Taken By Thief

Among the burglaries reported to the sheriff's department Wednesday was one at the home of Logan P. Miles, of 230 Los Cerros Drive, Greenbrae, where a guitar, jewelry, a radio, razor and camera were stolen.

Deputies said that the burglar had entered the house by removing a screen and crawling through a kitchen window.

A caretaker reported that the Mary Cliff Foundation summer residence on Alturas Road in Bolinas had been broken into Wednesday and a stereo set and possibly other things taken.

Jean M. Lindemann, of 26 Acorn Way, Kent Woodlands, reported that burglars had kicked open the kitchen door of her home Wednesday and removed a stereo set from its cabinet.

Water Safety Course Slated

The Marin chapter of the American National Red Cross will offer a course beginning next week for those wishing to become water safety instructors.

The course will be offered from 6 to 9 p.m. Mondays at the College of Marin pool. The course will open with a review of swimming and lifesaving work and will continue through April 10.

To take the course, persons must be at least 17 and have a current senior lifesaving certificate. Prospective students may register with Harry Pieper, athletic director of the College of Marin, at his office in the physical education complex at the Kentfield campus or they may register the first night in class.

Innocent Plea To Credit Charge

James Robert McElroy, 21, of San Carlos, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of using someone else's credit card. A preliminary hearing was set for March 4.

Larkspur police said that McElroy, formerly a clerk at Disco in Larkspur, allowed his former roommate, Michael L. Dorrity of San Rafael, to use a stolen credit card at the store to charge about $80 worth of merchandise on Dec. 6.

Dorrity, 18, has been sertified to Juvenile Court.

Indictment On Gun Carrying Aboard Jetliner

CHICAGO (AP)—A San Francisco man has been indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of carrying a concealed weapon aboard a jetliner bound from Chicago to San Francisco.

William H. Getz, 20, was arrested Sunday with two other California men after one of them allegedly asked a stewardess if there was enough gas in a United Air Lines jet to fly to Cuba.

Police said Getz attempted to drew a .22-caliber revolver when officers boarded the plane to question the men.

The two other youths, dressed in the garb of the militant Black Panther organization, were charged with imparting false information concerning the safety of an aircraft, but were not indicted by the grand jury Thursday.

Carrier Repair Work Is Rushed

PEARL HARBOR (UPI)—The Navy announced yesterday that the nuclear carrier USS Enterprise, ravaged by explosions and fires that took 28 lives last month, will be ready for sea duty next week.

The announcement meant that the $6.4 million repair job will be completed about six weeks ahead of schedule. Shortly after the disaster at sea on Jan. 14, the Navy estimated it would take three months to put the carrier back into operation.

At a ceremony on the flight deck yesterday afternoon Rear Adm. Edward J. Fahy, commander of the Naval Ship Systems Command, told shipyard workers the $444 million Enterprise, largest warship in the world, would be returned to active duty March 4.

Goldwater Asks New Vote Rules

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater proposed a constitutional amendment today that would ease residence and absentee voting standards in presidential elections.

The Arizona Republican said in a prepared Senate speech that the number of persons voting in the 1968 presidential election might have been at least 15 per cent higher if his amendment had been in effect.

Under the amendment, Goldwater said, state laws could not require voters to be residents more than 30 days immediately preceding an election in order to be eligible to vote for president and vice president.

State laws also would have to permit applications for absentee ballots to be made up to seven days before an election.

Death Car Driver Off Critical List

Reginald B. Johnson, 20, of Novato, injured Tuesday in a car crash, was removed from the critical list today at Marin General Hospital but reported in poor condition.

Johnson, of 1541 Hill Road, suffered severe head injuries and facial cuts when the car he was driving hit a fence in Bel Marin Keys. A passenger, Candace L. Wright, 16, of Novato, was killed in the crash.

"The governor's motion in no way precludes a subsequent vote on grievance procedures," Luckman said, referring to the discipline plan. Reagan's motion passed 14-4.

Heilbron's motion then was adopted 15-2, with Reagan voting for it.

Trustee Alec Cory of San Diego moved to accept all points in Heilbron's letter, including means of reinstating dismissed teachers. Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke said, "The letter is just a restatement of existing policy and I suggest we let it lay." Cory withdrew his motion.

Following the board's vote, it was announced by Reagan's office in Sacramento that Heilbron, whose term had expired on the panel, was being replaced by William O. Weissich, San Rafael attorney and former Marin County district attorney. Weissich's term is for eight years.

Heilbron's term was one of two that had expired. The other new appointee is E. Litton Bivans, a Glendale industrialist, who replaced Paul Spencer of San Dimas, Los Angeles County.

Youth Booked As Suspect In Burglary Case

A Petaluma youth was arrested on suspicion of burglary yesterday after leading police in a chase ending at Calvary Cemetery.

Thomas Chassereau, 19, of 180-B Cherry Street, was arrested in connection with the Feb. 9 burglary of the Bernard E. Eldredge School. A record player valued at $83 and a tape recorder valued at $135 were stolen.

Police Lt. Henry Eslick said he had received reports that Chassereau and his 18-year-old brother, Roger, had been attempting to sell items similar to the stolen goods. Armed with a search warrant, the police found the items still bearing the school stencil marks at Chassereau's home on Wednesday, according to Eslick. He said that when police attempted to arrest the youth yesterday, he fled on his motorcycle and was chased into the cemetery where he was apprehended.

Chassereau was scheduled for an arraignment in Petaluma Municipal Court this afternoon. His brother is being sought, Eslick said.

NIXON

forward and forgetting past aggravations.

Nixon continued to look fit and happy despite the grueling schedule since Sunday when he began this 10,500-mile tour. France is the fifth capital of Nixon's stop—appropriately, he said, the last of the allied capitals. This again underlined the importance of France in Nixon's hopes for Europe's future and a stable peace. His next stop is Rome again for a call on Pope Paul.

At the Arc de Triumph, after standing with closed eyes during a muffled roll of drums and a bugle call in honor of France's dead, Nixon mingled enthusiastically with a throng of French and American well-wishers.

Then, on his way from the ceremony, en route to the Elysees Palace and his first meeting with De Gaulle, he ordered his limousine stopped when he spotted girls in the Champs Elysees crowd carrying parasols of Stars and Stripes fabrics.

To the dismay of security men, Nixon leaped from De Gaulle's spanking new limousine and approached the sidewalk throng behind police barriers to shake hands with the teen-age girls.

Saying goodbye in Rome, Premier Mariano Rumor expressed Italy's apprecation of Nixon's plan to negotiate outstanding issues with the Soviet Union. He told Nixon those negotiations "will be a great contribution toward the solution of the problems which trouble the life of the people and the construction of a more stable and specific international order."

Supervisors' Dues Going Up

The price of belonging to the County Supervisors Association of California is going up.

For the 1969-70 fiscal year, Marin County has been asked to contribute $6,745, up from this year's $6,155.

William R. MacDougall, general counsel and manager of the association, requested the appropriation in a letter to the Marin County board yesterday.

A fee schedule enclosed by MacDougall shows that San Francisco's share will go up from $15,390 to $16,465; Contra Costa from $13,680 to $14,935; Sonoma from $5,245 to $5,805; Solano from $3,875 to $4,310; and Napa from $2,395 to $2,610.

STATE

teachers are not showing up.

Hawkins, in discussing the possibility of returning to work Monday, refused to say whether it hinged on settlement of the student strike that began Nov. 6. Since they struck Jan. 6, the teachers had insisted that the student strike be settled before they would return.

"There must be a return to a tranquil and academically free atmosphere," said Hawkins yesterday. "The trappings of a police state on campus are intolerable."

Failure of the teachers to approve the settlement and return to work could cost them the strike sanction granted by the San Francisco Labor Council.

This has resulted in food service workers, truck drivers and other employes respecting the AFT picket lines.

The Teamsters Union now has requested that the sanction be withdrawn on grounds it was granted only to support "genuine labor demands . . . in no way connected with the students."

The terms to which a committee of trustees had agreed in San Francisco negotiations, and which were accepted as a basis for settlement but ruled "not negotiated" by 13-5 vote of the state college trustees Wednesday, include:

A school of ethnic studies is to be set up in the fall semester, financed separately and with its own staff not drawn from the existing number of faculty positions.

Provision is to be made for a community board, representing ethnic areas involved, to assist in administering the new school.

No reprisals are to be taken against striking teachers and the college is to recommend full reinstatement of teachers who may lose tenure rights and other benefits because of striking.

Amnesty for teachers arrested or disciplined during the strike is to be worked out by college and union officials.

Individual departments are allowed to reduce the teaching load from 12 units to nine units without reducing teacher's pay.

College personnel files are to be open for inspection by teachers.

One provision scuttled by the trustees' "no negotiations" resolution called for a guarantee that the union will continue to have the right to represent its members before the trustees.

Man Booked For Exposure

A Petaluma man was arrested yesterday on charges of molesting a 9-year-old girl.

Robert Paul Robert Noles, 29, of 155 Edith Street, on probation for two prior child molesting offenses, was held in lieu of $31,250 bail and scheduled to be arraigned this afternoon in Petaluma Municipal Court.

Police said that Noles was in a car parked on East D Street yesterday at 10:25 a.m. When he attempted to entice the child into his car and exposed himself. The girl said she wrestled from his grip and fled into Figones Market, 428 East D Street, where clerks summoned police.

Six Cited In Liquor Probe

Six teen-age Novato boys have been cited to Marin Juvenile Hall after a Loma Verde man found them consuming liquor which had been stolen from his home Sunday.

Wendelin Gaehwiler of 447 Via Del Plano, Tuesday spotted the liquor in a hollow tree behind a house on Alameda de la Loma and waited until after school to see the boys come to the tree.

Sheriff's deputies said that the youths told varying stories about where they obtained the liquor.

Officials Study Extradition In Two Slayings

MUSKEGON, Mich. (UPI)—California and Muskegon County authorities continued discussions today to determine whether a couple held for armed robbery here would stay in Michigan or be extradited to California where they are suspects in two slayings.

Chester Johnson, 21, who was arrested in Jackson, Mich., yesterday, was placed under $25,000 bond on armed robbery charges after demanding examination on armed robbery charges in district court.

His blonde girl friend, Terry Phelps, 19, Jackson, Mich., was apprehended Monday night shortly after the $1,262 holdup of a liquor store.

Warrants are out in California for the pair in the deaths of Dr. Glenn K. Olsen, 54, an Oakland dentist, and Loren Silliphant, 18, Hollywood, son of a noted writer-producer.

Miss Phelps implicated Johnson in both slayings, according to Det. Capt. Willie Howell of the Muskegon Heights Police Department.

Second Slaying In Apartment

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The second dead body has been carried out of a seemingly jinxed apartment in less than a year.

A San Francisco man was killed last night in the same apartment where a 14-year-old girl was brutally murdered last March 30.

The victim, Clifton Lacy, 20, was shot to death by a friend who accompanied him to the apartment, according to Lillian Grigsby, Lacy's girlfriend. Miss Grigsby said the shooting followed an argument between herself and the unidentified assailant.

Lacy died only a few feet from where the battered body of a blonde high school student was found last year. The girl had been babysitting two young boys when she was assaulted and stabbed with a carving fork.

43.95 inches fell by the end of February. Fourth came 1966-67 with a total of 59.18, and of that 42.57 inches had fallen by the time the calendar turned to March.

The rainfall this year has been most like that of the record year 1940-41 — it started early and has kept up consistently. But in every month exept December, this year's rainfall has exceeded that of the previous all-time record year. The totals by months run as follows, with this rainfall year first, followed by the figure for 1940-41:

September, .32 and .11; October, 3.25 and 2.27; November, 4.46 and 3.88; December, 13.67 and 16.45; January, 17.52 and 15.88; February (with 12 hours to go yet this year), 13.08 and 6.81.

Normal rainfall from March 1 to the end of the rainy season is about nine inches. But in the four record years, the totals after February were: 22.12 inches in 1940-41; 20.48 inches in 1889-90; 18.3 inches in 1957-58; 16.61 inches in 1966-67.

Heavy Rain, Stall Snarl Commuters

Heavy rain this morning snarled traffic north and south bound on Highway 101, the California Highway Patrol reported.

A five-car rear-end accident on the Golden Gate Bridge at 6:50 a.m. backed up San Francisco-bound commute traffic to the Greenbrae turnoff for more than one hour, Officer Thomas Foley said.

The accident started when a car ran out of gas on the bridge and stopped, Foley said.

One unidentified woman received minor whiplash injuries but declined hospital treatment.

A second accident, involving six cars, occurred at 7:30 a.m. near the Mill Valley-Tiburon offramp, dealiyng northbound traffic briefly, Foley said.

Guitar, Jewelry Taken By Thief

Among the burglaries reported to the sheriff's department Wednesday was one at the home of Logan P. Miles, of 230 Los Cerros Drive, Greenbrae, where a guitar, jewelry, a radio, razor and camera were stolen.

Deputies said that the burglar had entered the house by removing a screen and crawling through a kitchen window.

A caretaker reported that the Mary Cliff Foundation summer residence on Alturas Road in Bolinas had been broken into Wednesday and a stereo set and possibly other things taken.

Jean M. Lindemann, of 26 Acorn Way, Kent Woodlands, reported that burglars had kicked open the kitchen door of her home Wednesday and removed a stereo set from its cabinet.

Water Safety Course Slated

The Marin chapter of the American National Red Cross will offer a course beginning next week for those wishing to become water safety instructors.

The course will be offered from 6 to 9 p.m. Mondays at the College of Marin pool. The course will open with a review of swimming and lifesaving work and will continue through April 10.

To take the course, persons must be at least 17 and have a current senior lifesaving certificate. Prospective students may register with Harry Pieper, athletic director of the College of Marin, at his office in the physical education complex at the Kentfield campus or they may register the first night in class.

Innocent Plea To Credit Charge

James Robert McElroy, 21, of San Carlos, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of using someone else's credit card. A preliminary hearing was set for March 4.

Larkspur police said that McElroy, formerly a clerk at Disco in Larkspur, allowed his former roommate, Michael L. Dorrity of San Rafael, to use a stolen credit card at the store to charge about $80 worth of merchandise on Dec. 6.

Dorrity, 18, has been sertified to Juvenile Court.

Indictment On Gun Carrying Aboard Jetliner

CHICAGO (AP)—A San Francisco man has been indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of carrying a concealed weapon aboard a jetliner bound from Chicago to San Francisco.

William H. Getz, 20, was arrested Sunday with two other California men after one of them allegedly asked a stewardess if there was enough gas in a United Air Lines jet to fly to Cuba.

Police said Getz attempted to drew a .22-caliber revolver when officers boarded the plane to question the men.

The two other youths, dressed in the garb of the militant Black Panther organization, were charged with imparting false information concerning the safety of an aircraft, but were not indicted by the grand jury Thursday.

Carrier Repair Work Is Rushed

PEARL HARBOR (UPI)—The Navy announced yesterday that the nuclear carrier USS Enterprise, ravaged by explosions and fires that took 28 lives last month, will be ready for sea duty next week.

The announcement meant that the $6.4 million repair job will be completed about six weeks ahead of schedule. Shortly after the disaster at sea on Jan. 14, the Navy estimated it would take three months to put the carrier back into operation.

At a ceremony on the flight deck yesterday afternoon Rear Adm. Edward J. Fahy, commander of the Naval Ship Systems Command, told shipyard workers the $444 million Enterprise, largest warship in the world, would be returned to active duty March 4.

Goldwater Asks New Vote Rules

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater proposed a constitutional amendment today that would ease residence and absentee voting standards in presidential elections.

The Arizona Republican said in a prepared Senate speech that the number of persons voting in the 1968 presidential election might have been at least 15 per cent higher if his amendment had been in effect.

Under the amendment, Goldwater said, state laws could not require voters to be residents more than 30 days immediately preceding an election in order to be eligible to vote for president and vice president.

State laws also would have to permit applications for absentee ballots to be made up to seven days before an election.

Death Car Driver Off Critical List

Reginald B. Johnson, 20, of Novato, injured Tuesday in a car crash, was removed from the critical list today at Marin General Hospital but reported in poor condition.

Johnson, of 1541 Hill Road, suffered severe head injuries and facial cuts when the car he was driving hit a fence in Bel Marin Keys. A passenger, Candace L. Wright, 16, of Novato, was killed in the crash.

REAGAN REJECTED

New Violence Rakes Schools

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

New incidents of violent protest and vandalism have struck at three of the nation's universities where protesters have been most active during the current wave of campus unrest around the country.

Club-swinging police and hit-run dissidents clashed in a day-long series of scuffles at the Berkeley campus of the University of California. Twelve persons were arrested including three demonstration leaders.

One was Ysidro Macias who said earlier, "We're going to close it down whether it be by striking peacefully or by talking or whether we have to burn the s-o-b down." About 50 windows were broken during the day.

In Madison protesters at the University of Wisconsin ran through five buildings tossing stench bombs, overturning chairs and disrupting classes. Some students were forced to flee.

The outbreak followed a noon rally to assess progress on demands for an autonomous black studies department. The disorder ended an eight day lull on the 33,000-student campus where National Guardsmen were withdrawn only last week.

At the University of Chicago a call for a student strike received little support from the 9,800 students but about 100 dissidents marched on the law school. Six stench bombs were set off in campus buildings, but the protesters denied they were responsible.

In Washington, the nation's governors voted overwhelmingly to condemn campus disorders but rejected California Gov. Ronald Reagan's call for a federal investigation out of fear it would foment more unrest.

Elsewhere:

HOWARD UNIVERSITY — Patricia Roberts Harris, resigned as dean of the law school which has been the object of a 16-day student boycott. She blamed the university president for failing to keep her informed of actions taken to end the protest.

WILEY COLLEGE, Marshall, Tex.—The all-Negro school will reopen March 12. It was closed Tuesday after protests demanding the resignation of the president, T. Winson Cole.

RUTGERS UNIVERSITY — A convocation was set on the New Brunswick campus where classes have been called off until Tuesday to consider Negro student demands.

FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY—Acting President J. Stanley Marshall upheld an earlier order banning Students for a Democratic Society from the campus. He warned that any campus disturbance would be met by quick police action.

UNIVERSITY OF MIAMI, Fla.—Student leaders canceled plans for a class boycott after announcing they had reached accord with the faculty senate and the administration on a 17-point list of student proposals.

S. California Reels Under New Storm

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Southern California reeled under another heavy rainstorm today as crews worked to shore up a levee in Ventura County and prevent evacuation of 20,000 more residents.

Early this week 6,000 persons were evacuated from their homes in the area. Emergency plans were made for removing of 20,000 more persons if the levee collapsed.

Estimated damage from the latest siege of rain ran as high as $100 million. Thirteen persons have died, nine in new mudslides.

Authorities said it would take at least five days to open roads into the Orange County areas where five persons died in a mud slide. Homes there lacked food, water, and sanitation facilities.

Gale warnings were up early today along the upper Pacific coast, with travelers warnings in effect for the Sierra Nevada and the mountains of northern California.

U.S. Envoys Say Bombing Pause Stands

PARIS (AP) — American negotiators at the Vietnam peace talks appear to have reached the conclusion that the current Viet Cong offensive thus far has not violated the tacit "understanding" under which the United States halted the bombing of North Vietnam last Nov. 1.

Chief U.S. negotiator Henry Cabot Lodge is due to present a detailed report on the deadlocked conference to President Nixon during a scheduled three-hour meeting Sunday morning.

Conference sources said South Vietnamese Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky will attend at least a part of Nixon's talk with Lodge.

They are expected to review the five-week-old stalemate and discuss the possible repercussions of the Viet Cong attacks.

There was a noticeable difference in emphasis between American and South Vietnamese comments on the attacks.

Following the sixth weekly conference session yesterday, South Vietnamese spokesman Nguyen Thieu Dan stressed the large number of civilians killed and injured by what he called indiscriminate Viet Cong shelling of population centers.

Lodge also deplored the civilian victims of the Viet Cong's "wanton violence." But U.S. spokesman Harold Kaplan told newsmen the United States was satisfied the Viet Cong attacks were aimed "mainly" at military targets.

Details of the bombing halt have never been announced, and Kaplan said it was best "for the sake of the future of the negotiations" to avoid spelling them out. North Vietnam has frequently denied that it made any commitment in return for the bombing halt, and Hanoi's spokesman in Paris, Nguyen Thanh Le, yesterday described American reports of such a commitment as a "pure invention."

Alabama ranks second in the nation in pulpwood production.

Cong Rockets Rip Dock, Bring Blast

SAIGON (AP) — More than 30 towns and bases in South Vietnam were shelled by the Viet Cong during the night and 100-pound rockets ripped through a U.S. Navy dock at Da Nang. The rockets sank two big landing craft and heavily damaged a third.

The enemy rockets touched off a series of explosions aboard the ammunition-laden boats. At least one American sailor was killed, 51 sailors and eight Marines were wounded and 300 tons of ammunition were destroyed, U.S. spokesmen said.

AP correspondent Edwin Q. White reported that the fronts were blown off nine small warehouses loaded with everything from chocolate bars to bombs.

Part of one of the boats was hurled 150 yards across a road, and pieces of metal up to a foot square were thrown farther. Ammunition explosions damaged armored personnel carriers, trucks, bulldozers and other equipment in the area.

Officials, fearing that some 500-pound bombs stored nearby might explode, evacuated 1,000 civilians from a half square mile area surrounding the dock. The civilians began moving back into the area this morning with the dock still littered with debris and explosives.

At least 100 enemy troops were reported pushing toward Saigon today, and military spokesmen reported several other indications that small units were attempting to assemble for an assault on the capital.

North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops were intercepted 10 miles east of Saigon yesterday. They were reported still fighting today as U.S. 1st Infantry Division soldiers followed up a night bomb and artillery attack with a sweep of the area's rice paddies and marshes.

American and South Vietnamese spoiling operations and quick deployment of troops have slowed down the spring offensive, military spokesmen said, but the enemy is still able to launch massive attacks.

Allied sources claimed 6,300 enemy troops have been killed since Sunday, the highest weekly death toll since 8,786 were reported killed in one week of the enemy offensive last May.

About 275 American troops have been killed and hundreds more wounded, the sources said.

The United States currently has 125 licensed physicians for each 100,000 population.

Cleanup Work For Volunteers

Volunteers are being sought for shovel and hoe work March 8 and 22 at the Manzanita Children's Center, Marin City.

Volunteer workers and parents of children in the child care and preschool programs at the center are needed to spread tanbark, put down sandbox sand, clean, weed and rake the play areas at the center, said Carol Fowler, coordinator of center volunteers.

Workers may come any time between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. and may bring a sandwich; coffee will be served. Volunteer workers are asked to bring shovels, wheelbarrows, rakes or hoes, or just themselves, she

West Berlin Set For Vote March 5

BERLIN (AP) — Mayor Klaus Schuetz said today that the election of West Germany's new president will take place in West Berlin on March 5 as planned.

Schuetz told a news conference the adamant stand taken by the East Germans toward negotiations with his government made further contact impossible.

The East Germans had indicated they would issue passes for West Berliners to visit friends and relatives in East Berlin at Easter if the election was moved from Berlin. But the West German government said it would change the voting only if the East Germans gave much more than that.

The mayor's personal assistant, Horst Grabert, met with East German State Secretary Michael Kohl in West Berlin Wednesday. Yesterday the East German government told the West Berlin Senate that the exploratory talks could not continue until the elections were called off.

Grabert made two attempts yesterday to arrange a second meeting in West Berlin, but Kohl ignored him.

West German Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger said on television last night that he assumed the election would be held in West Berlin as planned.

The East Germans and the Russians object to the holding of the election in West Berlin because it is a demonstration of West Germany's claim to the former German capital.

There is one Roman Catholic priest for every 1,316 persons in France.

Warning Issued In Drug Theft

Doctors yesterday warned that a large dose of drugs stolen from a Tamalpais Valley man's car Wednesday could be fatal to a normal person, according to sheriff's deputies.

Emil Andrews, of 401 Ash Street, reported to the sheriff's department that six prostigmine bromide capsules for injection and six disposable needles had been stolen from his car's glove compartment.

He said he suspected that youngsters in his neighborhood might have taken the drugs.

Doctors said that fainting, nausea or seizures similar to epilepsy might follow injection of the drug in a normal person.

Man Injured In Hit-Run Accident

A Petaluma man was injured in a hit-and-run accident yesterday at 6:55 p.m. in front of the Capri Mobile Home Park at 717 North McDowell Boulevard, Petaluma.

Chester Raymond, 45, of 71 Candlewood Drive, was reported in good condition at Hillcrest Hospital with a broken right arm. He said he was struck by the car while walking along the roadway and told police that his dark clothing might have prevented the driver from seeing him.

REAGAN REJECTED

New Violence Rakes Schools

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

New incidents of violent protest and vandalism have struck at three of the nation's universities where protesters have been most active during the current wave of campus unrest around the country.

Club-swinging police and hit-run dissidents clashed in a day-long series of scuffles at the Berkeley campus of the University of California. Twelve persons were arrested including three demonstration leaders.

One was Ysidro Macias who said earlier, "We're going to close it down whether it be by striking peacefully or by talking or whether we have to burn the s-o-b down." About 50 windows were broken during the day.

In Madison protesters at the University of Wisconsin ran through five buildings tossing stench bombs, overturning chairs and disrupting classes. Some students were forced to flee.

The outbreak followed a noon rally to assess progress on demands for an autonomous black studies department. The disorder ended an eight day lull on the 33,000-student campus where National Guardsmen were withdrawn only last week.

At the University of Chicago a call for a student strike received little support from the 9,800 students but about 100 dissidents marched on the law school. Six stench bombs were set off in campus buildings, but the protesters denied they were responsible.

In Washington, the nation's governors voted overwhelmingly to condemn campus disorders but rejected California Gov. Ronald Reagan's call for a federal investigation out of fear it would foment more unrest.

Elsewhere:

HOWARD UNIVERSITY — Patricia Roberts Harris, resigned as dean of the law school which has been the object of a 16-day student boycott. She blamed the university president for failing to keep her informed of actions taken to end the protest.

WILEY COLLEGE, Marshall, Tex.—The all-Negro school will reopen March 12. It was closed Tuesday after protests demanding the resignation of the president, T. Winson Cole.

RUTGERS UNIVERSITY — A convocation was set on the New Brunswick campus where classes have been called off until Tuesday to consider Negro student demands.

FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY—Acting President J. Stanley Marshall upheld an earlier order banning Students for a Democratic Society from the campus. He warned that any campus disturbance would be met by quick police action.

UNIVERSITY OF MIAMI, Fla.—Student leaders canceled plans for a class boycott after announcing they had reached accord with the faculty senate and the administration on a 17-point list of student proposals.

S. California Reels Under New Storm

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Southern California reeled under another heavy rainstorm today as crews worked to shore up a levee in Ventura County and prevent evacuation of 20,000 more residents.

Early this week 6,000 persons were evacuated from their homes in the area. Emergency plans were made for removing of 20,000 more persons if the levee collapsed.

Estimated damage from the latest siege of rain ran as high as $100 million. Thirteen persons have died, nine in new mudslides.

Authorities said it would take at least five days to open roads into the Orange County areas where five persons died in a mud slide. Homes there lacked food, water, and sanitation facilities.

Gale warnings were up early today along the upper Pacific coast, with travelers warnings in effect for the Sierra Nevada and the mountains of northern California.

U.S. Envoys Say Bombing Pause Stands

PARIS (AP) — American negotiators at the Vietnam peace talks appear to have reached the conclusion that the current Viet Cong offensive thus far has not violated the tacit "understanding" under which the United States halted the bombing of North Vietnam last Nov. 1.

Chief U.S. negotiator Henry Cabot Lodge is due to present a detailed report on the deadlocked conference to President Nixon during a scheduled three-hour meeting Sunday morning.

Conference sources said South Vietnamese Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky will attend at least a part of Nixon's talk with Lodge.

They are expected to review the five-week-old stalemate and discuss the possible repercussions of the Viet Cong attacks.

There was a noticeable difference in emphasis between American and South Vietnamese comments on the attacks.

Following the sixth weekly conference session yesterday, South Vietnamese spokesman Nguyen Thieu Dan stressed the large number of civilians killed and injured by what he called indiscriminate Viet Cong shelling of population centers.

Lodge also deplored the civilian victims of the Viet Cong's "wanton violence." But U.S. spokesman Harold Kaplan told newsmen the United States was satisfied the Viet Cong attacks were aimed "mainly" at military targets.

Details of the bombing halt have never been announced, and Kaplan said it was best "for the sake of the future of the negotiations" to avoid spelling them out. North Vietnam has frequently denied that it made any commitment in return for the bombing halt, and Hanoi's spokesman in Paris, Nguyen Thanh Le, yesterday described American reports of such a commitment as a "pure invention."

Cong Rockets Rip Dock, Bring Blast

SAIGON (AP) — More than 30 towns and bases in South Vietnam were shelled by the Viet Cong during the night and 100-pound rockets ripped through a U.S. Navy dock at Da Nang. The rockets sank two big landing craft and heavily damaged a third.

The enemy rockets touched off a series of explosions aboard the ammunition-laden boats. At least one American sailor was killed, 51 sailors and eight Marines were wounded and 300 tons of ammunition were destroyed, U.S. spokesmen said.

AP correspondent Edwin Q. White reported that the fronts were blown off nine small warehouses loaded with everything from chocolate bars to bombs.

Part of one of the boats was hurled 150 yards across a road, and pieces of metal up to a foot square were thrown farther. Ammunition explosions damaged armored personnel carriers, trucks, bulldozers and other equipment in the area.

Officials, fearing that some 500-pound bombs stored nearby might explode, evacuated 1,000 civilians from a half square mile area surrounding the dock. The civilians began moving back into the area this morning with the dock still littered with debris and explosives.

At least 100 enemy troops were reported pushing toward Saigon today, and military spokesmen reported several other indications that small units were attempting to assemble for an assault on the capital.

North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops were intercepted 10 miles east of Saigon yesterday. They were reported still fighting today as U.S. 1st Infantry Division soldiers followed up a night bomb and artillery attack with a sweep of the area's rice paddies and marshes.

Jurors Will Get Shaw Case Today

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Testimony ended today and the Clay Shaw trial neared the jury after a handwriting expert said it was "highly probable" that Shaw signed an alias to an airline guest book.

Closing arguments were set for the afternoon and Judge Edward A. Haggerty Jr. said he would give the case to the jury later today. Shaw, 55, is charged with conspiring to assassinate President John F. Kennedy. He was arrested on the charge two years ago.

Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison, who has made infrequent appearances, questioned the last witness in the trial's 33rd day. The witness was Elizabeth McCarthy of Boston, a handwriting expert called in rebuttal of defense testmony. Mrs. McCarthy, who said she was called last night by Garrison's office, testified she had examined Shaw's signature and the signature of "Clay Bertrand" which was signed in a New Orleans airport guest register in 1967.

A defense expert witness had said positively Shaw did not sign the name in the book.

The state called two other rebuttal witnesses this morning—one a Kansas pathologist who had testified earlier about Kennedy's wounds, the second a photographer with blown-up photographs of the assassination scene. Both gave testimony implicating a sonspiracy and more than one gunman.

Shaw, charged with conspiring to assassinate President John F. Kennedy, testified in the climax of the defense case.

"No, I did not," he replied when asked if he had plotted with Lee Harvey Oswald, David W. Ferrie and others to kill Kennedy, slain in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963.

Did he ever see Oswald, the former New Orleans resident named by the Warren Commission as the lone and unaided assassin?

"I never have," said Shaw, a 6-foot-4 white-haired man with a crisp bass voice. He leaned back comfortably in the witness chair, twirling his horn-rimmed spectacles.

Did he ever see Ferrie, one-time airline pilot who operated a small flying service?

"I never did," said shaw.

Under cross-examination, Shaw denied that he ever knew Ferrie.

Two state witnesses, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Tadin of New Orleans, testified they saw Shaw and Ferrie together in 1964 at a lakefront airport where Ferrie's flying school was located.

"When I parked my car it was by a hangar," said Tadin. "I noticed a side door. Dave Ferrie came out. Clay Shaw was right behind him, about three feet. Shaw walked on to his car. Ferrie came over to us. I told Dave, 'What you got, a new student?' He said, 'No, that's a friend of mine, Clay Shaw, he's head of the trade mart.'"

Tadin, a short, balding man, is business agent for a musicians' union local. He and his wife said they volunteered their testimony to Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison just a few hours before they were called to the stand.

Pueblo Sailor Mourns Lack Of Rescue Help

CORONADO ,AP) — "All of the beating we all took," a Pueblo crewman said today, "didn't hurt us half as much as the fact that when we were pleading for help we got no assistance from the largest Navy in the world."

"Nobody showed up," said Communications Technician 1/C Don E. Bailey, 39, Portland, Ore., regarded as the crewman best trained in the arts of survival, evasion, resistance against captors and escape. "This hurt me more than any beating I took."

Bailey went on to praise the ship's skipper, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher "for a real fine job."

There was a period of silence. Then the court's president, Vice Adm. Harold G. Bowen Jr., said softly, "Thank you, Bailey."

A veteran of 16 years in the Navy and three and one-half years in the Army, Bailey asked the Navy to give all military men the training he received in survival skills.

He said that despite beatings, kickings and death threats from his captors, he never contributed anything to their information about himself or his job on the Pueblo.

"Did you possess so much classified information," asked Bucher's attorney, E. Miles Harvey, "that if they had obtained all of it, it would have been extremely detrimental to the security of the United States?"

"Definitely," Bailey replied. "Yes, sir."

Communications Technician 1/C Michael Barrett, 31, of Kalamazoo, Mich., testified Thursday that the North Koreans apparently failed to realize the full value of a highly trained intelligence specialists they captured.

"It would have seemed they would have known they had a wonderful source of information in you," said Rear Adm. Edward Grimm, a member of the court. "Why didn't they beat you more?"

"I don't know," Barrett replied. "It surprised me very much .... that's why I think they really weren't aware of what they had."

A little more than a third of the intelligence ship's 83-member crew were communications technicians.

Several more crewmen told yesterday of their experiences in "The Gypsy Tea Room," the name the Pueblo crew gave a 12-by-15-foot room where men were taken, offered liquor and asked to accept a visitor sympathetic to communism when they returned to the United States.

All the crewmen said they either refused, or agreed to accept such a visitor with the intention of turning him over to the FBI.

Resolution Urges Talks

A resolution asking the Mill Valley City Council to urge negotiations between state college trustees and striking students at San Francisco State was approved last night by the Mill Valley human rights commission.

The resolution, seeking discussions among trustees, college administrators and representatives of the Third World Liberation Front to "find a mutually acceptable resolution of the 15 demands at issue" was approved on a 4-0 vote. Commissioner William J. Walker was absent.

Chairman Roger J. Fleischmann will present the resolution to the council at 8 p.m. Monday in city hall.

Fleischmann said the commission acted on the resolution, presented by Alan Barnett, Mill Valley resident and San Francisco State College teacher, because the council previously passed a resolution supporting San Francisco State acting president S. I. Hayakawa, because several Mill Valley residents teach in the state college system and because Mill Valley police have been called to the campus to quell disorders arising from the strike.

The commission also named Fleischmann chairman to succeed Charles P. Guichard, who resigned because of business pressures.

Sirhan Defense Set To Stress His Illness

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Sirhan B. Sirhan's attorneys contend he was "mentally ill" when he shot Sen. Robert F. Kennedy at point blank range.

Today the defense began calling witnesses to support the argument that the assassination was "totally a product of a sick, obsessed mind and personality."

Among the first witnesses may be Sirhan's mother, Mary, his younger brother, Munir, and psychiatrists who have examined the 24-year-old Palestinian Arab.

Sirhan himself may testify next week and therein lies the defense's problem.

Sirhan has exploded in anger several times in court when reference was made to his mental condition. The introduction of his notebook-diaries, in which he wrote "RFK must be assassinated" over and over again, triggered a spectacular outburst.

Defense attorney Russell E. Parsons has told newsmen that Sirhan "like most mentally ill people, doesn't like to be told he's mentally ill. He doesn't like it when I tell him."

When Sirhan testifies on his own behalf, the defense may be hoping his apparently unstable emotional state may work to the advantage of his cause.

It was likely he would testify he was in a blackout and had no recollection of shooting and mortally wounding Kennedy last June 5 in a crowded pantry of the Ambassador Hotel.

In its opening statement, the defense painted Sirhan as a victim of spells, trances and mystic delusions which steadily grew after he witnessed atrocities in his native Jordan as a child.

The obsessions and fantasies became more serious after the Sirhan family emigrated to the United States, the defense contended, until he finally was incapable of premeditated murder.

The prosecution has attempted to prove Sirhan plotted the murder. Before the state rested its case Wednesday, witnesses testified they saw Sirhan practicing at a target range before the slaying and wrote in his notebook, "Kennedy must be assassinated before 5 June 1968."

Only Money Taken By Kentfield Looter

An elusive burglar who apparently wandered through the Kentfield home of Theodore C. Wellman, Marin Junior College District board president, on Wednesday while Wellman was taking a shower, made off with $25, according to sheriff's deputies.

Deputies said that the burglar had broken a window to get into the house at 1 Vista Drive but fled after taking the money.

Woman Found Dead At Home

Marsha Hayes, 44, a Kentfield homemaker and wife of Marin County businessman Warwick J. Hayes Jr., died at her home yesterday apparently of an overdose of pills, the county coroner's office said.

Coroner's investigator Keith Craig said Mrs. Hayes' family reported that she had been despondent recently. He said her body was found in bed shortly after noon yesterday by a daughter, Allyson. There was one empty bottle and another partly-empty bottle of prescription pills beside her bed, Craig said.

The Hayes lived at 513 Goodhill Road in Kentfield.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Hayes is survived by two sons, Warwick J. Hayes III, serving with the Army in Vietnam, and John, of the home, and three daughters, Allyson, of the home, Erin, of Ontario, San Bernardino County, and Tracy of Tempe, Ariz.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

Michael Wurtz Will Lead Junior Class

Michael Wurtz, son of Mrs. Roger Wurtz of Greenbrae, was elected junior class president at Redwood High School in elections held yesterday and Wednesday.

Defeating Michael Meyer, Wurtz will be president for the rest of the semester, succeeding Jeff Kirchmann who is on a two-month vacation.

Restaurant Rezoning Plea Hit

The North Marin Federation of homeowners associations will ask the Marin County Board of Supervisors to reject rezoning which would permit a marina, restaurant and cocktail lounge along Black John Slough just south of Gnoss Field.

Marilyn Haskell, federation secretary said the federation fears "the creation of another Sausalito-type eysore."

The rezoning of the land from planned industrial to resort commercial was approved last week by the county planning commission for land on both sides of Black John Canal. The land is owned by William Wright and leased by Peter Lind.

Mrs. Haskell said federation members, meeting in Novato last night, expressed fear that the area would become a "blighted area" if the rezoning goes through and Lind is allowed to permit houseboats on the property.

The federation also will ask the Sonoma County planning commission to reject a request by Lind for a use permit to establish a wrecking and salvage yard near Route 37 north of Black Point.

Jurors Will Get Shaw Case Today

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Testimony ended today and the Clay Shaw trial neared the jury after a handwriting expert said it was "highly probable" that Shaw signed an alias to an airline guest book.

Closing arguments were set for the afternoon and Judge Edward A. Haggerty Jr. said he would give the case to the jury later today. Shaw, 55, is charged with conspiring to assassinate President John F. Kennedy. He was arrested on the charge two years ago.

Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison, who has made infrequent appearances, questioned the last witness in the trial's 33rd day. The witness was Elizabeth McCarthy of Boston, a handwriting expert called in rebuttal of defense testmony. Mrs. McCarthy, who said she was called last night by Garrison's office, testified she had examined Shaw's signature and the signature of "Clay Bertrand" which was signed in a New Orleans airport guest register in 1967.

A defense expert witness had said positively Shaw did not sign the name in the book.

The state called two other rebuttal witnesses this morning—one a Kansas pathologist who had testified earlier about Kennedy's wounds, the second a photographer with blown-up photographs of the assassination scene. Both gave testimony implicating a sonspiracy and more than one gunman.

Shaw, charged with conspiring to assassinate President John F. Kennedy, testified in the climax of the defense case.

"No, I did not," he replied when asked if he had plotted with Lee Harvey Oswald, David W. Ferrie and others to kill Kennedy, slain in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963.

Did he ever see Oswald, the former New Orleans resident named by the Warren Commission as the lone and unaided assassin?

"I never have," said Shaw, a 6-foot-4 white-haired man with a crisp bass voice. He leaned back comfortably in the witness chair, twirling his horn-rimmed spectacles.

Did he ever see Ferrie, onetime airline pilot who operated a small flying service?

"I never did," said shaw.

Under cross-examination, Shaw denied that he ever knew Ferrie.

Two state witnesses, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Tadin of New Orleans, testified they saw Shaw and Ferrie together in 1964 at a lakefront airport where Ferrie's flying school was located.

"When I parked my car it was by a hangar," said Tadin. "I noticed a side door. Dave Ferrie came out. Clay Shaw was right behind him, about three feet. Shaw walked on to his car. Ferrie came over to us. I told Dave, 'What you got, a new student?' He said, 'No, that's a friend of mine, Clay Shaw, he's head of the trade mart.'"

Tadin, a short, balding man, is business agent for a musicians' union local. He and his wife said they volunteered their testimony to Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison just a few hours before they were called to the stand.

Resolution Urges Talks

A resolution asking the Mill Valley City Council to urge negotiations between state college trustees and striking students at San Francisco State was approved last night by the Mill Valley human rights commission.

The resolution, seeking discussions among trustees, college administrators and representatives of the Third World Liberation Front to "find a mutually acceptable resolution of the 15 demands at issue" was approved on a 4-0 vote. Commissioner William J. Walker was absent.

Chairman Roger J. Fleischmann will present the resolution to the council at 8 p.m. Monday in city hall.

Fleischmann said the commission acted on the resolution, presented by Alan Barnett, Mill Valley resident and San Francisco State College teacher, because the council previously passed a resolution supporting San Francisco State acting president S. I. Hayakawa, because several Mill Valley residents teach in the state college system and because Mill Valley police have been called to the campus to quell disorders arising from the strike.

The commission also named Fleischmann chairman to succeed Charles P. Guichard, who resigned because of business pressures.

Sirhan Defense Set To Stress His Illness

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Sirhan B. Sirhan's attorneys contend he was "mentally ill" when he shot Sen. Robert F. Kennedy at point blank range.

Today the defense began calling witnesses to support the argument that the assassination was "totally a product of a sick, obsessed mind and personality."

Among the first witnesses may be Sirhan's mother, Mary, his younger brother, Munir, and psychiatrists who have examined the 24-year-old Palestinian Arab.

Sirhan himself may testify next week and therein lies the defense's problem.

Sirhan has exploded in anger several times in court when reference was made to his mental condition. The introduction of his notebook-diaries, in which he wrote "RFK must be assassinated" over and over again, triggered a spectacular outburst.

Defense attorney Russell E. Parsons has told newsmen that Sirhan "like most mentally ill people, doesn't like to be told he's mentally ill. He doesn't like it when I tell him."

When Sirhan testifies on his own behalf, the defense may be hoping his apparently unstable emotional state may work to the advantage of his cause.

It was likely he would testify he was in a blackout and had no recollection of shooting and mortally wounding Kennedy last June 5 in a crowded pantry of the Ambassador Hotel.

In its opening statement, the defense painted Sirhan as a victim of spells, trances and mystic delusions which steadily grew after he witnessed atrocities in his native Jordan as a child.

The obsessions and fantasies became more serious after the Sirhan family emigrated to the United States, the defense contended, until he finally was incapable of premeditated murder.

The prosecution has attempted to prove Sirhan plotted the murder. Before the state rested its case Wednesday, witnesses testified they saw Sirhan practicing at a target range before the slaying and wrote in his notebook, "Kennedy must be assassinated before 5 June 1968."

Pueblo Sailor Mourns Lack Of Rescue Help

CORONADO ,AP) — "All of the beating we all took," a Pueblo crewman said today, "didn't hurt us half as much as the fact that when we were pleading for help we got no assistance from the largest Navy in the world."

"Nobody showed up," said Communications Technician 1/C Don E. Bailey, 39, Portland, Ore., regarded as the crewman best trained in the arts of survival, evasion, resistance against captors and escape. "This hurt me more than any beating I took."

Bailey went on to praise the ship's skipper, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher "for a real fine job."

There was a period of silence. Then the court's president, Vice Adm. Harold G. Bowen Jr., said softly, "Thank you, Bailey."

A veteran of 16 years in the Navy and three and one-half years in the Army, Bailey asked the Navy to give all military men the training he received in survival skills.

He said that despite beatings, kickings and death threats from his captors, he never contributed anything to their information about himself or his job on the Pueblo.

"Did you possess so much classified information," asked Bucher's attorney, E. Miles Harvey, "that if they had obtained all of it, it would have been extremely detrimental to the security of the United States?"

"Definitely," Bailey replied. "Yes, sir."

Communications Technician 1/C Michael Barrett, 31, of Kalamazoo, Mich., testified Thursday that the North Koreans apparently failed to realize the full value of a highly trained intelligence specialists they captured.

"It would have seemed they would have known they had a wonderful source of information in you," said Rear Adm. Edward Grimm, a member of the court. "Why didn't they beat you more?"

"I don't know," Barrett replied. "It surprised me very much .... that's why I think they really weren't aware of what they had."

A little more than a third of the intelligence ship's 83-member crew were communications technicians.

Several more crewmen told yesterday of their experiences in "The Gypsy Tea Room," the name the Pueblo crew gave a 12-by-15-foot room where men were taken, offered liquor and asked to accept a visitor sympathetic to communism when they returned to the United States.

All the crewmen said they either refused, or agreed to accept such a visitor with the intention of turning him over to the FBI.

Marin City Council Still Without Quorum

The Marin City Council, which has failed to achieve a quorum for two meetings in a row, faces a reduction in membership, reported Rev. Samuel L. Banks Jr., chairman.

In canceling last night's session for lack of a quorum, Banks set a special meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday at Manzanita Center and said a cut in membership would be one of the items on the agenda.

Residents approved a 13-member council last July, but only 12 were elected because there wasn't any candidate for the second seat representing the cooperative apartments.

Perison Knighten later was appointed to the 13th seat, but failed to attend meetings, and that seat was declared vacant.

Then last month Mrs. Helen Washington and Ephorn Freeman, two representatives of low rental housing, resigned, leaving the council with 10 members.

Council membership is designed to provide representatives from low rental housing, cooperative apartments, private apartments and private homes.

Banks said if the membership is reduced, these housing segments still will be represented.

He reported that by a telephone poll of members, the council has recommended that Mrs. Mary Brooks, president of the Welfare Rights Organization, be appointed to the Marin County Human Rights Commission.

The seat was left vacant by the resignation of Mrs. Tommie Scott of Marin City, whose term runs until May 18, 1970.

Council members also have recommended Elihu H. Johnson of 31 Buckelew Street for appointment to the Marin County Redevelopment Agency, Banks reported.

The seat was left vacant when Banks resigned. His term ends April 17, 1970.

At its next session the Marin City Council will consider designating a Marin City organization as an advisory committee to Marin County on its workable program for community improvements, a program the county needs to qualify for federal housing funds. Also to be discussed at the meeting will be the steps necessary to process a federal planning grant, for which the council has applied.

Redwood Co-Ed Is Top Speaker

Susan Zuschin, a Redwood High School junior, won the student speaking contest sponsored last week by the Larkspur Lions' Club.

Miss Zuschin competed with two other Redwood students speaking on the hopes and fears of today's youth. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Zuschin of 8 Birch Avenue, Corte Madera.

She will compete with other Marin high school students March 13 at the Civic Center with the winner going on to interstate speaking contests, competing for scholarships.

Flu Eases Grip On Two Schools

Tomales Elementary School returned to a normal scheduled yesterday when absenteesim dropped to 40 students.

A high of 84 absentees was reported earlier this week during the peak of an influenza outbreak. The school, with 240 students, had shortened sessions in order to release students early.

Tomales High School, forced to reduce its schedule because the same buses transport students from both schools, also returned to normal sessions yesterday.

Cottontail rabbits usually spend their lifetime within a mile of their birthplace.

Bennett's PG&E Board Summons Is Thrown Out

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Former California Public Utility Commissioner William M. Bennett's subpoenas against the entire board of directors of the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. were quashed yesterday by a commissioner at the request of PG&E attorneys.

One of the 16 subpoenas, however, one against board chairman Robert H. Gerdes, was left standing by Commissioner J. P. Vukasin. Bennett will have the right to question Gerdes when the commission resumes its hearing at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, Vukasin ruled.

Bennett, a resident of Kent Woodlands, objected yesterday that Vukasin did not have the power to quash the subpoenas, and that only the full five-member commission could do so. Bennett indicated he will appeal Vukasin's ruling to the California Supreme Court, a commission spokesman reported.

Bennett, who had the subpoenas issued by the commission's staff, has said he wanted to ask the directors about the utility's "political expenses" and "why they have to spend money advertising a necessity." PG&E spends about $2.5 million a year on promotion, arguing increased use of its services helps keep rates down.

The commission has been hearing a $6.79 million gas rate increase which the utility wants to be effect next Friday.

Suspect Booked

Claude Burton, 24, of 33 Cole Drive, Marin City, was arrested by sheriff's deputies Wednesday on suspicion of stealing a car in Corte Madera Jan. 27. Burton posted $1,200 bail. He was to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Marin Unit Of SMART Is Forming

A Marin unit of Silent Majority Against Revolutionary Tactics, a non-profit citizens group, is in the formative stages.

Among SMART's aims are to aid in prevention of campus disorder and restore an academic environment and encourage the "silent majority" to speak out.

At an initial Southern Marin unit meeting Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Grey, 176 Paseo Way, Greenbrae, members agreed that public meetings should be held in Marin, according to Richard Geno of Tiburon, Marin unit president.

The group intends to learn the position of candidates for the Tamalpais High School District and Marin Junior College District boards on campus disorders, Geno reported.

Marin unit officers will be elected at SMART's next meeting, at a time and place to be announced.

In October, the same temperature is found over a greater portion of the United States than at any other time of the year.

Flood Control Path Protested In Ross

Residents of the quiet Town of Ross voiced fears last night that the Corte Madera Creek flood control project would bring trespassers into the community.

The concern was expressed at a meeting in town hall after Col. Frank C. Boerger, district engineer for the Army Corps of Engineers, said a public walkway alongside the concrete flood channel would be provided on the property, not the channel, side of a safety fence.

JONES PROTEST

Town Councilman Roy Farrington Jones was the first to protest, saying residents whose properties abutted the channel would be prey to "persons wandering around their pools."

Councilman W. James Dawson suggested placement of the six-foot fence along the property line, keeping trespassers out.

But County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost said this would require construction of another fence on the edge of the channel to keep persons from tumbling into the 10-foot ditch.

Moreover, he said, only maintenance men were expected to use the five-foot walkways on either side of the channel.

"I would presume," quipped Dawson, "that a maintenance man would be so equipped as not to fall in the channel."

TWO-FENCE IDEA

"If it's our responsibility if a person falls in the ditch," Frost said, "I think that the board of supervisors and the county counsel will be concerned."

He said the possibility of two fences will be investigated.

Last night's meeting was to brief Ross residents on plans for the stretch of channel through the community. Frost told a capacity crowd in town hall that acquisition of slices of property needed for the project would begin by July.

Ross conditionally joined the flood control zone two years ago, even though many residents opposed a concrete channel snaking through the town. From the grumbling last night, it was apparent the objections have not passed.

Among the conditions were that the town council have veto powers over project plans and that the flood control zone give priority to relieve overflow and ponding along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and in other areas. Mayor Frederick S. Allen re-emphasized these last night.

Boerger outlined plans for project beautification to combat what the Army calls "visual pollution." He said the safety fence would have a green vinyl covering to blend with surroundings, large trees would be spared wherever possible and that tree and shrub planting would be done along the right-of-way.

Noting that eucalypti were listed by the Army as among "native" trees which would be planted, Dawson objected.

"I'm with you, Jim," said Jones. "You (to Boerger) have it listed as a native tree. It's not; it's from Australia. And if you've ever lived under one it's disgusting."

"If you don't want it," Boerger said, "we won't plant it."

Judge Raps 'Oakland 7' Prosecution

OAKLAND (UPI) — The judge in the trial of the "Oakland Seven," said the prosecution has presented a "mushy" case based on circumstantial evidence, but that the jury must decide its merits.

Alameda County Superior Court Judge George W. Phillips Jr. made the statements yesterday after the defense move for dismissal of the case against the seven defandants — one of them Michael J. Smith, a former Corte Madera resident — charged with conspiring to have others commit misdemeanors during the October 1967 Stop-The-Draft Week demonstrations in Oakland.

"Even the district attorney's staff has to admit it's unfortunate that a case of this type has to depend almost entirely on circumstantial evidence," Judge Phillips said.

"But in order to acquit the seven there would have to be no basis at all to convict. I can't say that," he said.

The judge said he would have to leave the facts for the jury to decide. The jury was not present at the daylong dismissal hearing and has not been allowed to read newspaper accounts of the proceedings.

Indictment In Post Office Box Thefts

A 27-year-old military policeman yesterday was indicted by a federal grand jury in San Francisco on a charge that he broke into a Mill Valley post office box—to which "swingers" are urged to write — and stole two letters.

The box in question is Box 604, to which readers of the Berkeley Barb are urged to write letters "for a swinging time."

According to Jerrold M. Ladar, assistant U.S. district attorney in San Francisco, on Jan. 18, Gene Poor, stationed with the 30th MP Battalion at the Presidio of San Francisco, managed to get two letters out of the front of the box.

Poor, apparently not satisfied with just two, returned to the box about 20 minutes later, postal authorities said, and broke the glass.

This brought shouts from postal clerks, and three of them, William D. Gray, James Conley and George Lopez, chased Poor down the street, catching him nearby, Ladar said.

Postal authorities were at a loss to explain why Poor, who lives in Pacifica with his wife, was in the Mill Valley post office.

They also declined to name the holder of the post box, but said that he and Poor were not acquainted.

Poor, who is to be arraigned in federal court in San Francisco on March 6, could draw a five-year prison sentence and $10,000 fine for stealing mail and a one-year sentence and $1,000 fine for breaking the box glass if convicted, Ladar said.

The National Fiddlers Contest is held annually at Brownville, Neb.

Heliport Site Again Is Topic

The Marin County Aviation Commission will continue their search for a suitable heliport site at a meeting Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the planning commission chambers of the Marin Civic Center.

The Commission will also discuss future development plans for Gnoss Field so that the county can apply now for state funds for the 1970-71 fiscal year.

Also on the agenda is a discussion on how minutes of the aviation commission and subcommittees will be recorded. At present, airport Mgr. Francis E. Torr gives reports and provides technical information, and takes minutes in addition.

Women Defy Court In Mutiny Trial Protest

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two women pacifists today protested against the Army's Presidio mutiny court-martial by refusing to appear in federal court for sentencing.

They were convicted for a paint spraying demonstration in a court-martial room during a desertion trial.

They declared they would remain fugitives until Army Secretary Stanley Resor replies to their letter demanding an investigation of the mutiny trials.

Sali McAllister, 33, and Charlene Pope, 20, both of Mountain View, were convicted Jan. 31 for spraying paint in a Presidio court-martial room.

Twenty-seven men were accused of mutiny in a sitdown demonstration to protest stockade conditions and the fatal shooting of a prisoner who attempted to escape.

The women have been free on $1,000 appearance bond and were scheduled to be sentenced today before U. S. District Judge George B. Harris.

They sent Judge Harris a copy of a letter to Resor in which they declared they would not appear for sentencing until the secretary replied.

"We ask that you view the Army Intelligence video tape of the so-called mutiny which clearly shows the absurdity of the charge and the average sentence of 15 years," they wrote Resor.

Workshop Canceled By College Board

Marin Junior College District trustees canceled a workshop session scheduled last night on the planned new science center because only four board members were available, reported Earlene Jones, public information officer.

The workshop was rescheduled for early next week, day yet to be set, she said.

'Austrian Trip Was Most Memorable'

One of a series of interviews with wives of Marin County mayors.

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

I've always been very athletic," says Mrs. Dean Meyer, wife of Mill Valley's mayor, and her trim figure is evidence that she continues to be very active, especially in the outdoor sports the entire family enjoys.

Skiing is their favorite sport, and they keep in practice mostly at their cabin at the ski resort of Alpine Meadows near Lake Tahoe, but their most memorable experience was skiing during a trip they took the last of January and first of this month to Kitzbuhel and Lech in Austria after stopping at London.

THE MEYERS and their three children, Douglas, 10, Danny, 7, and Susan, 4, were invited to be guests of their neighbors, the Peter Bogarduses of Mill Valley and their three children, Betsy, Andy and Skippy, who are spending a year in Kitzbuhel.

The other sports the Meyer family enjoys are bicycling, canoeing on Richardson Bay, swimming, tennis — they are members of the Mill Valley Tennis Club — and hiking.

"There's nothing we love more than packing a lunch and hiking the trails on Mt. Tamalpais," Shirley says. "My husband and I have been Sierra Club members since before we were married, and we are ardent conservationists.

"Being a third generation Californian and a member of the Society of California Pioneers, my husband takes great pride in the state, county and Mill Valley, which we love."

MOST MILL Valley people are well aware of the mayor's interest in conservation, for his slogan during his campaign for election to the Mill Valley city council was "Keep Mill Valley Green."

Shirley herself also likes to ride horseback and takes advantage whenever possible of the invitation to join the wife of former Mill Valley mayor Michael Wornum in riding the horses they own.

Strictly for her own benefit Shirley studies and practices Yoga.

"I go the whole route, including the meditation," she says. "I think everyone's life is so hectic now that we need something to help keep us calm, and I find that meditation helps me to work more efficiently without tension."

Another interest of the mayor's wife is gourmet cooking. "I like French and Italian cooking, and I like to try out new dishes," she says, "but I practice mostly on the family. My husband likes to cook too, and it's a great help when he gets breakfast Sunday mornings and takes over almost all the cooking when we go to the cabin."

AS FOR POLITICS, Shirley says, "I feel I don't want to become involved myself. My husband needs me at home. He spends enormous amounts of time in connection with his job as mayor and member of the Golden Gate Bridge Board and Marin County Transit District, but this is what he wants. A man has to do what he has to do.

"He really cares about Marin County and Mill Valley — so I can't get too upset over the time it takes, even when the phone rings constantly every day from about 4:30 in the afternoon until 8 in the evening."

The personal story of Shirley and her husband is rather unusual. Born in San Mateo, she grew up mostly in Burlingame, the home town of the mayor, and both attended the same elementary school, but they didn't know each other.

Since her father was an Army officer, the family lived in many places, including Danville, where she was graduated from high school. She attended the University of California at Davis one year and then worked in various clerical-secretarial jobs.

HER MOST interesting one, she says, was in a civilian position with the intelligence department of the Army in Heidelberg and Munich, Germany. On returning to the United States she was employed in a position with the U. S. Forestry Service in San Francisco, and it was at this time she met her husband through a friend of his she was dating.

In the first year of their marriage, the Meyers lived in an attic apartment on Telegraph Hill, in the second oldest building in San Francisco, she recalls. Meyer established his own insurance brokerage business and was very active in city affairs as vice president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

In 1958 they built their present English Tudor style home on a hill overlooking the Mill Valley golf course and have lived there ever since.

"We need a larger house now," Shirley says, "but we love this one so much we can't bear to leave it."

Completing the family group is a huge, very friendly Gordon setter named King and a black kitten they call Spooky because it had been abandoned and came to them on Halloween.

SUSAN, THE FOUR-year-old daughter of Mill Valley mayor and Mrs. Dean Meyer, loves to "help" her mother cook, especially the gourmet dishes Shirley likes to try out on her family. From a recipe she learned to prepare on the family's recent trip to Kitzbuhel, Austria, Shirley and Susan are making Salzburger Nockerls — a souffle-like dessert of sugar, flour, eggs and butter served with a hot sauce of apricot jam and rum, topped by chocolate curls — whipped cream too if desired. MOTHER'S FIGHT

A Family Opposes The U.S. Selective Service System

By JOAN LISETOR

Why would a mother hide her 18-year-old son behind her skirts, and harbor him when he refused to register for the draft?

"It was the only thing I could do," Mrs. Evelyn Whitehorn told an audience in Mill Valley Wednesday evening. "I discussed it with the four boys, and we all agreed it was the thing to do."

MRS. WHITEHORN is the Palo Alto mother who last year asked to be prosecuted instead of her son, because when he failed to register for the draft, he was following her advice.

She discussed her test case in Brown's Hall during a program sponsored by the Marin Chapter of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom.

Fighting the Selective Service System began for the family last September. Robert, 22, mailed his draft card back, accompanied by a letter stating he wished to sever his ties with the Selective Service because he could not retain his draft card in good conscience.

Mrs. Whitehorn was a resident of Marin during World War II, when her husband was stationed at Treasure Island, and she worked at Marinship. The Whitehorns, who have been divorced for three years, have four sons: John, 23, is in the Navy, stationed at Moffett Naval Air Station; Robert, who is awaiting trial for refusing induction into the Army; Erik; and Allen, a 15-year-old high school student.

REALIZING ERIK, who would turn 18 soon, would do the same thing, Evelyn Whitehorn made her decision in September not to allow him to sign what could be considered a contract with the Selective Service System.

"All of you know the endless list of things a person under 21 can not do," Mrs. Whitehorn told the audience. "He can't act effectively as a citizen until he is 21. He can't enter into a written legal contractual agreement."

MRS. EVELYN WHITEHORN

Mrs. Whitehorn feels that she, not Erik, should be punished for his actions. She feels responsible because she has taught her sons to follow moral precepts and to understand that it is their duty not only to have moral ideas and live them but also to make sacrifices if required by their consciences.

"I taught my children morality so well, and now Erik shares my views on the immorality of the Vietnam war," she said. "I can't declare myself out anymore."

"IF I HAD known (all that was going to happen) maybe I wouldn't have done what I did, but I'm so glad I've done it," she said.

Mrs. Whitehorn discussed the events of the past six months, since the day she attempted to present a letter to the draft board inn San Jose stating her position for refusing to allow Erik to register for the draft.

The week following an interview with two members of the draft board a letter arrived advising Erik he had three weeks to register for the draft. In the meantime two FBI agents came to the Whitehorn home.

"They told me they were there because of the publicity they had noticed in the newspaper," Mrs. Whitehorn said. "I co-operated because I was very naïve then and could even understand their viewpoint, but I was disturbed when they pointed out that I could be guilty of conspiracy. They stated that, should I persist, 'the government will ignore you, and you will find your son faced with swift and severe punishment.'

"I COULDN'T believe that the same charges could be brought against me as had been brought against Dr. (Benjamin) Spock. He is a wealthy, very well known, national figure, and I am just a member of the P-TA."

On Nov. 19, one week after the deadline, Erik was indicted and a bench warrant was issued for his arrest, and he was ordered to appear in Federal Court the following day. Numerous court appearance have followed, and Erik's trial date has been set for March 17, despite pleas for continuences and a restraining order against the federal government.

Mrs. Whitehorn and her attorney, Aubrey Grossman, are amazed at the unusual haste of the indictment.

"On the average 11 months elapse between the time of the offense and the time of indictment. Erik was indicted one week after his deadline to register," she said.

THE MOTHER is prompted in her actions by the belief that parents should teach morality to a child.

"It is not the government's responsibility to teach morality, and when parental policy contradicts government policy, a young person cannot go to the courts to fight for what he believes," she said.

Mrs. Whitehorn believes she must fight for her son.

"Erik has had to swallow his pride and live with the stigma of hiding behind mama" she said. "People ask how he can do this, and I answer, 'What if he were out carousing around, driving recklessly and raping the neighbors' daughter? Wouldn't you ask, 'Why doesn't that mother control her 18-year-old son?"

MRS. WHITEHORN says she does not know what the future will bring for herself and her sons, but she will keep on fighting for what she believes in.

Along with the harsh criticism, Evelyn Whitehorn has taken some good natured kidding.

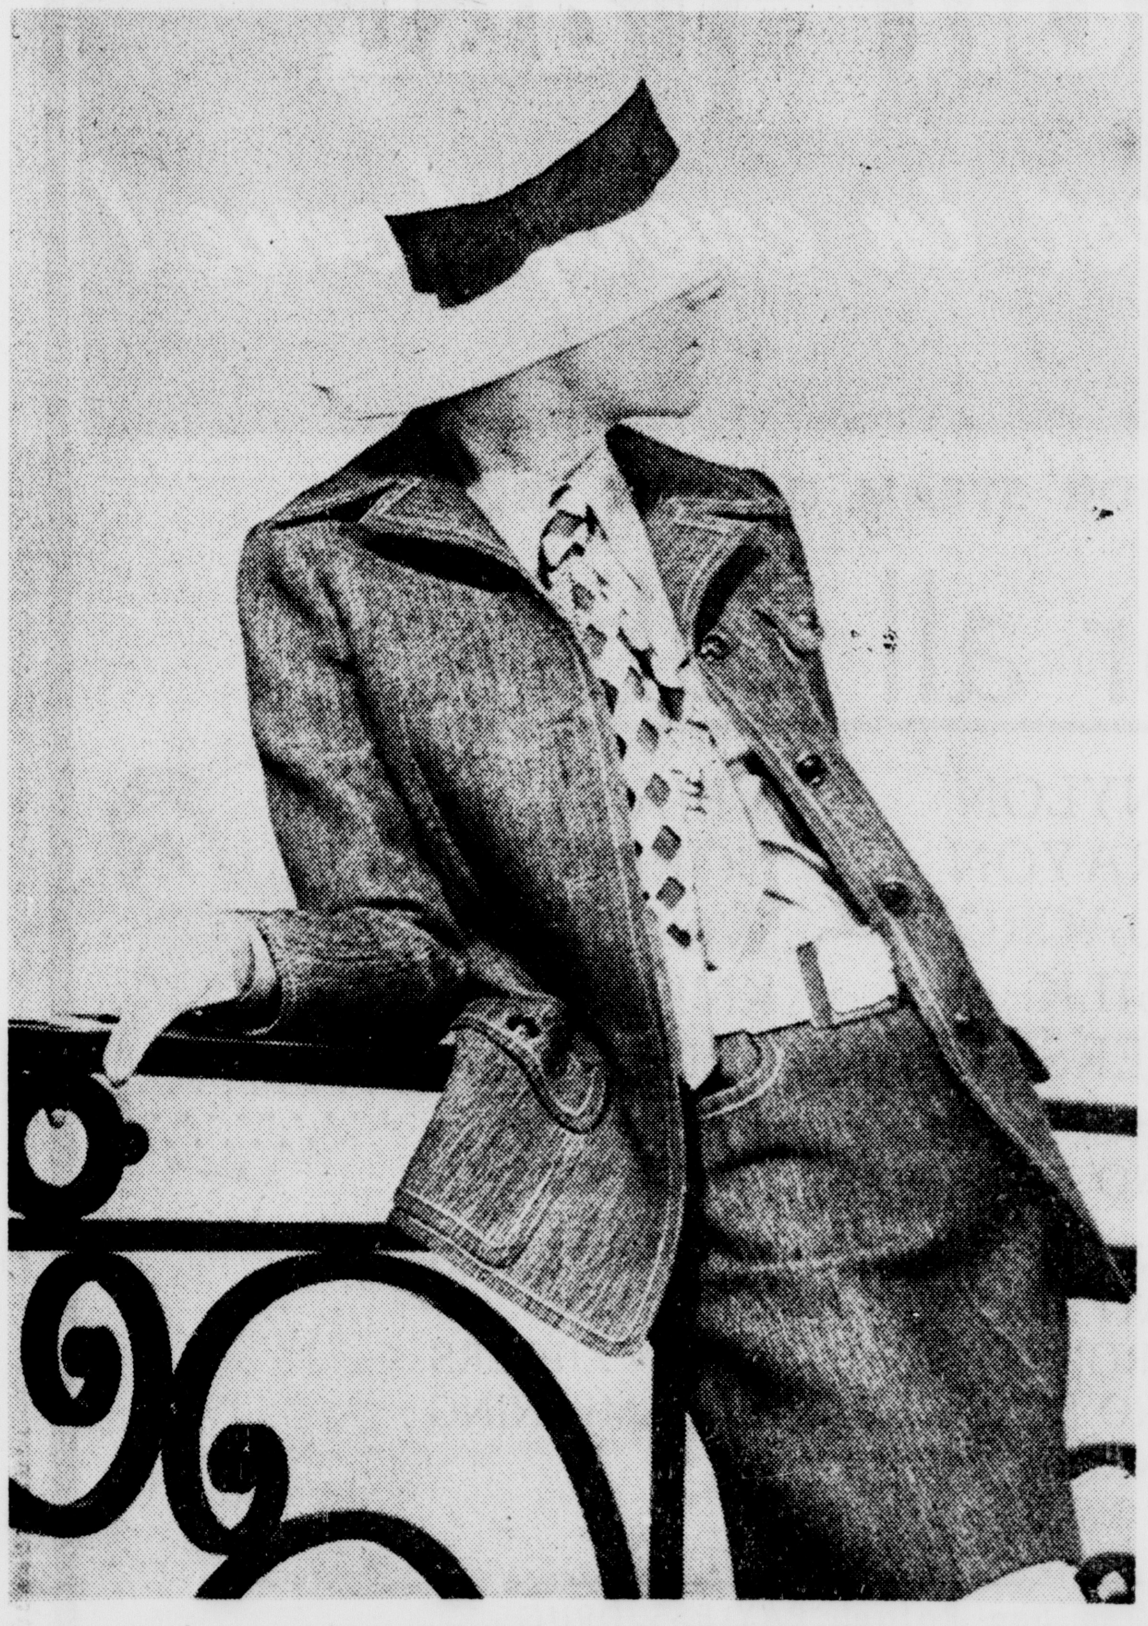
Lynne Wiggins To Be Wed To John Charles Averett

The engagement of Lynne Wiggins to John Charles Averett has been announced. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. Gerald Hininger of Kensington and Jess Wiggins of Oakland. She is a senior at the University of California at Davis.

John, who attends the University of California at Berkeley, is the son of Lt. Col. (ret.) and Mrs. John Averett of San Rafael.

The couple will be married in July.



MASCULINE LOOK

If this little blue suit looks a bit like big brother's overalls, it is because Christian Dior designers have outlined the dungaree-blue material with the same coarse-stitched style and teamed the suit with a male-styled shirt, a tie and that half-Stetson hat. It is from the Dior spring-summer 1969 collection. (UPI Telephoto)

The personal story of Shirley and her husband is rather unusual. Born in San Mateo, she grew up mostly in Burlingame, the home town of the mayor, and both attended the same elementary school, but they didn't know each other.

Since her father was an Army officer, the family lived in many places, including Danville, where she was graduated from high school. She attended the University of California at Davis one year and then worked in various clerical-secretarial jobs.

HER MOST interesting one, she says, was in a civilian position with the intelligence department of the Army in Heidelberg and Munich, Germany. On returning to the United States she was employed in a position with the U. S. Forestry Service in San Francisco, and it was at this time she met her husband through a friend of his she was dating.

In the first year of their marriage, the Meyers lived in an attic apartment on Telegraph Hill, in the second oldest building in San Francisco, she recalls. Meyer established his own insurance brokerage business and was very active in city affairs as vice president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

In 1958 they built their present English Tudor style home on a hill overlooking the Mill Valley golf course and have lived there ever since.

"We need a larger house now," Shirley says, "but we love this one so much we can't bear to leave it."

Completing the family group is a huge, very friendly Gordon setter named King and a black kitten they call Spooky because it had been abandoned and came to them on Halloween.

SUSAN, THE FOUR-year-old daughter of Mill Valley mayor and Mrs. Dean Meyer, loves to "help" her mother cook, especially the gourmet dishes Shirley likes to try out on her family. From a recipe she learned to prepare on the family's recent trip to Kitzbuhel, Austria, Shirley and Susan are making Salzburger Nockerls — a souffle-like dessert of sugar, flour, eggs and butter served with a hot sauce of apricot jam and rum, topped by chocolate curls — whipped cream too if desired. MOTHER'S FIGHT

A Family Opposes The U.S. Selective Service System

By JOAN LISETOR

Why would a mother hide her 18-year-old son behind her skirts, and harbor him when he refused to register for the draft?

"It was the only thing I could do," Mrs. Evelyn Whitehorn told an audience in Mill Valley Wednesday evening. "I discussed it with the four boys, and we all agreed it was the thing to do."

MRS. WHITEHORN is the Palo Alto mother who last year asked to be prosecuted instead of her son, because when he failed to register for the draft, he was following her advice.

She discussed her test case in Brown's Hall during a program sponsored by the Marin Chapter of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom.

Fighting the Selective Service System began for the family last September. Robert, 22, mailed his draft card back, accompanied by a letter stating he wished to sever his ties with the Selective Service because he could not retain his draft card in good conscience.

Mrs. Whitehorn was a resident of Marin during World War II, when her husband was stationed at Treasure Island, and she worked at Marinship. The Whitehorns, who have been divorced for three years, have four sons: John, 23, is in the Navy, stationed at Moffett Naval Air Station; Robert, who is awaiting trial for refusing induction into the Army; Erik; and Allen, a 15-year-old high school student.

REALIZING ERIK, who would turn 18 soon, would do the same thing, Evelyn Whitehorn made her decision in September not to allow him to sign what could be considered a contract with the Selective Service System.

"All of you know the endless list of things a person under 21 can not do," Mrs. Whitehorn told the audience. "He can't act effectively as a citizen until he is 21. He can't enter into a written legal contractual agreement."

Mrs. Whitehorn feels that she, not Erik, should be punished for his actions. She feels responsible because she has taught her sons to follow moral precepts and to understand that it is their duty not only to have moral ideas and live them but also to make sacrifices if required by their consciences.

MRS. EVELYN WHITEHORN

"I taught my children morality so well, and now Erik shares my views on the immorality of the Vietnam war," she said. "I can't declare myself out anymore."

"IF I HAD known (all that was going to happen) maybe I wouldn't have done what I did, but I'm so glad I've done it," she said.

Mrs. Whitehorn discussed the events of the past six months, since the day she attempted to present a letter to the draft board inn San Jose stating ner position for refusing to allow Erik to register for the draft.

The week following an interview with two members of the draft board a letter arrived advising Erik he had three weeks to register for the draft. In the meantime two FBI agents came to the Whitehorn home.

"They told me they were there because of the publicity they had noticed in the newspaper," Mrs. Whitehorn said. "I co-operated because I was very naïve then and could even understand their viewpoint, but I was disturbed when they pointed out that I could be guilty of conspiracy. They stated that, should I persist, 'the government will ignore you, and you will find your son faced with swift and severe punishment.'

"I COULDN'T believe that the same charges could be brought against me as had been brought against Dr. (Benjamin) Spock. He is a wealthy, very well known, national figure, and I am just a member of the P-TA."

On Nov. 19, one week after the deadline, Erik was indicted and a bench warrant was issued for his arrest, and he was ordered to appear in Federal Court the following day. Numerous court appearance have followed, and Erik's trial date has been set for March 17, despite pleas for continuences and a restraining order against the federal government.

Mrs. Whitehorn and her attorney, Aubrey Grossman, are amazed at the unusual haste of the indictment.

"On the average 11 months elapse between the time of the offense and the time of indictment. Erik was indicted one week after his deadline to register," she said.

THE MOTHER is prompted in her actions by the belief that parents should teach morality to a child.

"It is not the government's responsibility to teach morality, and when parental policy contradicts government policy, a young person cannot go to the courts to fight for what he believes," she said.

Mrs. Whitehorn believes she must fight for her son.

"Erik has had to swallow his pride and live with the stigma of hiding behind mama" she said. "People ask how he can do this, and I answer, 'What if he were out carousing around, driving recklessly and raping the neighbors' daughter? Wouldn't you ask, 'Why doesn't that mother control her 18-year-old son?"

MRS. WHITEHORN says she does not know what the future will bring for herself and her sons, but she will keep on fighting for what she believes in.

Along with the harsh criticism, Evelyn Whitehorn has taken some good natured kidding.

MASCULINE LOOK

If this little blue suit looks a bit like big brother's overalls, it is because Christian Dior designers have outlined the dungaree-blue material with the same coarse-stitched style and teamed the suit with a male-styled shirt, a tie and that half-Stetson hat. It is from the Dior spring-summer 1969 collection. (UPI Telephoto)

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Adults Express Feelings Toward Sex As A 'Weapon'

DEAR HELEN:

So men don't think it's right for wives to use sex to get what they want, like an evening out. How about the other way around? If I want or need something my husband says "No" unless he gets his sex first. I had the flu so bad I couldn't breathe, but that was no excuse, according to him. He went around the house not speaking to me or the kids until I was his bed parther again — with a temperature of 103. We're married 24 years, and he gets worse every year.

Before men start griping about us women, they'd better stop using sex as a bargaining weapon. When my kids all grow up, I think I'll tell my virile husband (spelled without the "ir" to get out and go to his other women permanently. He uses them as a weapon too: if I'm not constantly available, he says he's justified to find it elsewhere — D. W.

DEAR HELEN:

Agreed. The woman who said, "I will if you buy me something" is a married prostitute, but dear Helen, you omitted saying all women (well, almost all who have been married over a year) use sex as a bargaining basis. The difference is that most are less obvious.

Give your "married prostitute" points for being honest. How many husbands are sweet talked into doing things they don't want to do or buying things they can't afford because their scheming little wives know the monetary value of a good roll in the hay? When my wife is especially nice to me, she wants something, and it isn't love. — HOODWINKED HUSBAND.

DEAR HELEN:

My husband showed me your answer to "Lonely and Frustrated Husband." What about the demanding and insensitive men? I had four children in seven years, have constant backaches, varicose veins, ulcers and am always tired. To avoid more children, I try the only prevention our religion allows. So my husband hits and curses me for my "coldness," and sits out in his "ham shack" every night while I tend babies. Then he uses your column against me.

Give the other side of the picture, Helen. A woman deserves to be taken out and treated like a human being. If she can only get such things by "using sex as a bargaining point," so be it. — TIRED AND DISGUSTED

DEAR ALL THREE OF YOU:

This is love? Nope, this is a payment on demand and demand on payment, without thought to mutual giving, or wanting to make someone you care about happy.

A qualified marriage counselor might show you and your mates that "cold" wives are often caused by husbands who "stand on their rights" and forget a woman must be wooed. As one reader observed, "Married prostitutes" wouldn't be so prevalent if all men were the lovers they imagine themselves to be! — H.

The Paris Wrap-Up For Spring

By LUCIE NOEL

PARIS (AP) — Paris spring fashions are more individual than ever this year with each designer asserting his style with confidence and conviction.

This goes for the traditional classic designers as well as the way-out creator who thinks in terms of the day after tomorrow.

Never before have clothes been so originally and dramatically accessorized. They set a new pace in shoes, stockings, gloves, jewelry, belts and handbags. Even new ideas in millinery reappear.

The typical Miss 1969 swings into springtime with a soft, supple silhouette, a flutter of pleats, all in lovely soft pastels and soft crepes, organzas, chiffons, and wools. The mood is young, gay, flattering, feminine. Once again styles may be called pretty, a word that has been taboo for years.

Though there may be less tendency toward nudity, there are plenty of suggestive revealing tricks spelling sex.

Breathtaking necklines plunge to the navel. Bare midriffs don't even cause a gasp. Newest evening dresses are slashed down one side from top to toe. Others feature a profile slash to the hips.

COURREGES TAKES pants slashed down the side seams, caught by latticed straps, and tops them with a floral minibra.

Peek-a-boo portholes, generous cut-out sections, see-through black organza slip-over-coats cover nothing but a brief pair of briefs, all contribute to the fun and games.

This season will also be remembered for the quantity and variety of pleating. Suit skirts are box pleated or have flat knife pleats. So are the shirtwaist dresses in daytime and evening lengths shown by Dior and other houses.

Sparkle takes over for evening pajamas. Glitter outlines eyelet embroidery. Pants are re-embroidered on sheers in gold or jet sequins. Chanel, just to be different, tops crepe pants with a braided tailored jacket. But she also tailors black jet sequins like her famous suit jacket. Hostess jumpsuits in soft crepe are everywhere.

Evening fantasy runs riot with Gypsy styles: Saint Laurent does his pretty Gypsies, including the bride, in Brossin de Mere's multicolored patchwork satin for the big skirt, sheer patchwork for the blouse and a bright kerchief for the head.

Dior's tzigane wears bayadere chiffons or sheer patchwork prints for daytime and evening.

The news in suits is concentrated in jacket lengths dropped to wrist length and sometimes fingertip.

EXCEPT AT Chanel's all skirts are above the kneecaps, hovering from 2 to 5 and 6 inches above. The shortest are at Cardin, Courreges, Ungaro, and Paco Rabanne.

Suit fabrics run the gamut from gray flannel, Patou, Dior, Balmain, to widowpane checks, Givenchy, on oatmeal, white or pale pastels; through gabardine in soft pastels including baby blue, pink, yellow, (Dior, Courreges, to Chanel's nubbly, feather weight rainbow-hued bouclette plaid tweeds.

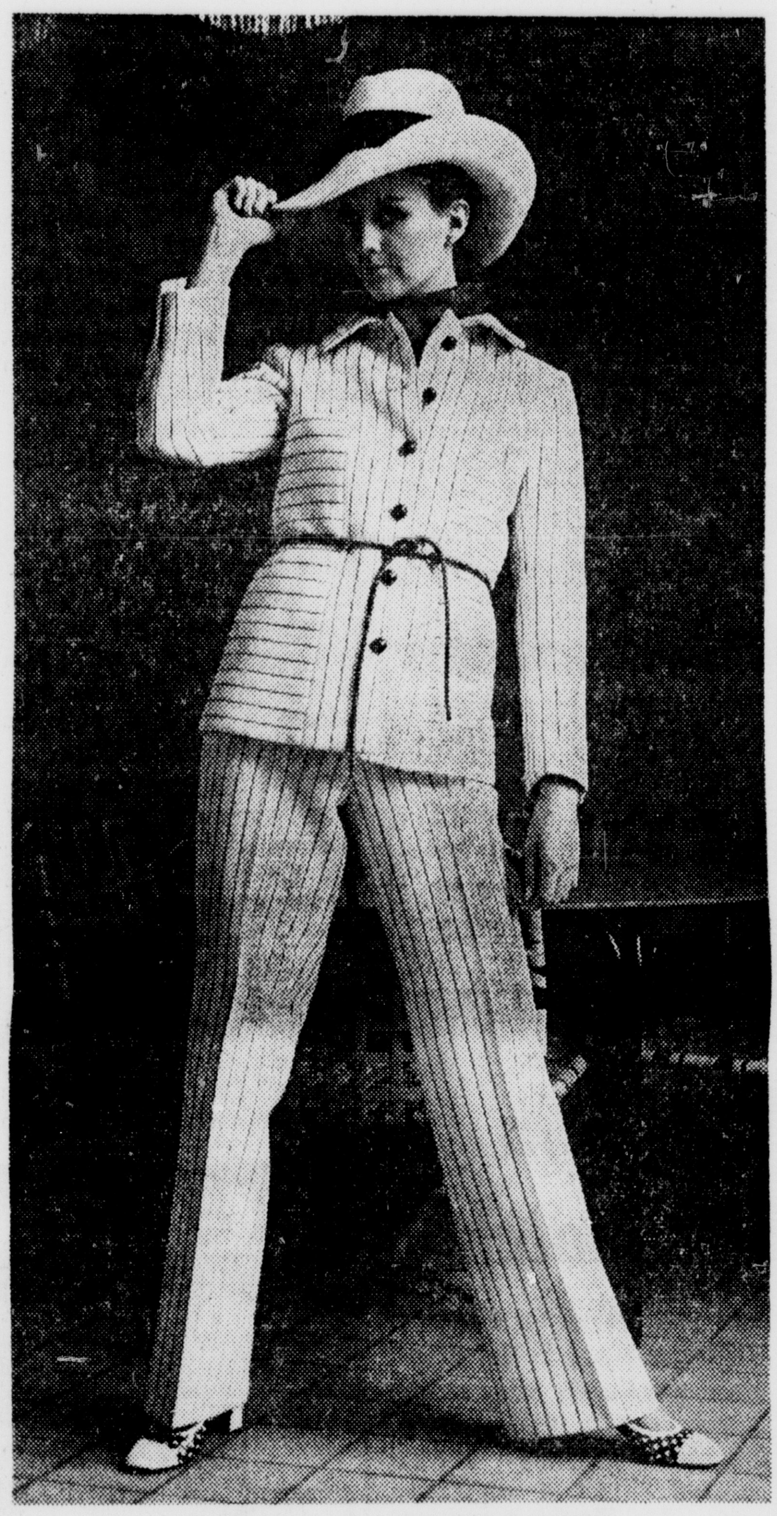
In coats, honors are shared between the navy's regulation reefer and the classic trenchcoat. They are usually double-breasted and always belted and buckled in enamel, gold or polished silver.

Cardin does city coats with bubble skirts, fastens them with one large button at the neckline and a corresponding outsize button buckle at the belted waist.

Venet goes his own way with extreme circular flared fullness.

Ricci's comfortable casual bathrobe coats have self-tie belts.

Prints this year form a minority group, but they are different and new. Abraham's geometrics for Saint Laurent are suited to his simple supple shifts. To break the monotony, certain designs include a positive-negative reversed treatment. Others are magnified tie silk effects or bull's eye target patterns. Many monotone abstractions are inspired by the cosmos and the moon's phases.



FOR DAYTIME

Pantsuits are big this spring and the House of Dior in New York scores with this pinstriped number. The pants have the wider leg and the tailored jacket is belted with a leather thong. (UPI Photo)

Mr. Kolitz is author and executive producer of Israel's first major motion picture, "Hill 24 Doesn't Answer," which won honors at the Cannes and Mexico film festivals. He is best known in America as co-producer of the controversial Broadway play, "The Deputy."

Zohara arrived in the United States in 1964 and has sung on television programs and at clubs such as San Francisco's Hungry i and the Bocce Ball.

Mrs. Bernard Blumberg of Greenbrae is chairman of arrangements.

THE MARION School Parent - Teacher Association has awarded honorary life memberships to Armen Tashjian, a fourth grade teacher at Marion, and to Chief of Police Robert diGrazia.

Miss Tashjian has been a teacher at Marion School for more than 15 years.

"She wants every child to succeed and always goes the 'extra mile' to help the child do so," said Mrs. Stanley Dennison, founders day chairman.

Miss Tashjian is a violinist and has played in the Marin Symphony Orchestra. She directed the first Marion School orchestra for many years, after her own teaching day was finished, without additional pay.

The teacher often spent time at home to help some beginning child master a new musical instrument.

Chief di Grazia was praised for his work with the Pony League Baseball Team which he coached in 1961 and since then has worked with Little League umpiring and coaching. He was president of the Little League in 1967 and is now volunteering his time at Sinaloa to coach a seventh grade basketball team. He is also serving on the board of directors for Novato Babe Ruth League.

The festival, sponsored by the Sisterhood of Congregation Rodef Sholom in San Rafael, will be held at the temple, 170 North San Pedro Road Sunday beginning at 10 a.m. and concluding at 3 p.m.

Children are encouraged to wear costumes appropriate to the Purim spirit, and there will be food booths.

Heading the bazaar committee are Mmes. Leroy Brown and Burton Freeman. Mrs. Myron Kaplan is in charge of the food committee. They will be working with Myron Kaplan, Nancy Kaplan, Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Hahn and Mmes. Roy Calder, Martin Brownstein, Joe Dienstag, Jerome Jutovsky, Kenneth Levy, Earl Sobel, Melvin Warenback, Irwin Staller, Allen Rosen, Leon Fish, Albert Schilling, Abe Froman and Richard Breiner.

NEXT TUESDAY at 7:30 p.m., also in the Kent School multi-purpose room, a preview of a film on drugs and narcotics will be shown to junior high students' parents. The film, "Escape to Nowhere," is being considered for use with a special drug and narcotics program in cooperation with Dr. Walter Way of Ross and a group of medical students from the University of California Medical Center. This projected program will be given during the school day to small groups of junior high students.

Mrs. Luce Explains Identity Problems

By MARGARET SCHERF

CHICAGO (AP) — The girl who wants to get a husband today has to be a lot sexier than her grandmother, says one of America's best-known women.

That's mainly because of "the contraceptive revolution" — which "may yet prove to be the greatest revolution in mankind's history," said Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce.

Mrs. Luce, 65, who's been novelist and playwright, politician and diplomat, is a veteran champion of women's rights.

Speaking on "The Identity Problem of the American Woman," Mrs. Luce told a glittering, black tie assemblage celebrating the 70th anniversary of the Woman's Athletic Club Wednesday night:

"The impact of the contraceptive revolution on the psyche of young American women has been shattering . . . challenging the most ancient concepts of the very nature of woman herself, and has left her in a state of bewilderment about her proper role in society."

That, and the industrial revolution, have made today's woman less necessary to today's man, she added.

He knows that she is not absolutely indispensable to his material well-being and comfort," explained Mrs. Luce, "and as a consumer of domestic goods, rather than what she once was —a producer—she represents a one-way drain on his pocketbook."

Add the "latter day religion" of psychoanalysis, which has given a generation of males hang ups on motherhood and fatherhood, and the result, said Mrs. Luce, is this:

"It has become harder and harder for young women who do want children and a home to get and keep a husband."

But where there's a will there's a way—and the way today, said Mrs. Luce, is supersexiness.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, Feb. 28, the 59th day of 1969 with 306 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase. The morning stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Venus and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1849 the first shipload of gold seekers arrived in San Francisco after a five-month trip from New York City.

In 1942 Japanese forces landed in Java, the last Allied bastion in the Netherlands East Indies.

In 1966 American astronauts Elliot See and Charles Bassett were killed when their plane hit a building in St. Louis.

In 1968 Michigan Gov. George Romney withdrew his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination.

A thought for the day: Victor Hugo said, "No one ever keeps a secret so well as a child."

Deliquency Aides Outline Their Work

Two full-time delinquency prevention consultants outlined their work Wednesday night for members of the Marin County Juvenile Delinquency Prevention Commission which has requested a consultant for Marin County.

Richard Hazel of San Mateo County and Rudy Webbe of Contra Costa County were invited to give the commission additional information to support their request, according to Probation Chief Walter H. Busher, commission secretary.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

A Wise Listener Can Pick Up A Double Which Can Pay Off

It's easy to make excuses when you beat an unlucky contract three or four tricks undoubled. "I couldn't double without trumps," you may say. And your partner observes that he had decent trumps but couldn't double without side strength. You don't have to make these excuses if you listen carefully to the bidding in a certain kind of hand.

Opening lead — ♣ J

QUITE CLEAR

The bidding made it quite clear that North and South were on thin ice. North was unable to jump to four spades even though he had a spade fit opposite an opening notrumper. Surely South needed good luck to make his game, and surely neither South nor North could feel confident enough to venture a redouble.

West couldn't be sure that the high cards were well placed for his side; it would have made a difference of two tricks if North had the queen of diamonds instead of the queen of clubs. But West did know that trumps would break badly for declarer and that the high cards might break equally badly. West therefore doubled in a confident tone of voice.

FOUR HONORS

Four honors appeared on the first club trick, and South took the ace of hearts and led a heart toward dummy. West stepped up with the queen of hearts, cashed the ten of clubs and continued with the nine of clubs to make dummy ruff.

Uncertain of the trump position, declarer led a trump to the king. The rest of the play was routine, but the defenders collected 800 points for taking six tricks. If West hadn't doubled, the penalty would have been only 300 points.

CAN LEARN MUCH

If you listen to the bidding carefully you can often tell that the opponents need good breaks to make their contract. If your hand tells you that they are going to run into bad breaks, double to make the most of their bad luck.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 1-no-trump (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠ 7
♥ K Q 9 5
♦ K J 6 3
♣ J 10 9 4.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two clubs, the Stayman Convention, asking partner to bid a major suit of four or more cards.

If he bids two hearts, you will jump to four hearts. If he bids anything else, you will jump to three notrump.

It's easy to make excuses when you beat an unlucky contract three or four tricks undoubled. "I couldn't double without trumps," you may say. And your partner observes that he had decent trumps but couldn't double without side strength. You don't have to make these excuses if you listen carefully to the bidding in a certain kind of hand.

QUITE CLEAR

The bidding made it quite clear that North and South were on thin ice. North was unable to jump to four spades even though he had a spade fit opposite an opening notrumper. Surely South needed good luck to make his game, and surely neither South nor North could feel confident enough to venture a redouble.

West couldn't be sure that the high cards were well placed for his side; it would have made a difference of two tricks if North had the queen of diamonds instead of the queen of clubs. But West did know that trumps would break badly for declarer and that the high cards might break equally badly. West therefore doubled in a confident tone of voice.

FOUR HONORS

Four honors appeared on the first club trick, and South took the ace of hearts and led a heart toward dummy. West stepped up with the queen of hearts, cashed the ten of clubs and continued with the nine of clubs to make dummy ruff.

Uncertain of the trump position, declarer led a trump to the king. The rest of the play was routine, but the defenders collected 800 points for taking six tricks. If West hadn't doubled, the penalty would have been only 300 points.

CAN LEARN MUCH

If you listen to the bidding carefully you can often tell that the opponents need good breaks to make their contract. If your hand tells you that they are going to run into bad breaks, double to make the most of their bad luck.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 1-no-trump (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠ 7
♥ K Q 9 5
♦ K J 6 3
♣ J 10 9 4.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two clubs, the Stayman Convention, asking partner to bid a major suit of four or more cards.

If he bids two hearts, you will jump to four hearts. If he bids anything else, you will jump to three notrump.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies currently being shown in Marin County. The council's findings are from the California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines and the film report of the Film Estimate Board. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael Library.

FAMILY

"High, Wild and Free" — Filmed in northern British Columbia. Photographer Gordon Eastman gives us a tribute of some of the last unspoiled country left in the northern hemisphere. Excellent.

"Man For All Seasons" — Superior film gives richness to a segment of England's history enhanced by strikingly beautiful settings.

"Swiss Family Robinson" — Adventure story is a delight for all ages.

"Taming of the Shrew" — Colorful version of Shakespear's comedy. Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Charly" — Poignant dramatization of a fictional case history of first human subject of a new type of brain surgery on a mentally retarded young man. Thought-provoking, sensitive performances from the cast.

"Heart is a Lonely Hunter" — A rather sad story about a deaf-mute who in his loneliness touches the lives of many. Compassionate tale is tenderly told and played with rare perception.

BORDERLINE
(Most sources say Adults Only)

"Bonnie and Clude" — Young man teams with pretty waitress; one grand spree. They wantonly kill and rob. Treating armed robbery and coldblooded murder as comedy will offend many people. Explicit sex and sadistict violence are revolting.

"Cool Hand Luke" — A brutal downbeat story about a non-conformist prisoner in a Southern road construction prison camp. Paul Newman is excellent in the title role . . . depressing.

"Night They Raided Minsky's" — Filmed in New York's lower East Side, set in the 1920s, film recreates the burlesque shows with bawdy skits, double entendre and is garnish and at times offensive.

"Rachel, Rachel" — Study of a repressed spinster trying to break out of her barren frustrating existence.

ADULTS ONLY

"Candy" — A 17-year-old girl wanders through a series of sexual adventures with the strangest assortment of characters ever presented on the screen. Massively dull, ugly pornography.

"Faces" — Two middle-aged people find their marriage empty and seek satisfaction elsewhere. Dialogue is pretentious and there is much profanity and sex.

"Joanna" — An amoral girl goes from one affair to another with any man that comes along until she falls in love with a black man. Emphasis on nudity and frank love scenes. Impressive acting.

"Thomas Crown Affair" — Plotting and execution of big bank robbery is ingenious. Criminal and investigator become involved in torrid love affair. Crime pays well in this case. Very modern treatment. All phases of immorality are taken for granted.

Marin Dining And Wining

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Veteran Chinese Chef Will Add His Talents To Eugene's Menu

Chinese food is coming to Eugene's.

Starting next Wednesday, EUGENE'S COUNTRY CLUB RESTAURANT in East San Rafael will serve Chinese dinners from 6 p.m. to midnight Wednesdays through Sundays.

No, EUGENE LACKENBACK won't do the cooking. He's good at his profession, but Chinese food takes a specialist. That specialist is none other than AL LOUIS, who has been known for his Oriental gourmandry around the county for years. The fact is, Al and Gene together boast a total of more than 60 years restaurant experience in Marin, so they should come up with something interesting.

Al started originally with Cliff Cox at the Chateau. For many years he and his brother Joe (who has now retired) were at the old 751 Club in downtown San Rafael. After that closed they moved to Black Point Inn and for the past 15 months have operated at Quan Lin of Marin.

Dinner menu at Eugene's will include the popular family-style Chinese dinners in several low and medium-price ranges, along with a la carte items, lobster tails poached in wine, deep-fried frog legs, abalone steak and prawns, and Eugene's own dinner steaks and hamburgers. Both Eugene and Al will offer their specialized desserts.

IF YOU AREN'T ACQUAINTED with Sausalito restaurants, you may be inclined to pass right by the SEVEN SEAS on the Bridgeway, thinking it is a bar.

If you don't at least investigate what's inside, that's where you make a mistake.

There is a bar, of course. In fact, PAUL DE MOSS started it as a bar many years ago with only occasional food servings. But eventually the food became the chief attraction in a menu made up almost entirely of seafoods.

Paul and his wife Della have had various qualified chefs here to handle the kitchen and I must say I have always found their dinners to be excellent.

Now sharing the kleig lights in the kitchen are WALLY PRICE and ERIC BENSON, well known for their talents at many other Marin restaurants. Such things as oysters on the half shell and cherrystone clams are among the favored items. The bouillabaisse here is a favorite of mine and of a long list of satisfied diners who discovered it before I did.

I think of the Seven Seas as a place where north, south, east and west all meet congenially and on friendly terms. There is nothing quite like it and it's a nice thing to see.

Now being installed is one of NADINE VENDETTI'S "Rollamatic" roofs over the Seven Seas patio, which will make it an all-weather dining room. This device is one of those smooth affairs that glides back and forth at the touch of a button, opening up the ceiling to the sky for ventilation or closing it snugly against the rain and cold when necessary.

Rollamatic installed one at La Petite Auberge in San Rafael and will put in one as part of the remodeling at the Trident in Sausalito. They are also very practical for home patios, by the way.

Anyway, this will add considerably to the year-round seating capacity of the Seven Seas. It's not an inconsequential matter in a restaurant as compact and as well patronized as this one.

LOOK SOON for a reopening of the former King Cotton on Francisco Boulevard, East San Rafael.

It will still be a drive-in restaurant, I understand, but the name will be different and there will be some remodeling here.

IN CAZADERO, Sonoma County Cazanoma Lodge starts its season tomorrow. During March and April service is limited to dinners only, three days a week. Friday from 5 p.m., Saturday and Sunday from noon.

May through September it will be open daily.

Menu is German and American and this offers a pleasant motoring trip from Marin. The journey is scenic at any time of the year.

WALTER VAN VECHTEN, who has been a waiter at Rubini's in Fairfax for 10 years and is one of the kindliest persons I know, will be the special guest of Rich King's KFOG radio program Sunday at 10 p.m. He'll discuss the art and tribulations of his profession.

Van, by the way, comes from a family of early Dutch pioneers who settled in the Hudson River Valley of New York. The original family home is now a state museum.

If you like the free-wheeling camaraderie that can only exist around a piano bar, Rubini's is the place to go. There, Lowell Hawk at the keyboard can play at least nine out of 10 requests without looking for the sheet music.

TAKE THE ESCARGOTS at Cafe Bon Vin—

They are prepared differently. No shells. The snails parted with their shells once, so why restore them at the table only to have them removed again? At least, so they reason at Cafe Bon Vin.

They take medium large mushroom caps and scoop out the stem section. The mushrooms are sauteed or poached in Spainish Amontillado and butter. The snails are heated in a sauce which contains only a litttle fresh crushed garlic, sweet butter, chopped parsley and chopped basil — along with imported Dijon mustard. The escargots are nested in the mushroom caps, which are in turn nested in mashed potatoes to soak up the sauce.

Navarin Printanier, a spring lamb and vegetable dish served in France, will be the featured entree at next Wednesday's provincial night here. Make reservations.

THE OPENING of the Kabuki Theater Restaurant in San Francisco's Japanese Cultural and Trade Center tomorrow will highlight a group of Japanese actors making their U. S. debut in the world premiere of "Madame Butterfly."

Also featured is a highly trained all-girl "Spring Revue" from Osaka, also making its western debut. Performances will be twice daily in the new 900-seat theater. Reservations should be made with Kabuki Theater Restaurant, 1881 Post Street, San Francisco. The center offers parking for 800 cars.

GOOD-BYE to an old friend — Leslie Johnston, one-time Marin chef.

According to his son David, he read every great author translated into English. He knew Chekov and Shakespeare . . . and could expound on the ideas of Mark Twain. In his lifetime he met many famous people and chatted with them on world affairs. Among them were Winston Churchill and Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

In Marin he worked at the Chateau and Marin Golf and Country Club, and I believe some other places. He knew his chosen profession from many angles and I learned much from him.

Rock-Tossers In Car Break Firm Windows

A car full of tock-tossing youngsters yesterday shattered two large windows, causing $600 in damage at the Redwood Empire Savings and Loan Co., 301 Washington Street, Petaluma, police said.

Company officials said the car drove by at 12:19 p.m. No one in the building was injured.

Candidates Due Preview On Education

Dr. William Odell, Stanford University professor of Education, will speak to Marin County school district trustee candidates tomorrow on "What We Can Expect in Education in the 70's."

The workshop meeting to enable candidates to gain insight about schools and proposed educational legislation will be from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the Civic Center supervisors chambers. Candidates are running for office on the April 15 ballot.

Other speakers are Dr. Dan Dawson, University of Southern California professor of education speaking on "Employee-employer Relationships in the 70's" and Alvin Yelvington, California School Boards legislative advocate, speaking on "Legislature and Finances '69," Robert E. Spain, director of administrative services at the county schools office, reported.

Stereo, TV Stolen

Burglars took a stereo and television set, valued at $609, from the home of Robert A. Brunner, 500 Throckmorton Avenue, Mill Valley, between 6:30 a.m. and 4:25 p.m. yesterday, police reported.

WINE DISCOVERIES at CAFE BON VIN

ENCOURAGING EXPLANATIONS

Why this is the fastest-growing and most interesting restaurant in the Bay Area. (Written in letters and guestbook by our customers.)

"CHAMPAGNE BRUNCH WAS a delightful surprise. There were twelve breakfast dishes, Sunday — and not one I'd ever seen or eaten before . . . though I'd heard of some of them. And they tasted even better than they sounded!" (EDITOR'S NOTE: Served 11:30 to 2;30 Sundays. $3.95 complete brunch, which includes generous amounts of bottle-fermented Brut Champagne.)

"LE GALA DINNER WAS something we hesitated about for several months. Ten courses, nine wines — it's an overwhelming idea! Finally, we made it; it seemed such an appropriate way to celebrate our anniversary — and it was an experience, four hours we will never forget. The courses were small—and as delectable as fine French food can be. The wines — each brought out the best in the dish with which it was served, and vice versa. Now we're sorry we missed the first four Galas." (EDITOR'S NOTE: Menu changes monthly, more or less — and Galas are never repeated. Reservations only; 12 Galas served each evening. $10 for ten courses. These requirements do not apply to the Petit Diner and the Granc Diner — steaks or a la carte specialties.)

"PROVINCIAL NIGHT HAS become our regular Wednesday out, we enjoyed the first one so. We take in everything: the tasting of Wine Discoveries, with Fred Cherry leading the wine talk; the wine-loving people seated near us at the long table; the bottomless glasses of wine; and browsing in the Wine Discovery Shop — where we're usually hooked for a rare bottle, and sometimes a case." (EDITOR'S NOTE: Tasting at 6:30 p.m., $2. Dinner at 8:00 p.m., $5, including boundless wine. Wednesday only; phone for reservations as early as possible.)

"WINE DISCOVERIES ARE the right name for the rare, unusual, interesting, underpriced, or merely delicious wines Fred Cherry brings in from all over the world. We're building a wine collection, and it's nice to have a chance to taste a wine before you buy a bottle — or a case. The people in the Wine Discovery Shop and the restaurant know wine and love wine; wine shops like this one are hard to find outside England or France."

"SURPRISING THINGS happen at Cafe Bon Vin — or maybe we're just lucky. Sunday at brunch a jar of $60-a-pound fresh caviar was brought in for Mr. Cherry's approval, and he was so delighted with it he brought out the French bread and sweet butter — and shared his jar with us. Another time, a salesman brought in a wine Fred liked so much . . . it was a wine from Argentina, I think . . . he made half the people in the restaurant taste it too. It definitely is a fun place!"

"LOOK FOR THIS column next week and read other stirring explanations by friends, customers—maybe even enemies—why Cafe Bon Vin is the fastest-growing and most interesting restaurant in the Bay Area."

The courses were small—and as delectable as fine French food can be. The wines — each brought out the best in the dish with which it was served, and vice versa. Now we're sorry we missed the first four Galas." (EDITOR'S NOTE: Menu changes monthly, more or less — and Galas are never repeated. Reservations only; 12 Galas served each evening. $10 for ten courses. These requirements do not apply to the Petit Diner and the Granc Diner — steaks or a la carte specialties.)

"PROVINCIAL NIGHT HAS become our regular Wednesday out, we enjoyed the first one so. We take in everything: the tasting of Wine Discoveries, with Fred Cherry leading the wine talk; the wine-loving people seated near us at the long table; the bottomless glasses of wine; and browsing in the Wine Discovery Shop — where we're usually hooked for a rare bottle, and sometimes a case." (EDITOR'S NOTE: Tasting at 6:30 p.m., $2. Dinner at 8:00 p.m., $5, including boundless wine. Wednesday only; phone for reservations as early as possible.)

"WINE DISCOVERIES ARE the right name for the rare, unusual, interesting, underpriced, or merely delicious wines Fred Cherry brings in from all over the world. We're building a wine collection, and it's nice to have a chance to taste a wine before you buy a bottle — or a case. The people in the Wine Discovery Shop and the restaurant know wine and love wine; wine shops like this one are hard to find outside England or France."

"SURPRISING THINGS happen at Cafe Bon Vin — or maybe we're just lucky. Sunday at brunch a jar of $60-a-pound fresh caviar was brought in for Mr. Cherry's approval, and he was so delighted with it he brought out the French bread and sweet butter — and shared his jar with us. Another time, a salesman brought in a wine Fred liked so much . . . it was a wine from Argentina, I think . . . he made half the people in the restaurant taste it too. It definitely is a fun place!"

"LOOK FOR THIS column next week and read other stirring explanations by friends, customers—maybe even enemies—why Cafe Bon Vin is the fastest-growing and most interesting restaurant in the Bay Area."

$1.6 Million Budget Eyed By Trustees

Larkspur School District trustees were presented with a preliminary 1969-70 budget of $1,653,000 last night, $7,000 more than the current budget.

No action was taken pending trustees study at future board meetings, Supt. Milton S. Cohen reported.

Cohen said the increase is not one particular item but scattered through the budget.

The Larkspur Teachers Association presented the board with a 20-page negotiation policy statement which the board agreed to study. This year will be the first time the association has entered into active salary negotiations with the board, Cohen explained.

The teachers have not yet submitted a salary request for fiscal 1969-70, which could boost the budget higher.

Trustees approved a summer school program for June 18 to July 18 at Neil Cummins School, headed by Alfred P. Kerr, vice principal at Larkspur-Corte Madera School.

Two new courses set for summer school are Cultural Contributions of Minority Groups and a combination French and German class.

The board accepted resignations of Pam Chollar, Larkspur-Corte Madera School and Carol Cowan, Neil Cummins, half-time kindergarten teachers, effective June 30.

Trustees John W. Boyd and Mrs. Cornelia J. Perrone were absent.

Petaluma Girl Reports Kidnap Try

A colorfully-dressed man attempted to kidnap a 12-year-old Petaluma girl yesterday as she was returning to school after lunch.

The girl told police she was walking on North Webster Street at 12:20 p.m. and noticed a car circling the block several times. When she reached the front of the First Baptist Church at 705 North Webster, the car pulled over to the curb and asked if she could give directions.

The girl said when she got near the car to talk to the man, he grabbed her and tried to force her into the car. In the struggle of breaking away, the girl dropped her umbrella and school books into the car.

The man was described as being between 25 and 35 years old, about 6 feet, 1 inch tall, of slender build and wearing a colorful red and black checkered shirt. She said he was driving a red convertible with a black top.

Police said a woman in the church witnessed the attempted kidnap and helped the girl fight off her assailant.

Marinite's Ballot Is Bail Bond Vote Key

I-J Special Report

DAVIS — A Marin County resident's vote was decisive last night as the University of California at Davis student legislature narrowly defeated a proposal which would have put the college in the bail bond business.

The university's student legislature defeated the proposal by a 12-11 vote. Freshman legislator Robert Figari of Tiburon cast an important no vote.

Had it been approved, the bill would have created a bail bond fund for U.C. Davis students who were arrested but unable to raise their own bond, the money to come from Associated Students funds.

The proposal called for a maximum of $500 to be made available to a student at no interest if repaid within 60 days.

Although no definite amount was ever established, Figari said that at least $10,000 would have been budgeted for the bail bond fund if approved.

Last week, proponents of the bond fund indicated they would seek a compromise by limiting the use of the money to students arrested in Sonoma, Sacramento and Yolo counties. But last night's bill which finally went to the floor for a vote, contained no such limitation clause.

Figari said that he opposed the bill for two reasons. The main one was the lack of funds available for such a project and the other was that such a fund might force the student legislature into making "political" decisions about what offenses the bond should cover.

He noted that if the money were used to bail out a student arrested while picketing at San Francisco State, the student legislature might be accused of supporting as a body the strike at the campus.

Figari also noted that the student government was already deficit spending for the coming fiscal year and that to provide funds for the bail proposal would mean that money would have to be taken from some other activity.

"When you are talking about tieing up $10,000 of a $200,000 budget, then I think the issue ought to be taken before a vote of the students," Figari said.

Figari said that he expected yet another try for the creating of a bail bond fund with student body money. He indicated, however, that he could not support such an issue no matter how it was worded.

One Nabbed In Bank Robberies

SANTA ROSA (UPI) — Police sought a gunman today after apprehending his partner in the simultaneous robberies of two banks near the Santa Rosa Police Department.

George f. Chatfield, 37, Concord, was captured by police yesterday on a rooftop near the banks. Officers said he had the money taken from one of them.

Authorities said the telephone and burglar alarm wires linking the banks with police were cut in a parking lot adjoining the police station.

The Lincoln National Bank and the Exchange Bank—less than two blocks from each other and the headquarters—were then held up simultaneously.

The FBI said today that $45,000 taken from Exchange Bank was recovered. The gunman who held up Lincoln National and escaped got about $3,600, the FBI said.

Reagan Fills Second Spot On Trustees

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — E. Litton Bivans, 60, of Glendale, has been appointed to the board of trustees of the California State Colleges by Gov. Ronald Reagan. (See also college and trustees stories, page 1.)

The appointment of Bivans and that of William O. Weissich of San Rafael, reported yesterday in the Independent-Journal, thus filled the vacancies left with the expiration of the terms of trustees Louis H. Heilbron of San Francisco and Paul Spencer of San Dimas, Los Angeles County.

Unlike Weissich, who declined to spell out his views of the current crises on the college campuses, Bivans said that "order must be maintained on the campuses. Everyone's opinion should be heard," he said, "but I feel that the colleges have been going in an adverse direction for a long time, through no particular fault of anyone.

"A college should be a quiet institution of learning with a great deal of respect for both administration and the students," he said.

Bivans is a manufacturer of machines to make paper boxes automatically, and is a member of the advisory curriculum committee of Pasadena City College.

Lawmakers, Sonoma College Discuss Goals

Three assemblymen told the Sonoma State College Advisory Board last night that party lines must be crossed to give the state colleges financial aid in capital improvement programs.

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, said that Sacramento is still in the "chess-playing stage" of the session. He would ask his fellow legislators not to try to solve campus disorders "in a bayonet frame of mind," he said, lest "this destroy our great institutions."

Bagley said the proposed withholding of state income taxes might be the answer to the college building problem. He said the withholding system apposed by Gov. Ronald Reagan, would bring an additional $150 million to the state budget which could be earmarked for campus development. (See story on page 2.)

"This would do away with the necessity of large bond issues and put the colleges on that old Republican principle of pay-as-you-go," he said.

Assemblyman John F. Dunlap, D-Vallejo, called for the decentralization of the state college powers. "All of the problems can't be solved in Sacramento, when the local campus must live with the solutions," he said.

He urged that the university regents and state college trustees be taken out of the political arena by removing Gov. Reagan and other elected officials as ex-officio members. "It won't happen this year," he projected, "but it's still a good objective."

Assemblyman Frank P. Belotti, R-Eureka, also called for an increase in aid for college building programs. "It's a sad state of affairs" when a wealthy state like California must turn away qualified students, he said.

Belotti said he was proud that neither college in his district — Sonoma State and Humboldt State — had been plagued by turmoil and pledged assistance in getting increased financial aid.

Hospital Board Compares Equipment Lease, Buying

Hillcrest Hospital directors yesterday considered purchasing or leasing new equipment for the hospital and intensive care unit now under construction.

Mrs. Loree Smith, hospital administrator, said bids were received on air conditioning, but all were rejected because of wide variances in the technical equipment. Mrs. Smith said the board will have an engineer draw up specifications and order it bid again.

The administrator said a new emergency power generator might also be necessary for the enlarged building. She said she would seek consulting opinions and report back to the board.

Mrs. Smith said a new portable X-ray machine will be a definite necessity and placed the cost at more than $7,000. The board will study the option of buying or leasing the machine.

74 Flee Blaze In Apartments

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Seventy-four persons were evacuated from three downtown buildings before dawn today when a three-alarm fire swept through an apartment building at Hyde and Pine streets.

The fire broke out in the second floor of a four-story apartment building about 2:15 a. m. It was brought under control within an hour, causing about $55,000 damage. Investigators said a cigarette dropped into some upholstery apparently caused the blaze.

Chief William Murray ordered all 30 of the building's residents evacuated, as well as eight persons in a neighboring building and 36 student nurses from St. Francis Hospital who live in an adjoining structure.

Cash Register Is Taken From Store

Burglars removed a cash register, check writing machine and a filing cabinet last night from the Lydia Stokes Bake Shop at 117 Shaver Street, San Rafael, police reported.

Mrs. Stokes said $10 cash also was taken. The equipment was valued at $755. The thieves entered by breaking the front door window, police said.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY

Many Marinites are unaware that there is a conservative Jewish congregation in their midst. But Congregation Kol Shofar has been active since 1962. And it is currently preparing for next week's observance of a festival with special meaning for all Jews—the Purim. Marin Magazine editor Don Keown writes about the congregation and about the Festival of Purim for tomorrow's edition of the I-J's weekend supplement.

A group of San Rafael Boy Scouts have been attending a different kind of school. Their subject—firemanship. And their faculty—the men of the fire prevention bureau of the San Rafael City Fire Department. With the help of photographs taken by the I-J's Jim Kean, the Marin Magazine offers a special report tomorrow on the unusual course and what it has accomplished for the youths who have completed the curriculum.

Hospital Board Compares Equipment Lease, Buying

Hillcrest Hospital directors yesterday considered purchasing or leasing new equipment for the hospital and intensive care unit now under construction.

Mrs. Loree Smith, hospital administrator, said bids were received on air conditioning, but all were rejected because of wide variances in the technical equipment. Mrs. Smith said the board will have an engineer draw up specifications and order it bid again.

The administrator said a new emergency power generator might also be necessary for the enlarged building. She said she would seek consulting opinions and report back to the board.

Mrs. Smith said a new portable X-ray machine will be a definite necessity and placed the cost at more than $7,000. The board will study the option of buying or leasing the machine.

74 Flee Blaze In Apartments

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Seventy-four persons were evacuated from three downtown buildings before dawn today when a three-alarm fire swept through an apartment building at Hyde and Pine streets.

The fire broke out in the second floor of a four-story apartment building about 2:15 a. m. It was brought under control within an hour, causing about $55,000 damage. Investigators said a cigarette dropped into some upholstery apparently caused the blaze.

Chief William Murray ordered all 30 of the building's residents evacuated, as well as eight persons in a neighboring building and 36 student nurses from St. Francis Hospital who live in an adjoining structure.

Cash Register Is Taken From Store

Burglars removed a cash register, check writing machine and a filing cabinet last night from the Lydia Stokes Bake Shop at 117 Shaver Street, San Rafael, police reported.

Mrs. Stokes said $10 cash also was taken. The equipment was valued at $755. The thieves entered by breaking the front door window, police said.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY

Many Marinites are unaware that there is a conservative Jewish congregation in their midst. But Congregation Kol Shofar has been active since 1962. And it is currently preparing for next week's observance of a festival with special meaning for all Jews—the Purim. Marin Magazine editor Don Keown writes about the congregation and about the Festival of Purim for tomorrow's edition of the I-J's weekend supplement.

A group of San Rafael Boy Scouts have been attending a different kind of school. Their subject—firemanship. And their faculty—the men of the fire prevention bureau of the San Rafael City Fire Department. With the help of photographs taken by the I-J's Jim Kean, the Marin Magazine offers a special report tomorrow on the unusual course and what it has accomplished for the youths who have completed the curriculum.

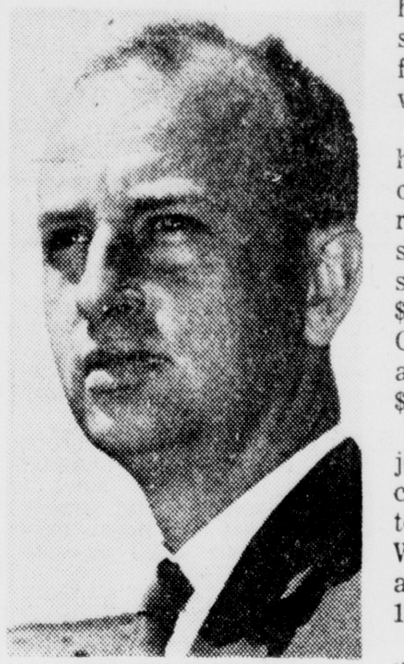
$67,518 Consultant Fees Ire Bolinas Harbor Foes

Consultant Norman T. Gilroy has been paid $67,518 in the past three years by the Bolinas Harbor District board, according to a citizen's committee favoring dissolution of the district in the March 11 election. Gilroy's payments in 1968 totaled $28,442, according to a letter sent to district residents yesterday.

Accompanying the letter is an eight-page list of every check paid by the district for the past three years. The committee, which calls itself Citizens for a Sensible Bolinas Harbor, challenged Gilroy's payments as excessive and said they exceed the salary of the San Francisco planning director or the state planning officer.

The letter also challenged "the judgment that sent Mr. Gilroy to Mexico City" along with a Federal employee when a relevant paper read at a symposium there could have been acquired "from the author who lives only a few miles from Bolinas."

Gilroy received a $1,202 check for that trip, $632 of it for travel and expenses and $570 for "coordination."



NORMAN T. GILROY
His fees an issue

Gilroy, a Mill Valley architect and planner, receives $15 an hour as consultant to the district, plus a $550 a month fee. He has coordinated multiple scientific studies of the lagoon which are aimed at giving a complete cross-section of its geography, ecology and future as a guide to any development.

Until June 1967, Gilroy received one check per month for all his work. After that date, separate checks were written for each program or phase of work.

Checks for May 1968, showed he received $240 for oceanographic study, $210 for research, $120 for topographic study, $405 for coordination of studies, the $550 monthly fee and $1,425 to produce a report to the California Lands Commission — a total of 160 hours work and $2,950.

The citizens letter also objected to $1,316 spent for harbor commissioners and Gilroy to attend a California Harbors and Watercraft Commission meeting at Catalina Island in October 1967.

In 12 years, the letter charged, the district has "spent or committed at least $317,843" and "not one of the lagoon's problems has been corrected."

The letter also said the ballot proposition for dissolution is conditioned on the district's interests being turned over to Marin County. Without such a provision, control would revert to the lands commission, which empowered the district in 1957 to make "substantial improvements" in the lagoon.

Harbor Fate Discussion Set Tonight

A panel discussion on the proposed dissolution of the Bolinas Harbor District will be held at 8 p.m. today at the Stinson Beach Community Center, sponsored by the Stinson Beach Progressive Club.

The district will vote March 11 on dissolution, which is aimed at turning over control of Bolinas Lagoon development to county government.

Speaking for dissolution will be Erik Lund of Stinson Beach, chairman of a committee working for dissolution, and Peter Kitchell of Bolinas.

Speaking against dissolution will be Don L. Bradley of Bolinas, member of a committee defending the district board, and Philip J. O'Brien of Stinson Beach.

Moderator will be Edward Z. Lewis of Stinson Beach. A question period will follow the panel discussion.

Former Marin County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen led a group of speakers defending the Bolinas Harbor District board before an audience of about 125 Bolinas area residents Wednesday night.

The meeting was called by a citizen's group supporting the board which calls itself the committee to preserve Bolinas Lagoon. No opposing speakers appeared, but opponents yesterday charged they had been given only two hours' notice of the meeting.

Bolinas Community Inc. has postponed its meeting scheduled for tonight until 8 p.m. next Friday, because of the panel discussion at the Stinson Beach Community Center.

Suspect In Credit Card Spree Booked

Deep sleep led to the arrest of a 39-year-old man yesterday in San Anselmo and the recovery of 13 credit cards, believed stolen from a Washington, D. C. resident.

Theodore Wolcott Jr., who gave no address, was booked into Marin County Jail on suspiciion of possessing stolen property and drunkenness with bail set at $6,250.

Sgt. Robert White, on patrol at 3:45 p.m., saw the man slumped over the wheel of a 1969 red Mustang in the Knot Inn parking lot, 300 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Wolcott was taken to the police station where a search revealed the credit cards of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Becker, Washington, D. C., two of the cards reportedly stolen in Aspen, Colo.

Wolcott said he found the cards three weeks ago in an airlines office, according to police

Police checked the car, registered to Hertz Rent-a-Car Co., Millbrae and learned it was to have been returned Feb. 10.

Wolcott was arrested by San Anselmo police Dec. 12, 1967 after which he served time in jail for stealing a car from Long Beach and for writing worthless checks, Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani said.

Lawmakers Warned ABAG Seeks Bill Role

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

BERKELEY — Marin County Supervisor John F. McInnis warned the Legislature today that the Association of Bay Area Governments will push for a big voice in whatever regional government bill is drawn in Sacramento.

"Only city and county people have the experience to say who shall plan these nine counties," McInnis said before the general assembly of the association.

Several legislators have announced plans to sponsor legislation to set up a regional government in the Bay Area without including ABAG's proposal that such a government be runu by city councilmen and county supervisors, the way ABAG is run.

The principal regional government bill is to be introduced Monday by Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, and will propose that the governing board be composed entirely of directors directly elected by the voters.

McInnis conceded that the greater experience of councilmen and supervisors "doesn't make us akin to the lord, but can bring better sense to the region than the theories of others."

His remarks at the semiannual general assembly brought strong applause from the delegates. Delegates from 43 of the 80 cities and seven of the eight counties represented in ABAG were present.

McInnis' remarks were seconded by ABAG's new president, San Aleandro Mayor Jack D. Maltester. "We don't need someone from abvoe telling us how to run our cities and counties," he said.

Proposals by the Legislature for regional government "will be the biggest issue of 1969 for ABAG." Maltester said.

Besides Maltester, Sonoma County Supervisor Ignazio A. Vella also was elected to an ABAG office, that of vice president. ABAG's vice president traditionally steps up the following year to the presidency.

In other business, ABAG's special counsel, Arthur Harris of Berkeley, reported an additional $45,000 of the $511,000 stolen last year by former administrative assistant Thomas N. Truax will be returned to ABAG's treasury next week.

The $45,000 will come from a $50,000 loan taken out by Truax at the San Francisco Savings and Loan Association just before the theft was discovered in February. Truax used an ABAG account as security for the loan and cashed the $50,000 check in a Las Vegas gambling house.

At the request of ABAG, however, the bank stopped payment on the check and Harris negotiated with the bank, gambling house and Internal Revenue Service to recover the money.

With an additional $65,000 recovered last August from the association's bonding company, this brought to $110,000 the amount recovered so far. Harris, noting that virtually all of the $511,000 had been spent by Truax, said, "This obviously made our task a little difficult."

Harris also reported that he expected to get within 30 days "an offer for a substantial cash settlement from other parties involved." He did not elaborate.

Delegates also adopted a $918,815 budget for 1969-70, down $244,316 from the current one. The budget and a schedule of dues for cities and counties were adopted in a unanimous voice vote without discussion.

Dues will total $231,306, down only $3 from this year. Marin County's dues will be $5,082, down from $5,275 and city dues will vary from $80 to $1,124. In Sonoma, the county's dues will be $4,944, down from $5,131.

Santa Barbara Firm Shows Interest In Bolinas Study

A Santa Barbara natural science research institute is interested in establishing an oceanographic study center in the Bolinas area, the Bolinas Harbor District board learned last night.

In a letter to the board, the CIREOS Institute said it was considering a center to serve the San Francisco Bay Area, according to district consultant Norman T. Gilroy.

CIREOS is an acronym for Centers for Interpretation and Research in the Earth and Ocean Sciences.

The center would include research laboratories and lecture and field trip facilities for laymen education programs, Gilroy said.

It would also feature agronmy and mariculture experimental farms, including a tree farm to grow stock for reforestation and land conservation programs, institute directors said in the letter.

As an added feature, the institute offered to manage another tree farm on harbor district property and promised an annual return of $85,000 to the district after the farm is in operation for three years, Gilroy noted.

The board named president Thomas J. Barfield and Commissioner John H. Middleton to investigate the proposal.

The Bolinas Harbor District board also:

LOGGING — Named Middleton and Commissioner Frances B. Stewart to meet with county officials to discuss the proposed county logging control ordinance.

EROSION — Agreed to ask again for federal funds to study ways of correction erosion on the Bolinas cliffs.

TOUR — Set a special meeting for 2:30 p.m. March 7 to guide members of the California Marine Parks and Harbors Association around the lagoon.

Trio Arrested In Marijuana Probe

Three Oakland men were arrested by California Highway Patrol officers at 3:15 a.m. today on suspicion of marijuana possession, after their car was stopped for speeding on Highway 101, south of the Rodeo Avenue turnoff.

Clarence Nash, 26; Nathaniel Blakston Jr., 23, and Rodney Earl Hart, 22, appear today in Marin Municipal Court for arraignment.

FEDERAL CHARGES

Werber Denies Role In Marijuana Import

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Frank Werber, former business manager of the Kingston Trio, pleaded innocent yesterday to a federal indictment charging him with conspiracy to fly 258 pounds of marijuana from Mexico to his Marin County home last fall.

At the same time, federal attorneys indicated that two other Marin men — Stanley Mulligan, 35, of Corte Madera, and Charles P. Barrett, 45, of Sausalito — probably will plead guilty and thus will not go on trial on similar charges.

Mulligan and Barrett, owners of Latitude 38 in Sausalito, were expected to be prosecution witnesses against Werber, who was arrested Oct. 14 at his plush home of DeSilva Island during the alleged narcotics drop.

U. S. District Judge Albert C. Wollenberg set March 28 for a hearing on a motion by Werber's attorney, Daniel H. Weinstein, to suppress evidence seized in the raid.

Weinstein said narcotics officers acted without a warrant. Officers charged that the marijuana had been delivered to Werber's home after being landed in a private plane at Santa Venetia.

Wollenberg denied a request by Weinstein that the indictment be dismissed on grounds Werber's defense has been prejudiced by false publicity in statements to the press by narcotics officers.

Assistant U. S. Atty. Jerrold Ladar, of Mill Valley, told the judge yesterday he expected Mulligan and Barrett to enter pleas of guilty to charges of smuggling the marijuana from Mexico.

Werber and three others, including a girlfriend, also face a variety of drug charges in Marin Superior Court as a result of the raid.

Werber and Judith Anne Sloper have pleaded innocent to charges that they possessed and grew marijuana at their DeSilva Island home. A jury trial has been set for June 23 for them and the other two charged in the case, Bryce Staples Wilson of Kentfield and Frank J. Mathieson of San Anselmo. Both Wilson and Mathieson have pleaded innocent to a charge of marijuana possession.

Expanding Tri-Partite Panel Asked

The Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District board today recommended expanding the Tri-Partite Transportation committee to include representation from Sonoma and Napa counties.

The board also recommended that Marin's representation on the board be through the Marin Transit District instead of the board of supervisors. The changes were proposed by Michael Wornum, Marin bridge board member, and seconded by Napa board member Lowell Edington.

The board ordered copies of the resolution sent to San Francisco and Marin supervisors.

Edington said if the tri-partite board is to take over transit in the entire Highway 101 corridor, he favored broader-based representation.

Army Snags Plans For Bike Trail

The Army has thrown a monkey wrench in plans for a San Francisco-Marin bicycle trail, a member of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District board said today.

John Dearman said the Army has denied permission to use roads in the Presidio of San Francisco or Fort Baker for the trail network on grounds it would be dangerous to cyclists.

The Army suggested an off-road route through the Presidio instead, which Dearman said would cost "hundred of thousands of dollars."

Dearman said the unexpected Army objection might be tied to the recent mutiny trial at the Presidio and said perhaps the Army feels cyclists are the type of people who might take part in sit-ins or demonstartions.

Earlier indications from Army officers had been favorable to the bike trail. The City of San Francisco has outlined a bike trail which ends at 25th Avenue at the Presidio.

Dearman said the bridge district is ready to establish a bicycle route along the bridge's west sidewalk, but the Army's action will stall the trail project.

$67,518 Consultant Fees Ire Bolinas Harbor Foes

NORMAN T. GILROY
His fees an issue

Consultant Norman T. Gilroy has been paid $67,518 in the past three years by the Bolinas Harbor District board, according to a citizen's committee favoring dissolution of the district in the March 11 election. Gilroy's payments in 1968 totaled $28,442, according to a letter sent to district residents yesterday.

Accompanying the letter is an eight-page list of every check paid by the district for the past three years. The committee, which calls itself Citizens for a Sensible Bolinas Harbor, challenged Gilroy's payments as excessive and said they exceed the salary of the San Francisco planning director or the state planning officer.

The letter also challenged "the judgment that sent Mr. Gilroy to Mexico City" along with a Federal employee when a relevant paper read at a symposium there could have been acquired "from the author who lives only a few miles from Bolinas."

Gilroy received a $1,202 check for that trip, $632 of it for travel and expenses and $570 for "coordination."

Gilroy, a Mill Valley architect and planner, receives $15 an hour as consultant to the district, plus a $550 a month fee. He has coordinated multiple scientific studies of the lagoon which are aimed at giving a complete cross-section of its geography, ecology and future as a guide to any development.

Until June 1967, Gilroy received one check per month for all his work. After that date, separate checks were written for each program or phase of work.

Checks for May 1968, showed he received $240 for oceanographic study, $210 for research, $120 for topographic study, $405 for coordination of studies, the $550 monthly fee and $1,425 to produce a report to the California Lands Commission — a total of 160 hours work and $2,950.

The citizens letter also objected to $1,316 spent for harbor commissioners and Gilroy to attend a California Harbors and Watercraft Commission meeting at Catalina Island in October 1967.

In 12 years, the letter charged, the district has "spent or committed at least $317,843" and "not one of the lagoon's problems has been corrected."

The letter also said the ballot proposition for dissolution is conditioned on the district's interests being turned over to Marin County. Without such a provision, control would revert to the lands commission, which empowered the district in 1957 to make "substantial improvements" in the lagoon.

Harbor Fate Discussion Set Tonight

A panel discussion on the proposed dissolution of the Bolinas Harbor District will be held at 8 p.m. today at the Stinson Beach Community Center, sponsored by the Stinson Beach Progressive Club.

The district will vote March 11 on dissolution, which is aimed at turning over control of Bolinas Lagoon development to county government.

Speaking for dissolution will be Erik Lund of Stinson Beach, chairman of a committee working for dissolution, and Peter Kitchell of Bolinas.

Speaking against dissolution will be Don L. Bradley of Bolinas, member of a committee defending the district board, and Philip J. O'Brien of Stinson Beach.

Moderator will be Edward Z. Lewis of Stinson Beach. A question period will follow the panel discussion.

Former Marin County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen led a group of speakers defending the Bolinas Harbor District board before an audience of about 125 Bolinas area residents Wednesday night.

The meeting was called by a citizen's group supporting the board which calls itself the committee to preserve Bolinas Lagoon. No opposing speakers appeared, but opponents yesterday charged they had been given only two hours' notice of the meeting.

Bolinas Community Inc. has postponed its meeting scheduled for tonight until 8 p.m. next Friday, because of the panel discussion at the Stinson Beach Community Center.

Suspect In Credit Card Spree Booked

Deep sleep led to the arrest of a 39-year-old man yesterday in San Anselmo and the recovery of 13 credit cards, believed stolen from a Washington, D. C. resident.

Theodore Wolcott Jr., who gave no address, was booked into Marin County Jail on suspiciion of possessing stolen property and drunkenness with bail set at $6,250.

Sgt. Robert White, on patrol at 3:45 p.m., saw the man slumped over the wheel of a 1969 red Mustang in the Knot Inn parking lot, 300 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Wolcott was taken to the police station where a search revealed the credit cards of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Becker, Washington, D. C., two of the cards reportedly stolen in Aspen, Colo.

Wolcott said he found the cards three weeks ago in an airlines office, according to police.

Police checked the car, registered to Hertz Rent-a-Car Co., Millbrae and learned it was to have been returned Feb. 10.

Wolcott was arrested by San Anselmo police Dec. 12, 1967 after which he served time in jail for stealing a car from Long Beach and for writing worthless checks, Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani said.

Lawmakers Warned ABAG Seeks Bill Role

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

BERKELEY — Marin County Supervisor John F. McInnis warned the Legislature today that the Association of Bay Area Governments will push for a big voice in whatever regional government bill is drawn in Sacramento.

"Only city and county people have the experience to say who shall plan these nine counties," McInnis said before the general assembly of the association.

Several legislators have announced plans to sponsor legislation to set up a regional government in the Bay Area without including ABAG's proposal that such a government be runu by city councilmen and county supervisors, the way ABAG is run.

The principal regional government bill is to be introduced Monday by Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, and will propose that the governing board be composed entirely of directors directly elected by the voters.

McInnis conceded that the greater experience of councilmen and supervisors "doesn't make us akin to the lord, but can bring better sense to the region than the theories of others."

His remarks at the semiannual general assembly brought strong applause from the delegates. Delegates from 43 of the 80 cities and seven of the eight counties represented in ABAG were present.

McInnis' remarks were seconded by ABAG's new president, San Aleandro Mayor Jack D. Maltester. "We don't need someone from abvoe telling us how to run our cities and counties," he said.

Proposals by the Legislature for regional government "will be the biggest issue of 1969 for ABAG," Maltester said.

Besides Maltester, Sonoma County Supervisor Ignazio A. Vella also was elected to an ABAG office, that of vice president. ABAG's vice president traditionally steps up the following year to the presidency.

In other business, ABAG's special counsel, Arthur Harris of Berkeley, reported an additional $45,000 of the $511,000 stolen last year by former administrative assistant Thomas N. Truax will be returned to ABAG's treasury next week.

The $45,000 will come from a $50,000 loan taken out by Truax at the San Francisco Savings and Loan Association just before the theft was discovered in February. Truax used an ABAG account as security for the loan and cashed the $50,000 check in a Las Vegas gambling house.

At the request of ABAG, however, the bank stopped payment on the check and Harris negotiated with the bank, gambling house and Internal Revenue Service to recover the money.

With an additional $65,000 recovered last August from the association's bonding company, this brought to $110,000 the amount recovered so far. Harris, noting that virtually all of the $511,000 had been spent by Truax, said, "This obviously made our task a little difficult."

Harris also reported that he expected to get within 30 days "an offer for a substantial cash settlement from other parties involved." He did not elaborate.

Delegates also adopted a $918,815 budget for 1969-70, down $244,316 from the current one. The budget and a schedule of dues for cities and counties were adopted in a unanimous voice vote without discussion.

Dues will total $231,306, down only $3 from this year. Marin County's dues will be $5,082, down from $5,275 and city dues will vary from $80 to $1,124. In Sonoma, the county's dues will be $4,944, down from $5,131.

Santa Barbara Firm Shows Interest In Bolinas Study

A Santa Barbara natural science research institute is interested in establishing an oceanographic study center in the Bolinas area, the Bolinas Harbor District board learned last night.

In a letter to the board, the CIREOS Institute said it was considering a center to serve the San Francisco Bay Area, according to district consultant Norman T. Gilroy.

CIREOS is an acronym for Centers for Interpretation and Research in the Earth and Ocean Sciences.

The center would include research laboratories and lecture and field trip facilities for laymen education programs, Gilroy said.

It would also feature agronmy and mariculture experimental farms, including a tree farm to grow stock for reforestation and land conservation programs, institute directors said in the letter.

As an added feature, the institute offered to manage another tree farm on harbor district property and promised an annual return of $85,000 to the district after the farm is in operation for three years, Gilroy noted.

The board named president Thomas J. Barfield and Commissioner John H. Middleton to investigate the proposal.

The Bolinas Harbor District board also:

LOGGING — Named Middleton and Commissioner Frances B. Stewart to meet with county officials to discuss the proposed county logging control ordinance.

EROSION — Agreed to ask again for federal funds to study ways of correction erosion on the Bolinas cliffs.

TOUR — Set a special meeting for 2:30 p.m. March 7 to guide members of the California Marine Parks and Harbors Association around the lagoon.

Trio Arrested In Marijuana Probe

Three Oakland men were arrested by California Highway Patrol officers at 3:15 a.m. today on suspicion of marijuana possession, after their car was stopped for speeding on Highway 101, south of the Rodeo Avenue turnoff.

Clarence Nash, 26; Nathaniel Blakston Jr., 23, and Rodney Earl Hart, 22, appear today in Marin Municipal Court for arraignment.

FEDERAL CHARGES

Werber Denies Role In Marijuana Import

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Frank Werber, former business manager of the Kingston Trio, pleaded innocent yesterday to a federal indictment charging him with conspiracy to fly 258 pounds of marijuana from Mexico to his Marin County home last fall.

At the same time, federal attorneys indicated that two other Marin men — Stanley Mulligan, 35, of Corte Madera, and Charles P. Barrett, 45, of Sausalito — probably will plead guilty and thus will not go on trial on similar charges.

Mulligan and Barrett, owners of Latitude 38 in Sausalito, were expected to be prosecution witnesses against Werber, who was arrested Oct. 14 at his plush home of DeSilva Island during the alleged narcottcs drop.

U. S. District Judge Albert C. Wollenberg set March 28 for a hearing on a motion by Werber's attorney, Daniel H. Weinstein, to suppress evidence seized in the raid.

Weinstein said narcotics officers acted without a warrant. Officers charged that the marijuana had been delivered to Werber's home after being landed in a private plane at Santa Venetia.

Wollenberg denied a request by Weinstein that the indictment be dismissed on grounds Werber's defense has been prejudiced by false publicity in statements to the press by narcotics officers.

Assistant U. S. Atty. Jerrold Ladar, of Mill Valley, told the judge yesterday he expected Mulligan and Barrett to enter pleas of guilty to charges of smuggling the marijuana from Mexico.

Werber and three others, including a girlfriend, also face a variety of drug charges in Marin Superior Court as a result of the raid.

Werber and Judith Anne Sloper have pleaded innocent to charges that they possessed and grew marijuana at their DeSilva Island home. A jury trial has been set for June 23 for them and the other two charged in the case, Bryce Staples Wilson of Kentfield and Frank J. Mathieson of San Anselmo. Both Wilson and Mathieson have pleaded innocent to a charge of marijuana possession.

Expanding Tri-Partite Panel Asked

The Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District board today recommended expanding the Tri-Partite Transportation committee to include representation from Sonoma and Napa counties.

The board also recommended that Marin's representation on the board be through the Marin Transit District instead of the board of supervisors. The changes were proposed by Michael Wornum, Marin bridge board member, and seconded by Napa board member Lowell Edington.

The board ordered copies of the resolution sent to San Francisco and Marin supervisors.

Edington said if the tri-partite board is to take over transit in the entire Highway 101 corridor, he favored broader-based representation.

Army Snags Plans For Bike Trail

The Army has thrown a monkey wrench in plans for a San Francisco-Marin bicycle trail, a member of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District board said today.

John Dearman said the Army has denied permission to use roads in the Presidio of San Francisco or Fort Baker for the trail network on grounds it would be dangerous to cyclists.

The Army suggested an off-road route through the Presidio instead, which Dearman said would cost "hundred of thousands of dollars."

Dearman said the unexpected Army objection might be tied to the recent mutiny trial at the Presidio and said perhaps the Army feels cyclists are the type of people who might take part in sit-ins or demonstartions.

Earlier indications from Army officers had been favorable to the bike trail. The City of San Francisco has outlined a bike trail which ends at 25th Avenue at the Presidio.

Dearman said the bridge district is ready to establish a bicycle route along the bridge's west sidewalk, but the Army's action will stall the trail project.

Cathy McClelland of San Anselmo was winner in the Corte Madera Lions Club speech contest held last night at the Corte Madera Recreation Center.

She competed with fellow Marin Catholic High School students Claudia Little of Kentfield, runnerup, and Cathy Paulist of San Anselmo. The students spoke on "The Hopes and Fears of Youth Today."

Miss McClelland will next compete in a regional contest, according to Paul Blissenbach, Marin Catholic student.

Novato Students Booked On Dope

A 15-year-old Novato High School girl was arrested yesterday after, police say, she "shot speed" on the high school campus.

Two teen-age boys, were arrested on suspicion of furnishing the drug methamphetamine. Two other 15-year-old girls, who acted as lookouts, according to police, were turned over to juvenile authorities.

Gary Renaud, 17, of 190 San Jose Drive, Hamilton Air Force Base, booked into juvenile hall on suspicion of furnishing and administering a dangerous drug, both felonies.

Larry Collins, 16, of 7 Eglin Drive on the base was charged with furnishing and possessing a dangerous drug and possession of narcotics paraphernalia.

The 15-year-old girl who received the drug injection was lodged in juvenile hall on suspicion of being under the influence of a dangerous drug.

Two other 15-year-old girls who, police say, served as lookouts during the drug administration were booked as accessories to administering a dangerous drug and released to their parents.

Of the five teen-agers arrested, all except one lookout reside at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Sgt. R. Richard Courier said that as a result of interogation yesterday Renaud was also booked for investigation of furnishing a drug in another case late last month. He allegedly supplied mescaline pills to two teen-age boys who were taken to Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital suspected of being under the influence of a dangerous drug.

All five have been suspended from the school, said principal Stanley Onderdonk. He said he would recommend to the school board that at least the three in juvenile hall be expelled for the remainder of the school year. The principal has the power to suspend students for up to 20 days, but the board must decide on expelling students.

"When they come to school prepared to do something such as that, we do not want them associating with the rest of the students," Onderdonk said.

Hickel Asks Offshore Water Help

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Interior Walter J. Hickel urged today tougher legislation to protect offshore waters from any pollution including oil that recently contaminated miles of California beaches.

He said legislathon should include all hazardous substances as well as oil and require firms to assume full responsibility for any pollution.

"I believe," he told a Senate public works subcommittee, "that we must take a tough responsible stand by placing the cost of clean-up operations in the hands of those whose activities brought about the possibility of damaging our environment."

Following the disastrous oil well leak in the Santa Barbara Channel off the California coast, Hickel issued a directive placing full responsibility on oil firms for pollution from offshore drilling operations.

He said today such responsibility also should be required of ship sand firms involved in handling hazardous substances other than oil.

"Because of increasing activities on and along our waterways," Hickel said, "it is reasonable to expect that the opportunity for mishap will increase in the future.

New Oil Leak Appears Slowing

SANTA BARBARA (UPI) — A fresh flow of crude oil from beneath an offshore drilling platform slowed yesterday but crews today still were attempting to seal the leak.

The new leak came from one of five wells put into production on the platform to relieve underground pressures which apparently caused seepage of raw petroleum through fissures in the ocean floor.

Union Oil Co. workers today prepared to pump drilling mud and cement into the bottom of the 3,000-foot hole to plug the flow which initially formed an eight mile long slick Tuesday.

Rohnert Park Crime Rate Up

The annual report of the Rohnert Park Public Safety Department shows and increase of 7 per cent in crimes reported, but a decrease of 8 per cent in fire calls.

Bradley W. Koch, director of public safety, said the crime rate increase was matched by an increase of 7 per cent in arrests. He said the increase was less in previous years but said that the high statewide crime increase in 1968 did not apply to his city of 5,500.

Juvenile crime grew by 4 per cent, with most in the misdemeanor category.

In fire calls, 23 were recorded in 1968, down three from 1967. With only one of the 23 involving a structure fire, damage and loss was reported as minor. He said the department answered 32 ambulance calls, identical to 1967.

Driver Is Fair From Car Crash

Ralph C. Kenny, 38, of Los Angeles, was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with a broken right hip suffered when his car went over an embankment off Highway 101 in San Rafael yesterday, the California Highway Patrol said.

Kenny told the highway patrol another car cut in front of him near the Lincoln Avenue overcrossing at 9 p.m., forcing him to swerve. His car hit the center guard rail and then went over the bank.

Motorcycle Stolen

Stefan Garfield reported to San Anselmo police yesterday that someone stole his locked 1969 Harley Davidson motorcycle Wednesday night from his home at 121 Humboldt Avenue.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Headache Not A Disease But An Indication Of Troubles

VAN DELLEN

Headache is not a disease but an indication of a disturbance within the head or in other organs or systems within the body. It may also stem from personality problems or the environment.

The phenomenon may be associated with almost any disorder, such as infection, high blood pressure, eye disease, brain tumor, or anxiety.

THE MOST AMAZING aspect of head pain is that brain tissue is practically painless except for the blood vessels. Dilatation or stretching of the cranial vessels hurts, possibly because the enlarged artery stretches sensitive nerves in its wall. In contrast the tissues outside the skull are very sensitive.

Sustained contractions of the muscles of the neck and scalp are a common source of "pains in the head." Physical and emotional tension are likely causes.

When driving all day, it is easy to "set" the muscles of the neck and scalp until they cause distress. If the roads are hazardous and driving is nervewracking, psychological pressure could have the same effect. Initially, there may be a drawing sensation or a stiffness of the neck leading to an ache that spreads over the scalp and into the forehead.

THE HEADACHE that follows a trying experience or considerable stress may not develop until the upheaval is over. This explains many of the week-end or Sunday headaches among the tense and overworked. Worriers are tense even when sleeping, they wake up with head pain. A few aspirin and relaxation relieve the distress.

Migraine is less common and is an example of a vascular headache that stems from dilated and distended vessels. Pain is one-sided, throbbing, and may be associated with nausea and vomiting. Attacks may last for minutes or continue for days. Cluster-type migraine is of short duration but hits several times a day.

MIGRAINE MAY respond to ordinary pain-killers, but ergotamine, especially with cafergot, is a more specific remedy because it constricts the blood vessels. Methysergide prevents recurrences, but the drug must be used cautiously, because of side effects.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

WHAT GRANDMOTERS SAY

Mrs. A. writes: When my children come down with colds, the maternal grandparents say give them ice cream and some others say not to give anything cold with a cold. I would like your opinion.

REPLY

I'm biased because I like ice cream and cold drinks. The temperature of fluid and foods has no effect upon the infection but I always have found that cold has a soothing effect upon a sore throat.

PAINLESS CHILDBIRTH

Mrs. W. writes: Are there dangers associated with painless childbirth?

REPLY

Not so far as the mother is concerned, but when she is given an anesthetic, the unborn baby also is affected. He may come into the world so groggy that it is difficult to get him to breathe.

BREECH BIRTH AND MENTALITY

Mrs. E. writes: If a baby is born feet first, will his mentality be affected?

REPLY

No. Less than 4 per cent of babies come into the world via breech or transverse delivery; 90 per cent arrive head first.

INGUINAL HERNIA

M. S. writes: Does hernia surgery cause sterility in a man?

REPLY

No, assuming the operation is done properly.

Attorney Wins Distinguished Service Award

Attorney James A. Duckworth was the winner last night of the Novato Jaycees' ninth annual distinguished service award for community work.

A plaque was presented to Duckworth at a dinner at the Moose Lodge. He was active in Western Weekend and in the campaign for Novato's street bond issue last year.

The Jaycees also presented their first "boss" award to Edward W. Adams, director of the Novato Parks and Recreation Department, whose employee, Gary Howell, was master of ceremonies for the dinner and its publicity chairman.

The dinner speaker was Ernest Lewis of Concord, former state Jaycee chairman. His topic was youth involvement in today's world.

Pot Accusation Is Filed Again

A charge of marijuana possession was re-filed yesterday by the Marin County district attorney's office against Michael John Holloman, 19, of Terra Linda, who was dismissed after a preliminary hearing Wednesday.

Holloman's co-defendant in the case, Willard Gary Biesinger, 18, also of Terra Linda, was bound over to Superior Court on the same charge.

The two youths were arrested Jan. 3 in a car on Lucas Valley Road.

Hickel Asks Offshore Water Help

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Interior Walter J. Hickel urged today tougher legislation to protect offshore waters from any pollution including oil that recently contaminated miles of California beaches.

He said legislathon should include all hazardous substances as well as oil and require firms to assume full responsibility for any pollution.

"I believe," he told a Senate public works subcommittee, "that we must take a tough responsible stand by placing the cost of clean-up operations in the hands of those whose activities brought about the possibility of damaging our environment."

Following the disastrous oil well leak in the Santa Barbara Channel off the California coast, Hickel issued a directive placing full responsibility on oil firms for pollution from offshore drilling operations.

He said today such responsibility also should be required of ship sand firms involved in handling hazardous substances other than oil.

"Because of increasing activities on and along our waterways," Hickel said, "it is reasonable to expect that the opportunity for mishap will increase in the future.

New Oil Leak Appears Slowing

SANTA BARBARA (UPI) — A fresh flow of crude oil from beneath an offshore drilling platform slowed yesterday but crews today still were attempting to seal the leak.

The new leak came from one of five wells put into production on the platform to relieve underground pressures which apparently caused seepage of raw petroleum through fissures in the ocean floor.

Union Oil Co. workers today prepared to pump drilling mud and cement into the bottom of the 3,000-foot hole to plug the flow which initially formed an eight mile long slick Tuesday.

Rohnert Park Crime Rate Up

The annual report of the Rohnert Park Public Safety Department shows and increase of 7 per cent in crimes reported, but a decrease of 8 per cent in fire calls.

Bradley W. Koch, director of public safety, said the crime rate increase was matched by an increase of 7 per cent in arrests. He said the increase was less in previous years but said that the high statewide crime increase in 1968 did not apply to his city of 5,500.

Juvenile crime grew by 4 per cent, with most in the misdemeanor category.

In fire calls, 23 were recorded in 1968, down three from 1967. With only one of the 23 involving a structure fire, damage and loss was reported as minor. He said the department answered 32 ambulance calls, identical to 1967.

Driver Is Fair From Car Crash

Ralph C. Kenny, 38, of Los Angeles, was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with a broken right hip suffered when his car went over an embankment off Highway 101 in San Rafael yesterday, the California Highway Patrol said.

Kenny told the highway patrol another car cut in front of him near the Lincoln Avenue overcrossing at 9 p.m., forcing him to swerve. His car hit the center guard rail and then went over the bank.

Motorcycle Stolen

Stefan Garfield reported to San Anselmo police yesterday that someone stole his locked 1969 Harley Davidson motorcycle Wednesday night from his home at 121 Humboldt Avenue.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Headache Not A Disease But An Indication Of Troubles

VAN DELLEN

Headache is not a disease but an indication of a disturbance within the head or in other organs or systems within the body. It may also stem from personality problems or the environment.

The phenomenon may be associated with almost any disorder, such as infection, high blood pressure, eye disease, brain tumor, or anxiety.

THE MOST AMAZING aspect of head pain is that brain tissue is practically painless except for the blood vessels. Dilatation or stretching of the cranial vessels hurts, possibly because the enlarged artery stretches sensitive nerves in its wall. In contrast the tissues outside the skull are very sensitive.

Sustained contractions of the muscles of the neck and scalp are a common source of "pains in the head." Physical and emotional tension are likely causes.

When driving all day, it is easy to "set" the muscles of the neck and scalp until they cause distress. If the roads are hazardous and driving is nervewracking, psychological pressure could have the same effect. Initially, there may be a drawing sensation or a stiffness of the neck leading to an ache that spreads over the scalp and into the forehead.

THE HEADACHE that follows a trying experience or considerable stress may not develop until the upheaval is over. This explains many of the week-end or Sunday headaches among the tense and overworked. Worriers are tense even when sleeping, they wake up with head pain. A few aspirin and relaxation relieve the distress.

Migraine is less common and is an example of a vascular headache that stems from dilated and distended vessels. Pain is one-sided, throbbing, and may be associated with nausea and vomiting. Attacks may last for minutes or continue for days. Cluster-type migraine is of short duration but hits several times a day.

MIGRAINE MAY respond to ordinary pain-killers, but ergotamine, especially with cafergot, is a more specific remedy because it constricts the blood vessels. Methysergide prevents recurrences, but the drug must be used cautiously, because of side effects.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

WHAT GRANDMOTERS SAY

Mrs. A. writes: When my children come down with colds, the maternal grandparents say give them ice cream and some others say not to give anything cold with a cold. I would like your opinion.

REPLY

I'm biased because I like ice cream and cold drinks. The temperature of fluid and foods has no effect upon the infection but I always have found that cold has a soothing effect upon a sore throat.

PAINLESS CHILDBIRTH

Mrs. W. writes: Are there dangers associated with painless childbirth?

REPLY

Not so far as the mother is concerned, but when she is given an anesthetic, the unborn baby also is affected. He may come into the world so groggy that it is difficult to get him to breathe.

BREECH BIRTH AND MENTALITY

Mrs. E. writes: If a baby is born feet first, will his mentality be affected?

REPLY

No. Less than 4 per cent of babies come into the world via breech or transverse delivery; 90 per cent arrive head first.

INGUINAL HERNIA

M. S. writes: Does hernia surgery cause sterility in a man?

REPLY

No, assuming the operation is done properly.

Attorney Wins Distinguished Service Award

Attorney James A. Duckworth was the winner last night of the Novato Jaycees' ninth annual distinguished service award for community work.

A plaque was presented to Duckworth at a dinner at the Moose Lodge. He was active in Western Weekend and in the campaign for Novato's street bond issue last year.

The Jaycees also presented their first "boss" award to Edward W. Adams, director of the Novato Parks and Recreation Department, whose employee, Gary Howell, was master of ceremonies for the dinner and its publicity chairman.

The dinner speaker was Ernest Lewis of Concord, former state Jaycee chairman. His topic was youth involvement in today's world.

Pot Accusation Is Filed Again

A charge of marijuana possession was re-filed yesterday by the Marin County district attorney's office against Michael John Holloman, 19, of Terra Linda, who was dismissed after a preliminary hearing Wednesday.

Holloman's co-defendant in the case, Willard Gary Biesinger, 18, also of Terra Linda, was bound over to Superior Court on the same charge.

The two youths were arrested Jan. 3 in a car on Lucas Valley Road.

Black Panthers Visit Olympia

OLYMPIA, Wash. (UPI)—A group of 12 Seattle Black Panthers, wearing black berets, dropped by the state capitol yesterday to "address the Senate, primarily on world and national problems."

They were met by 32 state troopers, wearing helmets, who informed the visitors the Senate had already adjourned for the day.

Three of the Panthers, including leader Aaron Dixon, browsed through the legislative halls while the rest of the group remained in cars outside. Dixon indicated the Panthers might drop by again today.

State Campground Reservations Going

Mail your reservations now if you plan to use state campgrounds for a summer vacation, the state Department of Parks and Recreation has warned.

Reservations must be made directly to the park and must include the camping fee plus a $1 reservation charge. Some coast and central-state parks already are booked solid for Easter, Memorial Day, Independence Day and Labor Day holidays, the department notes. A list of state parks is available at each park, or by writing the California Department of Parks and Recreation, P. O. Box 2390, Sacramento, 95811.

Murray Wins Release Hearing

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—George Mason Murray, the Black Panther minister of education whose probation was revoked last Friday, will get a habeas corpus hearing on his bid for release from jail.

Superior Court Judge Harry J. Neubarth granted today's hearing to Murray, 23, and an ex-English teacher at San Francisco State College whose suspension was one of the causes of the present student strike.

Murray's lawyer, Franklyn Brann, contends his client should be released because Municipal Court Judge Albert Axelrod did not put the conditions of Murray's probation in writing, and therefore, had no authority to cancel it.

Motorcycle Rider Hurt In Collision

Rohry T. Mangan, 16, of 1486 South Novato Boulevard, Novatp, was treated for scrapes on his hand and leg Wednesday at the Kaiser Hospital in Terra Linda, the hospital reported.

Mangan, riding a motorcycle eastward on Diablo Avenue at George Street at 3 p.m. collided with a westbound car making a left turn, Novato police reported. The driver of the car, Mrs. Betty Jane Neuman, 45, of 721 De Long Avenue, Novato, was cited for failure to yield the right of way, according to police reports.

Conviction Again In Murder Case

LOS ANGELES (AP) —Jesse James Gilbert has been convicted again of first-degree murder after his first conviction led to a landmark U.S. Supreme Court decision and was overturned by the California Supreme Court.

A six-man, six-woman jury retrying the case found him guilty yesterday of the murder of an Alhambra policeman, Sgt. George Davis, during a gun battle after a bank robbery.

The high court ruled in 1967 that Gilbert's rights were violated when he was not advised he could have an attorney present during a police lineup. The California Supreme Court subsequently reversed the conviction and ordered the new trial.

Fresno Council Names First Negro Panelist

FRESNO (AP) — Mrs. Feltus Sterling was appointed to the Fresno City Council yesterday and became the first Negro and only the second woman to sit on the city's governing body.

Mrs. Sterling fills the vacancy created when Ted Wills stepped up to the mayor's post. Wills became mayor following the resignation of Floyd Hyde, who accepted an appointment as an assistant secretary in the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Mrs. Sterling's appointment was the second made by the council. Last week the council appointed Mrs. Dorothy Ethridge, also a Negro, to the post, only to learn an hour later she did not meet residency requirements.

Mrs. Sterling will serve on the council until April when a new council member will be elected for a full four-year term.

Lew Wins Honors

NEW YORK (AP) —Lew Alcindor, UCLA's 7-foot-1½ three-time All-American, was named the 1969 college basketball Player of the Year by The Associated Press today for the second time in his three varsity seasons.

Alcindor, who reportedly will command as high as a million dollar bonus to turn pro after his graduation this year, won by a landslide in the annual voting by sports writers and broadcasters.

Alcindor, beaten out for Player of the Year honors last year by Elvin Hayes of Houston after Houston had snapped UCLA's 47-game winning streak, was in no danger this time.

Expected to lead UCLA to an unprecedented third straight national title in the NCAA tourney in March, Alcindor polled 226 votes in the balloting conducted as a separate category with that for the All-American team. Some of the 339 who voted for the A-A skipped the Player of the Year category.

Spencer Haywood, the U.S. Olympic star now a sophomore at the University of Detroit, was third with 16 points. Rick Mount of Purdue was fourth with nine. Jo-Jo White of Kansas and Charlie Scott of North Carolina tied for fifth with five votes each.

Rounding out the Top Ten for Player of the Year honors were Dan Issel of Kentucky with four, Calvin Murphy of Niagara and Bobby Smith, of Tulsa, each three, and Bud Ogden of Santa Clara, two. Rex Morgan, of Jacksonville, Fla. University got one vote.

Joining Alcindor and Maravich on the 1969 All-American team, announced yesterday, were Haywood, Mount and Murphy. (See All-American list on page 40.)

Doral Open Two-Way Tie

MIAMI (AP) — Tom Shaw says he'll sell his golfing secret to Arnold Palmer for a couple of airplanes. After Shaw's record-matching, first-round 65 at the Doral Open Golf Tournament, Arnie might just accept the offer.

The 26-year-old blond wit from Golf, Ill., has not only won more money than Palmer on the tour this year, but he left Arnie and the other big names far behind as he moved into today's second-round lead in the $150,000 tournament tied with steady veteran Dan Sikes. Palmer shot a 68 over the 7,028-yard par 72 Doral layout in this first stop on pro golf's rich Florida tour.

Sikes, 38, known as the Florida Chicken Baron because of his Florida fried chicken drive-ins, and Shaw, who says his golfing motto is "60 anything," each fashioned 31-34-65s yesterday to tie the tournament record last matched by defending champion Gardner Dickinson.

Shaw, looking for his first victory after six years on the tour, credited his performance to longer drives and a shorter haircut. Shaw said he's added 10 to 15 yards off the tee.

"If I knew my secret, I'd sell it to Palmer for a couple of airplanes," he joked. "Maybe it's my hair."

Shaw said Jack Tuthill, the PGA tournament director, chided him into shortening his beach-boy haircut Wednesday.

Sikes, a former U. of Florida golf star, considers last month's California and Arizona tournaments just a warmup for the Florida tour.

66 fired by Australian Bruce Devlin and the 67s by veteran Tommy Aaron and South Africa's Harold Henning.

Dickinson shot a 71, Nicklaus an even-par 72 and two-time Doral winner Doug Sanders, who first set the 18-hole record and also holds the 274 Doral record for 72 holes, soared to a 74.

Doral's $30,000 first prize has drawn a field of 147 which includes most of pro golf's top names, with the exception of Gene Littler, this year's leading money winner; Billy Casper, Doral's other two-time winner, and U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino.

The field will be cut to the low 70s and ties after today's round.

Shaw finished eighth in the Los Angeles Open last month and has played well enough in the other 1969 tournaments to win almost $9,300.

Hail Or High Water, Road Show Will Go On

Come hail or high water — a likelihood, by the weigh — the new Sears Point International Raceway in southern Sonoma County will launch its 1969 racing program on schedule March 8-9 with a National Open Drag Race sponsored by the National Hot Rod Association.

JAMES R. COLEMAN

That was the word yesterday from Sears Raceway vice president and general manager James R. Coleman of Kentfield who told a San Francisco press conference: "Without much cooperation from the man upstairs, we are not quite as far along as we hoped to be, but we will open on schedule. We're going about this racing facility in a professional manner and what we have done so far we have done well."

The "man upstairs" has turned the unpaved sections of the raceway into a veritable quagmire and Coleman admitted parking "could be a nightmare" until spectator parking areas, which eventually will accommodate upwards of 15,000 cars, dry out. The turfed main parking lot for more than 6,000 autos is under water and won't be useable for the opening drag attraction nor the Sports Car Club of America's National Championship Points Race March 29-30.

Grandstands Going Up

The 43-year-old Coleman, a real estate developer, said the 4,800-seat permanent grandstand is being erected and will be ready for the opener, but the permanent rest rooms and concession stands won't be completed in time for the first two events. Thus, the crowds will have to rough it in portable biffies. "We anticipate our problems at first," he said, "so we're approaching the first two events with an apologetic and negative attitude."

The drag strip and hilly 2.5-mile, 12-turn road racing circuit will accommodate all types of automotive events, including championship cars, late model stock cars, sports cars and motorcycles. It is located on 640 acres in a natural amphitheater in the southwest junction of highways 37 and 121. Another problem will be traffic control because 121 is a two-lane road, but Coleman said, "On race days we will be able to effectively convert it into three lanes with paved shoulders. The highway patrol and sheriff's departments of Marin and Sonoma counties have been just neat cooperating with us on traffic planning."

82,000 At One Time

Steven F. Castoldi, San Francisco Region manager for SCCA, offered: "The Sears traffic control problem is nothing compared to the problems they have at Laguna Seca and Riverside."

Sears Raceway President Robert D. Marshall Jr., San Rafael attorney, refused to speculate on the size of crowds the west's newest raceway ultimately will accommodate for big events, but Coleman said: "Riverside Raceway has drawn 82,000 for a single event. Use that figure if you wish."

The facility will get a good test for its inaugural event because drag races always draw well. "We have 400 entries so far and expect 700," said Coleman. Thus, if only the drivers show up they're assured of a good crowd. Admission to the drag races will be $3 per person on Saturday and $4 Sunday. The March 29-30 SCCA event will cost you $5 for both days. Sears Point had guaranteed a $15,000 minimum purse for the national drag race, but contingency money from various automotive companies will swell that kitty considerably.

Could Be $7 Million Project

Marshall and fellow directors Coleman and William C. Murray of San Francisco said they already have "sunk" (pardon the seasonal expression) more than $1 million into the facility, but added it will eventually cost "between $5 million and $7 million." Improvements, they said, will include all underground communications systems, two-story drag tower with a TV camera deck complete with computerized timing system, landscaped spectator areas. Future plans include a three-story road racing tower with TV deck, pedestrian overpass across Highway 121, and public restaurant.

Also comtemplated are a golf course, skeet and trap shooting range and motel.

A 20-minute drive from San Rafael, it's a real gas of a facility and a welcome addition to the North Bay.

Redwood Vs. Novato In Big Windup

Final Night Of Prep Cage League Action

The big one tonight in the Marin County Athletic League's final night of basketball action is Redwood at Novato High School—and this one is for all the marbles, a last chance for Novato, a last step for Redwood.

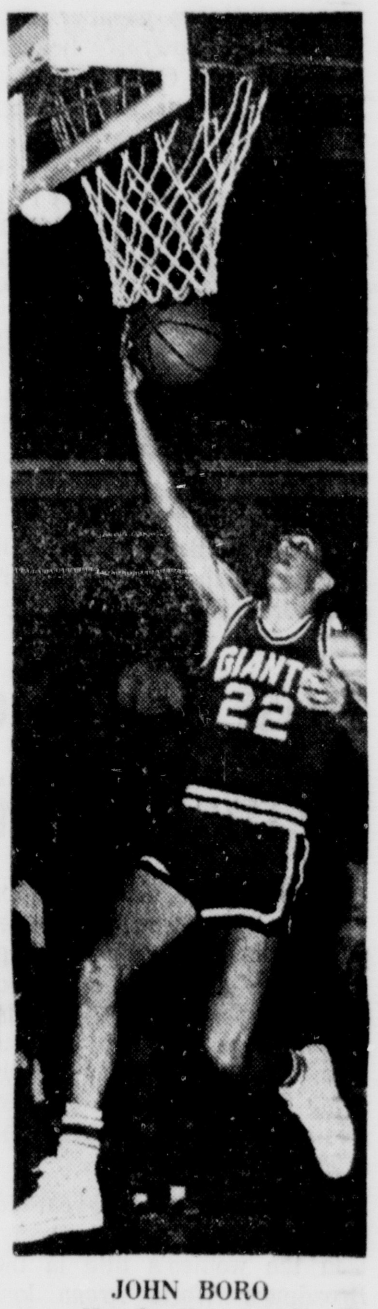
Oddly enough, there are three other games being played on the same night—Terra Linda seeks to avenge a loss when it hosts Drake, San Marin is at Tamalpais in Mill Valley and San Rafael visits Marin Catholic in Kentfield. All games start about 8:30, following 7 o'clock junior varsity games.

Redwood and Novato are obviously Marin's finest clubs. Their records speak for themselves. Redwood has a 12-1 won-lost record in league, 22-4 on the season; Novato is 11-2 in league, 22-6 on the season.

But at stake, records and all, is the title, all of it for Redwood or a piece of it for Novato, and a trip to the Tournament of Champions.

Redwood can get the TOC berth by winning tonight; Novato can get it by beating the Giants, then doing it again in a playoff.

Superior depth, outstanding shooting and speed are the big Redwood advantages. Coach Dick Hart's Giants shot 54 per cent in whipping the Hornets at Larkspur, 78-63, and they're hitting 45 per cent on the season, sparked by Jerry Piro, John Boro and Roger Smith, three of the finest shooters in the league. The bench is long and deep and Piro leads one of the busiest fast breaks around.



JOHN BORO
Hot-shooting guard

The Giants also have height in a pair of 6-foot-6ers, Pete Webb and Bill Challender.

To stop all that, the Hornets will have to play defense, something nobody has been doing in the league this year. Coach Bill Aires could try to slow things down, although his offense is nobody's weak sister. The Hornets have scored 169 points in their last two games, spearheaded by Steve McNally and Ed Herrnberger.

Two win streaks are on the line — 12 in a row by Redwood, seven in a row by Novato.

A matchup of opponents won't get you much either. Redwood lost to San Rafael but blasted the Bulldogs by 28 points the second time around. Novato had trouble both times with San Rafael, losing in overtime and taking a two-point verdict. Both teams have lamblasted Marin Catholic, Drake and San Marin, but Novato has had it fairly easy against tough Terra linda, while Redwood had a close call against the Trojans.

In the other games, the hot Trojans, despite a disappointing loss to Redwood, will try to sock it to the Pirates, who snared an upset win the last time around. The Trojans in the space of two games scored 99 points in one, came close to achieving a stunning upset in the other.

Tamalpais, slumping badly, still should have enough to take San Marin, especially on the Indians' own court.

Willie Booms In Camp

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. (UPI) —Three swings; two balls against the distant outfield fences and the third out of sight.

That's how No. 24, Willie Mays, started his first day in the San Francisco Giants' spring training camp yesterday.

He arrived too late for the daily calesthenics ritual but in time to sign his fourth straight $125,000-a-year contract and take three cuts in the batting cage.

The first ball he hit banged against the right field wall 360 feet from home plate, the next went 365 feet to left and the third sailed over the center field barrier at the 425-foot mark.

Actually, Mays, who will be 38 years old in May, did not affix his signature to a contract.

The star centerfielder met briefly with San Francisco general manager Chub Feeney, who merely said, "He's agreed, but not signed."

The reason for that was because no contract form was available in camp. Outfield hopeful Ken Henderson had just inked the last pact when Mays arrived. Needless to say, Henderson signed for a sum considerably less than Mays.

8-Event Schedule For Sears Point

SAN FRANCISCO — Directors of new Sears Point International Raceway yesterday announced a basic eight-event schedule of races for 1969, opening with the National Hot Rod Association's $15,000 National Open Drag Race March 8-9.

William C. McCormick Jr. of San Francisco, vice president and competition director for the southern Sonoma county raceways at Highways 37 and 121 emphasized that the schedule is "subject to supplementation at a later date."

FIRST ONE

First sports car event is the national championship points race March 29-30, sponsored by the Sports Car Club of America.

McCormick said the remainder of the basic schedule is: April 19-20 — Super Stock Drag Meet; June 21-22 — Continental Championship Series Race for Formula Cars; July 19-20 — SCCA National Championships Points Races; Sept. 6-7 — 125-mile National Road Race sponsored by the American Motorcycle Association; Setp. 20-21 — SCCA's Trans-American Sedan Series Event; Nov. 29-30 — 10th annual four-hour SCCA Endurance Race.

ATTRACTIONS

McCormick said the Continental Championship for Formula cars June 12-21 and the Trans-American featuring "Pony cars like the Mustang, Camaro, Javelin, Firebird, Cougar" will be the top crowd attractions. "Those type races appeal to everyone," he said. "They're strictly for professional drivers."

The competition director said, "We are negotiating for other events and there is a possibility we will have a late model NASCAR event." NASCAR is the National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing, Inc.

INTRODUCED

Introduced at a press conference yesterday were Robert D. Marshall Jr., San Rafael attorney and resident of Laguna Ranch near Pt. Reyes Station; James R. Coleman of Kentfield, vice president and general manager; William C. Murray of San Francisco, vice president and financial manager; and John C. Brawner of Belmont, treasurer.

Jack Cameron of Napa is the facility's drag strip manager; Mike Metcalf of Lafayette, press relations director; Pat Flagerman of San Anselmo, track superintendent; and Ed Hickerson, San Anselmo, concession manager.

Nine A's Listed Missing

MESA, Ariz. (AP) — The Oakland Athletics opened spring training yesterday with nine regulars missing, including at least three holdouts.

The dissatisfied trio are pitcher Chuck Dobson, right fielder Reggie Jackson and center fielder Rick Monday.

Others were missing for various reasons, including an annual military stint for rookie pitcher Warren Bogle.

Right-hander Dobson, 12-14 last year, is reported wanting $5,000 added to his 1968 pay of $15,000. He's in the area, ready to talk contract with owner Charles O. Finley, who was expected to arrive overnight.

Jackson, who hit 29 home runs — fourth best in the American League—and had a .250 average, is understood to want his $10,000 boosted to $23,000. He lives in nearby Tempe.

Jim "Catfish" Hunter, the A's player representative for the recent pension negotiations, is en route to camp.

Other regulars who missed the first full day of training are infielder Sal Bando, Dick Green and John Donaldson, Ramon Webster and outfielder Joe Nossek.

Pitcher Lew Krause, who came to camp Tuesday, left for his Chester, Pa., home to be with his father, Lew Krause Sr. who is in a hospitalthere after suffering a severe heart attack. The father, an A's scout, pitched for the A's when they were in Philadelphia.

14 Hardy Women In Golf Tourney

Fourteen hardy women finished nine holes of golf yesterday in the Marin Country Club Women's Golf Club's regular and rain-soaked tournament with Mrs. G. E. Pearson taking top honors on a net 38 score.

Second was Mrs. Charles Gondak, 39½, followed by Mesdames Paul Williams, 40; E. N. Dawson, 40, and Warren Betts, 41½.

Cadet Cagers Lose

San Rafael Military Academy's basketball team dropped a 76-42 Bay Counties League game to Lick-Wilmerding in San Francisco yesterday. Bill Lakes topped the Cadets with 24 points.

Bruins Bomb Seals 9-0 Behind Super Esposito

OAKLAND (UPI) — The only thing the Oakland Seals have to say to the Boston Bruins is: don't hurry back.

The Eastern Division club bid farewell for the campaign to Oakland last night with a resounding 9-0 victory as Phil Esposito showed the way on a goal and two assists in raising his season point production total to a National Hockey League record-tying 97 points.

The 97 point total rolled up by Esposito—with 14 games still left on the Bruin schedule—ties him with Bobby Hull and Stan Mikita, both boomers with the Black Hawks of Chicago.

The Bruins got off to a slow, 1-0 start last night on Eddie Westfall's goal with an assist from Boston goalie Ed Johnston at 2:55.

Johnston cleared the puck over to Westfall who took it all the way in, firing a 30-footer past Oakland rookie goalie Chris Worthy. But Boston exploded in the final two periods, scoring four times in each stanza. Eddie Shack and Johnny Bucyk each scored a pair with the latter's coming within 34 seconds of each other.

In addition to Esposito's 37th goal of the season, Ken Hodge, Bobby Orr and John McKenzie tallied to round out the scoring.

The Bruins took the season Western Division record against eastern opponents, 13-17-3.

Family Doubles Tennis Tourney

Some 50 team entries are set to go at 9 a.m. tomorrow in the 15th annual California State Family Doubles Tennis Tournament at San Domenico School for Girls in San Rafael.

The tournament, with competition in six events, is set for two consecutive weekends, with action tomorrow and Sunday and again March 7 and 8.

Events slated for the tournament are father-son, husband-wife, mother-son, mother-daughter, father-daughter and sister-brother.

Lew Wins Honors

NEW YORK (AP) —Lew Alcindor, UCLA's 7-foot-1½ three-time All-American, was named the 1969 college basketball Player of the Year by The Associated Press today for the second time in his three varsity seasons.

Alcindor, who reportedly will command as high as a million dollar bonus to turn pro after his graduation this year, won by a landslide in the annual voting by sports writers and broadcasters.

Alcindor, beaten out for Player of the Year honors last year by Elvin Hayes of Houston after Houston had snapped UCLA's 47-game winning streak, was in no danger this time.

Expected to lead UCLA to an unprecedented third straight national title in the NCAA tourney in March, Alcindor polled 226 votes in the balloting conducted as a separate category with that for the All-American team. Some of the 339 who voted for the A-A skipped the Player of the Year category.

Spencer Haywood, the U.S. Olympic star now a sophomore at the University of Detroit, was third with 16 points. Rick Mount of Purdue was fourth with nine. Jo-Jo White of Kansas and Charlie Scott of North Carolina tied for fifth with five votes each.

Rounding out the Top Ten for Player of the Year honors were Dan Issel of Kentucky with four, Calvin Murphy of Niagara and Bobby Smith, of Tulsa, each three, and Bud Ogden of Santa Clara, two. Rex Morgan, of Jacksonville, Fla. University got one vote.

Joining Alcindor and Maravich on the 1969 All-American team, announced yesterday, were Haywood, Mount and Murphy. (See All-American list on page 40.)

Doral Open Two-Way Tie

MIAMI (AP) — Tom Shaw says he'll sell his golfing secret to Arnold Palmer for a couple of airplanes. After Shaw's record-matching, first-round 65 at the Doral Open Golf Tournament, Arnie might just accept the offer.

The 26-year-old blond wit from Golf, Ill., has not only won more money than Palmer on the tour this year, but he left Arnie and the other big names far behind as he moved into today's second-round lead in the $150,000 tournament tied with steady veteran Dan Sikes. Palmer shot a 68 over the 7,028-yard par 72 Doral layout in this first stop on pro golf's rich Florida tour.

Sikes, 38, known as the Florida Chicken Baron because of his Florida fried chicken drive-ins, and Shaw, who says his golfing motto is "60 anything," each fashioned 31-34-65s yesterday to tie the tournament record last matched by defending champion Gardner Dickinson.

Shaw, looking for his first victory after six years on the tour, credited his performance to longer drives and a shorter haircut. Shaw said he's added 10 to 15 yards off the tee.

"If I knew my secret, I'd sell it to Palmer for a couple of airplanes," he joked. "Maybe it's my hair."

Shaw said Jack Tuthill, the PGA tournament director, chided him into shortening his beach-boy haircut Wednesday.

Sikes, a former U. of Florida golf star, considers last month's California and Arizona tournaments just a warmup for the Florida tour.

66 fired by Australian Bruce Devlin and the 67s by veteran Tommy Aaron and South Africa's Harold Henning.

Dickinson shot a 71, Nicklaus an even-par 72 and two-time Doral winner Doug Sanders, who first set the 18-hole record and also holds the 274 Doral record for 72 holes, soared to a 74.

Doral's $30,000 first prize has drawn a field of 147 which includes most of pro golf's top names, with the exception of Gene Littler, this year's leading money winner; Billy Casper, Doral's other two-time winner, and U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino.

The field will be cut to the low 70s and ties after today's round.

Shaw finished eighth in the Los Angeles Open last month and has played well enough in the other 1969 tournaments to win almost $9,300.

Hail Or High Water, Road Show Will Go On

Come hail or high water — a likelihood, by the weigh — the new Sears Point International Raceway in southern Sonoma County will launch its 1969 racing program on schedule March 8-9 with a National Open Drag Race sponsored by the National Hot Rod Association.

JAMES R. COLEMAN

That was the word yesterday from Sears Raceway vice president and general manager James R. Coleman of Kentfield who told a San Francisco press conference: "Without much cooperation from the man upstairs, we are not quite as far along as we hoped to be, but we will open on schedule. We're going about this racing facility in a professional manner and what we have done so far we have done well."

The "man upstairs" has turned the unpaved sections of the raceway into a veritable quagmire and Coleman admitted parking "could be a nightmare" until spectator parking areas, which eventually will accommodate upwards of 15,000 cars, dry out. The turfed main parking lot for more than 6,000 autos is under water and won't be useable for the opening drag attraction nor the Sports Car Club of America's National Championship Points Race March 29-30.

Grandstands Going Up

The 43-year-old Coleman, a real estate developer, said the 4,800-seat permanent grandstand is being erected and will be ready for the opener, but the permanent rest rooms and concession stands won't be completed in time for the first two events. Thus, the crowds will have to rough it in portable biffies. "We anticipate our problems at first," he said, "so we're approaching the first two events with an apologetic and negative attitude."

The drag strip and hilly 2.5-mile, 12-turn road racing circuit will accommodate all types of automotive events, including championship cars, late model stock cars, sports cars and motorcycles. It is located on 640 acres in a natural amphitheater in the southwest junction of highways 37 and 121. Another problem will be traffic control because 121 is a two-lane road, but Coleman said, "On race days we will be able to effectively convert it into three lanes with paved shoulders. The highway patrol and sheriff's departments of Marin and Sonoma counties have been just neat cooperating with us on traffic planning."

82,000 At One Time

Steven F. Castoldi, San Francisco Region manager for SCCA, offered: "The Sears traffic control problem is nothing compared to the problems they have at Laguna Seca and Riverside."

Sears Raceway President Robert D. Marshall Jr., San Rafael attorney, refused to speculate on the size of crowds the west's newest raceway ultimately will accommodate for big events, but Coleman said: "Riverside Raceway has drawn 82,000 for a single event. Use that figure if you wish."

The facility will get a good test for its inaugural event because drag races always draw well. "We have 400 entries so far and expect 700," said Coleman. Thus, if only the drivers show up they're assured of a good crowd. Admission to the drag races will be $3 per person on Saturday and $4 Sunday. The March 29-30 SCCA event will cost you $5 for both days. Sears Point had guaranteed a $15,000 minimum purse for the national drag race, but contingency money from various automotive companies will swell that kitty considerably.

Could Be $7 Million Project

Marshall and fellow directors Coleman and William C. Murray of San Francisco said they already have "sunk" (pardon the seasonal expression) more than $1 million into the facility, but added it will eventually cost "between $5 million and $7 million." Improvements, they said, will include all underground communications systems, two-story drag tower with a TV camera deck complete with computerized timing system, landscaped spectator areas. Future plans include a three-story road racing tower with TV deck, pedestrian overpass across Highway 121, and public restaurant.

Also comtemplated are a golf course, skeet and trap shooting range and motel.

A 20-minute drive from San Rafael, it's a real gas of a facility and a welcome addition to the North Bay.

Redwood Vs. Novato In Big Windup

Final Night Of Prep Cage League Action

The big one tonight in the Marin County Athletic League's final night of basketball action is Redwood at Novato High School—and this one is for all the marbles, a last chance for Novato, a last step for Redwood.

JOHN BORO
Hot-shooting guard

Oddly enough, there are three other games being played on the same night—Terra Linda seeks to avenge a loss when it hosts Drake, San Marin is at Tamalpais in Mill Valley and San Rafael visits Marin Catholic in Kentfield. All games start about 8:30, following 7 o'clock junior varsity games.

Redwood and Novato are obviously Marin's finest clubs. Their records speak for themselves. Redwood has a 12-1 won-lost record in league, 22-4 on the season; Novato is 11-2 in league, 22-6 on the season.

But at stake, records and all, is the title, all of it for Redwood or a piece of it for Novato, and a trip to the Tournament of Champions.

Redwood can get the TOC berth by winning tonight; Novato can get it by beating the Giants, then doing it again in a playoff.

Superior depth, outstanding shooting and speed are the big Redwood advantages. Coach Dick Hart's Giants shot 54 per cent in whipping the Hornets at Larkspur, 78-63, and they're hitting 45 per cent on the season, sparked by Jerry Piro, John Boro and Roger Smith, three of the finest shooters in the league. The bench is long and deep and Piro leads one of the busiest fast breaks around.

The Giants also have height in a pair of 6-foot-6ers, Pete Webb and Bill Challender.

To stop all that, the Hornets will have to play defense, something nobody has been doing in the league this year. Coach Bill Aires could try to slow things down, although his offense is nobody's weak sister. The Hornets have scored 169 points in their last two games, spearheaded by Steve McNally and Ed Herrnberger.

Two win streaks are on the line — 12 in a row by Redwood, seven in a row by Novato.

A matchup of opponents won't get you much either. Redwood lost to San Rafael but blasted the Bulldogs by 28 points the second time around. Novato had trouble both times with San Rafael, losing in overtime and taking a two-point verdict. Both teams have lamblasted Marin Catholic, Drake and San Marin, but Novato has had it fairly easy against tough Terra linda, while Redwood had a close call against the Trojans.

In the other games, the hot Trojans, despite a disappointing loss to Redwood, will try to sock it to the Pirates, who snared an upset win the last time around. The Trojans in the space of two games scored 99 points in one, came close to achieving a stunning upset in the other.

Tamalpais, slumping badly, still should have enough to take San Marin, especially on the Indians' own court.

Willie Booms In Camp

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. (UPI) —Three swings; two balls against the distant outfield fences and the third out of sight.

That's how No. 24, Willie Mays, started his first day in the San Francisco Giants' spring training camp yesterday.

He arrived too late for the daily calesthenics ritual but in time to sign his fourth straight $125,000-a-year contract and take three cuts in the batting cage.

The first ball he hit banged against the right field wall 360 feet from home plate, the next went 365 feet to left and the third sailed over the center field barrier at the 425-foot mark.

Actually, Mays, who will be 38 years old in May, did not affix his signature to a contract.

The star centerfielder met briefly with San Francisco general manager Chub Feeney, who merely said, "He's agreed, but not signed."

The reason for that was because no contract form was available in camp. Outfield hopeful Ken Henderson had just inked the last pact when Mays arrived. Needless to say, Henderson signed for a sum considerably less than Mays.

Fourteen hardy women finished nine holes of golf yesterday in the Marin Country Club Women's Golf Club's regular and rain-soaked tournament with Mrs. G. E. Pearson taking top honors on a net 38 score.

8-Event Schedule For Sears Point

SAN FRANCISCO — Directors of new Sears Point International Raceway yesterday announced a basic eight-event schedule of races for 1969, opening with the National Hot Rod Association's $15,000 National Open Drag Race March 8-9.

William C. McCormick Jr. of San Francisco, vice president and competition director for the southern Sonoma county raceways at Highways 37 and 121 emphasized that the schedule is "subject to supplementation at a later date."

FIRST ONE

First sports car event is the national championship points race March 29-30, sponsored by the Sports Car Club of America.

JACK HANLEY

Casa Grande Showplace Of The Cactus League

CASA GRANDE—Horace Stoneham is the pioneer founder of the Cactus League. He led his Giants out of Florida to Arizona in 1947. Now, two decades later, the Cactus League is soundly established with seven big league teams.

Cactus League membership increased from four to seven teams this spring. The Oakland Athletics moved to Mesa. And the recent expansion of the major leagues to 12 teams each gave the Cactus League two new clubs, the San Diego Padres at Yuma and the Seattle Pilots at Tempe.

Ever since they moved west, the Giants have made their main camp in Phoenix, training the first 10 days each spring at Casa Grande, a $3 million minor league base for the club's farm teams which boast the most luxurious headquarters in baseball, including a showplace seven-story hotel and adjacent two-story motel units.

THE CLEVELAND Indians at Tucson, the Chicago Cubs at Scottsdale and the California Angels at Palm Springs are the other members of the Cactus League which claims it has better conditioning weather than Florida's Grapefruit League. Naturally, the Grapefruit League insists it is the other way around.

Stoneham is convinced Arizona's salubrious spring weather is the reason why clubs training the the desert get off to flying starts.

"THE GIANTS have a history of breaking rapidly," said Stoneham. "So have the Indians from their Tucson base. In 1966 the Indians started by winning 10 straight. It looked like they were never going to stop."

Leo Durocher believes Arizona's Valley of the Sun is ideal for a spring training camp. Durocher's Chicago Cubs are encamped in the heart of the valley at Scottsdale.

"THE ONLY time I can recall the Giants not getting off well was when I managed them in 1951," Durocher said. "Del Webb wanted to bring the New York Yankess to Phoenix, so Horace Stoneham swapped camps.

"We went to St. Petersburg. We won opening day and then lost 10 straight. We straightened out, however, for 1951 was the year Willie Mays came along."

CLYDE KING, new rookie manager of the Giants who spent his first spring in Arizona last year when he managed the club's Phoenix farm team, said he already is convinced Arizona weather tops Florida.

"This is my second spring in Arizona after 23 years in Florida," said King. "There's less rain here. I remember one year in Florida when I was with Cincinnati that we got aboard the private plane of the Dodgers and flew to Havana with them for a series of exhibition games. It rained five straight days in Florida after we took off."

WES WESTRUM was asked whether he felt training conditions in Arizona were superior to Florida.

"I guess the best answer to that is the fact that I moved my home to Pheonix," said the ex-catcher of the Giants who now is one of their coaches.

East German Blonde Wins Skating Title

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — The women's championship in world figure skating has gone out of the United States for the first time in four years, but a 20-year-old Detroit star, Tim Wood, is favored to bring the men's crown back to this country after a 10-year absence.

Gabriele Seyfert, 20-year-old blonde from East Germany, won the women's title in the Broadmoor World Arena last night despite a fall during her otherwise beautiful free skating performance. She also is the European champion.

Another round of free skating tonight will decide the championship among 18 men skaters from 10 nations. The ice dancing event will close the competition tomorrow night.

Peggy Fleming, a Winter Olympics gold medal winner for the United States, and Austria's Emmerich Danzer turned professional last year after each has won three world championships in a row.

A 17-year-old Austrian girl, Beatrice Schuba, who beat Miss Seyfert in the compulsory figures earlier this week, finished second in the over-all standings.

The glamorous East Gearman champion was picked first in free skating by all nine judges for the best possible ordinal score of nine. She racked up a total of 2795.5 points to 2709.4 for Miss Schuba.

A pretty 18-year-old Hungarian, Isuisa "Susie" Almassy, finished third with 2704.6.

The best of the Americans was 17-year-old Julie Lynn Holmes a Colorado College freshman from South Pasadena, who finished fourth ahead of the U.S. and North American title winner, 15-year-old Janet Lynn of Rockford, Ill.

Miss Holmes, her brunette beauty accented by costume of schocking pink, skated flawlessly for 2696.2 points to 2663.4 for the little blonde from Illinois.

Richey Wins

CURACAO, Netherlands Antilles (AP) — Cliff Richey of San Angelo, Tex., defeated Ove Bengtsson of Sweden 6-4, 6-2 in a second-round match of an international tennis tournament last night.

Surfing Champs

LIMA, Peru (AP) — Mike Doyle of Ensentias Del Mar, Calif., and Susy Dyson of Peru won the tandem event in the international surfing tournament last night.

When Bill Mazeroski of the Pittsburgh Pirates led the major leagues in assists at second base last year, he set a major league record. It was his ninth time as leader in assists.

Scoring Crown At Stake

There's more than a league championship at stake when Novato and Redwood high schools settle the issue of the Marin County Athletic League basketball title at Novato High at 8 o'clock tonight.

The top three prep scorers in the league are playing in that game and will undoubtedly settle the individual scoring race.

Novato' one-two scoring punch of Steve McNalley and Ed Herrnberger are currently one-two in the league, with McNally at 262 points and Herrnberger at 258. But Jerry Piro of Redwood is right behind with 252 points, and a big night by any of the threesome could give one of them the title.

John Howard of San Marin with 247 points has an outside chance, if he goes wild in a game against Tamalpais High School at Mill Valley. He's already scored 34 points in one game.

Bruins In Final Bay Area Showing

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

It's been a great three years for the UCLA basketball team, but it will all be over soon.

Lew Alcindor and his fellow Bruins make their final San Francisco Bay area appearance tonight at Stanford and tomorrow at California. The Bruins will close out the season with a pair against traditional rival USC. Then it's on to the Far West regionals on the Bruins court and undoubtedly a visit March 20 to the NCAA finals at Louisville, Ky.

The amazing Bruins looking for their third straight NCAA title, have won 39 in a row since losing to Houston in the Astrodome in January of 1968.

USC also goes to the Bay Area this weekend while Washington and Washington State call on Oregon and Oregon State.

San Jose State tries to catch Santa Clara in the tough West Coast Athletic Conference chase tonight. The Spartans (8-2) are at UOP and Santa Clara (9-1) calls on Pepperdine in a couple of rugged tests for the front-runners.

USF is at Loyola and Santa Barbara at St. Mary's in more WCAC tiffs.

There's a big one in the Far Western Conference too as San Francisco State and the Cal Aggies match 11-1 conference records and 17-7 season marks.

Long Beach State, the CCAA champ, faces small college powerhouse Nevada Las Vegas in a game that could have implications as to who gets invited to what post-season joust.

In action yesterday, Oregon College beat Oregon Tech 93-84 which gave Southern Oregon the right to represent the Oregon Collegiate Conference in post-season competition.

Casa Grande Showplace Of The Cactus League

CASA GRANDE—Horace Stoneham is the pioneer founder of the Cactus League. He led his Giants out of Florida to Arizona in 1947. Now, two decades later, the Cactus League is soundly established with seven big league teams.

Cactus League membership increased from four to seven teams this spring. The Oakland Athletics moved to Mesa. And the recent expansion of the major leagues to 12 teams each gave the Cactus League two new clubs, the San Diego Padres at Yuma and the Seattle Pilots at Tempe.

Ever since they moved west, the Giants have made their main camp in Phoenix, training the first 10 days each spring at Casa Grande, a $3 million minor league base for the club's farm teams which boast the most luxurious headquarters in baseball, including a showplace seven-story hotel and adjacent two-story motel units.

THE CLEVELAND Indians at Tucson, the Chicago Cubs at Scottsdale and the California Angels at Palm Springs are the other members of the Cactus League which claims it has better conditioning weather than Florida's Grapefruit League. Naturally, the Grapefruit League insists it is the other way around.

Stoneham is convinced Arizona's salubrious spring weather is the reason why clubs training the the desert get off to flying starts.

"THE GIANTS have a history of breaking rapidly," said Stoneham. "So have the Indians from their Tucson base. In 1966 the Indians started by winning 10 straight. It looked like they were never going to stop."

Leo Durocher believes Arizona's Valley of the Sun is ideal for a spring training camp. Durocher's Chicago Cubs are encamped in the heart of the valley at Scottsdale.

"THE ONLY time I can recall the Giants not getting off well was when I managed them in 1951," Durocher said. "Del Webb wanted to bring the New York Yankess to Phoenix, so Horace Stoneham swapped camps.

"We went to St. Petersburg. We won opening day and then lost 10 straight. We straightened out, however, for 1951 was the year Willie Mays came along."

CLYDE KING, new rookie manager of the Giants who spent his first spring in Arizona last year when he managed the club's Phoenix farm team, said he already is convinced Arizona weather tops Florida.

"This is my second spring in Arizona after 23 years in Florida," said King. "There's less rain here. I remember one year in Florida when I was with Cincinnati that we got aboard the private plane of the Dodgers and flew to Havana with them for a series of exhibition games. It rained five straight days in Florida after we took off."

WES WESTRUM was asked whether he felt training conditions in Arizona were superior to Florida.

"I guess the best answer to that is the fact that I moved my home to Pheonix," said the ex-catcher of the Giants who now is one of their coaches.

East German Blonde Wins Skating Title

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — The women's championship in world figure skating has gone out of the United States for the first time in four years, but a 20-year-old Detroit star, Tim Wood, is favored to bring the men's crown back to this country after a 10-year absence.

Gabriele Seyfert, 20-year-old blonde from East Germany, won the women's title in the Broadmoor World Arena last night despite a fall during her otherwise beautiful free skating performance. She also is the European champion.

Another round of free skating tonight will decide the championship among 18 men skaters from 10 nations. The ice dancing event will close the competition tomorrow night.

Peggy Fleming, a Winter Olympics gold medal winner for the United States, and Austria's Emmerich Danzer turned professional last year after each has won three world championships in a row.

A 17-year-old Austrian girl, Beatrice Schuba, who beat Miss Seyfert in the compulsory figures earlier this week, finished second in the over-all standings.

The glamorous East Gearman champion was picked first in free skating by all nine judges for the best possible ordinal score of nine. She racked up a total of 2795.5 points to 2709.4 for Miss Schuba.

A pretty 18-year-old Hungarian, Isuisa "Susie" Almassy, finished third with 2704.6.

The best of the Americans was 17-year-old Julie Lynn Holmes a Colorado College freshman from South Pasadena, who finished fourth ahead of the U.S. and North American title winner, 15-year-old Janet Lynn of Rockford, Ill.

Miss Holmes, her brunette beauty accented by costume of schocking pink, skated flawlessly for 2696.2 points to 2663.4 for the little blonde from Illinois.

Richey Wins

CURACAO, Netherlands Antilles (AP) — Cliff Richey of San Angelo, Tex., defeated Ove Bengtsson of Sweden 6-4, 6-2 in a second-round match of an international tennis tournament last night.

Surfing Champs

LIMA, Peru (AP) — Mike Doyle of Ensentias Del Mar, Calif., and Susy Dyson of Peru won the tandem event in the international surfing tournament last night.

When Bill Mazeroski of the Pittsburgh Pirates led the major leagues in assists at second base last year, he set a major league record. It was his ninth time as leader in assists.

Scoring Crown At Stake

There's more than a league championship at stake when Novato and Redwood high schools settle the issue of the Marin County Athletic League basketball title at Novato High at 8 o'clock tonight.

The top three prep scorers in the league are playing in that game and will undoubtedly settle the individual scoring race.

Novato' one-two scoring punch of Steve McNalley and Ed Herrnberger are currently one-two in the league, with McNally at 262 points and Herrnberger at 258. But Jerry Piro of Redwood is right behind with 252 points, and a big night by any of the threesome could give one of them the title.

John Howard of San Marin with 247 points has an outside chance, if he goes wild in a game against Tamalpais High School at Mill Valley. He's already scored 34 points in one game.

Rich Curry's 737, Miss Conti Lead Marin Bowlers

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Rich Curry, desk man and junior bowling coach, and red-hot Penny Conti were the star bowlers of the week, and then some, with some great scoring at Country Club Bowl.

Rich, younger brother of Mike, the manager of the San Rafael lanes, rolled 10 straight strikes and a 288 game, followed with a 247 and then a 192 for a 727 in the 821 Scratch League.

Then in the 670 Scratch League, Rich rolled 191, 213 and 277 for a 681 series. But it wasn't all little brother, as Mike rolled his all-time best scores in the 821 Scratch, a 671 series.

Miss Conti, the only woman to roll a 700 series (701) in Marin County bowling, had quite a week. She rolled a 599 series in the Weekenders League, a 596 in the Toppers and a 587 in the Hi-Lo's. In the 615 Classic, she ended up with a 556 set.

GALS YESTERDAY received official approval of scores in the ninth annual Marin County Woman's Bowling Association tournament that ended last weekend. According to official results, all-events winner is Pat Hudnell, 2,043 pins; singles winner is Charlotte Warcup, 701; doubles champ are Shirley Reagan and Pat Weddell, 1,238 and team winner is Holling's Mohawk Service and Garage (Bea Hoffmann, Pat Nakamura, Leemoi Bekey, Sylvia Knutson), 2,444 — all scores including handicaps.

THIS AND THAT — Jim Madsen rolled his first league 200, a 203 in the Thursday Late Mixed at Nave Lanes . . . Among high rollers at Country Club Bowl this week were Jack Nancarrow (169 avg.), 659 in the Elks League; Tony Battaglia (158 avg.), 624 in the Eagles, and Dick Holling, (153 avg., 618 in the TGIF . . . Joan Moore went up the ladder by the tens in the Marin County Mixed Travel League at Nave Lanes, 136-146-156 . . . Among the high rollers at Nave Lanes were Paul Panholzer who rolled a 255 in the 840 Scratch and Myrna Sjoblom who had a 246 in the Women's Invitational Scratch . . . Dot Loux (123 avg.) missed a 124 triplicate by just one pin in the Hi-Lo's, just because she hit her average once . . . El Brice picked up a 6-7-10 split in the Hawaiian League at Nave Lanes.

DOWN THE LANES — First time over the "hurdle" at Nave Lanes include Diane Wayda who rolled a 613 in the Alley Kats No. 1; and Betty Rush, 203 in Swingers A Go-Go, and Claudette Ferriter, even 200 in the St. Isabella's Women's League . . . Patricia Foley, Jill Westly and Pamela Foley won the championship of the Redwood Girls' Athletic League bowling team . . . Bobbie Hoover has a 151 average, so she wasn't expected to roll that 224-177-196 — 597 in the Bowlerettes League at Country Club.

HITS AND MISSES — Patricia Kinney had an all-spare game in the Monday Washday League at Nave Lanes and came out of it with a 182 score . . . In the San Quentin Mixed Fours at Country Club, Betty Nelson picked up the 4-7-10 split and Lee Baker rolled his first 200 game, and even had a pin to spare . . . Pete Bekey had high score in the Weekenders, 244, while Grant Giordani and Jim Carroll each made good on the 6-7-10 split . . . Dori Simeone was star of the Keglerettes League at Country Club Bowl with a 239 game . . . Jerry Stocker led Country Club juniors this week, 574 series, quite a bit higher than his 137 average, and Tony Trowbridge led the Bantams, 176.

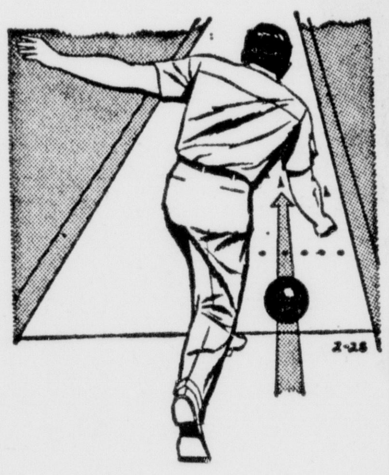
BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



If you find yourself "pointing" the ball too much toward the headpin, use two targets out on the lane instead of one. Instead of just trying to get the ball to roll over a certain arrow, in other words, try to get it to cross two points of reference.

Facing down the alley toward the pins, there will usually be a row of dots in front of the arorows (see illustration).

This two-target system will require you to make a more determined effort to throw the ball straight out, and, thus, you will stop pointing.

Bowler Converts That 7-10 Split

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Richard Gibbons of Belleville, Wis., picked up the 7-10 split while competing in the 66th annual American Bowling Congress championships yesterday.

The 48-year-old bowler slammed the seven pin against the back of the pit and it caromed into the 10.

Gibbons wound up with a 152 game.

Simpson Looking Forward To Bills

HOUSTON (AP) — O.J. Simpson, All-American halfback at Southern California last season, said last night he would prefer to play as a professional in the National Football League "because I grew up in a National League city."

However, he said he was looking forward to playing for the American Football League's Buffalo Bills, who drafted him.

Simpson was guest speaker at the Booker T. Washington High School football awards dinner.

He said he anticipated a quick settlement on his contract with Bills' owner Ralph Wilson, whom Simpson called "a nice man."

Oregon St. Beard Issue Continues

CORVALLIS, Ore. (UPI)— Both sides in the growing dispute over bearded athletes at Oregon State University drew throngs of supporters yesterday at rival noon rallies on the campus.

Some 2,500 persons gathered in the school quad to hear coach Dee Andros, whose order to Negro football player Fred Milton to shave, sparked the controversy.

At a simultanous indoor rally, an overflow crowd of 1,000 persons heard pledges of support from black and white students from sometimes rival University of Oregon.

Dave Robertson, a black UO football player, told the crowd efforts were underway to create an organization of black athletes in the Pacific 8 Conference.

University of Oregon student body president, Dick Jones, also appeared at the inside rally. He introduced Robertson, who reported that black athletes at his school have voted not to compete against OSU until the beard issue was settled to the satisfaction of Oregon State's Negro students.

The two schools are scheduled to meet in basketball March 7 and 8. Three of OSU's four black athletes skipped practice. The fourth was excused.

Rich Curry's 737, Miss Conti Lead Marin Bowlers

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Rich Curry, desk man and junior bowling coach, and red-hot Penny Conti were the star bowlers of the week, and then some, with some great scoring at Country Club Bowl.

Rich, younger brother of Mike, the manager of the San Rafael lanes, rolled 10 straight strikes and a 288 game, followed with a 247 and then a 192 for a 727 in the 821 Scratch League.

Then in the 670 Scratch League, Rich rolled 191, 213 and 277 for a 681 series. But it wasn't all little brother, as Mike rolled his all-time best scores in the 821 Scratch, a 671 series.

Miss Conti, the only woman to roll a 700 series (701) in Marin County bowling, had quite a week. She rolled a 599 series in the Weekenders League, a 596 in the Toppers and a 587 in the Hi-Lo's. In the 615 Classic, she ended up with a 556 set.

GALS YESTERDAY received official approval of scores in the ninth annual Marin County Woman's Bowling Association tournament that ended last weekend. According to official results, all-events winner is Pat Hudnell, 2,043 pins; singles winner is Charlotte Warcup, 701; doubles champ are Shirley Reagan and Pat Weddell, 1,238 and team winner is Holling's Mohawk Service and Garage (Bea Hoffmann, Pat Nakamura, Leemoi Bekey, Sylvia Knutson), 2,444 — all scores including handicaps.

THIS AND THAT — Jim Madsen rolled his first league 200, a 203 in the Thursday Late Mixed at Nave Lanes . . . Among high rollers at Country Club Bowl this week were Jack Nancarrow (169 avg.), 659 in the Elks League; Tony Battaglia (158 avg.), 624 in the Eagles, and Dick Holling, (153 avg., 618 in the TGIF . . . Joan Moore went up the ladder by the tens in the Marin County Mixed Travel League at Nave Lanes, 136-146-156 . . . Among the high rollers at Nave Lanes were Paul Panholzer who rolled a 255 in the 840 Scratch and Myrna Sjoblom who had a 246 in the Women's Invitational Scratch . . . Dot Loux (123 avg.) missed a 124 triplicate by just one pin in the Hi-Lo's, just because she hit her average once . . . El Brice picked up a 6-7-10 split in the Hawaiian League at Nave Lanes.

DOWN THE LANES — First time over the "hurdle" at Nave Lanes include Diane Wayda who rolled a 613 in the Alley Kats No. 1; and Betty Rush, 203 in Swingers A Go-Go, and Claudette Ferriter, even 200 in the St. Isabella's Women's League . . . Patricia Foley, Jill Westly and Pamela Foley won the championship of the Redwood Girls' Athletic League bowling team . . . Bobbie Hoover has a 151 average, so she wasn't expected to roll that 224-177-196 — 597 in the Bowlerettes League at Country Club.

HITS AND MISSES — Patricia Kinney had an all-spare game in the Monday Washday League at Nave Lanes and came out of it with a 182 score . . . In the San Quentin Mixed Fours at Country Club, Betty Nelson picked up the 4-7-10 split and Lee Baker rolled his first 200 game, and even had a pin to spare . . . Pete Bekey had high score in the Weekenders, 244, while Grant Giordani and Jim Carroll each made good on the 6-7-10 split . . . Dori Simeone was star of the Keglerettes League at Country Club Bowl with a 239 game . . . Jerry Stocker led Country Club juniors this week, 574 series, quite a bit higher than his 137 average, and Tony Trowbridge led the Bantams, 176.

35 Feet Of Snow For Races

SQUAW VALLEY (AP) — Officials were determined today, in the face of new snows, to get the World Cup ski races under way at Squaw Valley on a record-breaking snow-pack over 35 feet thick with some 130 racers from 13 countries in competition.

The women's slalom was scheduled to start with the first of two runs, alternating with the men's two slalom runs at 10 a.m. PST.

Last night a new snow storm started falling on slopes already laden with a white mantle the size of which never before has been seen in this Sierra Nevada resort area 200 miles northeast of San Francisco.

The new storm picked up in intensity until it began blowing nearly horizontally shortly before midnight. A foot of new snow was expected after midnight.

Australian Karl Schranz leads the men's pack with 158 points. If he wins three more slaloms and two giant slaloms in the current race and two other World Cup events to follow, he will get the highest possible total of 225 points.

Critical Time For Warriors

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A critical weekend series is in store for the San Francisco Warriors who are in the midst of a tight battle for a National Basketball Association playoff berth.

With only a month of action remaining, the Warriors currently hold down the third—and final playoff—spot in the Western Division, just four games ahead of San Diego.

San Francisco will entertain Cincinnati tonight, Phoenix tomorrow and then travel to Los Angeles Sunday.

35 Feet Of Snow For Races

SQUAW VALLEY (AP) — Officials were determined today, in the face of new snows, to get the World Cup ski races under way at Squaw Valley on a record-breaking snow-pack over 35 feet thick with some 130 racers from 13 countries in competition.

The women's slalom was scheduled to start with the first of two runs, alternating with the men's two slalom runs at 10 a.m. PST.

Last night a new snow storm started falling on slopes already laden with a white mantle the size of which never before has been seen in this Sierra Nevada resort area 200 miles northeast of San Francisco.

The new storm picked up in intensity until it began blowing nearly horizontally shortly before midnight. A foot of new snow was expected after midnight.

Australian Karl Schranz leads the men's pack with 158 points. If he wins three more slaloms and two giant slaloms in the current race and two other World Cup events to follow, he will get the highest possible total of 225 points.

Critical Time For Warriors

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A critical weekend series is in store for the San Francisco Warriors who are in the midst of a tight battle for a National Basketball Association playoff berth.

With only a month of action remaining, the Warriors currently hold down the third—and final playoff—spot in the Western Division, just four games ahead of San Diego.

San Francisco will entertain Cincinnati tonight, Phoenix tomorrow and then travel to Los Angeles Sunday.

Mrs. Testa Dead Last

COMBINED AP & UPI

ARCADIA — "It was beautiful out there. I loved it."

Pretty Tuesdee Testa spoke after becoming the first woman jockey to compete in a regular race at Santa Anita.

Mrs. Testa, 27, didn't have much success, though. She finished last in a nine-horse field aboard Gallarush, a 7-year-old mare, in the seventh race.

"Even though I ate a lot of dirt, this is a wonderful feeling," she said.

Gallarush never was in contention in the 6½ furlong test, finishing 11 lengths behind the winner, Indian Love Call.

Prep Cage Showdown At Novato

The San Rafael-Marin Catholic tussle could be a dilly. The Bulldogs won in overtime last time around on their own court and they'll be facing a pack of frustrated, explosive Wildcats in their own lair.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, CPA

Expenses Of Your Education May Qualify For Education

Wikel

Expenses for education are deductible if you qualify.

The regulations apply to self-employed persons as well as to teachers and other employees.

Expenses for education may be deducted if primarily for:

1. Maintaining or improving skills required in your employment or other trade or business, or
2. Meeting the express requirements of your employer, or the requirements of applicable law or regulations imposed as a condition to the retention of your salary, status or employment.

Expenses incurred for obtaining a new position, meeting minimum requirements, a substantial advancement in position, or for personal purposes are not deductible.

WHERE AND HOW?

Where or how do you deduct these expenses on Form 1040?

If you are an outsiede salsmaen,ee all your educatetio xpeneses are deductible in parte III, page 2, linee 3, eand if you a not an outsid salesman, your travel expenses while away from home overnight are deductible in part III, page 2, line 3, while all other educational expenses are deducted in part IV, page 2, line 16, miscellaneous deductions.

You compute the deduction on Form 2106 and claim both parts of the deduction in two separate places on page 2 of Form 1040, as above.

Be sure to complete Schedule D of Form 2106.

SCHEDULE C

If you are self-employed, your educational expenses are deducted on Schedule C, together with your other business expenses.

If a course leads to a degree this will not, of itself, bar a deduction ofr the expense.

Also, a change of position or a promotion within the same occupation will not bar the deduction.

Educational expenses are still a controversial area and there are many conflicting decisions.

You should secure a copy of "Your Federal Income Tax 1969 Edition for Individuals" from your office of the IRS (cost 60 cents). This will give you the IRS position.

Stock Dividend

ATLANTA (UPI) — Directors of Rollins, Inc., have declared a quarterly dividend of four and one-half cents per share on common stock, payable April 25 to holders of record March 25. This is equal to nine cents per share in old stock before a recent 2-For-1 Split, on which the company had been paying seven and one-half cents quarterly.

HIGH-PERFORMANCE RAMBLER

A limited number of this custom-built Rambler Rogue hardtop by American Motors Corp. and Hurst Performance, Inc. will go on sale late in March. Known as the SC Rambler Hurst, it is powered by a 390-cubic inch V-8 engine. In Marin, cars will be offered by Dexter Rambler, San Rafael and Larry Brink Motors, Mill Valley.

Convertible Debentures Complicated; Can Profit

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. How long does one have to hold a $1,000 Tenneco Convertible Bond before one can convert to common shares? Can I assume all are $1,000 bonds? What does 15 per cent premium over conversion value mean? When I convert would the common share value be of that date on the exchange? — G. G.

A. The conversion price is already set when the bond or debenture goes on sale and it may vary during the conversion period. Daily price fluctuations of the common determine whether the bond trades at conversion parity or at a discount or a premium. Bonds are marketed in $1,000 units but quoted according to $100 of face value. A quote of $84 is a discount to $840 for a $1,000 bond; conversely $119 shows a premium of $190. Conversion privileges, including that of Tenneco's 6.25 per cent debenture of 1992, usually run to maturity, although a few companies — like Food Fair mentioned here recently — limit the conversion period.

Tenneco set the conversion price at $10 offering 3.333 shares of its common for each $100 of the debenture's face value. If these prices were in effect today, in their respective markets the debenture would be selling at conversion parity. Currently the shares trade around 30½ and the debenture around 116¾. Three and one-third shares are worth $101.66 so the debenture trades at a 15 per cent premium.

A premium may represent advantages offered by the bond issue, a company's growth potential and the speculative fervor generated thereby. The convertible bond market attracts sophisticated traders for a number of reasons, including lower margin requirements and brokerage rates.

Tenneco common has been in the doldrums for some time, yet the company's diversification moves and the steady uptrend in earnings since 1962 are reflected in the premium being paid for the 6.25 per cent debentures.

Holders of convertible bonds are cautioned to watch for corporate announcements such as calls for redemption, refunding or changes in conversion ratio and expiration of conversion privileges.

Expenses Of Your Education May Qualify For Education

Wikel

Expenses for education are deductible if you qualify.

The regulations apply to self-employed persons as well as to teachers and other employees.

Expenses for education may be deducted if primarily for:

1. Maintaining or improving skills required in your employment or other trade or business, or
2. Meeting the express requirements of your employer, or the requirements of applicable law or regulations imposed as a condition to the retention of your salary, status or employment.

Expenses incurred for obtaining a new position, meeting minimum requirements, a substantial advancement in position, or for personal purposes are not deductible.

WHERE AND HOW?

Where or how do you deduct these expenses on Form 1040?

If you are an outsiede salsmaen,ee all your educatetio xpeneses are deductible in parte III, page 2, linee 3, eand if you a not an outsid salesman, your travel expenses while away from home overnight are deductible in part III, page 2, line 3, while all other educational expenses are deducted in part IV, page 2, line 16, miscellaneous deductions.

You compute the deduction on Form 2106 and claim both parts of the deduction in two separate places on page 2 of Form 1040, as above.

Be sure to complete Schedule D of Form 2106.

SCHEDULE C

If you are self-employed, your educational expenses are deducted on Schedule C, together with your other business expenses.

If a course leads to a degree this will not, of itself, bar a deduction ofr the expense.

Also, a change of position or a promotion within the same occupation will not bar the deduction.

Educational expenses are still a controversial area and there are many conflicting decisions.

You should secure a copy of "Your Federal Income Tax 1969 Edition for Individuals" from your office of the IRS (cost 60 cents). This will give you the IRS position.

This is equal to nine cents per share in old stock before a recent 2-For-1 Split, on which the company had been paying seven and one-half cents quarterly.

HIGH-PERFORMANCE RAMBLER

Convertible Debentures Complicated; Can Profit

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. How long does one have to hold a $1,000 Tenneco Convertible Bond before one can convert to common shares? Can I assume all are $1,000 bonds? What does 15 per cent premium over conversion value mean? When I convert would the common share value be of that date on the exchange? — G. G.

A. The conversion price is already set when the bond or debenture goes on sale and it may vary during the conversion period. Daily price fluctuations of the common determine whether the bond trades at conversion parity or at a discount or a premium. Bonds are marketed in $1,000 units but quoted according to $100 of face value. A quote of $84 is a discount to $840 for a $1,000 bond; conversely $119 shows a premium of $190. Conversion privileges, including that of Tenneco's 6.25 per cent debenture of 1992, usually run to maturity, although a few companies — like Food Fair mentioned here recently — limit the conversion period.

Tenneco set the conversion price at $10 offering 3.333 shares of its common for each $100 of the debenture's face value. If these prices were in effect today, in their respective markets the debenture would be selling at conversion parity. Currently the shares trade around 30½ and the debenture around 116¾. Three and one-third shares are worth $101.66 so the debenture trades at a 15 per cent premium.

A premium may represent advantages offered by the bond issue, a company's growth potential and the speculative fervor generated thereby. The convertible bond market attracts sophisticated traders for a number of reasons, including lower margin requirements and brokerage rates.

Tenneco common has been in the doldrums for some time, yet the company's diversification moves and the steady uptrend in earnings since 1962 are reflected in the premium being paid for the 6.25 per cent debentures.

Holders of convertible bonds are cautioned to watch for corporate announcements such as calls for redemption, refunding or changes in conversion ratio and expiration of conversion privileges.

Rainiest Year Mocks Man's Efforts At Control

Storm loss to Marin has been placed at $811,000 in asking for a state emergency declaration to clear the way for federal funds to repair some of the damage.

That was the figure submitted to the state last week by John F. McInnis, chairman of the county board of supervisors. The damage was estimated at $411,000 to public property and $400,000 to private property.

We suspect the figure for private property damage is below the actual loss. Also, neither public nor private figure can be final, for the winter is not yet ended. Hillsides where earth has been turned to mush by the long rains will continue to slide — and may take more houses with them. More trees will fall; seepage will flood more basements; more roofs will spring leaks.

THIS YEAR'S rainy season has been unprecedented. The great January storms of 1967 created more flooding, as did those of February, 1958. But in neither of those years was there so much total rainfall by the end of February as we have had this season.

In fact, there is no year on record with so much accumulated rainfall by the end of February.

Records kept by Crocker-Citizens National Bank and its predecessors, Bank of Marin and First National Bank of San Rafael, run back to 1875-6. In all those years — nearly a century — the greatest rainfall was produced during the rainy seasons of 1889-90, 1940-41, 1957-58, and 1966-67.

But in none of those was there so much rain by the end of February as we have had this season.

IT IS SCARCELY surprising that, with all this soaking, there have been slides that fractured water and sewer lines, undermined houses, uprooted trees, etc. Nor have they shown much regard for whether the houses had been built and the roads and utilities installed to conform to the latest, most restrictive codes.

Houses have slid even where soils tests were required before building permits were let.

The Army Corps of Engineers designed its Corte Madera Creek flood control project "for a 100-year storm." Yet, with much of the project done, there was flooding this month on the Greenbrae Boardwalk.

The Civic Center Lagoon is supposedly a product of the most advanced planning. Yet, although it had been drained, it filled with flood water and claimed the life of a 9-year-old boy.

The list could go on and on.

EVERY BAD storm year brings new restrictions on building and excavating, and new flood-control measures. Some of them pay off. If they had not, there would have been many more catastrophes this year in the greatest rainfall season — to date — as far back as the records run.

But as long as the home with a view is in demand, there will be building on Marin's hills. As long as the population keeps increasing, there will be building on progressively less desirable lowland sites. And hills and lowlands must be gouged to install roads and utilities to serve them.

There should be renewed efforts at uniform building restrictions and better planning as result of this year's experience. But it is well to bear in mind that, as Robert Burns put it: "The best laid plans of mice and men gang aft aglie."

Monkey Flower—Long Bloomer

The common monkey flower is found throughout Marin, along streams and near water seepages, and is one of the earliest blooming and longest blooming of all California wildflowers. In some spots, it starts blooming in January.

Its irregularly toothed flowers are yellow, speckled with brown or red, and are thought by many to have a monkey's face printed on them, hence the name.

The monkey flower is a favorite of some Marin wildflower fanciers.

Complex Budget, Of Huge Size, Gives Collier Tremendous Task

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — As chairman of the state Senate Finance Committee, Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, is beginning to realize what a vast task he took on when he succeeded the late Sen. George Miller to what is considered the most important post in the upper house.

Senator Collier has for some years been a member of the finance committee, and is the legislator with the most service in either the Senate or Assembly. Because of this long service, dating back to 1939, there probably is no senator more qualified to handle and dissect the more than $6 billion in appropriations asked for during the 1969-70 fiscal yearl

SOME OF THE complexities are pointed out by Senator Collier.

"California has lost, fortunately," he says, "a percentage point in prestige. Our state now only ranks fifth in having the highest budget in the world! New York has superseded us in having the fourth highest.

"Nevertheless, we are still faced with the task of meeting a record $6.225 billion budget to run the state of California.

"What few people realize is approximately 58 per cent of the budget, which on paper is about the size of the Chicago telephone directory, is untouchable by legislative action because of constitutional provisions, primarily for education, and statutory limitations.

"Even with these provisions, this still leaves a whopping $2,602,484,126 to be authorized for expenditure by the two houses of the Legislature.

"There are over 400 separate items to be heard by the senate finance committee. As chairman, I have assigned the study items to five sub-committees for deliberation to expedite the process of obtaining a budget acceptable to everyone concerned.

"OF THE VARIOUS items to be considered, statewide spending for education remains the leader with the proposed figure being $1,622,290,000 for general education, and an additional $725,060,000 slated for higher education, for a total of $2,397,350,000.

"Next highest cost to California is the health and welfare program which is proposed by the governor's version of the budget to allot $1,303,500,000 during the next fiscal year.

"It is very difficult for the average person to visualize $6.2 billion, and justifiably so. However, someone pointed out that if the California budget was turned into dollar bills and laid end to end, it would go around the world 4.5 times!"

In a straight line, this would be roughly 112,500 miles or better than half-way to the moon.

This might be a matter of contemplation for California's taxpayers, who are called upon to provide state money or federal funds returned here after the federal government in Washington siphons off administrative costs and splits what's left among 50 states of the union.

Trip To Mexico Worthwhile Project

As a taxpayer living in the Sausalito School District who has no children, I wish to support the trip to Mexico planned by the Spanish Club of the Martin Luther King School.

The Sausalito school system may have many fallacies, but this program is not one of them.

The teachers who volunteer to chaperone this trip are to be commended. Imagine riding from here to Mazatlan, Mexico, through the summer heat of the desert with over 50 children in a school bus! That is what I call dedication.

These children are working hard to raise $3,750 for this trip. They are asking for a school bus, truck and one driver, which would amount to approximately $1,900.

This will be the second time this trip is undertaken. Evaluation of the first trip proved this to be a valuable teaching experience in good neighbor policy, geographical, social and language differences . . .

Save That Algae For Chlorophyll

I receently heard a striking statistic; namely, that there is more chlorophyll in an acre of one-half inch algae mat in a mudflat than there is in an acre of forest. Certain portions of our Bay have such algal mats in the mudflats. This dramatizes the importance of not filling these areas, in these days of increasing air pollution. It looks as though we'll all breathe easier if we send our dollar to Save San Francisco Bay Association, Box 925, Berkeley, and thus join those who are now urging the State Legislature to create a successor agency to the Bay Conservation and Development Commission, whose life expires this year.

The recent announcement by the Tamalpais Fire Protection District Board of their proposed improvement bond issue of $800,000 is a matter of concern to all residents of southern Marin County. I support the need for improved fire protection services, but stongly disapprove of the helter-skelter fashion with which service is provided in some areas and not in others in our county. Adequate fire protection requires the cooperation and coordination of fire departments. Before the $800,000 bond issued is permitted to go to the voters, I would urge the county to publicity review:

1. What is an adequate level of service for Marin County residents to expect and receive from the responsble agency providing fire protection?

2. Should not all fire vehicles in the county be dispatched from a central communications center, regardless of jurisdictional boundaries, therby permitting the nearest fire engine to respond to the fire first?

3. Responsibility of the Marin County Fire Department and it's relationship to the unincorporated urban pockets, and the level of service they provide them; and

4. What savings could be achieved through the creation of a Southern Marin Fire Protection District incorporating all existing fire districts and municipalities into one unified deaprtment? . . .

In the Feb. 22 I-J an article appeared about our Family Service Agency asking for county funds to pay for cases referred by the probation department. The brief I-J report misinterpreted and misquoted my presentation.

I was reported as having "told the Mental Health Advisory Board that services would be drastically cut unless funds which are no longer coming from the United Bay Area Crusade were replaced."

This is not accurate. FSA received $56,616 from the United Crusade in 1968. The Crusade increased its allocation to our agency for 1969 by $1,700 to $58,316. The major source of support of our service has been and continues to be the contributions given to the United Crusade.

FSA did have to retrench one professional position out of seven in 1969. The position was financed by the Marin Charitable Foundation for two years to extend our work with troubled Marin adolescents.

The reported I-J article spelled out that the county should pay probation department referrals to FSA. What was asked by our agency is further consideration of various possible contracts with the county. . .

THE DRUMMONDS

Nixon Sticks To Middle Road In Problem-Solving Approach

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — President Nixon's actions are beginning to speak louder than his words.

He is beginning to build his record and so far it is almost wholly on the side of progressive, moderate-liberal, social-minded action.

There is little in it to please the ultra-right and nothing in it to satisfy the radical left.

Evidence is mounting that Mr. Nixon is moving to hold the widest possible span at the political center and these actions show how he is doing it:

FOR THE FIRST time a U.S. attorney general has sued to close a business firm for polluting the air. The President's attorney general, the supposedly very conservative John Mitchell, brought the suit.

For the first time the U.S. Department of Agriculture is giving free food stamps to the very poor to combat hunger — a pilot project designed to be extended. Former Sec. of Agriculture Orville Freeman failed to do so, said he didn't have the authority. Sec. of Agriculture Clifford Hardin found the authority and used it.

HEW Sec. Robert Finch, after first giving southern school districts extra time they wanted to plan desegregation, is showing he intends to apply the law hard and faithfully—south and north.

Sec. of the Interior Walter Hickel has yet to prove how much of a conservationist he is, but he is proving that he is not the prisoner of the oil industry. He quickly took action to deal with the offshore drilling mess at Santa Barbara for which his predecessor, Stewart Udall, was gracious enough to say he had responsibility.

ON A MOST difficult problem — how to arrest the tide of inflation — Mr. Nixon is assuring the nation that he considers it vital not to take action which will "sacrifice the high level of employment." He intends to slow down inflation by a variety of fiscal devices but not at the expense of jobs. The President wrote a personal letter to George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, affirming this.

One reason Mr. Nixon asserts for maintaining high employment is that "it is required if we are to attain a measureable degree of success in tackling the problem of poverty."

In his first message to Congress on domestic affairs the President pledged "priority attention" in dealing with poverty, especially the lot of the nation's poorest and youngest children.

And, finally, the Nixon Administration is readying more vigorous antitrust action — not because it is antibusiness but because it is procompetition.

MR. NIXON'S actions in foreign affairs are also pleasing to the political center.

He is moving steadily to redeem his central foreign policy campaign pledge — that he would seek to open an "era of negotiation" with the Communits world. He is already acting to widen the range of talks with the Soviet Union by including political as well as arms control issues. His trip to Western Europe is not alone to strengthen the NATO alliance but through consultation with our allies to prepare the way for meeting with the Russians.

Mr. Nixon is also giving his support sooner than many expected to ratification of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty. And he is showing a significant patience with the motionless peace talks in Paris, indicating that the last thing he wants is to have to resume the bombing of North Vietnam.

THE FOREGOING can only be a tentative, interim report on the direction President Nixon is taking. Its coloration could change. Unexpected crises could throw it off balance and radically alter the picture.

But thus far the evidence is nearly uniform that the Nixon start is progressive in the Theodore Roosevelt tradition, a mix of moderate-liberal and moderate-conservative policy aimed at solving the nation's problems, not neglecting them.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Nixon Seeks To Halt Threat Of 'Soybean War'

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — President Nixon, in his top-level talks with government leaders in European capitals, is planning to discuss a wide range of vital mutual interests — including soybeans.

Almost unnoticed, soybeans have become a very vital mutual interest. Some authorities here and abroad think they could furnish the opening battleground for a damaging and disruptive trade war between the United States and the six-nation European Ecomonic Community.

The Common Market is considering a consumption tax on soybean meal and soybean oil. Common Market nations have built up a huge butter surplus, and they want to check imports of vegetable oils which are used to manufacture margarine.

A consumption tax is not technically a tariff. Nevertheless the tax is viewed here as a device to curb imports and a violation — at least in spirit — of international trade agreements.

THE AGRICULTURE Department describes the proposed Common Market action as the U.S. farmer's "most important trade problem" with respect to markets in Europe. Congressional leaders have been sharply critical.

At a White House meeting last week before Mr. Nixon's departure for Europe, the President discussed the soybean problem with House and Senate leaders.

Even before the White House meeting, Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, had offered a resolution warning of "retaliatory action" by the U.S.

CURBS on the import of European cars, typewriters and the like in reprisal for the consumption tax are what the trade experts would like to avoid. Reprisals breed counter-reprisals and the result could be a full-fledged trade war involving, among other things, additional U.S. farm products.

Illinois and Arkansas are among the major soybean producing states. Others are Iowa, Minnesota, Indiana, Louisiana, Ohio and Kansas. Production has been booming.

In 1967 the United States sent $447 million worth of soybean products to the six nations of the Common Market. That was about one-third of all exports to the European Economic Community, and it accounted for about one-fifth of U.S. soybean production.

The threat of a "soybean war" is reminiscent of a 1962 "chicken war" which developed after the Europeans acted to curb imports of broiler chickens. The U.S. responded by increasing tariffs on certain automobile types and brandy.

The memory of the "chicken war" brings no happiness to soybean producers, however. Trade experts contend the U.S. has never regained its share of the market for broilers (in Germany, for example) which was lost in 1962.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

A collector of back issues of that wonderful war-time serviceman's magazine, "Yank," has unearthed therin one of Sgt. George Baker's funniest cartoons. It depicts a perplexed private ripping at least a hundred multigraphed orders and notices from a regimental bulletin board and finally coming to this one at the bottom of the heap: "Notice: All men will fall out at nine this morning and proceed to cross the Delaware. (Signed) Gen. Geo. Washington."

THE DRUMMONDS

Nixon Sticks To Middle Road In Problem-Solving Approach

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — President Nixon's actions are beginning to speak louder than his words.

He is beginning to build his record and so far it is almost wholly on the side of progressive, moderate-liberal, social-minded action.

There is little in it to please the ultra-right and nothing in it to satisfy the radical left.

Evidence is mounting that Mr. Nixon is moving to hold the widest possible span at the political center and these actions show how he is doing it:

FOR THE FIRST time a U.S. attorney general has sued to close a business firm for polluting the air. The President's attorney general, the supposedly very conservative John Mitchell, brought the suit.

For the first time the U.S. Department of Agriculture is giving free food stamps to the very poor to combat hunger — a pilot project designed to be extended. Former Sec. of Agriculture Orville Freeman failed to do so, said he didn't have the authority. Sec. of Agriculture Clifford Hardin found the authority and used it.

HEW Sec. Robert Finch, after first giving southern school districts extra time they wanted to plan desegregation, is showing he intends to apply the law hard and faithfully—south and north.

Sec. of the Interior Walter Hickel has yet to prove how much of a conservationist he is, but he is proving that he is not the prisoner of the oil industry. He quickly took action to deal with the offshore drilling mess at Santa Barbara for which his predecessor, Stewart Udall, was gracious enough to say he had responsibility.

ON A MOST difficult problem — how to arrest the tide of inflation — Mr. Nixon is assuring the nation that he considers it vital not to take action which will "sacrifice the high level of employment." He intends to slow down inflation by a variety of fiscal devices but not at the expense of jobs. The President wrote a personal letter to George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, affirming this.

One reason Mr. Nixon asserts for maintaining high employment is that "it is required if we are to attain a measureable degree of success in tackling the problem of poverty."

In his first message to Congress on domestic affairs the President pledged "priority attention" in dealing with poverty, especially the lot of the nation's poorest and youngest children.

And, finally, the Nixon Administration is readying more vigorous antitrust action — not because it is antibusiness but because it is procompetition.

MR. NIXON'S actions in foreign affairs are also pleasing to the political center.

He is moving steadily to redeem his central foreign policy campaign pledge — that he would seek to open an "era of negotiation" with the Communits world. He is already acting to widen the range of talks with the Soviet Union by including political as well as arms control issues. His trip to Western Europe is not alone to strengthen the NATO alliance but through consultation with our allies to prepare the way for meeting with the Russians.

Mr. Nixon is also giving his support sooner than many expected to ratification of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty. And he is showing a significant patience with the motionless peace talks in Paris, indicating that the last thing he wants is to have to resume the bombing of North Vietnam.

THE FOREGOING can only be a tentative, interim report on the direction President Nixon is taking. Its coloration could change. Unexpected crises could throw it off balance and radically alter the picture.

But thus far the evidence is nearly uniform that the Nixon start is progressive in the Theodore Roosevelt tradition, a mix of moderate-liberal and moderate-conservative policy aimed at solving the nation's problems, not neglecting them.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Nixon Seeks To Halt Threat Of 'Soybean War'

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — President Nixon, in his top-level talks with government leaders in European capitals, is planning to discuss a wide range of vital mutual interests — including soybeans.

Almost unnoticed, soybeans have become a very vital mutual interest. Some authorities here and abroad think they could furnish the opening battleground for a damaging and disruptive trade war between the United States and the six-nation European Ecomonic Community.

The Common Market is considering a consumption tax on soybean meal and soybean oil. Common Market nations have built up a huge butter surplus, and they want to check imports of vegetable oils which are used to manufacture margarine.

A consumption tax is not technically a tariff. Nevertheless the tax is viewed here as a device to curb imports and a violation — at least in spirit — of international trade agreements.

THE AGRICULTURE Department describes the proposed Common Market action as the U.S. farmer's "most important trade problem" with respect to markets in Europe. Congressional leaders have been sharply critical.

At a White House meeting last week before Mr. Nixon's departure for Europe, the President discussed the soybean problem with House and Senate leaders.

Even before the White House meeting, Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, had offered a resolution warning of "retaliatory action" by the U.S.

CURBS on the import of European cars, typewriters and the like in reprisal for the consumption tax are what the trade experts would like to avoid. Reprisals breed counter-reprisals and the result could be a full-fledged trade war involving, among other things, additional U.S. farm products.

Illinois and Arkansas are among the major soybean producing states. Others are Iowa, Minnesota, Indiana, Louisiana, Ohio and Kansas. Production has been booming.

In 1967 the United States sent $447 million worth of soybean products to the six nations of the Common Market. That was about one-third of all exports to the European Economic Community, and it accounted for about one-fifth of U.S. soybean production.

The threat of a "soybean war" is reminiscent of a 1962 "chicken war" which developed after the Europeans acted to curb imports of broiler chickens. The U.S. responded by increasing tariffs on certain automobile types and brandy.

The memory of the "chicken war" brings no happiness to soybean producers, however. Trade experts contend the U.S. has never regained its share of the market for broilers (in Germany, for example) which was lost in 1962.

Tiburon Drug Forum Turns Out To Be Just Drug On The Market

The turnout last week for the Tiburon Peninsula's newly named citizens committee on drug abuse was disappointing for the six committee members.

Expecting a full house at the Belvedere City Hall, the committee had scheduled talks by representatives of the county drug abuse bureau, the sheriff's juvenile bureau, and local police agencies.

In the audience were two Reed School District trustees who had helped organize the committee, a school board candidate, committee chairman Gordon C. Wright's wife, and three other interested citizens.

The committee was formed last month by the cities of Belvedere and Tiburon and the Reed School District Board because of citizen concern with the growing drug use by peninsula teen-agers.

Discouraged, but still determined to confront the problem, the committee has decided to focus on education and discipline and has asked Tiburon Peninsula residents, especially parents, to express their views on how the problem should be handled. The next meeting has not been scheduled but one will be held soon, committee members promise.

HOW TIMES don't change: A belated end-of-the-year housecleaning in the Mill Valley bureau turned up these clippings: "Supervisors Act on Mired Docks" dated Feb. 22, and referring, of course, to those daisy-decorated drydocks in Richardson Bay off Sausalito; and "Saucelito Canal Gains Momentum," dated April 14, 1967. Momentum to nowhere, we'd say.

ALTHOUGH Mill Valley's a good sized city by Marin County standards (its 12,500 population outnumbers Sausalito, Belvedere and Tiburon in southern Marin alone), it still has some characteristics of the old-time small town.

One such small town touch is the Miller Avenue breakfasts sponsored monthly by the First Baptist Church at 285 Miller Avenue. Last week the February breakfast announcement was distributed as usual to Locust-Miller Avenue businessmen by Rev. John A. MacDonald, accompanied by his large Labrador retriever.

"Get acquainted with your business and professional neighbors with the help of bacon, eggs, coffee, juice and cinnamon rolls . . . A welcome is extended to anyone who has a profession, operates a business or is employed in the Miller Avenue community," says the invitation.

This month's breakfast, held yesterday between 7 and 8 a.m., included the above-mentioned cinnamon rolls, bacon and eggs, juice and coffee, all for 50 cents. It's a great way to start the day, according to the Rev. MacDonald and all those who have attended.

BELVEDERE firemen turned out at 4:40 a.m. last week with their usual dispatch (whoever arrives first at the fire station gets to drive the fire truck) only to find their early morning alarm had been caused not by fire but by a short circuit. However, all was not lost for another alarm came in while everyone was still grumbling — this one for two trees at 170 Madrona Avenue ignited by falling Pacific Gas and Electric Co. kwires during the height of the storm.

It was a rare coincidence for volunteer firemen of that small community, who seldom get more than 20 calls all year.

County Schools Budgets Ready

Marin County Board of Education members will consider approval of two 1969-70 budgets totaling $823,638 at their 8 p.m., meeting, Monday, in the board office, 201 Tamal Vista, Corte Madera.

The budgets, approved last Monday by board committees are: general fund, $397,188, and school service fund, $426,450.

The special education budget is being compiled and is expected to be considered in April, Byron Mauzy, business services director at the county schools office, said.

Also on the agenda is the adoption of the 1969-70 school calendar.

So You've Been Hornswoggled? You Ain't Seen Nothin' Yet

Fusselman

When arrangements were being made in 1965 for me to write this column, I asked just what sort of things I should write about and was told, along with a rather broad field: "You might even want to disagree with some editorials. That would be good and the readers undoubtedly would appreciate it."

Today I am not exactly disagreeing with a couple of recent ones, but see the subject matter in an additional light. The one on "Hornswoggling" brought back 12-year-old memories.

WHEN THE THEN administrator (Bruce's boss at that time) told the board that with the $550,000 on hand they could start the Civic Center building program and that there would be enough money on hand by 1961, boy oh boy was his computer out of whack.

Then a year later Frank Lloyd Wright estimated that it would cost $2,742,000 for the first unit and $1,400,000 for the second. Those figures and what they stood for were always somewhat nebulous to me.

Well, you read in the column last week the figures that Auditor-Controller Mike Mitchell presented to the board — a total of just under $20 million for the Administration Building and the Hall of Justice, and this was without the interest on the bond issue, which I listed separately — an item of $3,242,751. So, without the county fair-veterans building the figure is $24,222,009.

In another report, referred to in the editorial, Mike comes up with a figure of $3,961,731 for this "Marin County Fair-Veterans Memorial Building Project." This makes a total of $28,183,740.

MY REASON for emphasizing the "Marin County Fair-Veterans Memorial Building Project" by quote marks was this: I have a sneaking suspicion that "we ain't heard nothin' yet." Those of you who were around during March of 1958 will remember that the overall grand plan which Wright presented to the board included a three and one-half acre structure with a colored plastic roof and pyramidal pilasters to hold it up. This was for typical county fair displays. I don't believe that idea has been discarded. Certainly the veterans building arrangement is not large enough.

You see, three and one-half acres is an area equal to the courthouse square plus the I-J's property running from A to B Street on Fifth Avenue. The cost of that structure was estimated six or seven years ago as $3 million plus, which takes us considerably over the $30 million mark.

WHEN I WAS a pre-teen-age kid I would dream over and over, for years, that there would be an indefinable spherical mass floating like a balloon just in front of me and when I would reach for it, I could never reach around the thing. It seemed to expand to infinity.

That's what is happening now, folks, and we are not dreaming either. It's for real.

Last Tuesday: "Courthouse Land Swap Worth Examination." This editorial was well put together, in my opinion. The point being made that if more land was really needed out at Brasilia land acquired now should be worth more in a few years, that "everybody including county officials keep telling us that the price of land in Marin can go no way but up."

This reasoning should apply to the courthouse square as well. But is it being? I would like to discuss this soon if possible.

Red Cross Spends $600 On Storm Victim Families

Red Cross flood disaster emergency assistance totaling more than $600 has been spent to aid four Marin families who were victims of the storm which pounded Marin Jan. 17 through 21.

The money went for emergency shelter, clothing and food, according to Paul Anderson, disaster case worker for the Marin County Chapter of the Red Cross.

Two of the families were Sausalito houseboat dwellers who were flooded out and the other two were Fairfax residents, who were victims of slides, Anderson said.

The four families and one other were also instructed on how to get other aid.

A total of $30,000 was committed to aid 1,659 families after the January floods largely in Southern California and more is now being spent for families who have been forced to evacuate in the February floods.

The largest Red Cross operation is in Santa Paula, Ventura County where 1,575 people are being cared for. More than 3,000 others are being housed and fed in 26 Red Cross centers in the central valley, San Jose and Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside, San Bernardino and San Luis Obispo counties.

Citizens Ask Dixie School Budget Cuts

The Citizens Finance Study Group recommended Wednesday night that the Dixie School District's expenditures for next fiscal year be cut by between $110,500 and $130,500.

Irwin Taranto, chairman of the finance study group, suggested several cuts including reduction in capital outlay, in the portion of the budget administered by the principals and their staffs, in the summer school program, in data processing processing work, and by reducing the number of primary reading specialists.

Trustees took the recommendations under submission.

The Dixie School District trustees also:

SALARY — Heard from Kenneth Groth, chairman of the teachers negotiating council, that he will have more information on the teachers' request for salary raise at the next meeting, March 12.

MONTECILLO — Approved San Rafael's plan for development of Montecillo Road adjacent to Don Timoteo School.

WINDBREAK — Approved planting plans for a windbreak for the Oak View School site in San Rafael Park.

GROUP PIANO — Agreed to add a new group piano class at Vallecito School for the balance of this school yeal. Sherman and Clay Co. of San Rafael will provide 10 pianos, with the district to pay only for the cost of tuning, which comes to about $150 per year.

MUSIC FESTIVAL — Authorized the music staff to hold the annual spring music festival for instrumental classes at the College of Marin gymnasium on May 17.

CLOSED MEETING — Held a closed meeting to discuss six probationary teachers, whose performances had been questioned. Supt. Dennie B. Willis said no action was taken, and none of the six is likely to be dropped.

Black Students Provided Books

Textbooks have been provided 23 black students attending College of Marin through a speaking tour fund-raising drive by two college officials, Robert A. Clark reported yesterday.

Clark, assistant placement and financial aids officer, said he and Eva Turner, community black students liaison coordinator, set a goal of $2,150 for books for 43 students. Of this, $900 has been contributed, and $50 in book money given to 23 students.

The quest for money for the other 20 students will continue, said Clark. Contributors include the Black Students Union which raised $200 at its Malcolm X Day last Friday, three church groups and an anonymous private donor.

Many Teachers Not In Classroom Roles

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

The San Rafael city schools have the second highest percentage of certificated employees devoting their time to tasks other than teaching among the 21 city school districts in California.

Tamalpais High School District has the fourth highest percentage of certificated personnel engaged in nonteaching of the 88 high school districts in the state.

For every 100 teachers in the San Rafael schools, there are 25.9 certificated persons doing nonteaching duties. By contrast, in the Petaluma city schools there are only 14.1 nonteaching certificated persons per 100 classroom teachers. Statewide, among city school districts, there are 17.4 nonteachers per 100 teachers.

For every 100 teachers in Tamalpais High School District, there are 25.2 certificated nonteaching employees —nearly the same as in the San Rafael schools. Statewide among the 88 high school districts, there are 16.5 nonteachers per 100 teachers.

Among the city school systems, San Rafael's ratio of nonteachers is exceeded only by Alhambra, in Los Angeles County, with 30.4 nonteachers per 100 teachers.

Among high school districts, the Tamalpais ratio is exceeded only by Analy in Sonoma County, 26.8; Sierra in Fresno County, 35.9, and Lemoore in Kings County, 36.4.

These figures are contained in a report by Dr. Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, presented to the Legislature in accordance with a requirement of the Education Code. All figures are as of last April 1, according to the report.

Marin Junior College District is far above the state average in proportion of nonteaching certificated persons, the report shows. It has 21.3 persons holding teaching certificates but doing other jobs for every 100 teachers. Statewide among 58 junior colleges districts, the figure is 16.9 per 100.

Most elementary school districts in Marin are below the statewide ratio in such districts of 13.2 nonteachers per 100 teachers. Five of them, however, are above the state average:

Sausalito, 20.4 non-teachers per 100 teachers; Kentfield, 19.4; Mill Valley, 14.8; Larkspur, 14.7; Fairfax, 14.3.

The ratio of nonteachers to teachers varies widely. In the 507 elementary school districts listed, it ranges from a high of 31.4 in LaHabra, Orange County, to a low of zero. Two Rock District in southern Sonoma County is among those with no nonteaching certificated persons, the superintendent-principal being actually a "principal teacher."

Marin's only unified school district, Novato, reported 15.9 nonteachers per 100 teachers, just under the statewide ratio in 225 unified districts of 16 per 100.

The nonteaching certificated persons perform various jobs: superintendent, assistant superintendent, principal, sometimes assistant principals, deans (in high schools), counsellors, supervisors, curriculum consultants, psychologists, etc.

Nationwide, the percentage of nonteachers among school faculties has been increasing over the years. Figures of the U. S. Office of Education show that the number of supervisor personnel in the public schools increased from 21,000 in 1919-20 to 92,000 in 1963-64, or an increase of four and one-half times. In the same period, the number of classroom teachers increased from 657,000 to 1,625,000, or an increase of only about two and one-half times.

Nixon Accorded Warm Welcome By DeGaulle

Two-Hour Session By Pair

PARIS (AP)—President Nixon came to Paris to a cordial welcome today and met more than two hours with Charles de Gaulle in what the French called a good beginning to the climactic talks with American leaders.

A spokesman for the French president at the Elysee Palace said the talks lasted two hours and 10 minutes in a "frank and cordial atmosphere."

"This is a good beginning for the conversations, which will continue tomorrow," he added.

SUBJECTS UNTOLD

There was no indication of what subjects the two chiefs of state discussed. President Nixon said in his arrival address that he had come here seeking De Gaulle's help in efforts to "build a new sense of Western purpose" and to seek a "just and lasting peace." He had urged that old quarrels be forgotten in the search for a better future.

De Gaulle long has been a balky ally of the United States.

There was little sign of hostility among the crowds who welcomed the U.S. chief executive to this "City of Light." The outpouring was not massive, but it was markedly warm to the American visitor. The Communist Party had called for anti-Nixon demonstrations when he arrived in the city. Informants said fear of violent Red demonstrations kept many Parisians away.

FRIENDSHIP HAND

Nixon at once extended the hand of friendship to De Gaulle's France, with which U.S. policymakers have long been at odds.

In return, De Gaulle recalled traditional French-American friendship and said he attached the greatest importance to the exchanges he will have with his guest. De Gaulle ended his brief welcome address at Orly Airport with the worlds, "Long live the United States."

After a moving ceremony at which Nixon presided at the placing of a wreath on the memorial to France's unknown soldier, the American President was driven down the broad Champs Elysees, crowded with well-wishers, to De Gaulle's Elysees Palace for the first of a series of meetings with the French leader.

Nixon underscored the importance he attaches to this visit by planning to devote 10 hours of his 48-hour stay in France to talks with De Gaulle, some in private, some with advisers of both present. The talks concern the most urgent problems facing the United States in Europe and Asia.

There discussions came against a background of strained U.S.-French relations dating many years. But Nixon expressed hope he would be joined by the French in looking

BAY POLLUTED

Official Stresses Shellfish Danger

An urgent warning to Marin County residents not to take shellfish from Richardson Bay was issued yesterday by County Health Officer Carolyn B. Albrecht who said tests on clams and other edible shellfish have indicated "gross sewage contamination."

The contamination of the bay was discovered among bacteriological samples recently taken by the state Department of Public Health. The state report indicated that the contamination is the result of raw sewage being discharged into the bay.

Health officials said such diseases as typhoid, infectious hepatitis and salmonella can be caused by eating the contaminated shellfish.

Dr. Albrecht said the problem has been increased by heavy rainfall which causes raw sewage to bypass treatment facilities and enter directly into bay water. Furthermore, she said, untreated wastes are being discharged directly into the bay from houseboats without sewage facilities.

Sewage treatment plants bypassed because of heavy rains are at Sausalito, Richardson Bay, Mill Valley and Tiburon, health authorities said.

In a letter to the Marin health department, Frank E. Jones, senior sanitary engineer for the state bureau of sanitary engineering, said, "The high bacteriological density found in both the shellfish and the water overlying the beds confirms this gross sewage contamination."

Eisenhower Weakens Due To Lung Ailment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, struggling to recover from a series of heart attacks and high-risk surgery last Sunday, has developed pneumonia, Army doctors reported today.

A mid-morning bulletin from Walter Reed Army Hospital said the 78-year-old general "is generally weaker this morning, but is cooperative and determined to overcome this latest complication."

Eisenhower, at the hospital since last April after suffering a heart attack in California, underwent abdominal surgery Sunday after doctors found an intestinal obstruction that threatened his life.

Hospital bulletins earlier this week called attention to the former president's progress, including a statement Tuesday describing his recovery as "little short of remarkable" and saying Eisenhower had progressed to the point where he felt well enough to read.

Doctors' reports remained encouraging Wednesday, saying his "postoperative course has followed the expected pattern" and reporting his "vital signs have remained stable."

The vital signs refer to such things as blood pressure, pulse and breathing rate.

Observers felt yesterday's bulletin seemed more guarded as it reported Eisenhower "continues satisfactory considering his age, past medical history and the fact that he is still in the critical postoperative period."

That was the last bulletin until today's which said the general "experienced some respiratory difficulty during the night which is due to pneumonia which has developed in the right lung base."

And, for the first time , the bulletin was relayed first through the Pentagon before being released at the hospital.

Eisenhower's wife, Mamie, and son, John, returned to the hospital from their Gettysburg, Pa., and Phoenixville, Pa., homes for his surgery. John left Wednesday but the former First Lady remained in a hospital suite next to her husband's.

While Eisenhower was in the hospital recovery from the April heart attack, he suffered two more attacks Aug. 5 and Aug. 16—his sixth and seventh.

At the time of his surgery, he had rallied to the point where he was walking short distances and receiving visitors such as President Nixon and former President Lyndon B. Johnson.

A private surgeon not associated with Eisenhower's case said today the lung complication could be very serious because of his age and past medical history.

He described the complication as a usual thing in operations of the type the former President underwent Sunday.

The doctor, who asked that his name not be used, said that in an ordinary case lung complications usually clear up in about 24 hours.

Rioting Continues In Rome

ROME (AP) — Rioters set fire to a U.S.-owned printing plant, shattered windows of the American Express building and burned American flags in the streets today in a second day of violence during President Nixon's visit.

Demonstrators battled police who kept them from marching on the Palazzo Chigi while Nixon conferred with Premier Mariano Rumor, prior to his departure for Paris.

Still others tried to fight their way into a carabinieri barracks, as disorders mostly involving leftists and students erupted in one section of the city after another.

ONE DEATH

This followed riots yesterday in which one student was killed, scores were injured and 199 demonstrators were arrested.

About 100 youths smashed the windows in the American Express building and burned U.S. flags in the Piazza di Spagna.

On the other side of Rome, demonstrators broke into the printing plant of the Rome Daily American. After fighting with 40 employees, they smashed equipment and set fire to $20,000 worth of newsprint.

Police arrived and dispersed the rioters and the fire was put out.

A final check on yesterday's riots, which raged through the streets of Rome, listed 85 policemen and 34 demonstrators injured. The student was killed in a fall from a window of a building at the University of Rome one of the scenes of the disorders.

ACTION DEMANDED

Christian Democrat and Liberal party legislators filed questions in Parliament demanding that the government take firm action to halt the spreading violence and restore order in the nation.

The Communist Party officially backed the disorders, which it called "a protest against the imperialistic policy of the United States."

At the same time, a scholastic group announced the organization of a "Roman Association of Democratic Students" to clear the occupiers out of the campus and resume classes in the closed university.

REINECKE'S VIEWS

No Settlement In Teacher Fuss

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke, California's acting chief of state, firmly declares that state college trustees' vote for a new discipline appeals procedure "has nothing to do with the teachers' strike" on the San Francisco campus.

Reinecke held a news conference yesterday as confusion continued over whether trustees actually acted on a proposed settlement of the strike which began Jan. 6. (See another story, page 21.)

"I want to reassure you that I was there and to indicate that the governor did not at any time change his position, that we did not in fact agree to any settlement of any kind with reference to the teachers' strike," Reinecke told newsmen.

Reinecke and Gov. Ronald Reagan both voted with the majority to accept new faculty discipline appeal procedures. A representative of the American Federation of Teachers Union local included the new rules among conditions necessary for teachers to return to work.

"Acceptance of those new rules has nothing to do with the teachers' strike," Reinecke said.

Reagan left for the National Governors Conference in Washington, D.C., shortly after the trustees' meeting in Los Angeles Wednesday. He has said that trustees have no authority to negotiate with striking teachers.

Reinecke said he called the news conference "to clarify misunderstandings" in published reports of the trustees' meeting.

"While trustees did accept an

It's no news that the Weather Bureau predicts an 80 per cent chance of rain tonight.

But it is news that the bureau guardedly predicts clear skies tomorrow.

Rainfall readings around the county were topped by 1.20-inch total reported for 24 hours to this morning in Terra Linda, Civic Center 1.03, Bolinas .78, San Rafael .64, Tamalpais Valley .60, Woodacre .58, Mill Valley .54, Tiburon .43, Sausalito .34.

Striking S.F. Faculty Votes To Remain Out

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Striking teachers at San Francisco State College have voted to stay off the job until Monday —and perhaps longer.

The vote came after a seven-hour meeting yesterday that left them deadlocked.

"Quite frankly, I don't know where we stand," said Gary Hawkins, president of striking Local 1352 of the American Federation of Teachers.

The meeting, called to discuss a proposed settlement agreement with the college's board of trustees, did set up a study committee to analyze the proposal and try to determine whether the college and trustees will honor it.

This committee is to report back to a meeting Sunday night.

"The only thing we're sure of is the grievance procedure," said Hawkins. He said otherwise the settlement appears ambiguous.

"We think the trustees have decided to allow the proposals to be developed by the local administration, which is fine, but we don't know," said Hawkins.

In Los Angeles, Chancellor Glenn Dumke said no further talks would be conducted with the AFT until the teachers return to work.

Dumke also said issues besides the grievance procedure were being referred back to the college as within its prerogative to deal with.

He and college executive vice president Frank Ballard noted that the grievance procedure is the product of two years work by the Academic Senate.

Ballard said also that if the teachers aren't back on the job by Monday "the administration will have to take some sort of action." He did not specify just what would be done in regard to courses for which students have registered and

Wettest Year Ever, To Date

San Rafael rainfall has broken all records through February.

In the 94 years since rainfall records were begun by a predecessor of Crocker-Citizens National Bank in downtown San Rafael, there has never been such a high total fall by the end of February.

As of noon today, the total for the "rainfall year" since last summer stood at 52.30 inches. This is far above the 45.4 inches that fell through February in 1940-41, the rainiest year on record here. (See editorial, page 42.)

The total that year was 67.52 inches, but through Feb. 28 it was 45.4 inches.

Second rainiest year was 1889-90, with 65.67 inches total. But to the end of February, the total was only 45.19.

Third rainiest was 1957-58, with a total of 62.25 — of which

Scattered Bands Stir Cal Trouble

BERKELEY (AP) — Roving bands of young disidents clubbed a campus policeman and broke windows in three buildings today at the University of California. (Another campus story, page 2.)

Small groups of students and nonstudents struck in surprise raids away from the central area of the campus, scene of police-student confrontations in recent weeks.

William Yaskovic, a campus policeman, was jumped by youths armed with clubs when he was separated from other members of his unit. He was treated for head cuts and held for observation at the campus hospital.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Flowers Convicted Of Extortion

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Former Alabama Atty. Gen. Richmond Flowers and two other men have been convicted of conspiring to extort money from persons and firms doing business in Alabama while Flowers was in office from 1963-67. A federal court jury of eight men and four women returned the verdict yesterday against Flowers, businessman Oscar Hyde of Miami and Birmingham and former Asst. Atty. Gen. Joe Breck Gantt of Birmingham.

Flowers

U. S. Dist. Judge Clarence Allgood said he would pronounce sentence March 10 and freed the men on their own recognizance. Defense attorneys said they would appeal.

Flowers and Hyde were convicted of all four counts charged in an indictment returned last August. Gantt was convicted of the three counts in which he was named.

Maximum penalty is $10,000 in fines and 20 years in prison per count.

Visit Postponed

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — The Turkish government said yesterday a visit next month of U.S. Navy Sixth Fleet ships to Izmir has been postponed, a move seen as a result of the violent demonstrations on the fleet's last visit.

The U.S. State Department confirmed the postponement but said it was made for operational reasons.

Strike Costly

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Ireland appears near the end of a three-week-old strike that has closed factories throughout the country, caused serious shortage and cost the country an estimated $3 million a day in industrial production.

Thirty-five thousand workers kept off the job by the nationwide strike of 3,000 maintenance craftsmen were expected to go back to work on Monday.

The strikers were offered a raise of nine cents an hour and another six cents in October. The union recommended the offer be accepted.

Clothing Deaths

NEW YORK (AP) — State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz told a safety hearing yesterday 26 persons have died in the city since 1966 of burns suffered when highly inflammable clothing and household furnishings material caught fire.

Guam Memorial

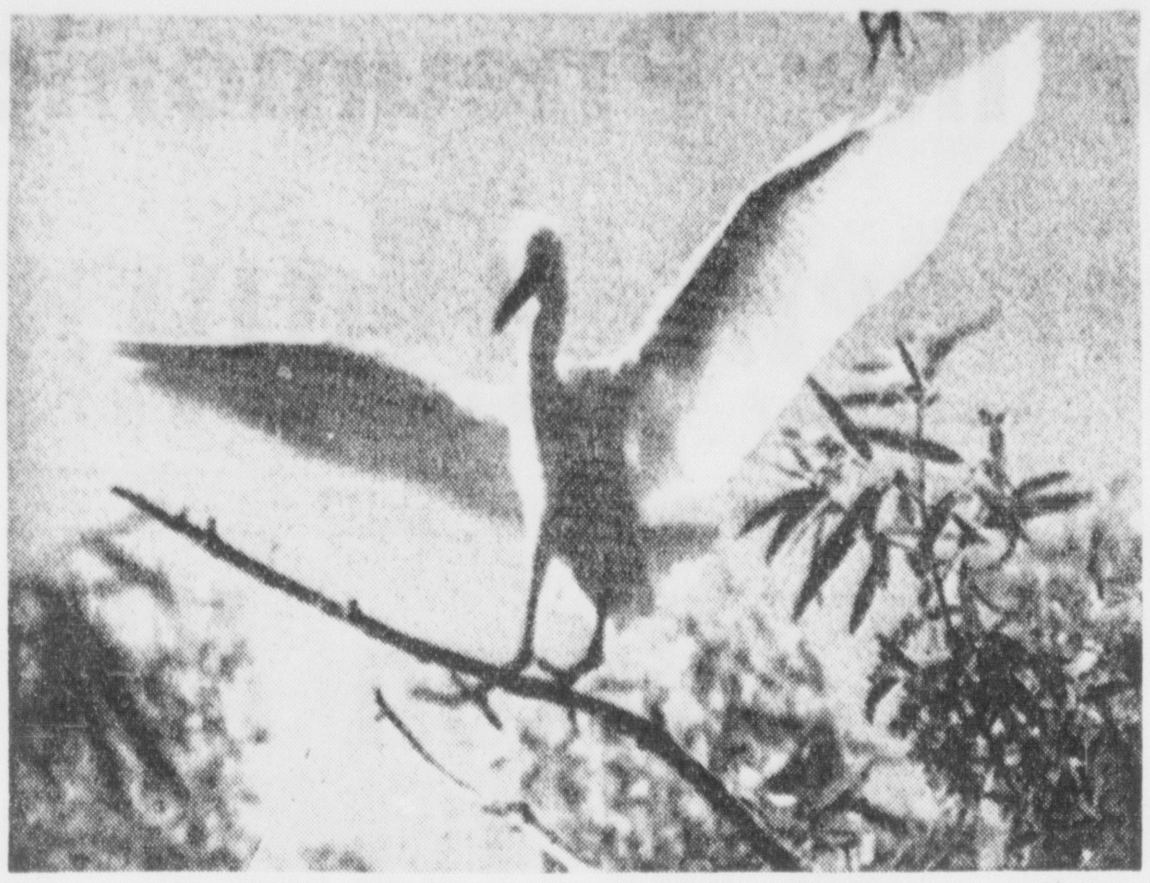
AGANA, Guam (UPI)—Construction of a war memorial to Japanese dead is expected to begin soon on Guam, government sources said today. Some citizens opposed to honoring the Japanese occupiers tried to defeat the memorial in the legislature but that effort failed.

Lost DC3 Feared Buried In Snow

HAWTHORNE, Nev. (AP) — An airliner with 35 persons aboard, missing for 11 days in snow-covered mountains along the Nevada-California border, may not be found until spring, search officials said today.

The Mineral County Airlines DC3 vanished early Feb. 18 while returning 32 gambling casino patrons from Hawthorne to Burbank and Long Beach. It had a crew of three.

Snow, wind and icy cold have kept search planes grounded much of the time.



CAPITOL FLAP OVER EGRETS

Seeking to preserve a Humboldt Bay nesting area for white plumed egrets, Assembly Democratic Leader Jesse M. Unruh has aroused the wrath of Sen. Randolph Collier, R-Yreka, and Eureka residents who want to build a bridge to Gunther Island. Unruh has asked for an Assembly Rules Committee hearing on the conservation issue and a resolution against the span. "This thing has been heard to death," Collier says. Eureka bought the island for $60,000, aiming to develop it as a tourist attraction. (AP Wirephoto)

Auto Mileage Loophole Plug Voted

SACRAMENTO (AP) — With one member accusing the news media of building distrust in the legislature's intent, an Assembly committee has approved a bill to repeal a law passed last year allowing some auto dealers to turn back the mileage indicators of new cars.

Assemblyman Frank Lanterman, R-La Canada, said he was "so bitterly angered at the distrust created by some members of the press that I would have liked to take legal action." But he voted with other members of the Assembly Transportation Committee yesterday to send the repeal bill to the Assembly floor.

Assemblyman Paul Priolo, R-Pacific Palisades, who introduced the repealer, said last year's measure "was meritorious, I am sure in its intent, but its consequences went far beyond what those who voted for it thought they would."

Last year's law allows a new car dealer to disconnect the odometer, the mileage indicator, of a new car if it is being driven from one dealer to another before sale. It was intended to give the purchaser a warranty covering the mileage he actually puts on the car.

But the bill caused a public outcry, Priolo said, because it would enable an unscrupulous dealer to disconnect the odometer of a demonstrator model.

And it drew national attention, he said, when the "Rowan and Martin Laugh-In" television show presented the legislature with its "Flying Fickle Finger of Fate Award" because of the bill.

State Tax Study Will Call For Withholding

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A special tax study commission will tell Gov. Ronald Reagan Monday that California should adopt a system of withholding state personal income taxes, sources in the Capitol said today.

"Withholding is a recommendation," said a source close to the Advisory Commission on Tax Reform, who declined the use of his name.

Reagan, who set up the commission, has opposed taxing by payroll deduction for years and has shown no signs of relenting. The governor favors the present system of paying taxes once a year so "they hurt."

The commission chairman, State Controller Houston I. Flournoy, backs withholding and is expected to fight for it in the legislature. Both Reagan and Flournoy are Republicans.

Chairman William T. Bagley, R-San Anselmo, of the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee, who will carry Flournoy's plan in the legislature, said he hopes the governor changes his mind.

"I hope the governor doesn't oppose the report simply because it has withholding as part of it," said Bagley.

Bagley, using estimates provided by the state Franchise Tax Board, said the system of payroll deductions of personal income taxes would bring in at least $130 million more a year to the state treasury.

At least $50 million would come from collecting taxes from people who now evade them.

Another $70 million, he said, would come from the speedup in tax collections, which allows the state to take immediate advantage of the growth of the California economy.

And $10 million, he said, would come from taxes paid by people who didn't owe them — but neglected to apply for a refund.

In addition, he said, withholding would provide a one-time $500 million boost to the treasury. That's because taxes normally not collected until April 15, 1971, would come in on Jan. 1, 1971, if the system were put into effect this year.

This money, said Bagley, could pay for new construction for the University of California and the state colleges.

Flournoy has asked commission members to remain silent about the report until it goes to Reagan.

But one member indicated there would be a proposal that would generally involve the state collecting more taxes, and then redistributing them back to local governments.

American's Jets Still Grounded

NEW YORK (AP)—Thousands of passengers are receiving apologies instead of service from strikebound American Airlines. The lucky ones made connections, despite delays and round-about routings, aboard other airlines.

Since the nationwide strike by 15,000 ground employees hit American at 12:01 a.m. yesterday, other lines have made efforts to provide seats for those scheduled to fly American.

Most major airlines that have routes served by American increased their ground personnel and flight traffic to minimize inconvenience.

Meanwhile, American suspended all flight operations until at least 6 a.m. tomorrow. Airline and Transport Workers Union representatives meet today with the National Mediation Board in Washington.

SPAIN, PORTUGAL HIT

Three Moroccans Dead In Quake

LISBON (UPI)—The world's strongest earthquake in five years and several aftershocks rumbled across Spain, Portugal and Morocco today, killing three persons, injuring dozens and sending frightened thousands into the streets.

In Sale, Morocco, two apartment buildings crumbled under the quake's onslaught and two persons were killed. Another death was reported in Rabat, Morocco, where 50 persons were treated for shock.

A half-dozen parked cars were crushed beneath the front wall of an old house that collapsed in Lisbon. The city was without power or telephone service for 15 minutes. Pajama-clad residents fled their homes.

The major quake, the first in this area in five years, sent shock waves rumbling for 15 seconds. After-shocks 30 seconds long followed. Hours later, just before dawn, still another tremor shook the region.

In Madrid, residents worried about relatives and friends in the stricken area hurried to telephones, causing what was described as the worst telephone jam in the city's history.

The quake was felt as far away as Madrid and shook virtually every town in Portugal. The tremor was believed centered in the Atlantic, near the Azores.

But Santa Maria Airport, in the Azores, reported it had felt nothing.

Thousands of Portuguese and tourists fled homes and hotels, dressed in their pajamas, and sat for hours on street benches and in cars, fearing a second tremor. One small aftershock was felt in Lisbon about an hour and a half after the main quake.

Police in Rabat reported one man was killed when a house collapsed on him. Houses also collapsed in Casablanca and Marakech, Morocco.

Sniper Fire

TEL AVIV (AP) — Two Israeli soldiers were wounded by Arab snipers today along the Suez Canal dividing Israel and Egypt, the army said.

A spokesman accused the Egyptians of sniping intermittently for two hours at four places along the east bank of the waterway. He did not say whether fire was returned.

Sniping incidents have increased on the canal in recent weeks, wounding at least a dozen Israelis, the army said.

Light Quake Hits Palmdale

PALMDALE, (Los Angeles County) (AP) — A light earthquake felt over a distance of 60 miles downed telephone and shattered a few windows last night but otherwise little damage was reported.

The shock, centered near here on the San Andreas fault which runs nearly the length of California, sent residents scurrying from their homes into the street.

Deputy Charles Jensen, who was in the sheriff's substation, said, "I myself thought the roof was going to fall. It was the most extreme I ever felt. Our units (patrol cars) in the field saw people running from their homes."

The temblor, rated 4.3 on the Richter scale, occurred at 8:54 p.m. Seismologists at the California Institute of Technology said the quake could have caused slight damage to buildings around its epicenter.

The only reports of destruction were of telephone lines down near here and broken windows in Los Angeles.

updating or a renewal of academic discipline and grievance procedure," Reinecke said, "this had been under consideration for about three years . . ."

He also said the procedures would apply to all (19) college campuses, not just to San Francisco State College.

Reinecke was asked if he had any objection if the new discipline rules helped end the strike.

"I would like to see teachers go back to work," he said.

The order of events at the meeting:

Trustee Louis H. Heilbron of San Francisco introduced the new discipline plan designed to give faculty more say in choosing discipline appeal boards. Trustee Charles Luckman of Los Angeles asked that trustees at the same time take up the report of the special committee on the San Francisco State College teachers' strike. The committee was headed by Heilbron.

Trustees Dudley Swim of Carmel and George D. Hart of Ross, voted against accepting the disciplinary procedures recommended in the strike settlement.

Chairman John Stafford of the colleges' Academic Senate explained that the discipline plan was developed after long study by the senate. He said it wa revised recently, but not in order to satisfy demands of the striking teachers at San Francisco.

However, Heilbron said his committee brought the Senate's recommendations to the attention of the San Francisco Labor Council. He said development of the new discipline appeals plan helped his committee in discussing the San Francisco strike with the teachers' union.

Heilbron reported he sent a letter to George W. Johns, secretary-treasurer of the labor council. In it, he listed nine recommendations to the trustees—including the discipline appeals plan—designed to end the strike. "It was called a package—but it was not any word used by us," Heilbron said.

Reagan had contended Heilbron's committee did not have authority to negotiate a strike settlement.

The first of the nine points in Heilbron's letter noted that the board of trustees or its representative "is authorized by law on proper request to meet with employee organization representatives" and that the teachers' union was such an organization.

Reagan said, "I think it is regrettable a letter written and signed by a trustees' committee should have been distorted . . . to indicate capitulation to strikers demands."

Trustee Edward O. Lee of Oakland commented, "I'm interested in solving the situation rather than in our image of how something is going to look." But Swim referred to Heilbron's proposal as "appeasement . . . If this isn't an unmistakeable record of negotiation, I don't know one when I see it."

After lengthy debate in which Heilbron said his group "met and conferred" with a number of San Francisco campus groups, Reagan proposed a motion to permit discussions with faculty groups, but not when they are on strike.

"The governor's motion in no way precludes a subsequent vote on grievance procedures," Luckman said, referring to the discipline plan. Reagan's motion passed 14-4.

Heilbron's motion then was adopted 15-2, with Reagan voting for it.

Trustee Alec Cory of San Diego moved to accept all points in Heilbron's letter, including means of reinstating dismissed teachers. Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke said, "The letter is just a restatement of existing policy and I suggest we let it lay." Cory withdrew his motion.

Following the board's vote, it was announced by Reagan's office in Sacramento that Heilbron, whose term had expired on the panel, was being replaced by William O. Weissich, San Rafael attorney and former Marin County district attorney. Weissich's term is for eight years.

Heilbron's term was one of two that had expired. The other new appointee is E. Litton Bivans, a Glendale industrialist, whe replaced Paul Spencer of San Dimas, Los Angeles County.

Youth Booked As Suspect In Burglary Case

A Petaluma youth was arrested on suspicion of burglary yesterday after leading police in a chase ending at Calvary Cemetery.

Thomas Chassereau, 19, of 180-B Cherry Street, was arrested in connection with the Feb. 9 burglary of the Bernard E. Eldredge School. A record player valued at $83 and a tape recorder valued at $135 were stolen.

Police Lt. Henry Eslick said he had received reports that Chassereau and his 18-year-old brother, Roger, had been attempting to sell items similar to the stolen goods. Armed with a search warrant, the police found the items still bearing the school stencil marks at Chassereau's home on Wednesday, according to Eslick. He said that when police attempted to arrest the youth yesterday, he fled on his motorcycle and was chased into the cemetery where he was apprehended.

Chassereau was scheduled for an arraignment in Petaluma Municipal Court this afternoon. His brother is being sought, Eslick said.

NIXON

forward and forgetting past aggravations.

Nixon continued to look fit and happy despite the grueling schedule since Sunday when he began this 10,500-mile tour. France is the fifth capital of Nixon's stop—appropriately, he said, the last of the allied capitals. This again underlined the importance of France in Nixon's hopes for Europe's future and a stable peace. His next stop is Rome again for a call on Pope Paul.

At the Arc de Triumph, after standing with closed eyes during a muffled roll of drums and a bugle call in honor of France's dead, Nixon mingled enthusiastically with a throng of French and American well-wishers.

Then, on his way from the ceremony, en route to the Elysees Palace and his first meeting with De Gaulle, he ordered his limousine stopped when he spotted girls in the Champs Elysees crowd carrying parasols of Stars and Stripes fabrics.

To the dismay of security men, Nixon leaped from De Gaulle's spanking new limousine and approached the sidewalk throng behind police barriers to shake hands with the teen-age girls.

Saying goodbye in Rome, Premier Mariano Rumor expressed Italy's apprecation of Nixon's plan to negotiate outstanding issues with the Soviet Union. He told Nixon those negotiations "will be a great contribution toward the solution of the problems which trouble the life of the people and the construction of a more stable and specific international order."

Supervisors' Dues Going Up

The price of belonging to the County Supervisors Association of California is going up.

For the 1969-70 fiscal year, Marin County has been asked to contribute $6,745, up from this year's $6,155.

William R. MacDougall, general counsel and manager of the association, requested the appropriation in a letter to the Marin County board yesterday.

A fee schedule enclosed by MacDougall shows that San Francisco's share will go up from $15,390 to $16,465; Contra Costa from $13,680 to $14,935; Sonoma from $5,245 to $5,805; Solano from $3,875 to $4,310; and Napa from $2,395 to $2,610.

STATE

teachers are not showing up.

Hawkins, in discussing the possibility of returning to work Monday, refused to say whether it hinged on settlement of the student strike that began Nov. 6. Since they struck Jan. 6, the teachers had insisted that the student strike be settled before they would return.

"There must be a return to a tranquil and academically free atmosphere," said Hawkins yesterday. "The trappings of a police state on campus are intolerable."

Failure of the teachers to approve the settlement and return to work could cost them the strike sanction granted by the San Francisco Labor Council.

This has resulted in food service workers, truck drivers and other employes respecting the AFT picket lines.

The Teamsters Union now has requested that the sanction be withdrawn on grounds it was granted only to support "genuine labor demands . . . in no way connected with the students."

The terms to which a committee of trustees had agreed in San Francisco negotiations, and which were accepted as a basis for settlement but ruled "not negotiated" by 13-5 vote of the state college trustees Wednesday, include:

A school of ethnic studies is to be set up in the fall semester, financed separately and with its own staff not drawn from the existing number of faculty positions.

Provision is to be made for a community board, representing ethnic areas involved, to assist in administering the new school.

No reprisals are to be taken against striking teachers and the college is to recommend full reinstatement of teachers who may lose tenure rights and other benefits because of striking.

Amnesty for teachers arrested or disciplined during the strike is to be worked out by college and union officials.

Individual departments are allowed to reduce the teaching load from 12 units to nine units without reducing teacher's pay.

College personnel files are to be open for inspection by teachers.

One provision scuttled by the trustees' "no negotiations" resolution called for a guarantee that the union will continue to have the right to represent its members before the trustees.

Man Booked For Exposure

A Petaluma man was arrested yesterday on charges of molesting a 9-year-old girl.

Robert Paul Robert Noles, 29, of 155 Edith Street, on probation for two prior child molesting offenses, was held in lieu of $31,250 bail and scheduled to be arraigned this afternoon in Petaluma Municipal Court.

Police said that Noles was in a car parked on East D Street yesterday at 10:25 a.m. When he attempted to entice the child into his car and exposed himself. The girl said she wrestled from his grip and fled into Figones Market, 428 East D Street, where clerks summoned police.

Six Cited In Liquor Probe

Six teen-age Novato boys have been cited to Marin Juvenile Hall after a Loma Verde man found them consuming liquor which had been stolen from his home Sunday.

Wendelin Gaehwiler of 447 Via Del Plano, Tuesday spotted the liquor in a hollow tree behind a house on Alameda de la Loma and waited until after school to see the boys come to the tree,

Sheriff's deputies said that the youths told varying stories about where they obtained the liquor.

Officials Study Extradition In Two Slayings

MUSKEGON, Mich. (UPI)—California and Muskegon County authorities continued discussions today to determine whether a couple held for armed robbery here would stay in Michigan or be extradited to California where they are suspects in two slayings.

Chester Johnson, 21, who was arrested in Jackson, Mich., yesterday, was placed under $25,000 bond on armed robbery charges after demanding examination on armed robbery charges in district court.

His blonde girl friend, Terry Phelps, 19, Jackson, Mich., was apprehended Monday night shortly after the $1,262 holdup of a liquor store.

Warrants are out in California for the pair in the deaths of Dr. Glenn K. Olsen, 54, an Oakland dentist, and Loren Silliphant, 18, Hollywood, son of a noted writer-producer.

Miss Phelps implicated Johnson in both slayings, according to Det. Capt. Willie Howell of the Muskegon Heights Police Department.

Second Slaying In Apartment

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The second dead body has been carried out of a seemingly jinxed apartment in less than a year.

A San Francisco man was killed last night in the same apartment where a 14-year-old girl was brutally murdered last March 30.

The victim, Clifton Lacy, 20, was shot to death by a friend who accompanied him to the apartment, according to Lillian Grigsby, Lacy's girlfriend. Miss Grigsby said the shooting followed an argument between herself and the unidentified assailant.

Lacy died only a few feet from where the battered body of a blonde high school student was found last year. The girl had been babysitting two young boys when she was assaulted and stabbed with a carving fork.

43.95 inches fell by the end of February. Fourth came 1966-67 with a total of 59.18, and of that 42.57 inches had fallen by the time the calendar turned to March.

The rainfall this year has been most like that of the record year 1940-41 — it started early and has kept up consistently. But in every month exept December, this year's rainfall has exceeded that of the previous all-time record year. The totals by months run as follows, with this rainfall year first, followed by the figure for 1940-41:

September, .32 and .11; October, 3.25 and 2.27; November, 4.46 and 3.88; December, 13.67 and 16.45; January, 17.52 and 15.88; February (with 12 hours to go yet this year), 13.08 and 6.81.

Normal rainfall from March 1 to the end of the rainy season is about nine inches. But in the four record years, the totals after February were: 22.12 inches in 1940-41; 20.48 inches in 1889-90; 18.3 inches in 1957-58; 16.61 inches in 1966-67.

Heavy Rain, Stall Snarl Commuters

Heavy rain this morning snarled traffic north and south bound on Highway 101, the California Highway Patrol reported.

A five-car rear-end accident on the Golden Gate Bridge at 6:50 a.m. backed up San Francisco-bound commute traffic to the Greenbrae turnoff for more than one hour, Officer Thomas Foley said.

The accident started when a car ran out of gas on the bridge and stopped, Foley said.

One unidentified woman received minor whiplash injuries but declined hospital treatment.

A second accident, involving six cars, occurred at 7:30 a.m. near the Mill Valley - Tiburon offramp, dealiyng northbound traffic briefly, Foley said.

Guitar, Jewelry Taken By Thief

Among the burglaries reported to the sheriff's department Wednesday was one at the home of Logan P. Miles, of 230 Los Cerros Drive, Greenbrae, where a guitar, jewelry, a radio, razor and camera were stolen.

Deputies said that the burglar had entered the house by removing a screen and crawling through a kitchen window.

A caretaker reported that the Mary Cliff Foundation summer residence on Alturas Road in Bolinas had been broken into Wednesday and a stereo set and possibly other things taken.

Jean M. Lindemann, of 26 Acorn Way, Kent Woodlands, reported that burglars had kicked open the kitchen door of her home Wednesday and removed a stereo set from its cabinet.

Water Safety Course Slated

The Marin chapter of the American National Red Cross will offer a course beginning next week for those wishing to become water safety instructors.

The course will be offered from 6 to 9 p.m. Mondays at the College of Marin pool. The course will open with a review of swimming and lifesaving work and will continue through April 10.

To take the course, persons must be at least 17 and have a current senior lifesaving certificate. Prospective students may register with Harry Pieper, athletic director of the College of Marin, at his office in the physical education complex at the Kentfield campus or they may register the first night in class.

Innocent Plea To Credit Charge

James Robert McElroy, 21, of San Carlos, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of using someone else's credit card. A preliminary hearing was set for March 4.

Larkspur police said that McElroy, formerly a clerk at Disco in Larkspur, allowed his former roommate, Michael L. Dorrity of San Rafael, to use a stolen credit card at the store to charge about $80 worth of merchandise on Dec. 6.

Dorrity, 18, has been sertified to Juvenile Court.

Indictment On Gun Carrying Aboard Jetliner

CHICAGO (AP)—A San Francisco man has been indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of carrying a concealed weapon aboard a jetliner bound from Chicago to San Francisco.

William H. Getz, 20, was arrested Sunday with two other California men after one of them allegedly asked a stewardess if there was enough gas in a United Air Lines jet to fly to Cuba.

Police said Getz attempted to drew a .22-caliber revolver when officers boarded the plane to question the men.

The two other youths, dressed in the garb of the militant Black Panther organization, were charged with imparting false information concerning the safety of an aircraft, but were not indicted by the grand jury Thursday.

Carrier Repair Work Is Rushed

PEARL HARBOR (UPI)—The Navy announced yesterday that the nuclear carrier USS Enterprise, ravaged by explosions and fires that took 28 lives last month, will be ready for sea duty next week.

The announcement meant that the $6.4 million repair job will be completed about six weeks ahead of schedule. Shortly after the disaster at sea on Jan. 14, the Navy estimated it would take three months to put the carrier back into operation.

At a ceremony on the flight deck yesterday afternoon Rear Adm. Edward J. Fahy, commander of the Naval Ship Systems Command, told shipyard workers the $444 million Enterprise, largest warship in the world, would be returned to active duty March 4.

Goldwater Asks New Vote Rules

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater proposed a constitutional amendment today that would ease residence and absentee voting standards in presidential elections.

The Arizona Republican said in a prepared Senate speech that the number of persons voting in the 1968 presidential election might have been at least 15 per cent higher if his amendment had been in effect.

Under the amendment, Goldwater said, state laws could not require voters to be residents more than 30 days immediately preceding an election in order to be eligible to vote for president and vice president.

State laws also would have to permit applications for absentee ballots to be made up to seven days before an election.

Death Car Driver Off Critical List

Reginald B. Johnson, 20, of Novato, injured Tuesday in a car crash, was removed from the critical list today at Marin General Hospital but reported in poor condition.

Johnson, of 1541 Hill Road, suffered severe head injuries and facial cuts when the car he was driving hit a fence in Bel Marin Keys. A passenger, Candace L. Wright, 16, of Novato, was killed in the crash.

REAGAN REJECTED

New Violence Rakes Schools

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

New incidents of violent protest and vandalism have struck at three of the nation's universities where protesters have been most active during the current wave of campus unrest around the country.

Club-swinging police and hit-run dissidents clashed in a day-long series of scuffles at the Berkeley campus of the University of California. Twelve persons were arrested including three demonstration leaders.

One was Ysidro Macias who said earlier, "We're going to close it down whether it be by striking peacefully or by talking or whether we have to burn the s-o-b down." About 50 windows were broken during the day.

In Madison protesters at the University of Wisconsin ran through five buildings tossing stench bombs, overturning chairs and disrupting classes. Some students were forced to flee.

The outbreak followed a noon rally to assess progress on demands for an autonomous black studies department. The disorder ended an eight day lull on the 33,000-student campus where National Guardsmen were withdrawn only last week.

At the University of Chicago a call for a student strike received little support from the 9,800 students but about 100 dissidents marched on the law school. Six stench bombs were set off in campus buildings, but the protesters denied they were responsible.

In Washington, the nation's governors voted overwhelmingly to condemn campus disorders but rejected California Gov. Ronald Reagan's call for a federal investigation out of fear it would foment more unrest.

Elsewhere:

HOWARD UNIVERSITY — Patricia Roberts Harris, resigned as dean of the law school which has been the object of a 16-day student boycott. She blamed the university president for failing to keep her informed of actions taken to end the protest.

WILEY COLLEGE, Marshall, Tex.—The all-Negro school will reopen March 12. It was closed Tuesday after protests demanding the resignation of the president, T. Winson Cole.

RUTGERS UNIVERSITY — A convocation was set on the New Brunswick campus where classes have been called off until Tuesday to consider Negro student demands.

FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY—Acting President J. Stanley Marshall upheld an earlier order banning Students for a Democratic Society from the campus. He warned that any campus disturbance would be met by quick police action.

UNIVERSITY OF MIAMI, Fla.—Student leaders canceled plans for a class boycott after announcing they had reached accord with the faculty senate and the administration on a 17-point list of student proposals.

S. California Reels Under New Storm

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Southern California reeled under another heavy rainstorm today as crews worked to shore up a levee in Ventura County and prevent evacuation of 20,000 more residents.

Early this week 6,000 persons were evacuated from their homes in the area. Emergency plans were made for removing of 20,000 more persons if the levee collapsed.

Estimated damage from the latest siege of rain ran as high as $100 million. Thirteen persons have died, nine in new mudslides.

Authorities said it would take at least five days to open roads into the Orange County areas where five persons died in a mud slide. Homes there lacked food, water, and sanitation facilities.

Gale warnings were up early today along the upper Pacific coast, with travelers warnings in effect for the Sierra Nevada and the mountains of northern California.

U.S. Envoys Say Bombing Pause Stands

PARIS (AP) — American negotiators at the Vietnam peace talks appear to have reached the conclusion that the current Viet Cong offensive thus far has not violated the tacit "understanding" under which the United States halted the bombing of North Vietnam last Nov. 1.

Chief U.S. negotiator Henry Cabot Lodge is due to present a detailed report on the deadlocked conference to President Nixon during a scheduled three-hour meeting Sunday morning.

Conference sources said South Vietnamese Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky will attend at least a part of Nixon's talk with Lodge.

They are expected to review the five-week-old stalemate and discuss the possible repercussions of the Viet Cong attacks.

There was a noticeable difference in emphasis between American and South Vietnamese comments on the attacks.

Following the sixth weekly conference session yesterday, South Vietnamese spokesman Nguyen Thieu Dan stressed the large number of civilians killed and injured by what he called indiscriminate Viet Cong shelling of population centers.

Lodge also deplored the civilian victims of the Viet Cong's "wanton violence." But U.S. spokesman Harold Kaplan told newsmen the United States was satisfied the Viet Cong attacks were aimed "mainly" at military targets.

Details of the bombing halt have never been announced, and Kaplan said it was best "for the sake of the future of the negotiations" to avoid spelling them out. North Vietnam has frequently denied that it made any commitment in return for the bombing halt, and Hanoi's spokesman in Paris, Nguyen Thanh Le, yesterday described American reports of such a commitment as a "pure invention."

Cong Rockets Rip Dock, Bring Blast

SAIGON (AP) — More than 30 towns and bases in South Vietnam were shelled by the Viet Cong during the night and 100-pound rockets ripped through a U.S. Navy dock at Da Nang. The rockets sank two big landing craft and heavily damaged a third.

The enemy rockets touched off a series of explosions aboard the ammunition-laden boats. At least one American sailor was killed, 51 sailors and eight Marines were wounded and 300 tons of ammunition were destroyed, U.S. spokesmen said.

AP correspondent Edwin Q. White reported that the fronts were blown off nine small warehouses loaded with everything from chocolate bars to bombs.

Part of one of the boats was hurled 150 yards across a road, and pieces of metal up to a foot square were thrown farther. Ammunition explosions damaged armored personnel carriers, trucks, bulldozers and other equipment in the area.

Officials, fearing that some 500-pound bombs stored nearby might explode, evacuated 1,000 civilians from a half square mile area surrounding the dock. The civilians began moving back into the area this morning with the dock still littered with debris and explosives.

At least 100 enemy troops were reported pushing toward Saigon today, and military spokesmen reported several other indications that small units were attempting to assemble for an assault on the capital.

North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops were intercepted 10 miles east of Saigon yesterday. They were reported still fighting today as U.S. 1st Infantry Division soldiers followed up a night bomb and artillery attack with a sweep of the area's rice paddies and marshes.

American and South Vietnamese spoiling operations and quick deployment of troops have slowed down the spring offensive, military spokesmen said, but the enemy is still able to launch massive attacks.

Allied sources claimed 6,300 enemy troops have been killed since Sunday, the highest weekly death toll since 8,786 were reported killed in one week of the enemy offensive last May.

About 275 American troops have been killed and hundreds more wounded, the sources said.

The United States currently has 125 licensed physicians for each 100,000 population.

Cleanup Work For Volunteers

Volunteers are being sought for shovel and hoe work March 8 and 22 at the Manzanita Children's Center, Marin City.

Volunteer workers and parents of children in the child care and preschool programs at the center are needed to spread tanbark, put down sandbox sand, clean, weed and rake the play areas at the center, said Carol Fowler, coordinator of center volunteers.

Workers may come any time between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. and may bring a sandwich; coffee will be served. Volunteer workers are asked to bring shovels, wheelbarrows, rakes or hoes, or just themselves, she

West Berlin Set For Vote March 5

BERLIN (AP) — Mayor Klaus Schuetz said today that the election of West Germany's new president will take place in West Berlin on March 5 as planned.

Schuetz told a news conference the adamant stand taken by the East Germans toward negotiations with his government made further contact impossible.

The East Germans had indicated they would issue passes for West Berliners to visit friends and relatives in East Berlin at Easter if the election was moved from Berlin. But the West German government said it would change the voting only if the East Germans gave much more than that.

The mayor's personal assistant, Horst Grabert, met with East German State Secretary Michael Kohl in West Berlin Wednesday. Yesterday the East German government told the West Berlin Senate that the exploratory talks could not continue until the elections were called off.

Grabert made two attempts yesterday to arrange a second meeting in West Berlin, but Kohl ignored him.

West German Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger said on television last night that he assumed the election would be held in West Berlin as planned.

The East Germans and the Russians object to the holding of the election in West Berlin because it is a demonstration of West Germany's claim to the former German capital.

Warning Issued In Drug Theft

Doctors yesterday warned that a large dose of drugs stolen from a Tamalpais Valley man's car Wednesday could be fatal to a normal person, according to sheriff's deputies.

Emil Andrews, of 401 Ash Street, reported to the sheriff's department that six prostigmine bromide capsules for injection and six disposable needles had been stolen from his car's glove compartment.

He said he suspected that youngsters in his neighborhood might have taken the drugs.

Doctors said that fainting, nausea or seizures similar to epilepsy might follow injection of the drug in a normal person.

Man Injured In Hit-Run Accident

A Petaluma man was injured in a hit-and-run accident yesterday at 6:55 p.m. in front of the Capri Mobile Home Park at 717 North McDowell Boulevard, Petaluma.

Chester Raymond, 45, of 71 Candlewood Drive, was reported in good condition at Hillcrest Hospital with a broken right arm. He said he was struck by the car while walking along the roadway and told police that his dark clothing might have prevented the driver from seeing him.

Jurors Will Get Shaw Case Today

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Testimony ended today and the Clay Shaw trial neared the jury after a handwriting expert said it was "highly probable" that Shaw signed an alias to an airline guest book.

Closing arguments were set for the afternoon and Judge Edward A. Haggerty Jr. said he would give the case to the jury later today. Shaw, 55, is charged with conspiring to assassinate President John F. Kennedy. He was arrested on the charge two years ago.

Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison, who has made infrequent appearances, questioned the last witness in the trial's 33rd day. The witness was Elizabeth McCarthy of Boston, a handwriting expert called in rebuttal of defense testmony. Mrs. McCarthy, who said she was called last night by Garrison's office, testified she had examined Shaw's signature and the signature of "Clay Bertrand" which was signed in a New Orleans airport guest register in 1967.

A defense expert witness had said positively Shaw did not sign the name in the book.

The state called two other rebuttal witnesses this morning—one a Kansas pathologist who had testified earlier about Kennedy's wounds, the second a photographer with blown-up photographs of the assassination scene. Both gave testimony implicating a sonspiracy and more than one gunman.

Shaw, charged with conspiring to assassinate President John F. Kennedy, testified in the climax of the defense case.

"No, I did not," he replied when asked if he had plotted with Lee Harvey Oswald, David W. Ferrie and others to kill Kennedy, slain in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963.

Did he ever see Oswald, the former New Orleans resident named by the Warren Commission as the lone and unaided assassin?

"I never have," said Shaw, a 6-foot-4 white-haired man with a crisp bass voice. He leaned back comfortably in the witness chair, twirling his horn-rimmed spectacles.

Did he ever see Ferrie, one-time airline pilot who operated a small flying service?

"I never did," said shaw.

Under cross-examination, Shaw denied that he ever knew Ferrie.

Two state witnesses, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Tadin of New Orleans, testified they saw Shaw and Ferrie together in 1964 at a lakefront airport where Ferrie's flying school was located.

"When I parked my car it was by a hangar," said Tadin. "I noticed a side door. Dave Ferrie came out. Clay Shaw was right behind him, about three feet. Shaw walked on to his car. Ferrie came over to us. I told Dave, 'What you got, a new student?' He said, 'No, that's a friend of mine, Clay Shaw, he's head of the trade mart.'"

Tadin, a short, balding man, is business agent for a musicians' union local. He and his wife said they volunteered their testimony to Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison just a few hours before they were called to the stand.

Pueblo Sailor Mourns Lack Of Rescue Help

CORONADO ,AP) — "All of the beating we all took," a Pueblo crewman said today, "didn't hurt us half as much as the fact that when we were pleading for help we got no assistance from the largest Navy in the world."

"Nobody showed up," said Communications Technician 1/C Don E. Bailey, 39, Portland, Ore., regarded as the crewman best trained in the arts of survival, evasion, resistance against captors and escape. "This hurt me more than any beating I took."

Bailey went on to praise the ship's skipper, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher "for a real fine job."

There was a period of silence. Then the court's president, Vice Adm. Harold G. Bowen Jr., said softly, "Thank you, Bailey."

A veteran of 16 years in the Navy and three and one-half years in the Army, Bailey asked the Navy to give all military men the training he received in survival skills.

He said that despite beatings, kickings and death threats from his captors, he never contributed anything to their information about himself or his job on the Pueblo.

"Did you possess so much classified information," asked Bucher's attorney, E. Miles Harvey, "that if they had obtained all of it, it would have been extremely detrimental to the security of the United States?"

"Definitely," Bailey replied. "Yes, sir."

Communications Technician 1/C Michael Barrett, 31, of Kalamazoo, Mich., testified Thursday that the North Koreans apparently failed to realize the full value of a highly trained intelligence specialists they captured.

"It would have seemed they would have known they had a wonderful source of information in you," said Rear Adm. Edward Grimm, a member of the court. "Why didn't they beat you more?"

"I don't know," Barrett replied. "It surprised me very much .... that's why I think they really weren't aware of what they had."

A little more than a third of the intelligence ship's 83-member crew were communications technicians.

Several more crewmen told yesterday of their experiences in "The Gypsy Tea Room," the name the Pueblo crew gave a 12-by-15-foot room where men were taken, offered liquor and asked to accept a visitor sympathetic to communism when they returned to the United States.

All the crewmen said they either refused, or agreed to accept such a visitor with the intention of turning him over to the FBI.

Resolution Urges Talks

A resolution asking the Mill Valley City Council to urge negotiations between state college trustees and striking students at San Francisco State was approved last night by the Mill Valley human rights commission.

The resolution, seeking discussions among trustees, college administrators and representatives of the Third World Liberation Front to "find a mutually acceptable resolution of the 15 demands at issue" was approved on a 4-0 vote. Commissioner William J. Walker was absent.

Chairman Roger J. Fleischmann will present the resolution to the council at 8 p.m. Monday in city hall.

Fleischmann said the commission acted on the resolution, presented by Alan Barnett, Mill Valley resident and San Francisco State College teacher, because the council previously passed a resolution supporting San Francisco State acting president S. I. Hayakawa, because several Mill Valley residents teach in the state college system and because Mill Valley police have been called to the campus to quell disorders arising from the strike.

The commission also named Fleischmann chairman to succeed Charles P. Guichard, who resigned because of business pressures.

Sirhan Defense Set To Stress His Illness

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Sirhan B. Sirhan's attorneys contend he was "mentally ill" when he shot Sen. Robert F. Kennedy at point blank range.

Today the defense began calling witnesses to support the argument that the assassination was "totally a product of a sick, obsessed mind and personality."

Among the first witnesses may be Sirhan's mother, Mary, his younger brother, Munir, and psychiatrists who have examined the 24-year-old Palestinian Arab.

Sirhan himself may testify next week and therein lies the defense's problem.

Sirhan has exploded in anger several times in court when reference was made to his mental condition. The introduction of his notebook-diaries, in which he wrote "RFK must be assassinated" over and over again, triggered a spectacular outburst.

Defense attorney Russell E. Parsons has told newsmen that Sirhan "like most mentally ill people, doesn't like to be told he's mentally ill. He doesn't like it when I tell him."

When Sirhan testifies on his own behalf, the defense may be hoping his apparently unstable emotional state may work to the advantage of his cause.

It was likely he would testify he was in a blackout and had no recollection of shooting and mortally wounding Kennedy last June 5 in a crowded pantry of the Ambassador Hotel.

In its opening statement, the defense painted Sirhan as a victim of spells, trances and mystic delusions which steadily grew after he witnessed atrocities in his native Jordan as a child.

The obsessions and fantasies became more serious after the Sirhan family emigrated to the United States, the defense contended, until he finally was incapable of premeditated murder.

The prosecution has attempted to prove Sirhan plotted the murder. Before the state rested its case Wednesday, witnesses testified they saw Sirhan practicing at a target range before the slaying and wrote in his notebook, "Kennedy must be assassinated before 5 June 1968."

Only Money Taken By Kentfield Looter

An elusive burglar who apparently wandered through the Kentfield home of Theodore C. Wellman, Marin Junior College District board president, on Wednesday while Wellman was taking a shower, made off with $25, according to sheriff's deputies.

Deputies said that the burglar had broken a window to get into the house at 1 Vista Drive but fled after taking the money.

Woman Found Dead At Home

Marsha Hayes, 44, a Kentfield homemaker and wife of Marin County businessman Warwick J. Hayes Jr., died at her home yesterday apparently of an overdose of pills, the county coroner's office said.

Coroner's investigator Keith Craig said Mrs. Hayes' family reported that she had been despondent recently. He said her body was found in bed shortly after noon yesterday by a daughter, Allyson. There was one empty bottle and another partly-empty bottle of prescription pills beside her bed, Craig said.

The Hayes lived at 513 Goodhill Road in Kentfield.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Hayes is survived by two sons, Warwick J. Hayes III, serving with the Army in Vietnam, and John, of the home, and three daughters, Allyson, of the home, Erin, of Ontario, San Bernardino County, and Tracy of Tempe, Ariz.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

Michael Wurtz Will Lead Junior Class

Michael Wurtz, son of Mrs. Roger Wurtz of Greenbrae, was elected junior class president at Redwood High School in elections held yesterday and Wednesday.

Defeating Michael Meyer, Wurtz will be president for the rest of the semester, succeeding Jeff Kirchmann who is on a two-month vacation.

Restaurant Rezoning Plea Hit

The North Marin Federation of homeowners associations will ask the Marin County Board of Supervisors to reject rezoning which would permit a marina, restaurant and cocktail lounge along Black John Slough just south of Gnoss Field.

Marilyn Haskell, federation secretary said the federation fears "the creation of another Sausalito-type eysore."

The rezoning of the land from planned industrial to resort commercial was approved last week by the county planning commission for land on both sides of Black John Canal. The land is owned by William Wright and leased by Peter Lind.

Mrs. Haskell said federation members, meeting in Novato last night, expressed fear that the area would become a "blighted area" if the rezoning goes through and Lind is allowed to permit houseboats on the property.

The federation also will ask the Sonoma County planning commission to reject a request by Lind for a use permit to establish a wrecking and salvage yard near Route 37 north of Black Point.

UNITED CEREBRAL PALSY OF MARIN, INC.

P.O. Box 3011, San Rafael, Calif. 94902

A NON-PROFIT, ALL VOLUNTEER AGENCY

Cerebral Palsy Results From Brain Damage

The effect is generally a permanent handicap (mental and/or physical) and often a lifelong financial and psychological burden to the cerebral palsied person and his or her family.

In California, about 3,000 infants per year are born with, or develop cerebral palsy.

UNITED CEREBRAL PALSY OF MARIN

- Receives no assistance from other charity drives
- Has an entirely volunteer staff
- Is alert to coordinate with other charitable agencies and public services

YOUR CONTRIBUTED DOLLARS...

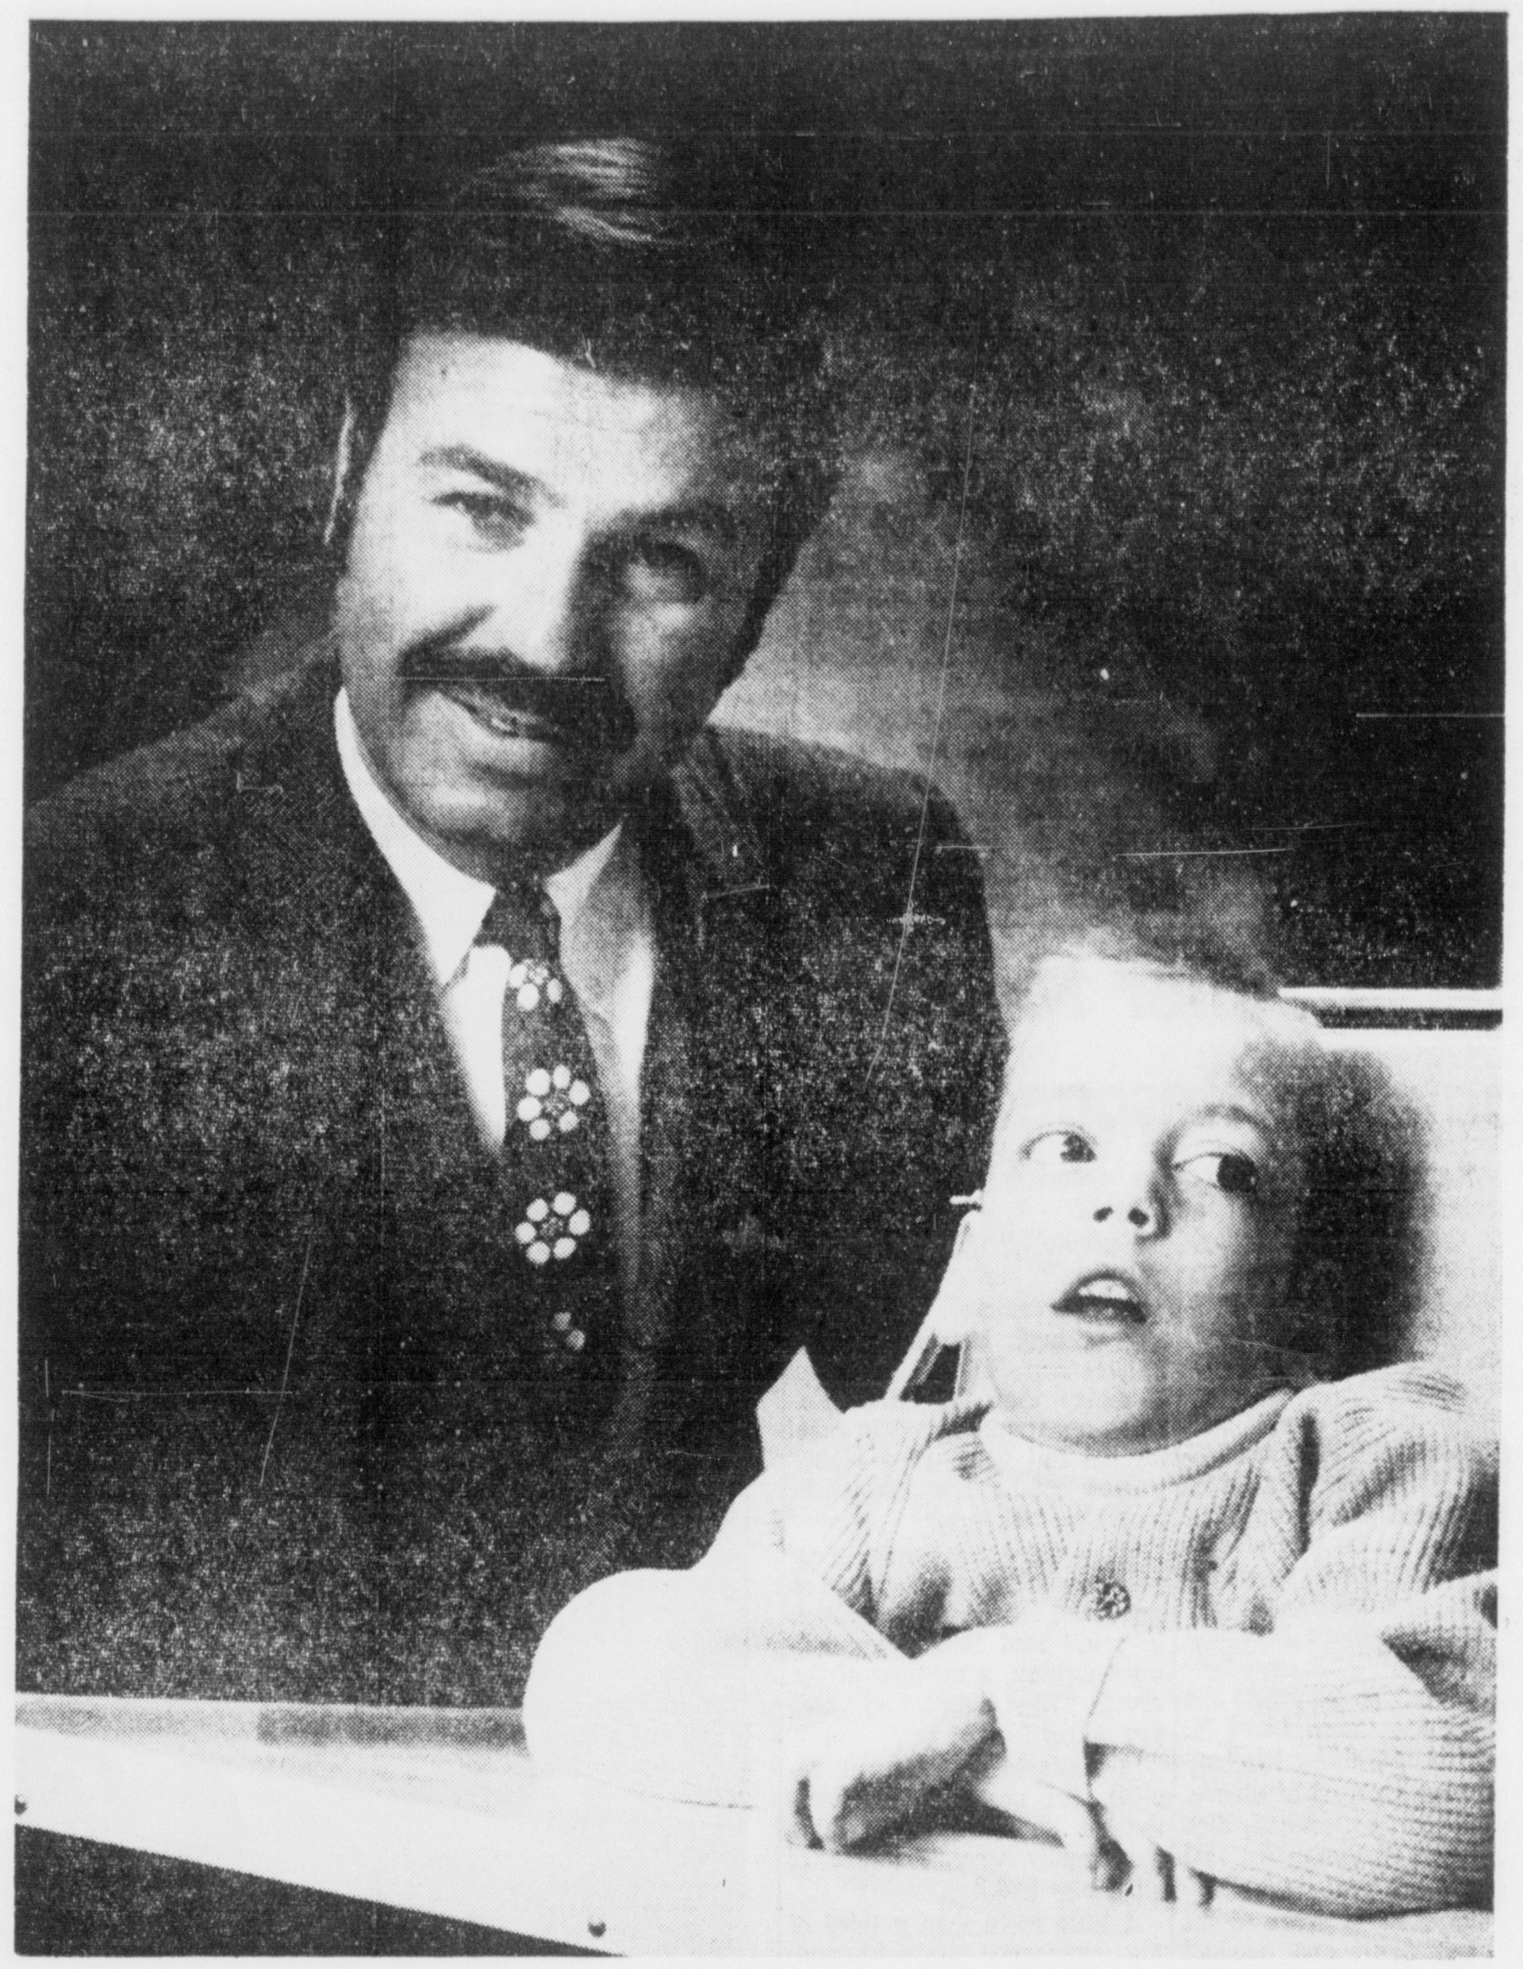
To alleviate brain damage

To help people with cerebral palsy become as productive and happy in our society as possible.

Services in Marin (Approximately 72% of Receipts)

The work of VOLUNTEERS in United Cerebral Palsy of Marin — the very reason for our existence — is to help eliminate the problems of Cerebral Palsy. The ultimate conquest of this cruelest of all cripplers which leaves so many with a lifetime handicap, is the goal of our research. Until this day of discovery comes, we have the equally challenging responsibility to be here — right here in Marin — when they need us. This is our goal in Marin County. We are striving in every possible way to provide physical, social, psychological and educational help. Your tax-free contribution will give expression to our own enthusiasm.



JIM LANGE, 1969 Honorary Chairman and popular star of TV's "Dating Game" and "Oh! My Word" greets LARRY LLOYD, Marin's Theme Child of 1969. Larry is six years old and is a quadriplegia C.P. He is a very happy fellow with that ever-present smile. Hopefully, our research will help to reduce, if not prevent, the incidence of brain damage.

Marin City Council Still Without Quorum

The Marin City Council, which has failed to achieve a quorum for two meetings in a row, faces a reduction in membership, reported Rev. Samuel L. Banks Jr., chairman.

In canceling last night's session for lack of a quorum, Banks set a special meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday at Manzanita Center and said a cut in membership would be one of the items on the agenda.

Residents approved a 13-member council last July, but only 12 were elected because there wasn't any candidate for the second seat representing the cooperative apartments.

Perison Knighten later was appointed to the 13th seat, but failed to attend meetings, and that seat was declared vacant.

Then last month Mrs. Helen Washington and Ephorn Freeman, two representatives of low rental housing, resigned, leaving the council with 10 members.

Council membership is designed to provide representatives from low rental housing, cooperative apartments, private apartments and private homes.

Banks said if the membership is reduced, these housing segments still will be represented.

He reported that by a telephone poll of members, the council has recommended that Mrs. Mary Brooks, president of the Welfare Rights Organization, be appointed to the Marin County Human Rights Commission.

The seat was left vacant by the resignation of Mrs. Tommie Scott of Marin City, whose term runs until May 18, 1970.

Council members also have recommended Elihu H. Johnson of 31 Buckelew Street for appointment to the Marin County Redevelopment Agency, Banks reported.

The seat was left vacant when Banks resigned. His term ends April 17, 1970.

At its next session the Marin City Council will consider designating a Marin City organization as an advisory committee to Marin County on its workable program for community improvements, a program the county needs to qualify for federal housing funds. Also to be discussed at the meeting will be the steps necessary to process a federal planning grant, for which the council has applied.

Redwood Co-Ed Is Top Speaker

Susan Zuschin, a Redwood High School junior, won the student speaking contest sponsored last week by the Larkspur Lions' Club.

Miss Zuschin competed with two other Redwood students speaking on the hopes and fears of today's youth. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Zuschin of 8 Birch Avenue, Corte Madera.

She will compete with other Marin high school students March 13 at the Civic Center with the winner going on to interstate speaking contests, competing for scholarships.

Flu Eases Grip On Two Schools

Tomales Elementary School returned to a normal scheduled yesterday when absenteesim dropped to 40 students.

A high of 84 absentees was reported earlier this week during the peak of an influenza outbreak. The school, with 240 students, had shortened sessions in order to release students early.

Tomales High School, forced to reduce its schedule because the same buses transport students from both schools, also returned to normal sessions yesterday.

Bennett's PG&E Board Summons Is Thrown Out

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Former California Public Utility Commissioner William M. Bennett's subpoenas against the entire board of directors of the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. were quashed yesterday by a commissioner at the request of PG&E attorneys.

One of the 16 subpoenas, however, one against board chairman Robert H. Gerdes, was left standing by Commissioner J. P. Vukasin. Bennett will have the right to question Gerdes when the commission resumes its hearing at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, Vukasin ruled.

Bennett, a resident of Kent Woodlands, objected yesterday that Vukasin did not have the power to quash the subpoenas, and that only the full five-member commission could do so. Bennett indicated he will appeal Vukasin's ruling to the California Supreme Court, a commission spokesman reported.

Bennett, who had the subpoenas issued by the commission's staff, has said he wanted to ask the directors about the utility's "political expenses" and "why they have to spend money advertising a necessity." PG&E spends about $2.5 million a year on promotion, arguing increased use of its services helps keep rates down.

The commission has been hearing a $6.79 million gas rate increase which the utility wants to be effect next Friday.

Suspect Booked

Claude Burton, 24, of 33 Cole Drive, Marin City, was arrested by sheriff's deputies Wednesday on suspicion of stealing a car in Corte Madera Jan. 27. Burton posted $1,200 bail. He was to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Marin Unit Of SMART Is Forming

A Marin unit of Silent Majority Against Revolutionary Tactics, a non-profit citizens group, is in the formative stages.

Among SMART's aims are to aid in prevention of campus disorder and restore an academic environment and encourage the "silent majority" to speak out.

At an initial Southern Marin unit meeting Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Grey, 176 Paseo Way, Greenbrae, members agreed that public meetings should be held in Marin, according to Richard Geno of Tiburon, Marin unit president.

The group intends to learn the position of candidates for the Tamalpais High School District and Marin Junior College District boards on campus disorders, Geno reported.

Marin unit officers will be elected at SMART's next meeting, at a time and place to be announced.

In October, the same temperature is found over a greater portion of the United States than at any other time of the year.

Flood Control Path Protested In Ross

Residents of the quiet Town of Ross voiced fears last night that the Corte Madera Creek flood control project would bring trespassers into the community.

The concern was expressed at a meeting in town hall after Col. Frank C. Boerger, district engineer for the Army Corps of Engineers, said a public walkway alongside the concrete flood channel would be provided on the property, not the channel, side of a safety fence.

JONES PROTEST

Town Councilman Roy Farrington Jones was the first to protest, saying residents whose properties abutted the channel would be prey to "persons wandering around their pools."

Councilman W. James Dawson suggested placement of the six-foot fence along the property line, keeping trespassers out.

But County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost said this would require construction of another fence on the edge of the channel to keep persons from tumbling into the 10-foot ditch.

Moreover, he said, only maintenance men were expected to use the five-foot walkways on either side of the channel.

"I would presume," quipped Dawson, "that a maintenance man would be so equipped as not to fall in the channel."

TWO-FENCE IDEA

"If it's our responsibility if a person falls in the ditch," Frost said, "I think that the board of supervisors and the county counsel will be concerned."

He said the possibility of two fences will be investigated.

Last night's meeting was to brief Ross residents on plans for the stretch of channel through the community. Frost told a capacity crowd in town hall that acquisition of slices of property needed for the project would begin by July.

Ross conditionally joined the flood control zone two years ago, even though many residents opposed a concrete channel snaking through the town. From the grumbling last night, it was apparent the objections have not passed.

Among the conditions were that the town council have veto powers over project plans and that the flood control zone give priority to relieve overflow and ponding along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and in other areas. Mayor Frederick S. Allen re-emphasized these last night.

Boerger outlined plans for project beautification to combat what the Army calls "visual pollution." He said the safety fence would have a green vinyl covering to blend with surroundings, large trees would be spared wherever possible and that tree and shrub planting would be done along the right-of-way.

Noting that eucalypti were listed by the Army as among "native" trees which would be planted, Dawson objected.

"I'm with you, Jim," said Jones. "You (to Boerger) have it listed as a native tree. It's not; it's from Australia. And if you've ever lived under one it's disgusting."

"If you don't want it," Boerger said, "we won't plant it."

Judge Raps 'Oakland 7' Prosecution

OAKLAND (UPI) — The judge in the trial of the "Oakland Seven," said the prosecution has presented a "mushy" case based on circumstantial evidence, but that the jury must decide its merits.

Alameda County Superior Court Judge George W. Phillips Jr. made the statements yesterday after the defense move for dismissal of the case against the seven defandants — one of them Michael J. Smith, a former Corte Madera resident — charged with conspiring to have others commit misdemeanors during the October 1967 Stop-The-Draft Week demonstrations in Oakland.

"Even the district attorney's staff has to admit it's unfortunate that a case of this type has to depend almost entirely on circumstantial evidence," Judge Phillips said.

"But in order to acquit the seven there would have to be no basis at all to convict. I can't say that," he said.

The judge said he would have to leave the facts for the jury to decide. The jury was not present at the daylong dismissal hearing and has not been allowed to read newspaper accounts of the proceedings.

Tam High Hit By Stink Bomb

A homemade stink bomb was exploded at 12:20 p.m. yesterday on the first floor of Keyser Hall at Tamalpais High School.

Indictment In Post Office Box Thefts

A 27-year-old military policeman yesterday was indicted by a federal grand jury in San Francisco on a charge that he broke into a Mill Valley post office box—to which "swingers" are urged to write — and stole two letters.

The box in question is Box 604, to which readers of the Berkeley Barb are urged to write letters "for a swinging time."

According to Jerrold M. Ladar, assistant U.S. district attorney in San Francisco, on Jan. 18, Gene Poor, stationed with the 30th MP Battalion at the Presidio of San Francisco, managed to get two letters out of the front of the box.

Poor, apparently not satisfied with just two, returned to the box about 20 minutes later, postal authorities said, and broke the glass.

This brought shouts from postal clerks, and three of them, William D. Gray, James Conley and George Lopez, chased Poor down the street, catching him nearby, Ladar said.

Postal authorities were at a loss to explain why Poor, who lives in Pacifica with his wife, was in the Mill Valley post office.

They also declined to name the holder of the post box, but said that he and Poor were not acquainted.

Poor, who is to be arraigned in federal court in San Francisco on March 6, could draw a five-year prison sentence and $10,000 fine for stealing mail and a one-year sentence and $1,000 fine for breaking the box glass if convicted, Ladar said.

The National Fiddlers Contest is held annually at Brownville, Neb.

Heliport Site Again Is Topic

The Marin County Aviation Commission will continue their search for a suitable heliport site at a meeting Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the planning commission chambers of the Marin Civic Center.

The Commission will also discuss future development plans for Gnoss Field so that the county can apply now for state funds for the 1970-71 fiscal year.

Also on the agenda is a discussion on how minutes of the aviation commission and subcommittees will be recorded. At present, airport Mgr. Francis E. Torr gives reports and provides technical information, and takes minutes in addition.

Women Defy Court In Mutiny Trial Protest

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two women pacifists today protested against the Army's Presidio mutiny court-martial by refusing to appear in federal court for sentencing.

They were convicted for a paint spraying demonstration in a court-martial room during a desertion trial.

They declared they would remain fugitives until Army Secretary Stanley Resor replies to their letter demanding an investigation of the mutiny trials.

Sali McAllister, 33, and Charlene Pope, 20, both of Mountain View, were convicted Jan. 31 for spraying paint in a Presidio court-martial room.

Twenty-seven men were accused of mutiny in a sitdown demonstration to protest stockade conditions and the fatal shooting of a prisoner who attempted to escape.

The women have been free on $1,000 appearance bond and were scheduled to be sentenced today before U. S. District Judge George B. Harris.

They sent Judge Harris a copy of a letter to Resor in which they declared they would not appear for sentencing until the secretary replied.

"We ask that you view the Army Intelligence video tape of the so-called mutiny which clearly shows the absurdity of the charge and the average sentence of 15 years," they wrote Resor.

Workshop Canceled By College Board

Marin Junior College District trustees canceled a workshop session scheduled last night on the planned new science center because only four board members were available, reported Earlene Jones, public information officer.

The workshop was rescheduled for early next week, day yet to be set, she said.

'Austrian Trip Was Most Memorable'

One of a series of interviews with wives of Marin County mayors.

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

I've always been very athletic," says Mrs. Dean Meyer, wife of Mill Valley's mayor, and her trim figure is evidence that she continues to be very active, especially in the outdoor sports the entire family enjoys.

Skiing is their favorite sport, and they keep in practice mostly at their cabin at the ski resort of Alpine Meadows near Lake Tahoe, but their most memorable experience was skiing during a trip they took the last of January and first of this month to Kitzbuhel and Lech in Austria after stopping at London.

THE MEYERS and their three children, Douglas, 10, Danny, 7, and Susan, 4, were invited to be guests of their neighbors, the Peter Bogarduses of Mill Valley and their three children, Betsy, Andy and Skippy, who are spending a year in Kitzbuhel.

The other sports the Meyer family enjoys are bicycling, canoeing on Richardson Bay, swimming, tennis — they are members of the Mill Valley Tennis Club — and hiking.

"There's nothing we love more than packing a lunch and hiking the trails on Mt. Tamalpais," Shirley says. "My husband and I have been Sierra Club members since before we were married, and we are ardent conservationists.

"Being a third generation Californian and a member of the Society of California Pioneers, my husband takes great pride in the state, county and Mill Valley, which we love."

MOST MILL Valley people are well aware of the mayor's interest in conservation, for his slogan during his campaign for election to the Mill Valley city council was "Keep Mill Valley Green."

Shirley herself also likes to ride horseback and takes advantage whenever possible of the invitation to join the wife of former Mill Valley mayor Michael Wornum in riding the horses they own.

Strictly for her own benefit Shirley studies and practices Yoga.

"I go the whole route, including the meditation," she says. "I think everyone's life is so hectic now that we need something to help keep us calm, and I find that meditation helps me to work more efficiently without tension."

Another interest of the mayor's wife is gourmet cooking. "I like French and Italian cooking, and I like to try out new dishes," she says, "but I practice mostly on the family. My husband likes to cook too, and it's a great help when he gets breakfast Sunday mornings and takes over almost all the cooking when we go to the cabin."

AS FOR POLITICS, Shirley says, "I feel I don't want to become involved myself. My husband needs me at home. He spends enormous amounts of time in connection with his job as mayor and member of the Golden Gate Bridge Board and Marin County Transit District, but this is what he wants. A man has to do what he has to do.

"He really cares about Marin County and Mill Valley — so I can't get too upset over the time it takes, even when the phone rings constantly every day from about 4:30 in the afternoon until 8 in the evening."

The personal story of Shirley and her husband is rather unusual. Born in San Mateo, she grew up mostly in Burlingame, the home town of the mayor, and both attended the same elementary school, but they didn't know each other.

Since her father was an Army officer, the family lived in many places, including Danville, where she was graduated from high school. She attended the University of California at Davis one year and then worked in various clerical-secretarial jobs.

HER MOST interesting one, she says, was in a civilian position with the intelligence department of the Army in Heidelberg and Munich, Germany. On returning to the United States she was employed in a position with the U. S. Forestry Service in San Francisco, and it was at this time she met her husband through a friend of his she was dating.

In the first year of their marriage, the Meyers lived in an attic apartment on Telegraph Hill, in the second oldest building in San Francisco, she recalls. Meyer established his own insurance brokerage business and was very active in city affairs as vice president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

In 1958 they built their present English Tudor style home on a hill overlooking the Mill Valley golf course and have lived there ever since.

"We need a larger house now," Shirley says, "but we love this one so much we can't bear to leave it."

Completing the family group is a huge, very friendly Gordon setter named King and a black kitten they call Spooky because it had been abandoned and came to them on Halloween.

SUSAN, THE FOUR-year-old daughter of Mill Valley mayor and Mrs. Dean Meyer, loves to "help" her mother cook, especially the gourmet dishes Shirley likes to try out on her family. From a recipe she learned to prepare on the family's recent trip to Kitzbuhel, Austria, Shirley and Susan are making Salzburger Nockerls — a souffle-like dessert of sugar, flour, eggs and butter served with a hot sauce of apricot jam and rum, topped by chocolate curls — whipped cream too if desired. MOTHER'S FIGHT

A Family Opposes The U.S. Selective Service System

By JOAN LISETOR

Why would a mother hide her 18-year-old son behind her skirts, and harbor him when he refused to register for the draft?

"It was the only thing I could do," Mrs. Evelyn Whitehorn told an audience in Mill Valley Wednesday evening. "I discussed it with the four boys, and we all agreed it was the thing to do."

MRS. WHITEHORN is the Palo Alto mother who last year asked to be prosecuted instead of her son, because when he failed to register for the draft, he was following her advice.

She discussed her test case in Brown's Hall during a program sponsored by the Marin Chapter of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom.

Fighting the Selective Service System began for the family last September. Robert, 22, mailed his draft card back, accompanied by a letter stating he wished to sever his ties with the Selective Service because he could not retain his draft card in good conscience.

Mrs. Whitehorn was a resident of Marin during World War II, when her husband was stationed at Treasure Island, and she worked at Marinship. The Whitehorns, who have been divorced for three years, have four sons: John, 23, is in the Navy, stationed at Moffett Naval Air Station; Robert, who is awaiting trial for refusing induction into the Army; Erik; and Allen, a 15-year-old high school student.

REALIZING ERIK, who would turn 18 soon, would do the same thing, Evelyn Whitehorn made her decision in September not to allow him to sign what could be considered a contract with the Selective Service System.

"All of you know the endless list of things a person under 21 can not do," Mrs. Whitehorn told the audience. "He can't act effectively as a citizen until he is 21. He can't enter into a written legal contractual agreement."

Mrs. Whitehorn feels that she, not Erik, should be punished for his actions. She feels responsible because she has taught her sons to follow moral precepts and to understand that it is their duty not only to have moral ideas and live them but also to make sacrifices if required by their consciences.

MRS. EVELYN WHITEHORN

"I taught my children morality so well, and now Erik shares my views on the immorality of the Vietnam war," she said. "I can't declare myself out anymore."

"IF I HAD known (all that was going to happen) maybe I wouldn't have done what I did, but I'm so glad I've done it," she said.

Mrs. Whitehorn discussed the events of the past six months, since the day she attempted to present a letter to the draft board inn San Jose stating ner position for refusing to allow Erik to register for the draft.

The week following an interview with two members of the draft board a letter arrived advising Erik he had three weeks to register for the draft. In the meantime two FBI agents came to the Whitehorn home.

"They toid me they were there because of the publicity they had noticed in the newspaper," Mrs. Whitehorn said. "I co-operated because I was very naïve then and could even understand their viewpoint, but I was disturbed when they pointed out that I could be guilty of conspiracy. They stated that, should I persist, 'the government will ignore you, and you will find your son faced with swift and severe punishment.'

"I COULDN'T believe that the same charges could be brought against me as had been brought against Dr. (Benjamin) Spock. He is a wealthy, very well known, national figure, and I am just a member of the P-TA."

On Nov. 19, one week after the deadline, Erik was indicted and a bench warrant was issued for his arrest, and he was ordered to appear in Federal Court the following day. Numerous court appearance have followed, and Erik's trial date has been set for March 17, despite pleas for continuences and a restraining order against the federal government.

Mrs. Whitehorn and her attorney, Aubrey Grossman, are amazed at the unusual haste of the indictment.

"On the average 11 months elapse between the time of the offense and the time of indictment. Erik was indicted one week after his deadline to register," she said.

THE MOTHER is prompted in her actions by the belief that parents should teach morality to a child.

"It is not the government's responsibility to teach morality, and when parental policy contradicts government policy, a young person cannot go to the courts to fight for what he believes," she said.

Mrs. Whitehorn believes she must fight for her son.

"Erik has had to swallow his pride and live with the stigma of hiding behind mama" she said. "People ask how he can do this, and I answer, 'What if he were out carousing around, driving recklessly and raping the neighbors' daughter? Wouldn't you ask, 'Why doesn't that mother control her 18-year-old son?"

MRS. WHITEHORN says she does not know what the future will bring for herself and her sons, but she will keep on fighting for what she believes in.

Along with the harsh criticism, Evelyn Whitehorn has taken some good natured kidding.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Adults Express Feelings Toward Sex As A 'Weapon'

DEAR HELEN:

So men don't think it's right for wives to use sex to get what they want, like an evening out. How about the other way around? If I want or need something my husband says "No" unless he gets his sex first. I had the flu so bad I couldn't breathe, but that was no excuse, according to him. He went around the house not speaking to me or the kids until I was his bed parther again — with a temperature of 103. We're married 24 years, and he gets worse every year.

Before men start griping about us women, they'd better stop using sex as a bargaining weapon. When my kids all grow up, I think I'll tell my virile husband (spelled without the "ir" to get out and go to his other women permanently. He uses them as a weapon too: if I'm not constantly available, he says he's justified to find it elsewhere — D. W.

DEAR HELEN:

Agreed. The woman who said, "I will if you buy me something" is a married prostitute, but dear Helen, you omitted saying all women (well, almost all who have been married over a year) use sex as a bargaining basis. The difference is that most are less obvious.

Give your "married prostitute" points for being honest. How many husbands are sweet talked into doing things they don't want to do or buying things they can't afford because their scheming little wives know the monetary value of a good roll in the hay? When my wife is especially nice to me, she wants something, and it isn't love. — HOODWINKED HUSBAND.

DEAR HELEN:

My husband showed me your answer to "Lonely and Frustrated Husband." What about the demanding and insensitive men? I had four children in seven years, have constant backaches, varicose veins, ulcers and am always tired. To avoid more children, I try the only prevention our religion allows. So my husband hits and curses me for my "coldness," and sits out in his "ham shack" every night while I tend babies. Then he uses your column against me.

Give the other side of the picture, Helen. A woman deserves to be taken out and treated like a human being. If she can only get such things by "using sex as a bargaining point," so be it. — TIRED AND DISGUSTED

DEAR ALL THREE OF YOU:

This is love? Nope, this is a payment on demand and demand on payment, without thought to mutual giving, or wanting to make someone you care about happy.

A qualified marriage counselor might show you and your mates that "cold" wives are often caused by husbands who "stand on their rights" and forget a woman must be wooed. As one reader observed, "Married prostitutes" wouldn't be so prevalent if all men were the lovers they imagine themselves to be! — H.

The Paris Wrap-Up For Spring

By LUCIE NOEL

PARIS (AP) — Paris spring fashions are more individual than ever this year with each designer asserting his style with confidence and conviction.

This goes for the traditional classic designers as well as the way-out creator who thinks in terms of the day after tomorrow.

Never before have clothes been so originally and dramatically accessorized. They set a new pace in shoes, stockings, gloves, jewelry, belts and handbags. Even new ideas in millinery reappear.

The typical Miss 1969 swings into springtime with a soft, supple silhouette, a flutter of pleats, all in lovely soft pastels and soft crepes, organzas, chiffons, and wools. The mood is young, gay, flattering, feminine. Once again styles may be called pretty, a word that has been taboo for years.

Though there may be less tendency toward nudity, there are plenty of suggestive revealing tricks spelling sex.

Breathtaking necklines plunge to the navel. Bare midriffs don't even cause a gasp. Newest evening dresses are slashed down one side from top to toe. Others feature a profile slash to the hips.

COURREGES TAKES pants slashed down the side seams, caught by latticed straps, and tops them with a floral minibra.

Peek-a-boo portholes, generous cut-out sections, see-through black organza slip-over-coats cover nothing but a brief pair of briefs, all contribute to the fun and games.

This season will also be remembered for the quantity and variety of pleating. Suit skirts are box pleated or have flat knife pleats. So are the shirtwaist dresses in daytime and evening lengths shown by Dior and other houses.

Sparkle takes over for evening pajamas. Glitter outlines eyelet embroidery. Pants are re-embroidered on sheers in gold or jet sequins. Chanel, just to be different, tops crepe pants with a braided tailored jacket. But she also tailors black jet sequins like her famous suit jacket. Hostess jumpsuits in soft crepe are everywhere.

Evening fantasy runs riot with Gypsy styles: Saint Laurent does his pretty Gypsies, including the bride, in Brossin de Mere's multicolored patchwork satin for the big skirt, sheer patchwork for the blouse and a bright kerchief for the head.

Dior's tzigane wears bayadere chiffons or sheer patchwork prints for daytime and evening.

The news in suits is concentrated in jacket lengths dropped to wrist length and sometimes fingertip.

EXCEPT AT Chanel's all skirts are above the kneecaps, hovering from 2 to 5 and 6 inches above. The shortest are at Cardin, Courreges, Ungaro, and Paco Rabanne.

Suit fabrics run the gamut from gray flannel, Patou, Dior, Balmain, to widowpane checks, Givenchy, on oatmeal, white or pale pastels; through gabardine in soft pastels including baby blue, pink, yellow, (Dior, Courreges, to Chanel's nubbly, feather weight rainbow-hued bouclette plaid tweeds.

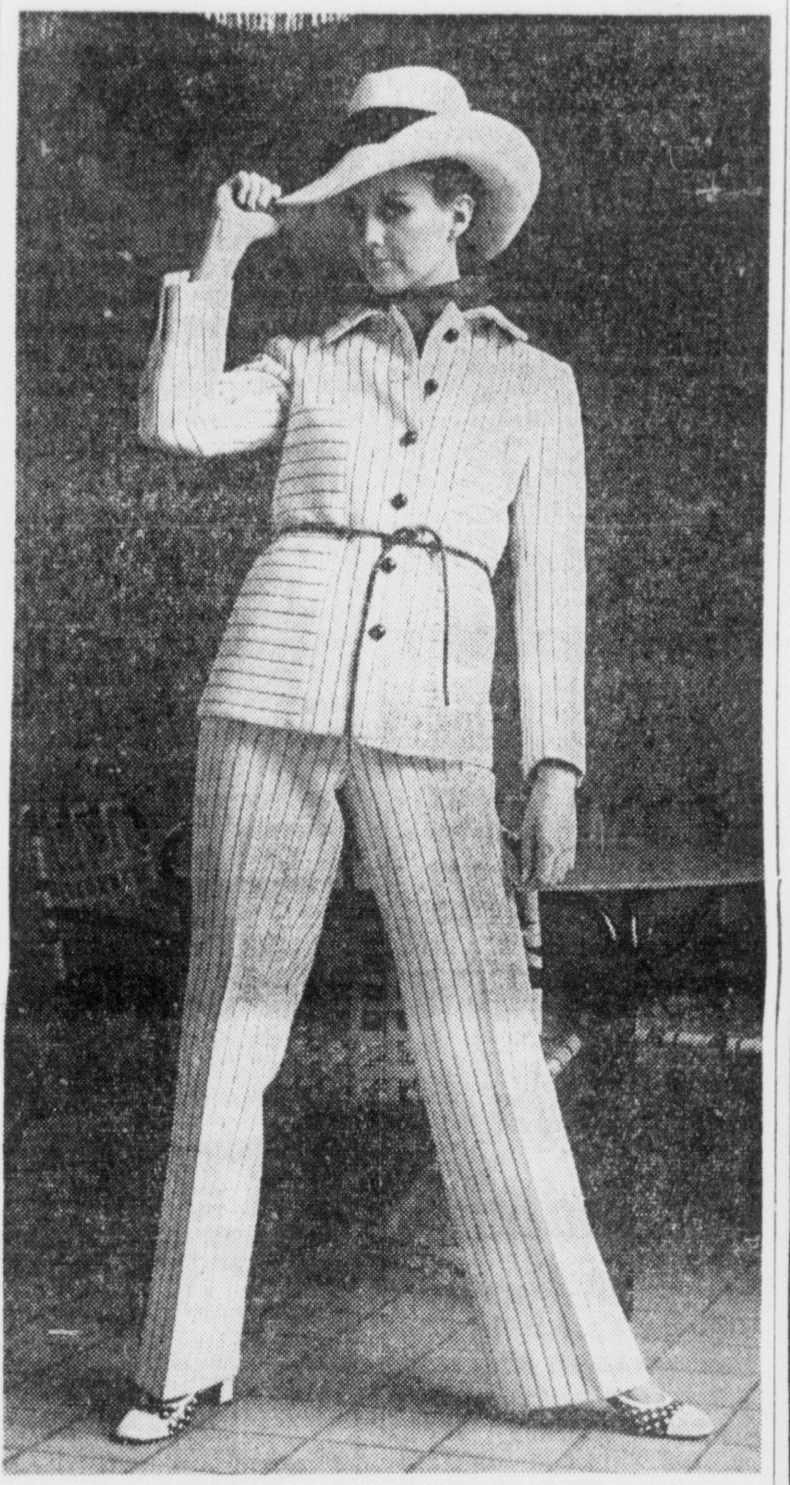
In coats, honors are shared between the navy's regulation reefer and the classic trenchcoat. They are usually double-breasted and always belted and buckled in enamel, gold or polished silver.

Cardin does city coats with bubble skirts, fastens them with one large button at the neckline and a corresponding outsize button buckle at the belted waist.

Venet goes his own way with extreme circular flared fullness.

Ricci's comfortable casual bathrobe coats have self-tie belts.

Prints this year form a minority group, but they are different and new. Abraham's geometrics for Saint Laurent are suited to his simple supple shifts. To break the monotony, certain designs include a positive-negative reversed treatment. Others are magnified tie silk effects or bull's eye target patterns. Many monotone abstractions are inspired by the cosmos and the moon's phases.



FOR DAYTIME

Pantsuits are big this spring and the House of Dior in New York scores with this pinstriped number. The pants have the wider leg and the tailored jacket is belted with a leather thong. (UPI Photo)

African Theme To Highlight Annual Foreign Student Buffet

The fourth annual international buffet and bash at Tamalpais High School is scheduled for 7 p.m. Saturday in Ruby Scott Auditorium.

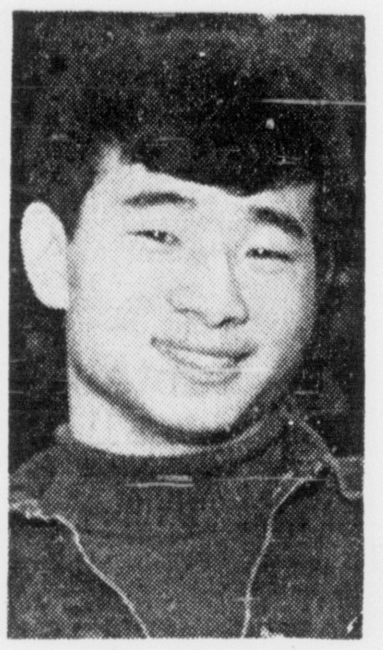
Sponsored by the Tam chapter, American Field Service, the event will acquaint the public with the foreign students exchange program and raise funds for next year, according to Mrs. William Pemberton, co-chairman.

VIVIANA CRAVERO RUIZ

Featured at the potluck dinner will be presentations by three foreign students at the school; Viviana Cravero Ruiz of Argentina, American Field Service, Hans Kyu Chui, a Korean youth, International Christian Youth Exchange; and Annette Tibbe of Germany, Youth for Understanding. All are living with Mill Valley families for the school year.

The African theme for the event will be carried out with authentic masks, spears and signs in the Swahili language. Decorations chairman Mrs. Donald Westerbeke is assisted by Stephen Mutunga of Kenya, Tamalpais high's new teacher of black culture and Swahili.

Other entertainment directed by Mrs. Paul Reiter will include the school's madrigal group conducted by Larry Nelson; Tam Valley Players in a Thurber sketch; a faculty barber shop quartet; the Gabe Jackson Rhythm Group; and the balcony scene from "Romeo and Juliet" by the new Shakespeare Company of San Francisco.



HAN KYU CHUI

Other members of the dinner committee are Mmes. A. L. Wuoltee and S. C. Cook, food; Donald Du Pertuis and Doris Thurston, tickets; Mr. and Mrs. Warren Uhte, treasurers; and Mmes. Donald De Voto, prizes; Leonard Downing, posters; Margy Rutledge, photography; and Robert Andresen and Ed Radenzel, publicity.

Information may be obtained from Mrs. Pemberton or Mrs. Du Pertuis, both of Mill Valley.

A DANCE for single adults will be held at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Cloud 5 restaurant in Novato. It is being sponsored by the Social-Lites Singles Club of Santa Rosa and members, their guests and visitors are welcome. Van Hoosen is dance chairman.

A DINNER DANCE Saturday night at Peacock Gap Country Club will be held as a highlight of the Marin division's drive for the Jewish Welfare Federation. Entertainment will include motion picture and theatrical producer Zvi Kolitz as guest speaker and songs by Zohara, former singer with the Israeli opera and now a San Rafael resident.

Mr. Kolitz is author and executive producer of Israel's first major motion picture, "Hill 24 Doesn't Answer," which won honors at the Cannes and Mexico film festivals. He is best known in America as co-producer of the controversial Broadway play, "The Deputy."

Zohara arrived in the United States in 1964 and has sung on television programs and at clubs such as San Francisco's Hungry i and the Bocce Ball.

Mrs. Bernard Blumberg of Greenbrae is chairman of arrangements.

MARIN ALUMNAE of Phi Mu sorority will join Bay Area chapter members March 4 to mark the 117th year of the sorority's founding at a tea at the chapter house in Berkeley. The gathering will begin at 2 p.m.

THE MARION School Parent - Teacher Association has awarded honorary life memberships to Armen Tashjian, a fourth grade teacher at Marion, and to Chief of Police Robert diGrazia.

Miss Tashjian has been a teacher at Marion School for more than 15 years.

"She wants every child to succeed and always goes the 'extra mile' to help the child do so," said Mrs. Stanley Dennison, founders day chairman.

Miss Tashjian is a violinist and has played in the Marin Symphony Orchestra. She directed the first Marion School orchestra for many years, after her own teaching day was finished, without additional pay.

The teacher often spent time at home to help some beginning child master a new musical instrument.

Chief di Grazia was praised for his work with the Pony League Baseball Team which he coached in 1961 and since then has worked with Little League umpiring and coaching. He was president of the Little League in 1967 and is now volunteering his time at Sinaloa to coach a seventh grade basketball team. He is also serving on the board of directors for Novato Babe Ruth League.

AMONG THE highlights of the annual Purim Festival (a holiday of "joy, marked by merrymaking and feasting") will be colorful costumes, games, food, pony rides if the weather permits, and a bazaar section selling all new merchandise.

The festival, sponsored by the Sisterhood of Congregation Rodef Sholom in San Rafael, will be held at the temple, 170 North San Pedro Road Sunday beginning at 10 a.m. and concluding at 3 p.m.

Children are encouraged to wear costumes appropriate to the Purim spirit, and there will be food booths.

Heading the bazaar committee are Mmes. Leroy Brown and Burton Freeman. Mrs. Myron Kaplan is in charge of the food committee. They will be working with Myron Kaplan, Nancy Kaplan, Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Hahn and Mmes. Roy Calder, Martin Brownstein, Joe Dienstag, Jerome Jutovsky, Kenneth Levy, Earl Sobel, Melvin Warenback, Irwin Staller, Allen Rosen, Leon Fish, Albert Schilling, Abe Froman and Richard Breiner.

NEXT TUESDAY at 7:30 p.m., also in the Kent School multi-purpose room, a preview of a film on drugs and narcotics will be shown to junior high students' parents. The film, "Escape to Nowhere," is being considered for use with a special drug and narcotics program in cooperation with Dr. Walter Way of Ross and a group of medical students from the University of California Medical Center. This projected program will be given during the school day to small groups of junior high students.

Mrs. Luce Explains Identity Problems

By MARGARET SCHERF

CHICAGO (AP) — The girl who wants to get a husband today has to be a lot sexier than her grandmother, says one of America's best-known women.

That's mainly because of "the contraceptive revolution" — which "may yet prove to be the greatest revolution in mankind's history," said Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce.

Mrs. Luce, 65, who's been novelist and playwright, politician and diplomat, is a veteran champion of women's rights.

Speaking on "The Identity Problem of the American Woman," Mrs. Luce told a glittering, black tie assemblage celebrating the 70th anniversary of the Woman's Athletic Club Wednesday night:

"The impact of the contraceptive revolution on the psyche of young American women has been shattering . . . challenging the most ancient concepts of the very nature of woman herself, and has left her in a state of bewilderment about her proper role in society."

That, and the industrial revolution, have made today's woman less necessary to today's man, she added.

He knows that she is not absolutely indispensable to his material well-being and comfort," explained Mrs. Luce, "and as a consumer of domestic goods, rather than what she once was —a producer—she represents a one-way drain on his pocketbook."

Add the "latter day religion" of psychoanalysis, which has given a generation of males hang ups on motherhood and fatherhood, and the result, said Mrs. Luce, is this:

"It has become harder and harder for young women who do want children and a home to get and keep a husband."

But where there's a will there's a way—and the way today, said Mrs. Luce, is supersexiness.

HOW TO PLAY
WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

A Wise Listener Can Pick Up A Double Which Can Pay Off

It's easy to make excuses when you beat an unlucky contract three or four tricks undoubled. "I couldn't double without trumps," you may say. And your partner observes that he had decent trumps but couldn't double without side strength. You don't have to make these excuses if you listen carefully to the bidding in a certain kind of hand.

No. 3803 .... Feb. 28, 1969

Opening lead — ♣ J

QUITE CLEAR

The bidding made it quite clear that North and South were on thin ice. North was unable to jump to four spades even though he had a spade fit opposite an opening notrumper. Surely South needed good luck to make his game, and surely neither South nor North could feel confident enough to venture a redouble.

West couldn't be sure that the high cards were well placed for his side; it would have made a difference of two tricks if North had the queen of diamonds instead of the queen of clubs. But West did know that trumps would break badly for declarer and that the high cards might break equally badly. West therefore doubled in a confident tone of voice.

FOUR HONORS

Four honors appeared on the first club trick, and South took the ace of hearts and led a heart toward dummy. West stepped up with the queen of hearts, cashed the ten of clubs and continued with the nine of clubs to make dummy ruff.

Uncertain of the trump position, declarer led a trump to the king. The rest of the play was routine, but the defenders collected 800 points for taking six tricks. If West hadn't doubled, the penalty would have been only 300 points.

CAN LEARN MUCH

If you listen to the bidding carefully you can often tell that the opponents need good breaks to make their contract. If your hand tells you that they are going to run into bad breaks, double to make the most of their bad luck.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 1-no-trump (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠ 7
♥ K Q 9 5
♦ K J 6 3
♣ J 10 9 4.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two clubs, the Stayman Convention, asking partner to bid a major suit of four or more cards.

If he bids two hearts, you will jump to four hearts. If he bids anything else, you will jump to three notrump.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, Feb. 28, the 59th day of 1969 with 306 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase. The morning stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Venus and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1849 the first shipload of gold seekers arrived in San Francisco after a five-month trip from New York City.

In 1942 Japanese forces landed in Java, the last Allied bastion in the Netherlands East Indies.

In 1966 American astronauts Elliot See and Charles Bassett were killed when their plane hit a building in St. Louis.

In 1968 Michigan Gov. George Romney withdrew his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination.

A thought for the day: Victor Hugo said, "No one ever keeps a secret so well as a child."

Deliquency Aides Outline Their Work

Two full-time delinquency prevention consultants outlined their work Wednesday night for members of the Marin County Juvenile Delinquency Prevention Commission which has requested a consultant for Marin County.

Richard Hazel of San Mateo County and Rudy Webbe of Contra Costa County were invited to give the commission additional information to support their request, according to Probation Chief Walter H. Busher, commission secretary.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies currently being shown in Marin County. The council's findings are from the California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines and the film report of the Film Estimate Board. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael Library.

FAMILY

"High, Wild and Free" — Filmed in northern British Columbia. Photographer Gordon Eastman gives us a tribute ot some of the last unspoiled country left in the northern hemisphere. Excellent.

"Man For All Seasons" — Superior film gives richness to a segment of England's history enhanced by strikingly beautiful settings.

"Swiss Family Robinson" — Adventure story is a delight for all ages.

"Taming of the Shrew" — Colorful version of Shakespear's comedy. Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Charly" — Poignant dramatization of a fictional case history of first human subject of a new type of brain surgery on a mentally retarded young man. Thought-provoking, sensitive performances from the cast.

"Heart is a Lonely Hunter" — A rather sad story about a deaf-mute who in his loneliness touches the lives of many. Compassionate tale is tenderly told and played with rare perception.

BORDERLINE
(Most sources say Adults Only)

"Bonnie and Clude" — Young man teams with pretty waitress; one grand spree. They wantonly kill and rob. Treating armed robbery and coldblooded murder as comedy will offend many people. Explicit sex and sadistict violence are revolting.

"Cool Hand Luke" — A brutal downbeat story about a non-conformist prisoner in a Southern road construction prison camp. Paul Newman is excellent in the title role . . . depressing.

"Night They Raided Minsky's" — Filmed in New York's lower East Side, set in the 1920s, film recreates the burlesque shows with bawdy skits, double entendre and is garnish and at times offensive.

"Rachel, Rachel" — Study of a repressed spinster trying to break out of her barren frustrating existence.

ADULTS ONLY

"Candy" — A 17-year-old girl wanders through a series of sexual adventures with the strangest assortment of characters ever presented on the screen. Massively dull, ugly pornography.

"Faces" — Two middle-aged people find their marriage empty and seek satisfaction elsewhere. Dialogue is pretentious and there is much profanity and sex.

"Joanna" — An amoral girl goes from one affair to another with any man that comes along until she falls in love with a black man. Emphasis on nudity and frank love scenes. Impressive acting.

"Thomas Crown Affair" — Plotting and execution of big bank robbery is ingenious. Criminal and investigator become involved in torrid love affair. Crime pays well in this case. Very modern treatment. All phases of immorality are taken for granted.

College Sets Mardi Gras Week Events

Mardi Gras Spirit Week activities will get under way Monday at the College of Marin and will run through next Friday.

"It is to promote spirit at the college and bring the school and people closer together," reported Ed Stone, chairman. The Interclub Council is sponsor.

Activities next week will include:

Marin Dining And Wining

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Veteran Chinese Chef Will Add His Talents To Eugene's Menu

Chinese food is coming to Eugene's.

Starting next Wednesday, EUGENE'S COUNTRY CLUB RESTAURANT in East San Rafael will serve Chinese dinners from 6 p.m. to midnight Wednesdays through Sundays.

No, EUGENE LACKENBACK won't do the cooking. He's good at his profession, but Chinese food takes a specialist. That specialist is none other than AL LOUIS, who has been known for his Oriental gourmandry around the county for years. The fact is, Al and Gene together boast a total of more than 60 years restaurant experience in Marin, so they should come up with something interesting.

Al started originally with Cliff Cox at the Chateau. For many years he and his brother Joe (who has now retired) were at the old 751 Club in downtown San Rafael. After that closed they moved to Black Point Inn and for the past 15 months have operated at Quan Lin of Marin.

Dinner menu at Eugene's will include the popular family-style Chinese dinners in several low and medium-price ranges, along with a la carte items, lobster tails poached in wine, deep-fried frog legs, abalone steak and prawns, and Eugene's own dinner steaks and hamburgers. Both Eugene and Al will offer their specialized desserts.

IF YOU AREN'T ACQUAINTED with Sausalito restaurants, you may be inclined to pass right by the SEVEN SEAS on the Bridgeway, thinking it is a bar.

If you don't at least investigate what's inside, that's where you make a mistake.

There is a bar, of course. In fact, PAUL DE MOSS started it as a bar many years ago with only occasional food servings. But eventually the food became the chief attraction in a menu made up almost entirely of seafoods.

Paul and his wife Della have had various qualified chefs here to handle the kitchen and I must say I have always found their dinners to be excellent.

Now sharing the kleig lights in the kitchen are WALLY PRICE and ERIC BENSON, well known for their talents at many other Marin restaurants. Such things as oysters on the half shell and cherrystone clams are among the favored items. The bouillabaisse here is a favorite of mine and of a long list of satisfied diners who discovered it before I did.

I think of the Seven Seas as a place where north, south, east and west all meet congenially and on friendly terms. There is nothing quite like it and it's a nice thing to see.

Now being installed is one of NADINE VENDETTI'S "Rollamatic" roofs over the Seven Seas patio, which will make it an all-weather dining room. This device is one of those smooth affairs that glides back and forth at the touch of a button, opening up the ceiling to the sky for ventilation or closing it snugly against the rain and cold when necessary.

Rollamatic installed one at La Petite Auberge in San Rafael and will put in one as part of the remodeling at the Trident in Sausalito. They are also very practical for home patios, by the way.

Anyway, this will add considerably to the year-round seating capacity of the Seven Seas. It's not an inconsequential matter in a restaurant as compact and as well patronized as this one.

AL LOUIE
Due at Eugene's

LOOK SOON for a reopening of the former King Cotton on Francisco Boulevard, East San Rafael.

It will still be a drive-in restaurant, I understand, but the name will be different and there will be some remodeling here.

IN CAZADERO, Sonoma County Cazanoma Lodge starts its season tomorrow. During March and April service is limited to dinners only, three days a week. Friday from 5 p.m., Saturday and Sunday from noon.

May through September it will be open daily.

Menu is German and American and this offers a pleasant motoring trip from Marin. The journey is scenic at any time of the year.

WALTER VAN VECHTEN, who has been a waiter at Rubini's in Fairfax for 10 years and is one of the kindliest persons I know, will be the special guest of Rich King's KFOG radio program Sunday at 10 p.m. He'll discuss the art and tribulations of his profession.

Van, by the way, comes from a family of early Dutch pioneers who settled in the Hudson River Valley of New York. The original family home is now a state museum.

If you like the free-wheeling camaraderie that can only exist around a piano bar, Rubini's is the place to go. There, Lowell Hawk at the keyboard can play at least nine out of 10 requests without looking for the sheet music.

TAKE THE ESCARGOTS at Cafe Bon Vin—

They are prepared differently. No shells. The snails parted with their shells once, so why restore them at the table only to have them removed again? At least, so they reason at Cafe Bon Vin.

They take medium large mushroom caps and scoop out the stem section. The mushrooms are sauteed or poached in Spainish Amontillado and butter. The snails are heated in a sauce which contains only a litttle fresh crushed garlic, sweet butter, chopped parsley and chopped basil — along with imported Dijon mustard. The escargots are nested in the mushroom caps, which are in turn nested in mashed potatoes to soak up the sauce.

Navarin Printanier, a spring lamb and vegetable dish served in France, will be the featured entree at next Wednesday's provincial night here. Make reservations.

THE OPENING of the Kabuki Theater Restaurant in San Francisco's Japanese Cultural and Trade Center tomorrow will highlight a group of Japanese actors making their U. S. debut in the world premiere of "Madame Butterfly."

Also featured is a highly trained all-girl "Spring Revue" from Osaka, also making its western debut. Performances will be twice daily in the new 900-seat theater. Reservations should be made with Kabuki Theater Restaurant, 1881 Post Street, San Francisco. The center offers parking for 800 cars.

GOOD-BYE to an old friend — Leslie Johnston, one-time Marin chef.

Many Marinites will remember him for his brittle and pithy conversation but also for his underlying goodheartedness. What they not know about him is that he was a very learned and well-informed man, in spite of having to give up formal studying after grade school to go to work. It was not until 1965, after he had retired to Santa Cruz that he went to high school and was graduated with honors.

According to his son David, he read every great author translated into English. He knew Chekov and Shakespeare . . . and could expound on the ideas of Mark Twain. In his lifetime he met many famous people and chatted with them on world affairs. Among them were Winston Churchill and Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

In Marin he worked at the Chateau and Marin Golf and Country Club, and I believe some other places. He knew his chosen profession from many angles and I learned much from him.

Last week he left this world in which he was so intensely interested.

Adieu, Les.

Rock-Tossers In Car Break Firm Windows

A car full of tock-tossing youngsters yesterday shattered two large windows, causing $600 in damage at the Redwood Empire Savings and Loan Co., 301 Washington Street, Petaluma, police said.

Company officials said the car drove by at 12:19 p.m. No one in the building was injured.

Candidates Due Preview On Education

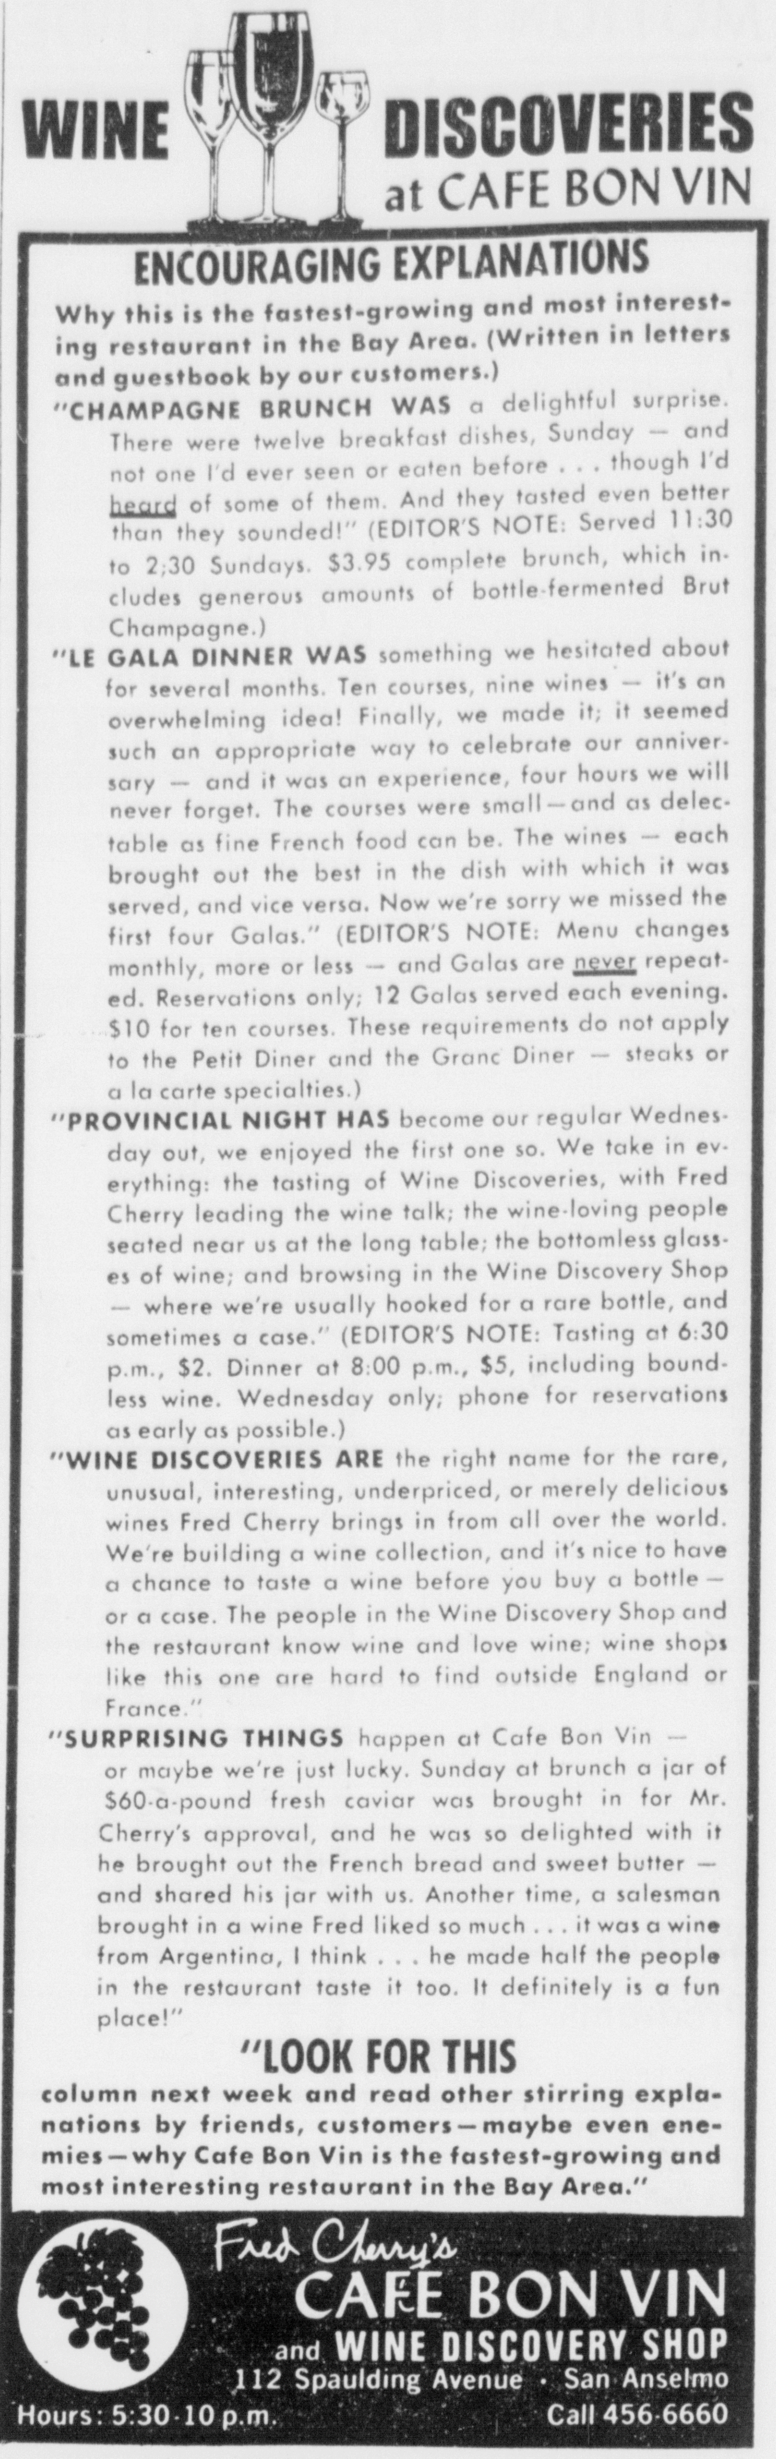
Dr. William Odell, Stanford University professor of Education, will speak to Marin County school district trustee candidates tomorrow on "What We Can Expect in Education in the 70's."

The workshop meeting to enable candidates to gain insight about schools and proposed educational legislation will be from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the Civic Center supervisors chambers. Candidates are running for office on the April 15 ballot.

Other speakers are Dr. Dan Dawson, University of Southern California professor of education speaking on "Employee-employer Relationships in the 70's" and Alvin Yelvington, California School Boards legislative advocate, speaking on "Legislature and Finances '69," Robert E. Spain, director of administrative services at the county schools office, reported.

Stereo, TV Stolen

Burglars took a stereo and television set, valued at $609, from the home of Robert A. Brunner, 500 Throckmorton Avenue, Mill Valley, between 6:30 a.m. and 4:25 p.m. yesterday, police reported.



WINE DISCOVERIES at CAFE BON VIN

ENCOURAGING EXPLANATIONS

Why this is the fastest-growing and most interesting restaurant in the Bay Area. (Written in letters and guestbook by our customers.)

"CHAMPAGNE BRUNCH WAS a delightful surprise. There were twelve breakfast dishes, Sunday — and not one I'd ever seen or eaten before . . . though I'd heard of some of them. And they tasted even better than they sounded!" (EDITOR'S NOTE: Served 11:30 to 2;30 Sundays. $3.95 complete brunch, which includes generous amounts of bottle-fermented Brut Champagne.)

"LE GALA DINNER WAS something we hesitated about for several months. Ten courses, nine wines — it's an overwhelming idea! Finally, we made it; it seemed such an appropriate way to celebrate our anniversary — and it was an experience, four hours we will never forget. The courses were small—and as delectable as fine French food can be. The wines — each brought out the best in the dish with which it was served, and vice versa. Now we're sorry we missed the first four Galas." (EDITOR'S NOTE: Menu changes monthly, more or less — and Galas are never repeated. Reservations only; 12 Galas served each evening. $10 for ten courses. These requirements do not apply to the Petit Diner and the Granc Diner — steaks or a la carte specialties.)

"PROVINCIAL NIGHT HAS become our regular Wednesday out, we enjoyed the first one so. We take in everything: the tasting of Wine Discoveries, with Fred Cherry leading the wine talk; the wine-loving people seated near us at the long table; the bottomless glasses of wine; and browsing in the Wine Discovery Shop — where we're usually hooked for a rare bottle, and sometimes a case." (EDITOR'S NOTE: Tasting at 6:30 p.m., $2. Dinner at 8:00 p.m., $5, including boundless wine. Wednesday only; phone for reservations as early as possible.)

"WINE DISCOVERIES ARE the right name for the rare, unusual, interesting, underpriced, or merely delicious wines Fred Cherry brings in from all over the world. We're building a wine collection, and it's nice to have a chance to taste a wine before you buy a bottle — or a case. The people in the Wine Discovery Shop and the restaurant know wine and love wine; wine shops like this one are hard to find outside England or France."

"SURPRISING THINGS happen at Cafe Bon Vin — or maybe we're just lucky. Sunday at brunch a jar of $60-a-pound fresh caviar was brought in for Mr. Cherry's approval, and he was so delighted with it he brought out the French bread and sweet butter — and shared his jar with us. Another time, a salesman brought in a wine Fred liked so much . . . it was a wine from Argentina, I think . . . he made half the people in the restaurant taste it too. It definitely is a fun place!"

"LOOK FOR THIS column next week and read other stirring explanations by friends, customers—maybe even enemies—why Cafe Bon Vin is the fastest-growing and most interesting restaurant in the Bay Area."

$1.6 Million Budget Eyed By Trustees

Larkspur School District trustees were presented with a preliminary 1969-70 budget of $1,653,000 last night, $7,000 more than the current budget.

No action was taken pending trustees study at future board meetings, Supt. Milton S. Cohen reported.

Cohen said the increase is not one particular item but scattered through the budget.

The Larkspur Teachers Association presented the board with a 20-page negotiation policy statement which the board agreed to study. This year will be the first time the association has entered into active salary negotiations with the board, Cohen explained.

The teachers have not yet submitted a salary request for fiscal 1969-70, which could boost the budget higher.

Trustees approved a summer school program for June 18 to July 18 at Neil Cummins School, headed by Alfred P. Kerr, vice principal at Larkspur-Corte Madera School.

Two new courses set for summer school are Cultural Contributions of Minority Groups and a combination French and German class.

The board accepted resignations of Pam Chollar, Larkspur-Corte Madera School and Carol Cawan, Neil Cummins, half-time kindergarten teachers, effective June 30.

Trustees John W. Boyd and Mrs. Cornelia J. Perrone were absent.

Petaluma Girl Reports Kidnap Try

A colorfully-dressed man attempted to kidnap a 12-year-old Petaluma girl yesterday as she was returning to school after lunch.

The girl told police she was walking on North Webster Street at 12:20 p.m. and noticed a car circling the block several times. When she reached the front of the First Baptist Church at 705 North Webster, the car pulled over to the curb and asked if she could give directions.

The girl said when she got near the car to talk to the man, he grabbed her and tried to force her into the car. In the struggle of breaking away, the girl dropped her umbrella and school books into the car.

The man was described as being between 25 and 35 years old, about 6 feet, 1 inch tall, of slender build and wearing a colorful red and black checkered shirt. She said he was driving a red convertible with a black top.

Police said a woman in the church witnessed the attempted kidnap and helped the girl fight off her assailant.

George J. Cavallero is fire chief of Novato.

Marinite's Ballot Is Bail Bond Vote Key

I-J Special Report

DAVIS — A Marin County resident's vote was decisive last night as the University of California at Davis student legislature narrowly defeated a proposal which would have put the college in the bail bond business.

The university's student legislature defeated the proposal by a 12-11 vote. Freshman legislator Robert Figari of Tiburon cast an important no vote.

Had it been approved, the bill would have created a bail bond fund for U.C. Davis students who were arrested but unable to raise their own bond, the money to come from Associated Students funds.

The proposal called for a maximum of $500 to be made available to a student at no interest if repaid within 60 days.

Although no definite amount was ever established, Figari said that at least $10,000 would have been budgeted for the bail bond fund if approved.

Last week, proponents of the bond fund indicated they would seek a compromise by limiting the use of the money to students arrested in Sonoma, Sacramento and Yolo counties. But last night's bill which finally went to the floor for a vote, contained no such limitation clause.

Figari said that he opposed the bill for two reasons. The main one was the lack of funds available for such a project and the other was that such a fund might force the student legislature into making "political" decisions about what offenses the bond should cover.

He noted that if the money were used to bail out a student arrested while picketing at San Francisco State, the student legislature might be accused of supporting as a body the strike at the campus.

Figari also noted that the student government was already deficit spending for the coming fiscal year and that to provide funds for the bail proposal would mean that money would have to be taken from some other activity.

"When you are talking about tieing up $10,000 of a $200,000 budget, then I think the issue ought to be taken before a vote of the students," Figari said.

Figari said that he expected yet another try for the creating of a bail bond fund with student body money. He indicated, however, that he could not support such an issue no matter how it was worded.

One Nabbed In Bank Robberies

SANTA ROSA (UPI) — Police sought a gunman today after apprehending his partner in the simultaneous robberies of two banks near the Santa Rosa Police Department.

George f. Chatfield, 37, Concord, was captured by police yesterday on a rooftop near the banks. Officers said he had the money taken from one of them.

Authorities said the telephone and burglar alarm wires linking the banks with police were cut in a parking lot adjoining the police station.

The Lincoln National Bank and the Exchange Bank—less than two blocks from each other and the headquarters—were then held up simultaneously.

The FBI said today that $45,000 taken from Exchange Bank was recovered. The gunman who held up Lincoln National and escaped got about $3,600, the FBI said.

Reagan Fills Second Spot On Trustees

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — E. Litton Bivans, 60, of Glendale, has been appointed to the board of trustees of the California State Colleges by Gov. Ronald Reagan. (See also college and trustees stories, page 1.)

The appointment of Bivans and that of William O. Weissich of San Rafael, reported yesterday in the Independent-Journal, thus filled the vacancies left with the expiration of the terms of trustees Louis H. Heilbron of San Francisco and Paul Spencer of San Dimas, Los Angeles County.

Unlike Weissich, who declined to spell out his views of the current crises on the college campuses, Bivans said that "order must be maintained on the campuses. Everyone's opinion should be heard," he said, "but I feel that the colleges have been going in an adverse direction for a long time, through no particular fault of anyone.

"A college should be a quiet institution of learning with a great deal of respect for both administration and the students," he said.

Bivans is a manufacturer of machines to make paper boxes automatically, and is a member of the advisory curriculum committee of Pasadena City College.

Lawmakers, Sonoma College Discuss Goals

Three assemblymen told the Sonoma State College Advisory Board last night that party lines must be crossed to give the state colleges financial aid in capital improvement programs.

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, said that Sacramento is still in the "chess-playing stage" of the session. He would ask his fellow legislators not to try to solve campus disorders "in a bayonet frame of mind," he said, lest "this destroy our great institutions."

Bagley said the proposed withholding of state income taxes might be the answer to the college building problem. He said the withholding system apposed by Gov. Ronald Reagan, would bring an additional $150 million to the state budget which could be earmarked for campus development. (See story on page 2.)

"This would do away with the necessity of large bond issues and put the colleges on that old Republican principle of pay-as-you-go," he said.

Assemblyman John F. Dunlap, D-Vallejo, called for the decentralization of the state college powers. "All of the problems can't be solved in Sacramento, when the local campus must live with the solutions," he said.

He urged that the university regents and state college trustees be taken out of the political arena by removing Gov. Reagan and other elected officials as ex-officio members. "It won't happen this year," he projected, "but it's still a good objective."

Assemblyman Frank P. Belotti, R-Eureka, also called for an increase in aid for college building programs. "It's a sad state of affairs" when a wealthy state like California must turn away qualified students, he said.

Belotti said he was proud that neither college in his district — Sonoma State and Humboldt State — had been plagued by turmoil and pledged assistance in getting increased financial aid.

Hospital Board Compares Equipment Lease, Buying

Hillcrest Hospital directors yesterday considered purchasing or leasing new equipment for the hospital and intensive care unit now under construction.

Mrs. Loree Smith, hospital administrator, said bids were received on air conditioning, but all were rejected because of wide variances in the technical equipment. Mrs. Smith said the board will have an engineer draw up specifications and order it bid again.

The administrator said a new emergency power generator might also be necessary for the enlarged building. She said she would seek consulting opinions and report back to the board.

Mrs. Smith said a new portable X-ray machine will be a definite necessity and placed the cost at more than $7,000. The board will study the option of buying or leasing the machine.

74 Flee Blaze In Apartments

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Seventy-four persons were evacuated from three downtown buildings before dawn today when a three-alarm fire swept through an apartment building at Hyde and Pine streets.

The fire broke out in the second floor of a four-story apartment building about 2:15 a. m. It was brought under control within an hour, causing about $55,000 damage. Investigators said a cigarette dropped into some upholstery apparently caused the blaze.

Chief William Murray ordered all 30 of the building's residents evacuated, as well as eight persons in a neighboring building and 36 student nurses from St. Francis Hospital who live in an adjoining structure.

Cash Register Is Taken From Store

Burglars removed a cash register, check writing machine and a filing cabinet last night from the Lydia Stokes Bake Shop at 117 Shaver Street, San Rafael, police reported.

Mrs. Stokes said $10 cash also was taken. The equipment was valued at $755. The thieves entered by breaking the front door window, police said.

Many Marinites are unaware that there is a conservative Jewish congregation in their midst. But Congregation Kol Shofar has been active since 1962. And it is currently preparing for next week's observance of a festival with special meaning for all Jews—the Purim. Marin Magazine editor Don Keown writes about the congregation and about the Festival of Purim for tomorrow's edition of the I-J's weekend supplement.

A group of San Rafael Boy Scouts have been attending a different kind of school. Their subject—firemanship. And their faculty—the men of the fire prevention bureau of the San Rafael City Fire Department. With the help of photographs taken by the I-J's Jim Kean, the Marin Magazine offers a special report tomorrow on the unusual course and what it has accomplished for the youths who have completed the curriculum.

$67,518 Consultant Fees Ire Bolinas Harbor Foes

NORMAN T. GILROY
His fees an issue

Consultant Norman T. Gilroy has been paid $67,518 in the past three years by the Bolinas Harbor District board, according to a citizen's committee favoring dissolution of the district in the March 11 election. Gilroy's payments in 1968 totaled $28,442, according to a letter sent to district residents yesterday.

Accompanying the letter is an eight-page list of every check paid by the district for the past three years. The committee, which calls itself Citizens for a Sensible Bolinas Harbor, challenged Gilroy's payments as excessive and said they exceed the salary of the San Francisco planning director or the state planning officer.

The letter also challenged "the judgment that sent Mr. Gilroy to Mexico City" along with a Federal employee when a relevant paper read at a symposium there could have been acquired "from the author who lives only a few miles from Bolinas."

Gilroy received a $1,202 check for that trip, $632 of it for travel and expenses and $570 for "coordination."

Gilroy, a Mill Valley architect and planner, receives $15 an hour as consultant to the district, plus a $550 a month fee. He has coordinated multiple scientific studies of the lagoon which are aimed at giving a complete cross-section of its geography, ecology and future as a guide to any development.

Until June 1967, Gilroy received one check per month for all his work. After that date, separate checks were written for each program or phase of work.

Checks for May 1968, showed he received $240 for oceanographic study, $210 for research, $120 for topographic study, $405 for coordination of studies, the $550 monthly fee and $1,425 to produce a report to the California Lands Commission — a total of 160 hours work and $2,950.

The citizens letter also objected to $1,316 spent for harbor commissioners and Gilroy to attend a California Harbors and Watercraft Commission meeting at Catalina Island in October 1967.

In 12 years, the letter charged, the district has "spent or committed at least $317,843" and "not one of the lagoon's problems has been corrected."

The letter also said the ballot proposition for dissolution is conditioned on the district's interests being turned over to Marin County. Without such a provision, control would revert to the lands commission, which empowered the district in 1957 to make "substantial improvements" in the lagoon.

Harbor Fate Discussion Set Tonight

A panel discussion on the proposed dissolution of the Bolinas Harbor District will be held at 8 p.m. today at the Stinson Beach Community Center, sponsored by the Stinson Beach Progressive Club.

The district will vote March 11 on dissolution, which is aimed at turning over control of Bolinas Lagoon development to county government.

Speaking for dissolution will be Erik Lund of Stinson Beach, chairman of a committee working for dissolution, and Peter Kitchell of Bolinas.

Speaking against dissolution will be Don L. Bradley of Bolinas, member of a committee defending the district board, and Philip J. O'Brien of Stinson Beach.

Moderator will be Edward Z. Lewis of Stinson Beach. A question period will follow the panel discussion.

Former Marin County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen led a group of speakers defending the Bolinas Harbor District board before an audience of about 125 Bolinas area residents Wednesday night.

The meeting was called by a citizen's group supporting the board which calls itself the committee to preserve Bolinas Lagoon. No opposing speakers appeared, but opponents yesterday charged they had been given only two hours' notice of the meeting.

Bolinas Community Inc. has postponed its meeting scheduled for tonight until 8 p.m. next Friday, because of the panel discussion at the Stinson Beach Community Center.

Suspect In Credit Card Spree Booked

Deep sleep led to the arrest of a 39-year-old man yesterday in San Anselmo and the recovery of 13 credit cards, believed stolen from a Washington, D. C. resident.

Theodore Wolcott Jr., who gave no address, was booked into Marin County Jail on suspiciion of possessing stolen property and drunkenness with bail set at $6,250.

Sgt. Robert White, on patrol at 3:45 p.m., saw the man slumped over the wheel of a 1969 red Mustang in the Knot Inn parking lot, 300 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Wolcott was taken to the police station where a search revealed the credit cards of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Becker, Washington, D. C., two of the cards reportedly stolen in Aspen, Colo.

Wolcott said he found the cards three weeks ago in an airlines office, according to police

Police checked the car, registered to Hertz Rent-a-Car Co., Millbrae and learned it was to have been returned Feb. 10.

Wolcott was arrested by San Anselmo police Dec. 12, 1967 after which he served time in jail for stealing a car from Long Beach and for writing worthless checks, Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani said.

Lawmakers Warned ABAG Seeks Bill Role

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

BERKELEY — Marin County Supervisor John F. McInnis warned the Legislature today that the Association of Bay Area Governments will push for a big voice in whatever regional government bill is drawn in Sacramento.

"Only city and county people have the experience to say who shall plan these nine counties," McInnis said before the general assembly of the association.

Several legislators have announced plans to sponsor legislation to set up a regional government in the Bay Area without including ABAG's proposal that such a government be runu by city councilmen and county supervisors, the way ABAG is run.

The principal regional government bill is to be introduced Monday by Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, and will propose that the governing board be composed entirely of directors directly elected by the voters.

McInnis conceded that the greater experience of councilmen and supervisors "doesn't make us akin to the lord, but can bring better sense to the region than the theories of others."

His remarks at the semiannual general assembly brought strong applause from the delegates. Delegates from 43 of the 80 cities and seven of the eight counties represented in ABAG were present.

McInnis' remarks were seconded by ABAG's new president, San Aleandro Mayor Jack D. Maltester. "We don't need someone from abvoe telling us how to run our cities and counties," he said.

Proposals by the Legislature for regional government "will be the biggest issue of 1969 for ABAG," Maltester said.

Besides Maltester, Sonoma County Supervisor Ignazio A. Vella also was elected to an ABAG office, that of vice president. ABAG's vice president traditionally steps up the following year to the presidency.

In other business, ABAG's special counsel, Arthur Harris of Berkeley, reported an additional $45,000 of the $511,000 stolen last year by former administrative assistant Thomas N. Truax will be returned to ABAG's treasury next week.

The $45,000 will come from a $50,000 loan taken out by Truax at the San Francisco Savings and Loan Association just before the theft was discovered in February. Truax used an ABAG account as security for the loan and cashed the $50,000 check in a Las Vegas gambling house.

At the request of ABAG, however, the bank stopped payment on the check and Harris negotiated with the bank, gambling house and Internal Revenue Service to recover the money.

With an additional $65,000 recovered last August from the association's bonding company, this brought to $110,000 the amount recovered so far. Harris, noting that virtually all of the $511,000 had been spent by Truax, said, "This obviously made our task a little difficult."

Harris also reported that he expected to get within 30 days "an offer for a substantial cash settlement from other parties involved." He did not elaborate.

Delegates also adopted a $918,815 budget for 1969-70, down $244,316 from the current one. The budget and a schedule of dues for cities and counties were adopted in a unanimous voice vote without discussion.

Dues will total $231,306, down only $3 from this year. Marin County's dues will be $5,082, down from $5,275 and city dues will vary from $80 to $1,124. In Sonoma, the county's dues will be $4,944, down from $5,131.

Santa Barbara Firm Shows Interest In Bolinas Study

A Santa Barbara natural science research institute is interested in establishing an oceanographic study center in the Bolinas area, the Bolinas Harbor District board learned last night.

In a letter to the board, the CIREOS Institute said it was considering a center to serve the San Francisco Bay Area, according to district consultant Norman T. Gilroy.

CIREOS is an acronym for Centers for Interpretation and Research in the Earth and Ocean Sciences.

The center would include research laboratories and lecture and field trip facilities for laymen education programs, Gilroy said.

It would also feature agronmy and mariculture experimental farms, including a tree farm to grow stock for reforestation and land conservation programs, institute directors said in the letter.

As an added feature, the institute offered to manage another tree farm on harbor district property and promised an annual return of $85,000 to the district after the farm is in operation for three years, Gilroy noted.

The board named president Thomas J. Barfield and Commissioner John H. Middleton to investigate the proposal.

The Bolinas Harbor District board also:

LOGGING — Named Middleton and Commissioner Frances B. Stewart to meet with county officials to discuss the proposed county logging control ordinance.

EROSION — Agreed to ask again for federal funds to study ways of correction erosion on the Bolinas cliffs.

TOUR — Set a special meeting for 2:30 p.m. March 7 to guide members of the California Marine Parks and Harbors Association around the lagoon.

Trio Arrested In Marijuana Probe

Three Oakland men were arrested by California Highway Patrol officers at 3:15 a.m. today on suspicion of marijuana possession, after their car was stopped for speeding on Highway 101, south of the Rodeo Avenue turnoff.

Clarence Nash, 26; Nathaniel Blakston Jr., 23, and Rodney Earl Hart, 22, appear today in Marin Municipal Court for arraignment.

FEDERAL CHARGES

Werber Denies Role In Marijuana Import

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Frank Werber, former business manager of the Kingston Trio, pleaded innocent yesterday to a federal indictment charging him with conspiracy to fly 258 pounds of marijuana from Mexico to his Marin County home last fall.

At the same time, federal attorneys indicated that two other Marin men — Stanley Mulligan, 35, of Corte Madera, and Charles P. Barrett, 45, of Sausalito — probably will plead guilty and thus will not go on trial on similar charges.

Mulligan and Barrett, owners of Latitude 38 in Sausalito, were expected to be prosecution witnesses against Werber, who was arrested Oct. 14 at his plush home of DeSilva Island during the alleged narcottcs drop.

U. S. District Judge Albert C. Wollenberg set March 28 for a hearing on a motion by Werber's attorney, Daniel H. Weinstein, to suppress evidence seized in the raid.

Weinstein said narcotics officers acted without a warrant. Officers charged that the marijuana had been delivered to Werber's home after being landed in a private plane at Santa Venetia.

Wollenberg denied a request by Weinstein that the indictment be dismissed on grounds Werber's defense has been prejudiced by false publicity in statements to the press by narcotics officers.

Assistant U. S. Atty. Jerrold Ladar, of Mill Valley, told the judge yesterday he expected Mulligan and Barrett to enter pleas of guilty to charges of smuggling the marijuana from Mexico.

Werber and three others, including a girlfriend, also face a variety of drug charges in Marin Superior Court as a result of the raid.

Werber and Judith Anne Sloper have pleaded innocent to charges that they possessed and grew marijuana at their DeSilva Island home. A jury trial has been set for June 23 for them and the other two charged in the case, Bryce Staples Wilson of Kentfield and Frank J. Mathieson of San Anselmo. Both Wilson and Mathieson have pleaded innocent to a charge of marijuana possession.

Expanding Tri-Partite Panel Asked

The Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District board today recommended expanding the Tri-Partite Transportation committee to include representation from Sonoma and Napa counties.

The board also recommended that Marin's representation on the board be through the Marin Transit District instead of the board of supervisors. The changes were proposed by Michael Wornum, Marin bridge board member, and seconded by Napa board member Lowell Edington.

The board ordered copies of the resolution sent to San Francisco and Marin supervisors.

Edington said if the tri-partite board is to take over transit in the entire Highway 101 corridor, he favored broader-based representation.

Army Snags Plans For Bike Trail

The Army has thrown a monkey wrench in plans for a San Francisco-Marin bicycle trail, a member of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District board said today.

John Dearman said the Army has denied permission to use roads in the Presidio of San Francisco or Fort Baker for the trail network on grounds it would be dangerous to cyclists.

The Army suggested an off-road route through the Presidio instead, which Dearman said would cost "hundred of thousands of dollars."

Dearman said the unexpected Army objection might be tied to the recent mutiny trial at the Presidio and said perhaps the Army feels cyclists are the type of people who might take part in sit-ins or demonstartions.

Earlier indications from Army officers had been favorable to the bike trail. The City of San Francisco has outlined a bike trail which ends at 25th Avenue at the Presidio.

Dearman said the bridge district is ready to establish a bicycle route along the bridge's west sidewalk, but the Army's action will stall the trail project.

Speech Contest Winner Listed

Cathy McClelland of San Anselmo was winner in the Corte Madera Lions Club speech contest held last night at the Corte Madera Recreation Center.

She competed with fellow Marin Catholic High School students Claudia Little of Kentfield, runnerup, and Cathy Paulist of San Anselmo. The students spoke on "The Hopes and Fears of Youth Today."

Miss McClelland will next compete in a regional contest, according to Paul Blissenbach, Marin Catholic student.

Novato Students Booked On Dope

A 15-year-old Novato High School girl was arrested yesterday after, police say, she "shot speed" on the high school campus.

Two teen-age boys, were arrested on suspicion of furnishing the drug methamphetamine. Two other 15-year-old girls, who acted as lookouts, according to police, were turned over to juvenile authorities.

What the five students did not realize as they stood on the edge of the school grounds just before 8 a.m. yesterday, was that a person in a nearby house had seen them.

Gary Renaud, 17, of 190 San Jose Drive, Hamilton Air Force Base, booked into juvenile hall on suspicion of furnishing and administering a dangerous drug, both felonies.

Larry Collins, 16, of 7 Eglin Drive on the base was charged with furnishing and possessing a dangerous drug and possession of narcotics paraphernalia.

The 15-year-old girl who received the drug injection was lodged in juvenile hall on suspicion of being under the influence of a dangerous drug.

Two other 15-year-old girls who, police say, served as lookouts during the drug administration were booked as accessories to administering a dangerous drug and released to their parents.

Of the five teen-agers arrested, all except one lookout reside at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Sgt. R. Richard Courier said that as a result of interogation yesterday Renaud was also booked for investigation of furnishing a drug in another case late last month. He allegedly supplied mescaline pills to two teen-age boys who were taken to Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital suspected of being under the influence of a dangerous drug.

All five have been suspended from the school, said principal Stanley Onderdonk. He said he would recommend to the school board that at least the three in juvenile hall be expelled for the remainder of the school year. The principal has the power to suspend students for up to 20 days, but the board must decide on expelling students.

"When they come to school prepared to do something such as that, we do not want them associating with the rest of the students," Onderdonk said.

Target Board Incumbents Are Re-Elected

All seven incumbents were re-elected and four new members chosen yesterday to the Marin City Target Area board.

Top vote-getter was incumbent Minnie Domino, who received 162 votes. Two hundred votes were cast in all, the Marin City Economic Opportunity Council office reported.

Others elected were Frank Phillips, 156 votes; Rogers Jones and Rev. Loverd Howard (a new member), 144; Eloise Brown, Sammie Helms and Mary Freeman (new members), 140; Elihu H. Johnson and Arthur Miller, 130; Allen Brooks (new member), 127, and Alice Ruth Curry (new member), 126.

Other vote totals in the 17-candidate field were Mary Lee Brooks, 76; Shirley Shaver, 34; Beverly Tasby, 57; C. J. Williams, 68; Daniel Winters, 71, and Cheryl K. Wyatt, 30.

The new members will be sworn in when the board meets at 8 p.m. Monday at the Manzanita Center.

Hickel Asks Offshore Water Help

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Interior Walter J. Hickel urged today tougher legislation to protect offshore waters from any pollution including oil that recently contaminated miles of California beaches.

He said legislathon should include all hazardous substances as well as oil and require firms to assume full responsibility for any pollution.

"I believe," he told a Senate public works subcommittee, "that we must take a tough responsible stand by placing the cost of clean-up operations in the hands of those whose activities brought about the possibility of damaging our environment."

Following the disastrous oil well leak in the Santa Barbara Channel off the California coast, Hickel issued a directive placing full responsibility on oil firms for pollution from offshore drilling operations.

He said today such responsibility also should be required of ship sand firms involved in handling hazardous substances other than oil.

"Because of increasing activities on and along our waterways," Hickel said, "it is reasonable to expect that the opportunity for mishap will increase in the future.

New Oil Leak Appears Slowing

SANTA BARBARA (UPI) — A fresh flow of crude oil from beneath an offshore drilling platform slowed yesterday but crews today still were attempting to seal the leak.

The new leak came from one of five wells put into production on the platform to relieve underground pressures which apparently caused seepage of raw petroleum through fissures in the ocean floor.

Union Oil Co. workers today prepared to pump drilling mud and cement into the bottom of the 3,000-foot hole to plug the flow which initially formed an eight mile long slick Tuesday.

Rohnert Park Crime Rate Up

The annual report of the Rohnert Park Public Safety Department shows and increase of 7 per cent in crimes reported, but a decrease of 8 per cent in fire calls.

Bradley W. Koch, director of public safety, said the crime rate increase was matched by an increase of 7 per cent in arrests. He said the increase was less in previous years but said that the high statewide crime increase in 1968 did not apply to his city of 5,500.

Juvenile crime grew by 4 per cent, with most in the misdemeanor category.

In fire calls, 23 were recorded in 1968, down three from 1967. With only one of the 23 involving a structure fire, damage and loss was reported as minor. He said the department answered 32 ambulance calls, identical to 1967.

Driver Is Fair From Car Crash

Ralph C. Kenny, 38, of Los Angeles, was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with a broken right hip suffered when his car went over an embankment off Highway 101 in San Rafael yesterday, the California Highway Patrol said.

Kenny told the highway patrol another car cut in front of him near the Lincoln Avenue overcrossing at 9 p.m., forcing him to swerve. His car hit the center guard rail and then went over the bank.

Motorcycle Stolen

Stefan Garfield reported to San Anselmo police yesterday that someone stole his locked 1969 Harley Davidson motorcycle Wednesday night from his home at 121 Humboldt Avenue.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Headache Not A Disease But An Indication Of Troubles

VAN DELLEN

Headache is not a disease but an indication of a disturbance within the head or in other organs or systems within the body. It may also stem from personality problems or the environment.

The phenomenon may be associated with almost any disorder, such as infection, high blood pressure, eye disease, brain tumor, or anxiety.

THE MOST AMAZING aspect of head pain is that brain tissue is practically painless except for the blood vessels. Dilatation or stretching of the cranial vessels hurts, possibly because the enlarged artery stretches sensitive nerves in its wall. In contrast the tissues outside the skull are very sensitive.

Sustained contractions of the muscles of the neck and scalp are a common source of "pains in the head." Physical and emotional tension are likely causes.

When driving all day, it is easy to "set" the muscles of the neck and scalp until they cause distress. If the roads are hazardous and driving is nervewracking, psychological pressure could have the same effect. Initially, there may be a drawing sensation or a stiffness of the neck leading to an ache that spreads over the scalp and into the forehead.

THE HEADACHE that follows a trying experience or considerable stress may not develop until the upheaval is over. This explains many of the week-end or Sunday headaches among the tense and overworked. Worriers are tense even when sleeping, they wake up with head pain. A few aspirin and relaxation relieve the distress.

Migraine is less common and is an example of a vascular headache that stems from dilated and distended vessels. Pain is one-sided, throbbing, and may be associated with nausea and vomiting. Attacks may last for minutes or continue for days. Cluster-type migraine is of short duration but hits several times a day.

MIGRAINE MAY respond to ordinary pain-killers, but ergotamine, especially with cafergot, is a more specific remedy because it constricts the blood vessels. Methysergide prevents recurrences, but the drug must be used cautiously, because of side effects.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

WHAT GRANDMOTERS SAY

Mrs. A. writes: When my children come down with colds, the maternal grandparents say give them ice cream and some others say not to give anything cold with a cold. I would like your opinion.

REPLY

I'm biased because I like ice cream and cold drinks. The temperature of fluid and foods has no effect upon the infection but I always have found that cold has a soothing effect upon a sore throat.

PAINLESS CHILDBIRTH

Mrs. W. writes: Are there dangers associated with painless childbirth?

REPLY

Not so far as the mother is concerned, but when she is given an anesthetic, the unborn baby also is affected. He may come into the world so groggy that it is difficult to get him to breathe.

BREECH BIRTH AND MENTALITY

Mrs. E. writes: If a baby is born feet first, will his mentality be affected?

REPLY

No. Less than 4 per cent of babies come into the world via breech or transverse delivery; 90 per cent arrive head first.

INGUINAL HERNIA

M. S. writes: Does hernia surgery cause sterility in a man?

REPLY

No, assuming the operation is done properly.

Attorney Wins Distinguished Service Award

Attorney James A. Duckworth was the winner last night of the Novato Jaycees' ninth annual distinguished service award for community work.

A plaque was presented to Duckworth at a dinner at the Moose Lodge. He was active in Western Weekend and in the campaign for Novato's street bond issue last year.

The Jaycees also presented their first "boss" award to Edward W. Adams, director of the Novato Parks and Recreation Department, whose employee, Gary Howell, was master of ceremonies for the dinner and its publicity chairman.

The dinner speaker was Ernest Lewis of Concord, former state Jaycee chairman. His topic was youth involvement in today's world.

Pot Accusation Is Filed Again

A charge of marijuana possession was re-filed yesterday by the Marin County district attorney's office against Michael John Holloman, 19, of Terra Linda, who was dismissed after a preliminary hearing Wednesday.

Holloman's co-defendant in the case, Willard Gary Biesinger, 18, also of Terra Linda, was bound over to Superior Court on the same charge.

The two youths were arrested Jan. 3 in a car on Lucas Valley Road.

Black Panthers Visit Olympia

OLYMPIA, Wash. (UPI)—A group of 12 Seattle Black Panthers, wearing black berets, dropped by the state capitol yesterday to "address the Senate, primarily on world and national problems."

They were met by 32 state troopers, wearing helmets, who informed the visitors the Senate had already adjourned for the day.

Three of the Panthers, including leader Aaron Dixon, browsed through the legislative halls while the rest of the group remained in cars outside. Dixon indicated the Panthers might drop by again today.

State Campground Reservations Going

Mail your reservations now if you plan to use state campgrounds for a summer vacation, the state Department of Parks and Recreation has warned.

Reservations must be made directly to the park and must include the camping fee plus a $1 reservation charge. Some coast and central-state parks already are booked solid for Easter, Memorial Day, Independence Day and Labor Day holidays, the department notes. A list of state parks is available at each park, or by writing the California Department of Parks and Recreation, P. O. Box 2390, Sacramento, 95811.

Murray Wins Release Hearing

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—George Mason Murray, the Black Panther minister of education whose probation was revoked last Friday, will get a habeas corpus hearing on his bid for release from jail.

Superior Court Judge Harry J. Neubarth granted today's hearing to Murray, 23, and an ex-English teacher at San Francisco State College whose suspension was one of the causes of the present student strike.

Murray's lawyer, Franklyn Brann, contends his client should be released because Municipal Court Judge Albert Axelrod did not put the conditions of Murray's probation in writing, and therefore, had no authority to cancel it.

Motorcycle Rider Hurt In Collision

Rohry T. Mangan, 16, of 1486 South Novato Boulevard, Novatp, was treated for scrapes on his hand and leg Wednesday at the Kaiser Hospital in Terra Linda, the hospital reported.

Mangan, riding a motorcycle eastward on Diablo Avenue at George Street at 3 p.m. collided with a westbound car making a left turn, Novato police reported. The driver of the car, Mrs. Betty Jane Neuman, 45, of 721 De Long Avenue, Novato, was cited for failure to yield the right of way, according to police reports.

Conviction Again In Murder Case

LOS ANGELES (AP) —Jesse James Gilbert has been convicted again of first-degree murder after his first conviction led to a landmark U.S. Supreme Court decision and was overturned by the California Supreme Court.

A six-man, six-woman jury retrying the case found him guilty yesterday of the murder of an Alhambra policeman, Sgt. George Davis, during a gun battle after a bank robbery.

The high court ruled in 1967 that Gilbert's rights were violated when he was not advised he could have an attorney present during a police lineup. The California Supreme Court subsequently reversed the conviction and ordered the new trial.

Fresno Council Names First Negro Panelist

FRESNO (AP) — Mrs. Feltus Sterling was appointed to the Fresno City Council yesterday and became the first Negro and only the second woman to sit on the city's governing body.

Mrs. Sterling fills the vacancy created when Ted Wills stepped up to the mayor's post. Wills became mayor following the resignation of Floyd Hyde, who accepted an appointment as an assistant secretary in the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Mrs. Sterling's appointment was the second made by the council. Last week the council appointed Mrs. Dorothy Ethridge, also a Negro, to the post, only to learn an hour later she did not meet residency requirements.

Mrs. Sterling will serve on the council until April when a new council member will be elected for a full four-year term.

Lew Wins Honors

NEW YORK (AP) —Lew Alcindor, UCLA's 7-foot-1½ three-time All-American, was named the 1969 college basketball Player of the Year by The Associated Press today for the second time in his three varsity seasons.

Alcindor, who reportedly will command as high as a million dollar bonus to turn pro after his graduation this year, won by a landslide in the annual voting by sports writers and broadcasters.

Alcindor, beaten out for Player of the Year honors last year by Elvin Hayes of Houston after Houston had snapped UCLA's 47-game winning streak, was in no danger this time.

Expected to lead UCLA to an unprecedented third straight national title in the NCAA tourney in March, Alcindor polled 226 votes in the balloting conducted as a separate category with that for the All-American team. Some of the 339 who voted for the A-A skipped the Player of the Year category.

Spencer Haywood, the U.S. Olympic star now a sophomore at the University of Detroit, was third with 16 points. Rick Mount of Purdue was fourth with nine. Jo-Jo White of Kansas and Charlie Scott of North Carolina tied for fifth with five votes each.

Rounding out the Top Ten for Player of the Year honors were Dan Issel of Kentucky with four, Calvin Murphy of Niagara and Bobby Smith, of Tulsa, each three, and Bud Ogden of Santa Clara, two. Rex Morgan, of Jacksonville, Fla. University got one vote.

Joining Alcindor and Maravich on the 1969 All-American team, announced yesterday, were Haywood, Mount and Murphy. (See All-American list on page 40.)

Doral Open Two-Way Tie

MIAMI (AP) — Tom Shaw says he'll sell his golfing secret to Arnold Palmer for a couple of airplanes. After Shaw's record-matching, first-round 65 at the Doral Open Golf Tournament, Arnie might just accept the offer.

The 26-year-old blond wit from Golf, Ill., has not only won more money than Palmer on the tour this year, but he left Arnie and the other big names far behind as he moved into today's second-round lead in the $150,000 tournament tied with steady veteran Dan Sikes. Palmer shot a 68 over the 7,028-yard par 72 Doral layout in this first stop on pro golf's rich Florida tour.

Sikes, 38, known as the Florida Chicken Baron because of his Florida fried chicken drive-ins, and Shaw, who says his golfing motto is "60 anything," each fashioned 31-34-65s yesterday to tie the tournament record last matched by defending champion Gardner Dickinson.

Shaw, looking for his first victory after six years on the tour, credited his performance to longer drives and a shorter haircut. Shaw said he's added 10 to 15 yards off the tee.

"If I knew my secret, I'd sell it to Palmer for a couple of airplanes," he joked. "Maybe it's my hair."

Shaw said Jack Tuthill, the PGA tournament director, chided him into shortening his beach-boy haircut Wednesday.

Sikes, a former U. of Florida golf star, considers last month's California and Arizona tournaments just a warmup for the Florida tour.

66 fired by Australian Bruce Devlin and the 67s by veteran Tommy Aaron and South Africa's Harold Henning.

Dickinson shot a 71, Nicklaus an even-par 72 and two-time Doral winner Doug Sanders, who first set the 18-hole record and also holds the 274 Doral record for 72 holes, soared to a 74.

Doral's $30,000 first prize has drawn a field of 147 which includes most of pro golf's top names, with the exception of Gene Littler, this year's leading money winner; Billy Casper, Doral's other two-time winner, and U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino.

The field will be cut to the low 70s and ties after today's round.

Shaw finished eighth in the Los Angeles Open last month and has played well enough in the other 1969 tournaments to win almost $9,300.

Hail Or High Water, Road Show Will Go On

Come hail or high water — a likelihood, by the weigh — the new Sears Point International Raceway in southern Sonoma County will launch its 1969 racing program on schedule March 8-9 with a National Open Drag Race sponsored by the National Hot Rod Association.

JAMES R. COLEMAN

That was the word yesterday from Sears Raceway vice president and general manager James R. Coleman of Kentfield who told a San Francisco press conference: "Without much cooperation from the man upstairs, we are not quite as far along as we hoped to be, but we will open on schedule. We're going about this racing facility in a professional manner and what we have done so far we have done well."

The "man upstairs" has turned the unpaved sections of the raceway into a veritable quagmire and Coleman admitted parking "could be a nightmare" until spectator parking areas, which eventually will accommodate upwards of 15,000 cars, dry out. The turfed main parking lot for more than 6,000 autos is under water and won't be useable for the opening drag attraction nor the Sports Car Club of America's National Championship Points Race March 29-30.

Grandstands Going Up

The 43-year-old Coleman, a real estate developer, said the 4,800-seat permanent grandstand is being erected and will be ready for the opener, but the permanent rest rooms and concession stands won't be completed in time for the first two events. Thus, the crowds will have to rough it in portable biffies. "We anticipate our problems at first," he said, "so we're approaching the first two events with an apologetic and negative attitude."

The drag strip and hilly 2.5-mile, 12-turn road racing circuit will accommodate all types of automotive events, including championship cars, late model stock cars, sports cars and motorcycles. It is located on 640 acres in a natural amphitheater in the southwest junction of highways 37 and 121. Another problem will be traffic control because 121 is a two-lane road, but Coleman said, "On race days we will be able to effectively convert it into three lanes with paved shoulders. The highway patrol and sheriff's departments of Marin and Sonoma counties have been just neat cooperating with us on traffic planning."

82,000 At One Time

Steven F. Castoldi, San Francisco Region manager for SCCA, offered: "The Sears traffic control problem is nothing compared to the problems they have at Laguna Seca and Riverside."

Sears Raceway President Robert D. Marshall Jr., San Rafael attorney, refused to speculate on the size of crowds the west's newest raceway ultimately will accommodate for big events, but Coleman said: "Riverside Raceway has drawn 82,000 for a single event. Use that figure if you wish."

The facility will get a good test for its inaugural event because drag races always draw well. "We have 400 entries so far and expect 700," said Coleman. Thus, if only the drivers show up they're assured of a good crowd. Admission to the drag races will be $3 per person on Saturday and $4 Sunday. The March 29-30 SCCA event will cost you $5 for both days. Sears Point had guaranteed a $15,000 minimum purse for the national drag race, but contingency money from various automotive companies will swell that kitty considerably.

Could Be $7 Million Project

Marshall and fellow directors Coleman and William C. Murray of San Francisco said they already have "sunk" (pardon the seasonal expression) more than $1 million into the facility, but added it will eventually cost "between $5 million and $7 million." Improvements, they said, will include all underground communications systems, two-story drag tower with a TV camera deck complete with computerized timing system, landscaped spectator areas. Future plans include a three-story road racing tower with TV deck, pedestrian overpass across Highway 121, and public restaurant.

Also comtemplated are a golf course, skeet and trap shooting range and motel.

A 20-minute drive from San Rafael, it's a real gas of a facility and a welcome addition to the North Bay.

Redwood Vs. Novato In Big Windup

Final Night Of Prep Cage League Action

The big one tonight in the Marin County Athletic League's final night of basketball action is Redwood at Novato High School—and this one is for all the marbles, a last chance for Novato, a last step for Redwood.

Oddly enough, there are three other games being played on the same night—Terra Linda seeks to avenge a loss when it hosts Drake, San Marin is at Tamalpais in Mill Valley and San Rafael visits Marin Catholic in Kentfield. All games start about 8:30, following 7 o'clock junior varsity games.

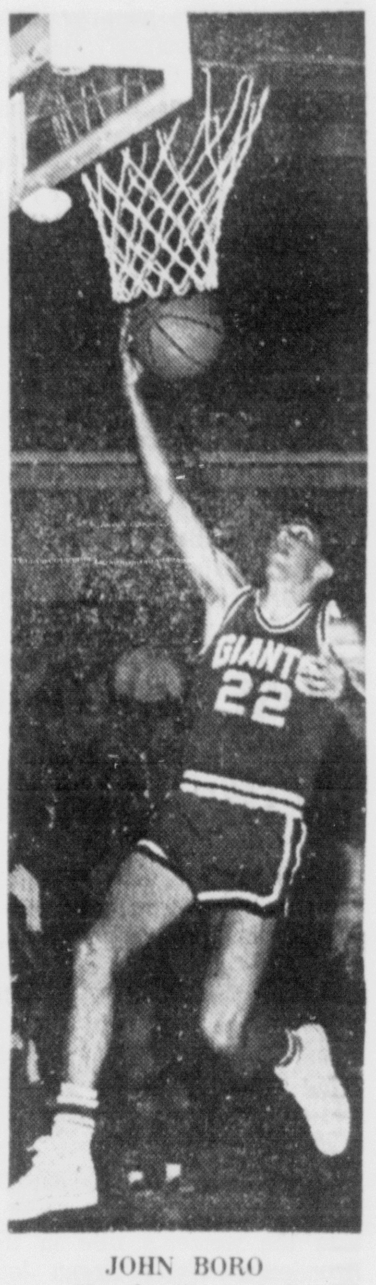
Redwood and Novato are obviously Marin's finest clubs. Their records speak for themselves. Redwood has a 12-1 won-lost record in league, 22-4 on the season; Novato is 11-2 in league, 22-6 on the season.

But at stake, records and all, is the title, all of it for Redwood or a piece of it for Novato, and a trip to the Tournament of Champions.

Redwood can get the TOC berth by winning tonight; Novato can get it by beating the Giants, then doing it again in a playoff.

Superior depth, outstanding shooting and speed are the big Redwood advantages. Coach Dick Hart's Giants shot 54 per cent in whipping the Hornets at Larkspur, 78-63, and they're hitting 45 per cent on the season, sparked by Jerry Piro, John Boro and Roger Smith, three of the finest shooters in the league. The bench is long and deep and Piro leads one of the busiest fast breaks around.

The Giants also have height in a pair of 6-foot-6ers, Pete Webb and Bill Challender.



JOHN BORO
Hot-shooting guard

To stop all that, the Hornets will have to play defense, something nobody has been doing in the league this year. Coach Bill Aires could try to slow things down, although his offense is nobody's weak sister. The Hornets have scored 169 points in their last two games, spearheaded by Steve McNally and Ed Herrnberger.

Two win streaks are on the line — 12 in a row by Redwood, seven in a row by Novato.

A matchup of opponents won't get you much either. Redwood lost to San Rafael but blasted the Bulldogs by 28 points the second time around. Novato had trouble both times with San Rafael, losing in overtime and taking a two-point verdict. Both teams have lamblasted Marin Catholic, Drake and San Marin, but Novato has had it fairly easy against tough Terra linda, while Redwood had a close call against the Trojans.

In the other games, the hot Trojans, despite a disappointing loss to Redwood, will try to sock it to the Pirates, who snared an upset win the last time around. The Trojans in the space of two games scored 99 points in one, came close to achieving a stunning upset in the other.

Tamalpais, slumping badly, still should have enough to take San Marin, especially on the Indians' own court.

Willie Booms In Camp

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. (UPI) —Three swings; two balls against the distant outfield fences and the third out of sight.

That's how No. 24, Willie Mays, started his first day in the San Francisco Giants' spring training camp yesterday.

He arrived too late for the daily calesthenics ritual but in time to sign his fourth straight $125,000-a-year contract and take three cuts in the batting cage.

The first ball he hit banged against the right field wall 360 feet from home plate, the next went 365 feet to left and the third sailed over the center field barrier at the 425-foot mark.

Actually, Mays, who will be 38 years old in May, did not affix his signature to a contract.

The star centerfielder met briefly with San Francisco general manager Chub Feeney, who merely said, "He's agreed, but not signed."

The reason for that was because no contract form was available in camp. Outfield hopeful Ken Henderson had just inked the last pact when Mays arrived. Needless to say, Henderson signed for a sum considerably less than Mays.

8-Event Schedule For Sears Point

SAN FRANCISCO — Directors of new Sears Point International Raceway yesterday announced a basic eight-event schedule of races for 1969, opening with the National Hot Rod Association's $15,000 National Open Drag Race March 8-9.

William C. McCormick Jr. of San Francisco, vice president and competition director for the southern Sonoma county raceways at Highways 37 and 121 emphasized that the schedule is "subject to supplementation at a later date."

FIRST ONE

First sports car event is the national championship points race March 29-30, sponsored by the Sports Car Club of America.

McCormick said the remainder of the basic schedule is: April 19-20 — Super Stock Drag Meet; June 21-22 — Continental Championship Series Race for Formula Cars; July 19-20 — SCCA National Championships Points Races; Sept. 6-7 — 125-mile National Road Race sponsored by the American Motorcycle Association; Setp. 20-21 — SCCA's Trans-American Sedan Series Event; Nov. 29-30 — 10th annual four-hour SCCA Endurance Race.

ATTRACTIONS

McCormick said the Continental Championship for Formula cars June 12-21 and the Trans-American featuring "Pony cars like the Mustang, Camaro, Javelin, Firebird, Cougar" will be the top crowd attractions. "Those type races appeal to everyone," he said. "They're strictly for professional drivers."

The competition director said, "We are negotiating for other events and there is a possibility we will have a late model NASCAR event." NASCAR is the National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing, Inc.

INTRODUCED

Introduced at a press conference yesterday were Robert D. Marshall Jr., San Rafael attorney and resident of Laguna Ranch near Pt. Reyes Station; James R. Coleman of Kentfield, vice president and general manager; William C. Murray of San Francisco, vice president and financial manager; and John C. Brawner of Belmont, treasurer.

Jack Cameron of Napa is the facility's drag strip manager; Mike Metcalf of Lafayette, press relations director; Pat Flagerman of San Anselmo, track superintendent; and Ed Hickerson, San Anselmo, concession manager.

Bruins Bomb Seals 9-0 Behind Super Esposito

OAKLAND (UPI) — The only thing the Oakland Seals have to say to the Boston Bruins is: don't hurry back.

The Eastern Division club bid farewell for the campaign to Oakland last night with a resounding 9-0 victory as Phil Esposito showed the way on a goal and two assists in raising his season point production total to a National Hockey League record-tying 97 points.

The 97 point total rolled up by Esposito—with 14 games still left on the Bruin schedule—ties him with Bobby Hull and Stan Mikita, both boomers with the Black Hawks of Chicago.

The Bruins got off to a slow, 1-0 start last night on Eddie Westfall's goal with an assist from Boston goalie Ed Johnston at 2:55.

Johnston cleared the puck over to Westfall who took it all the way in, firing a 30-footer past Oakland rookie goalie Chris Worthy. But Boston exploded in the final two periods, scoring four times in each stanza. Eddie Shack and Johnny Bucyk each scored a pair with the latter's coming within 34 seconds of each other.

In addition to Esposito's 37th goal of the season, Ken Hodge, Bobby Orr and John McKenzie tallied to round out the scoring.

The Bruins took the season Western Division record against eastern opponents, 13-17-3.

14 Hardy Women In Golf Tourney

Fourteen hardy women finished nine holes of golf yesterday in the Marin Country Club Women's Golf Club's regular and rain-soaked tournament with Mrs. G. E. Pearson taking top honors on a net 38 score.

Second was Mrs. Charles Gondak, 39½, followed by Mesdames Paul Williams, 40; E. N. Dawson, 40, and Warren Betts, 41½.

Cadet Cagers Lose

San Rafael Military Academy's basketball team dropped a 76-42 Bay Counties League game to Lick-Wilmerding in San Francisco yesterday. Bill Lakes topped the Cadets with 24 points.

Nine A's Listed Missing

MESA, Ariz. (AP) — The Oakland Athletics opened spring training yesterday with nine regulars missing, including at least three holdouts.

The dissatisfied trio are pitcher Chuck Dobson, right fielder Reggie Jackson and center fielder Rick Monday.

Others were missing for various reasons, including an annual military stint for rookie pitcher Warren Bogle.

Right-hander Dobson, 12-14 last year, is reported wanting $5,000 added to his 1968 pay of $15,000. He's in the area, ready to talk contract with owner Charles O. Finley, who was expected to arrive overnight.

Jackson, who hit 29 home runs — fourth best in the American League—and had a .250 average, is understood to want his $10,000 boosted to $23,000. He lives in nearby Tempe.

Jim "Catfish" Hunter, the A's player representative for the recent pension negotiations, is en route to camp.

Other regulars who missed the first full day of training are infielder Sal Bando, Dick Green and John Donaldson, Ramon Webster and outfielder Joe Nossek.

Pitcher Lew Krause, who came to camp Tuesday, left for his Chester, Pa., home to be with his father, Lew Krause Sr. who is in a hospitalthere after suffering a severe heart attack. The father, an A's scout, pitched for the A's when they were in Philadelphia.

Family Doubles Tennis Tourney

Some 50 team entries are set to go at 9 a.m. tomorrow in the 15th annual California State Family Doubles Tennis Tournament at San Domenico School for Girls in San Rafael.

The tournament, with competition in six events, is set for two consecutive weekends, with action tomorrow and Sunday and again March 7 and 8.

Events slated for the tournament are father-son, husband-wife, mother-son, mother-daughter, father-daughter and sister-brother.

Casa Grande Showplace Of The Cactus League

CASA GRANDE—Horace Stoneham is the pioneer founder of the Cactus League. He led his Giants out of Florida to Arizona in 1947. Now, two decades later, the Cactus League is soundly established with seven big league teams.

Cactus League membership increased from four to seven teams this spring. The Oakland Athletics moved to Mesa. And the recent expansion of the major leagues to 12 teams each gave the Cactus League two new clubs, the San Diego Padres at Yuma and the Seattle Pilots at Tempe.

Ever since they moved west, the Giants have made their main camp in Phoenix, training the first 10 days each spring at Casa Grande, a $3 million minor league base for the club's farm teams which boast the most luxurious headquarters in baseball, including a showplace seven-story hotel and adjacent two-story motel units.

THE CLEVELAND Indians at Tucson, the Chicago Cubs at Scottsdale and the California Angels at Palm Springs are the other members of the Cactus League which claims it has better conditioning weather than Florida's Grapefruit League. Naturally, the Grapefruit League insists it is the other way around.

Stoneham is convinced Arizona's salubrious spring weather is the reason why clubs training the the desert get off to flying starts.

"THE GIANTS have a history of breaking rapidly," said Stoneham. "So have the Indians from their Tucson base. In 1966 the Indians started by winning 10 straight. It looked like they were never going to stop."

Leo Durocher believes Arizona's Valley of the Sun is ideal for a spring training camp. Durocher's Chicago Cubs are encamped in the heart of the valley at Scottsdale.

"THE ONLY time I can recall the Giants not getting off well was when I managed them in 1951," Durocher said. "Del Webb wanted to bring the New York Yankess to Phoenix, so Horace Stoneham swapped camps.

"We went to St. Petersburg. We won opening day and then lost 10 straight. We straightened out, however, for 1951 was the year Willie Mays came along."

CLYDE KING, new rookie manager of the Giants who spent his first spring in Arizona last year when he managed the club's Phoenix farm team, said he already is convinced Arizona weather tops Florida.

"This is my second spring in Arizona after 23 years in Florida," said King. "There's less rain here. I remember one year in Florida when I was with Cincinnati that we got aboard the private plane of the Dodgers and flew to Havana with them for a series of exhibition games. It rained five straight days in Florida after we took off."

WES WESTRUM was asked whether he felt training conditions in Arizona were superior to Florida.

"I guess the best answer to that is the fact that I moved my home to Pheonix," said the ex-catcher of the Giants who now is one of their coaches.

East German Blonde Wins Skating Title

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — The women's championship in world figure skating has gone out of the United States for the first time in four years, but a 20-year-old Detroit star, Tim Wood, is favored to bring the men's crown back to this country after a 10-year absence.

Gabriele Seyfert, 20-year-old blonde from East Germany, won the women's title in the Broadmoor World Arena last night despite a fall during her otherwise beautiful free skating performance. She also is the European champion.

Another round of free skating tonight will decide the championship among 18 men skaters from 10 nations. The ice dancing event will close the competition tomorrow night.

Peggy Fleming, a Winter Olympics gold medal winner for the United States, and Austria's Emmerich Danzer turned professional last year after each has won three world championships in a row.

A 17-year-old Austrian girl, Beatrice Schuba, who beat Miss Seyfert in the compulsory figures earlier this week, finished second in the over-all standings.

The glamorous East Gearman champion was picked first in free skating by all nine judges for the best possible ordinal score of nine. She racked up a total of 2795.5 points to 2709.4 for Miss Schuba.

A pretty 18-year-old Hungarian, Isuisa "Susie" Almassy, finished third with 2704.6.

The best of the Americans was 17-year-old Julie Lynn Holmes a Colorado College freshman from South Pasadena, who finished fourth ahead of the U.S. and North American title winner, 15-year-old Janet Lynn of Rockford, Ill.

Miss Holmes, her brunette beauty accented by costume of schocking pink, skated flawlessly for 2696.2 points to 2663.4 for the little blonde from Illinois.

Richey Wins

CURACAO, Netherlands Antilles (AP) — Cliff Richey of San Angelo, Tex., defeated Ove Bengtsson of Sweden 6-4, 6-2 in a second-round match of an international tennis tournament last night.

Surfing Champs

LIMA, Peru (AP) — Mike Doyle of Ensentias Del Mar, Calif., and Susy Dyson of Peru won the tandem event in the international surfing tournament last night.

When Bill Mazeroski of the Pittsburgh Pirates led the major leagues in assists at second base last year, he set a major league record. It was his ninth time as leader in assists.

Scoring Crown At Stake

There's more than a league championship at stake when Novato and Redwood high schools settle the issue of the Marin County Athletic League basketball title at Novato High at 8 o'clock tonight.

The top three prep scorers in the league are playing in that game and will undoubtedly settle the individual scoring race.

Novato' one-two scoring punch of Steve McNalley and Ed Herrnberger are currently one-two in the league, with McNally at 262 points and Herrnberger at 258. But Jerry Piro of Redwood is right behind with 252 points, and a big night by any of the threesome could give one of them the title.

John Howard of San Marin with 247 points has an outside chance, if he goes wild in a game against Tamalpais High School at Mill Valley. He's already scored 34 points in one game.

Bruins In Final Bay Area Showing

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

It's been a great three years for the UCLA basketball team, but it will all be over soon.

Lew Alcindor and his fellow Bruins make their final San Francisco Bay area appearance tonight at Stanford and tomorrow at California. The Bruins will close out the season with a pair against traditional rival USC. Then it's on to the Far West regionals on the Bruins court and undoubtedly a visit March 20 to the NCAA finals at Louisville, Ky.

The amazing Bruins looking for their third straight NCAA title, have won 39 in a row since losing to Houston in the Astrodome in January of 1968.

USC also goes to the Bay Area this weekend while Washington and Washington State call on Oregon and Oregon State.

San Jose State tries to catch Santa Clara in the tough West Coast Athletic Conference chase tonight. The Spartans (8-2) are at UOP and Santa Clara (9-1) calls on Pepperdine in a couple of rugged tests for the front-runners.

USF is at Loyola and Santa Barbara at St. Mary's in more WCAC tiffs.

There's a big one in the Far Western Conference too as San Francisco State and the Cal Aggies match 11-1 conference records and 17-7 season marks.

Long Beach State, the CCAA champ, faces small college powerhouse Nevada Las Vegas in a game that could have implications as to who gets invited to what post-season joust.

In action yesterday, Oregon College beat Oregon Tech 93-84 which gave Southern Oregon the right to represent the Oregon Collegiate Conference in post-season competition.

Rich Curry's 737, Miss Conti Lead Marin Bowlers

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Rich Curry, desk man and junior bowling coach, and red-hot Penny Conti were the star bowlers of the week, and then some, with some great scoring at Country Club Bowl.

Rich, younger brother of Mike, the manager of the San Rafael lanes, rolled 10 straight strikes and a 288 game, followed with a 247 and then a 192 for a 727 in the 821 Scratch League.

Then in the 670 Scratch League, Rich rolled 191, 213 and 277 for a 681 series. But it wasn't all little brother, as Mike rolled his all-time best scores in the 821 Scratch, a 671 series.

Miss Conti, the only woman to roll a 700 series (701) in Marin County bowling, had quite a week. She rolled a 599 series in the Weekenders League, a 596 in the Toppers and a 587 in the Hi-Lo's. In the 615 Classic, she ended up with a 556 set.

GALS YESTERDAY received official approval of scores in the ninth annual Marin County Woman's Bowling Association tournament that ended last weekend. According to official results, all-events winner is Pat Hudnell, 2,043 pins; singles winner is Charlotte Warcup, 701; doubles champ are Shirley Reagan and Pat Weddell, 1,238 and team winner is Holling's Mohawk Service and Garage (Bea Hoffmann, Pat Nakamura, Leemoi Bekey, Sylvia Knutson), 2,444 — all scores including handicaps.

THIS AND THAT — Jim Madsen rolled his first league 200, a 203 in the Thursday Late Mixed at Nave Lanes . . . Among high rollers at Country Club Bowl this week were Jack Nancarrow (169 avg.), 659 in the Elks League; Tony Battaglia (158 avg.), 624 in the Eagles, and Dick Holling, (153 avg., 618 in the TGIF . . . Joan Moore went up the ladder by the tens in the Marin County Mixed Travel League at Nave Lanes, 136-146-156 . . . Among the high rollers at Nave Lanes were Paul Panholzer who rolled a 255 in the 840 Scratch and Myrna Sjoblom who had a 246 in the Women's Invitational Scratch . . . Dot Loux (123 avg.) missed a 124 triplicate by just one pin in the Hi-Lo's, just because she hit her average once . . . El Brice picked up a 6-7-10 split in the Hawaiian League at Nave Lanes.

DOWN THE LANES — First time over the "hurdle" at Nave Lanes include Diane Wayda who rolled a 613 in the Alley Kats No. 1; and Betty Rush, 203 in Swingers A Go-Go, and Claudette Ferriter, even 200 in the St. Isabella's Women's League . . . Patricia Foley, Jill Westly and Pamela Foley won the championship of the Redwood Girls' Athletic League bowling team . . . Bobbie Hoover has a 151 average, so she wasn't expected to roll that 224-177-196 — 597 in the Bowlerettes League at Country Club.

HITS AND MISSES — Patricia Kinney had an all-spare game in the Monday Washday League at Nave Lanes and came out of it with a 182 score . . . In the San Quentin Mixed Fours at Country Club, Betty Nelson picked up the 4-7-10 split and Lee Baker rolled his first 200 game, and even had a pin to spare . . . Pete Bekey had high score in the Weekenders, 244, while Grant Giordani and Jim Carroll each made good on the 6-7-10 split . . . Dori Simeone was star of the Keglerettes League at Country Club Bowl with a 239 game . . . Jerry Stocker led Country Club juniors this week, 574 series, quite a bit higher than his 137 average, and Tony Trowbridge led the Bantams, 176.

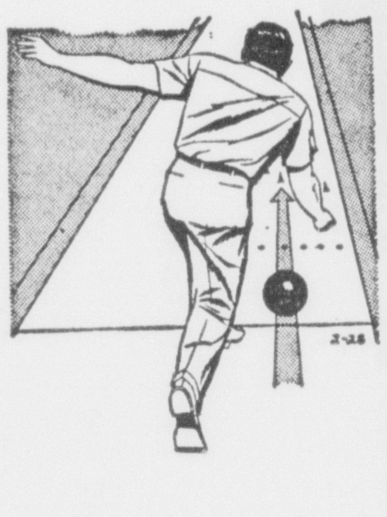
BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



If you find yourself "pointing" the ball too much toward the headpin, use two targets out on the lane instead of one. Instead of just trying to get the ball to roll over a certain arrow, in other words, try to get it to cross two points of reference.

Facing down the alley toward the pins, there will usually be a row of dots in front of the arorows (see illustration).

This two-target system will require you to make a more determined effort to throw the ball straight out, and, thus, you will stop pointing.

Bowler Converts That 7-10 Split

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Richard Gibbons of Belleville, Wis., picked up the 7-10 split while competing in the 66th annual American Bowling Congress championships yesterday.

The 48-year-old bowler slammed the seven pin against the back of the pit and it caromed into the 10.

Gibbons wound up with a 152 game.

Simpson Looking Forward To Bills

HOUSTON (AP) — O.J. Simpson, All-American halfback at Southern California last season, said last night he would prefer to play as a professional in the National Football League "because I grew up in a National League city."

However, he said he was looking forward to playing for the American Football League's Buffalo Bills, who drafted him.

Simpson was guest speaker at the Booker T. Washington High School football awards dinner.

He said he anticipated a quick settlement on his contract with Bills' owner Ralph Wilson, whom Simpson called "a nice man."

Oregon St. Beard Issue Continues

CORVALLIS, Ore. (UPI)— Both sides in the growing dispute over bearded athletes at Oregon State University drew throngs of supporters yesterday at rival noon rallies on the campus.

Some 2,500 persons gathered in the school quad to hear coach Dee Andros, whose order to Negro football player Fred Milton to shave, sparked the controversy.

At a simultanous indoor rally, an overflow crowd of 1,000 persons heard pledges of support from black and white students from sometimes rival University of Oregon.

Dave Robertson, a black UO football player, told the crowd efforts were underway to create an organization of black athletes in the Pacific 8 Conference.

University of Oregon student body president, Dick Jones, also appeared at the inside rally. He introduced Robertson, who reported that black athletes at his school have voted not to compete against OSU until the beard issue was settled to the satisfaction of Oregon State's Negro students.

The two schools are scheduled to meet in basketball March 7 and 8. Three of OSU's four black athletes skipped practice. The fourth was excused.

35 Feet Of Snow For Races

SQUAW VALLEY (AP) — Officials were determined today, in the face of new snows, to get the World Cup ski races under way at Squaw Valley on a record-breaking snow-pack over 35 feet thick with some 130 racers from 13 countries in competition.

The women's slalom was scheduled to start with the first of two runs, alternating with the men's two slalom runs at 10 a.m. PST.

Last night a new snow storm started falling on slopes already laden with a white mantle the size of which never before has been seen in this Sierra Nevada resort area 200 miles northeast of San Francisco.

The new storm picked up in intensity until it began blowing nearly horizontally shortly before midnight. A foot of new snow was expected after midnight.

Australian Karl Schranz leads the men's pack with 158 points. If he wins three more slaloms and two giant slaloms in the current race and two other World Cup events to follow, he will get the highest possible total of 225 points.

Critical Time For Warriors

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A critical weekend series is in store for the San Francisco Warriors who are in the midst of a tight battle for a National Basketball Association playoff berth.

With only a month of action remaining, the Warriors currently hold down the third—and final playoff—spot in the Western Division, just four games ahead of San Diego.

San Francisco will entertain Cincinnati tonight, Phoenix tomorrow and then travel to Los Angeles Sunday.

ARCADIA — "It was beautiful out there. I loved it."

Pretty Tuesdee Testa spoke after becoming the first woman jockey to compete in a regular race at Santa Anita.

Mrs. Testa, 27, didn't have much success, though. She finished last in a nine-horse field aboard Gallarush, a 7-year-old mare, in the seventh race.

"Even though I ate a lot of dirt, this is a wonderful feeling," she said.

Gallarush never was in contention in the 6½ furlong test, finishing 11 lengths behind the winner, Indian Love Call.

FOOTBALL

WASHINGTON — Tom Brown, who has played strong safety for the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League for the past five years, has been traded to the Washington Redskins for an undisclosed draft choice.

The San Rafael-Marin Catholic tussle could be a dilly. The Bulldogs won in overtime last time around on their own court and they'll be facing a pack of frustrated, explosive Wildcats in their own lair.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, CPA

Expenses Of Your Education May Qualify For Education

Wikel

Expenses for education are deductible if you qualify.

The regulations apply to self-employed persons as well as to teachers and other employees.

Expenses for education may be deducted if primarily for:

1. Maintaining or improving skills required in your employment or other trade or business, or

2. Meeting the express requirements of your employer, or the requirements of applicable law or regulations imposed as a condition to the retention of your salary, status or employment.

Expenses incurred for obtaining a new position, meeting minimum requirements, a substantial advancement in position, or for personal purposes are not deductible.

WHERE AND HOW?

Where or how do you deduct these expenses on Form 1040?

If you are an outsiede salsmaen,ee all your educatetio xpeneses are deductible in parte III, page 2, linee 3, eand if you a not an outsid salesman, your travel expenses while away from home overnight are deductible in part III, page 2, line 3, while all other educational expenses are deducted in part IV, page 2, line 16, miscellaneous deductions.

You compute the deduction on Form 2106 and claim both parts of the deduction in two separate places on page 2 of Form 1040, as above.

Be sure to complete Schedule D of Form 2106.

SCHEDULE C

If you are self-employed, your educational expenses are deducted on Schedule C, together with your other business expenses.

If a course leads to a degree this will not, of itself, bar a deduction ofr the expense.

Also, a change of position or a promotion within the same occupation will not bar the deduction.

Educational expenses are still a controversial area and there are many conflicting decisions.

You should secure a copy of "Your Federal Income Tax 1969 Edition for Individuals" from your office of the IRS (cost 60 cents). This will give you the IRS position.

ATLANTA (UPI) — Directors of Rollins, Inc., have declared a quarterly dividend of four and one-half cents per share on common stock, payable April 25 to holders of record March 25. This is equal to nine cents per share in old stock before a recent 2-For-1 Split, on which the company had been paying seven and one-half cents quarterly.

HIGH-PERFORMANCE RAMBLER

Convertible Debentures Complicated; Can Profit

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. How long does one have to hold a $1,000 Tenneco Convertible Bond before one can convert to common shares? Can I assume all are $1,000 bonds? What does 15 per cent premium over conversion value mean? When I convert would the common share value be of that date on the exchange? — G. G.

A. The conversion price is already set when the bond or debenture goes on sale and it may vary during the conversion period. Daily price fluctuations of the common determine whether the bond trades at conversion parity or at a discount or a premium. Bonds are marketed in $1,000 units but quoted according to $100 of face value. A quote of $84 is a discount to $840 for a $1,000 bond; conversely $119 shows a premium of $190. Conversion privileges, including that of Tenneco's 6.25 per cent debenture of 1992, usually run to maturity, although a few companies — like Food Fair mentioned here recently — limit the conversion period.

Tenneco set the conversion price at $10 offering 3.333 shares of its common for each $100 of the debenture's face value. If these prices were in effect today, in their respective markets the debenture would be selling at conversion parity. Currently the shares trade around 30½ and the debenture around 116¾. Three and one-third shares are worth $101.66 so the debenture trades at a 15 per cent premium.

A premium may represent advantages offered by the bond issue, a company's growth potential and the speculative fervor generated thereby. The convertible bond market attracts sophisticated traders for a number of reasons, including lower margin requirements and brokerage rates.

Tenneco common has been in the doldrums for some time, yet the company's diversification moves and the steady uptrend in earnings since 1962 are reflected in the premium being paid for the 6.25 per cent debentures.

Holders of convertible bonds are cautioned to watch for corporate announcements such as calls for redemption, refunding or changes in conversion ratio and expiration of conversion privileges.

THE WEEK IN BUSINESS

East Bay Oil Industry Firm Acquires Oklahoma Company

The Rucker Co. of Oakland will acquire Acme Tool, Inc., of Oklahoma City as a wholly owned subsidiary.

Terms of the acquisition call for the issuance of 10,000 shares of Rucker Series 1 convertible preferred and 143,500 shares of Rucker common stock to negotiate the transaction.

Rucker through other subsidiaries produces a broad range of products for the petroleum drilling industry. The addition of Acme's sales and service centers serving the drilling and production phases of the petroleum industry is expected to strengthen Rucker's operations.

Rucker listed its stock on the New York Stock Exchange last November. Sales for 1968 were $90 million.

AMERICAN EXPRESS CO. directors have approved a 25 per cent increase in the quarterly dividend on the common shares. This moves up the annual rate from 80 cents to $1 per share. The first increased quarterly dividend is payable April 1. Directors also authorized payment on that date of 57.5 cents per share on the $2.30 preferred series and 37.5 cents per share on the $1.50 preferred series.

ARCATA NATIONAL CORP. of Palo Alto will acquire Atlantic Microfilm Corp., Spring Valley, N. Y., in an exchange of stock. Terms are subject to negotiation and approval by directors of both companies and Atlantic shareholders. Arcata provides nationwide printing services, primarily through its subsidiary J. W. Clement Co. of Palo Alto, and processes and sells lumber products.

ROOS ATKINS will open its new nine-story, $8.5 million headquarters store and executive offices at Fourth and Market streets, San Francisco, next Tuesday. A champagne bottle launching will kick off a four-day celebration. Today's chain of Roos Atkins 48 stores traces its origin to the founding of two independent stores in San Francisco in the 1860s, Orr and Atkins (later changed to Robert S. Atkins) and Roos Bros. The two organizations merged in 1958.

JOHN BREUNER CO., Oakland-based home furnishings organization, has reported an increase of 3.9 per cent in net earnings for the 12 months ended Jan. 31, after preferred dividends, earnings per common share amounted to $1.63, compared with $1.69 (on fewer shares) during the preceding year. Sales totaled $46 million, up 5.7 per cent from the previous year.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC CO. directors have approved formation of a holding company which could engage in non-transportation activities. The existing Southern Pacific Co. is planned to be merged into a new Southern Pacific Transportation Co., which will be a wholly-owned subsidiary of a new holding company called S. P. Inc. The plan will be submitted for stockholder approval in May.

POTLATCH FORESTS, INC., San Francisco has begun construction on a new $5.5 million continuous sawdust digester and four-stage bleach plant at its mill in Lewiston, Idaho. It will be used to increase the ratio of sawdust to wood chips in finished paperboard and is expected to produce a smoother product.

HEWLETT-PACKARD CO. of Palo Alto earnings for the three months ended Jan. 31 increased 51 per cent to $3.3 million from the same period the year before. Sales totaled $71 million, a 21 per cent increase. Earnings equalled 42 cents a share compared with 28 cents per share for the same quarter a year ago.

PAN AMERICAN WORLD AIRWAYS, INC. and its consolidated subsidiaries reported $1 billion operating revenues for 1968, up 10 per cent over 1967.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Rainiest Year Mocks Man's Efforts At Control

Storm loss to Marin has been placed at $811,000 in asking for a state emergency declaration to clear the way for federal funds to repair some of the damage.

That was the figure submitted to the state last week by John F. McInnis, chairman of the county board of supervisors. The damage was estimated at $411,000 to public property and $400,000 to private property.

We suspect the figure for private property damage is below the actual loss. Also, neither public nor private figure can be final, for the winter is not yet ended. Hillsides where earth has been turned to mush by the long rains will continue to slide — and may take more houses with them. More trees will fall; seepage will flood more basements; more roofs will spring leaks.

THIS YEAR'S rainy season has been unprecedented. The great January storms of 1967 created more flooding, as did those of February, 1958. But in neither of those years was there so much total rainfall by the end of February as we have had this season.

In fact, there is no year on record with so much accumulated rainfall by the end of February.

Records kept by Crocker-Citizens National Bank and its predecessors, Bank of Marin and First National Bank of San Rafael, run back to 1875-6. In all those years — nearly a century — the greatest rainfall was produced during the rainy seasons of 1889-90, 1940-41, 1957-58, and 1966-67.

But in none of those was there so much rain by the end of February as we have had this season.

IT IS SCARCELY surprising that, with all this soaking, there have been slides that fractured water and sewer lines, undermined houses, uprooted trees, etc. Nor have they shown much regard for whether the houses had been built and the roads and utilities installed to conform to the latest, most restrictive codes.

Houses have slid even where soils tests were required before building permits were let.

The Army Corps of Engineers designed its Corte Madera Creek flood control project "for a 100-year storm." Yet, with much of the project done, there was flooding this month on the Greenbrae Boardwalk.

The Civic Center Lagoon is supposedly a product of the most advanced planning. Yet, although it had been drained, it filled with flood water and claimed the life of a 9-year-old boy.

The list could go on and on.

EVERY BAD storm year brings new restrictions on building and excavating, and new flood-control measures. Some of them pay off. If they had not, there would have been many more catastrophes this year in the greatest rainfall season — to date — as far back as the records run.

But as long as the home with a view is in demand, there will be building on Marin's hills. As long as the population keeps increasing, there will be building on progressively less desirable lowland sites. And hills and lowlands must be gouged to install roads and utilities to serve them.

There should be renewed efforts at uniform building restrictions and better planning as result of this year's experience. But it is well to bear in mind that, as Robert Burns put it: "The best laid plans of mice and men gang aft aglie."

Monkey Flower—Long Bloomer

The common monkey flower is found throughout Marin, along streams and near water seepages, and is one of the earliest blooming and longest blooming of all California wildflowers. In some spots, it starts blooming in January.

Its irregularly toothed flowers are yellow, speckled with brown or red, and are thought by many to have a monkey's face printed on them, hence the name.

The monkey flower is a favorite of some Marin wildflower fanciers.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Complex Budget, Of Huge Size, Gives Collier Tremendous Task

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — As chairman of the state Senate Finance Committee, Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, is beginning to realize what a vast task he took on when he succeeded the late Sen. George Miller to what is considered the most important post in the upper house.

Senator Collier has for some years been a member of the finance committee, and is the legislator with the most service in either the Senate or Assembly. Because of this long service, dating back to 1939, there probably is no senator more qualified to handle and dissect the more than $6 billion in appropriations asked for during the 1969-70 fiscal yearl

SOME OF THE complexities are pointed out by Senator Collier.

"California has lost, fortunately," he says, "a percentage point in prestige. Our state now only ranks fifth in having the highest budget in the world! New York has superseded us in having the fourth highest.

"Nevertheless, we are still faced with the task of meeting a record $6.225 billion budget to run the state of California.

"What few people realize is approximately 58 per cent of the budget, which on paper is about the size of the Chicago telephone directory, is untouchable by legislative action because of constitutional provisions, primarily for education, and statutory limitations.

"Even with these provisions, this still leaves a whopping $2,602,484,126 to be authorized for expenditure by the two houses of the Legislature.

"There are over 400 separate items to be heard by the senate finance committee. As chairman, I have assigned the study items to five sub-committees for deliberation to expedite the process of obtaining a budget acceptable to everyone concerned.

"OF THE VARIOUS items to be considered, statewide spending for education remains the leader with the proposed figure being $1,622,290,000 for general education, and an additional $725,060,000 slated for higher education, for a total of $2,397,350,000.

"Next highest cost to California is the health and welfare program which is proposed by the governor's version of the budget to allot $1,303,500,000 during the next fiscal year.

"It is very difficult for the average person to visualize $6.2 billion, and justifiably so. However, someone pointed out that if the California budget was turned into dollar bills and laid end to end, it would go around the world 4.5 times!"

In a straight line, this would be roughly 112,500 miles or better than half-way to the moon.

This might be a matter of contemplation for California's taxpayers, who are called upon to provide state money or federal funds returned here after the federal government in Washington siphons off administrative costs and splits what's left among 50 states of the union.

Trip To Mexico Worthwhile Project

As a taxpayer living in the Sausalito School District who has no children, I wish to support the trip to Mexico planned by the Spanish Club of the Martin Luther King School.

The Sausalito school system may have many fallacies, but this program is not one of them.

The teachers who volunteer to chaperone this trip are to be commended. Imagine riding from here to Mazatlan, Mexico, through the summer heat of the desert with over 50 children in a school bus! That is what I call dedication.

These children are working hard to raise $3,750 for this trip. They are asking for a school bus, truck and one driver, which would amount to approximately $1,900.

This will be the second time this trip is undertaken. Evaluation of the first trip proved this to be a valuable teaching experience in good neighbor policy, geographical, social and language differences . . .

Save That Algae For Chlorophyll

I recently heard a striking statistic; namely, that there is more chlorophyll in an acre of one-half inch algae mat in a mudflat than there is in an acre of forest. Certain portions of our Bay have such algal mats in the mudflats. This dramatizes the importance of not filling these areas, in these days of increasing air pollution. It looks as though we'll all breathe easier if we send our dollar to Save San Francisco Bay Association, Box 925, Berkeley, and thus join those who are now urging the State Legislature to create a successor agency to the Bay Conservation and Development Commission, whose life expires this year.

Fire Protection Needs Wider View

The recent announcement by the Tamalpais Fire Protection District Board of their proposed improvement bond issue of $800,000 is a matter of concern to all residents of southern Marin County. I support the need for improved fire protection services, but stongly disapprove of the helter-skelter fashion with which service is provided in some areas and not in others in our county. Adequate fire protection requires the cooperation and coordination of fire departments. Before the $800,000 bond issued is permitted to go to the voters, I would urge the county to publicity review:

1. What is an adequate level of service for Marin County residents to expect and receive from the responsble agency providing fire protection?

2. Should not all fire vehicles in the county be dispatched from a central communications center, regardless of jurisdictional boundaries, therby permitting the nearest fire engine to respond to the fire first?

3. Responsibility of the Marin County Fire Department and it's relationship to the unincorporated urban pockets, and the level of service they provide them; and

4. What savings could be achieved through the creation of a Southern Marin Fire Protection District incorporating all existing fire districts and municipalities into one unified deaprtment? . . .

Crusade Continues Agency's Support

In the Feb. 22 I-J an article appeared about our Family Service Agency asking for county funds to pay for cases referred by the probation department. The brief I-J report misinterpreted and misquoted my presentation.

I was reported as having "told the Mental Health Advisory Board that services would be drastically cut unless funds which are no longer coming from the United Bay Area Crusade were replaced."

This is not accurate. FSA received $56,616 from the United Crusade in 1968. The Crusade increased its allocation to our agency for 1969 by $1,700 to $58,316. The major source of support of our service has been and continues to be the contributions given to the United Crusade.

FSA did have to retrench one professional position out of seven in 1969. The position was financed by the Marin Charitable Foundation for two years to extend our work with troubled Marin adolescents.

The reported I-J article spelled out that the county should pay probation department referrals to FSA. What was asked by our agency is further consideration of various possible contracts with the county. . .

Reader Questions Report's Accuracy

A good example of irresponsible reporting was the article re Mr. Zucker and the grand jury's conclusion of him and his office.

This was a case of the I-J making the news; something they claim they never do. "We don't make the news, we only report it," they have frequently stated. Honest reporting would have quoted from the report. In this way we could have judged both the grand jury and Mr. Zucker. Printing a reporters' opinion is editorializing in the worst manner. Your reporter said the grand jury accused Mr. Zucker of being arrogant, (something I have never found him to be,) Mr. Zucker said the report didn't say that. What is the truth? Is Mr. Zucker wrong and does the I-J owe its readers a retraction?

(Editor's note: As to the accuracy of the article, reader Moody is referred to the letter in "What Our Readers Say" of Feb. 25 by Warren H. Williams, secretary of the grand jury. Or it is suggested that he get a copy of the grand jury report at the county clerk's office and read it himself.)

TRY AND STOP ME

A collector of back issues of that wonderful war-time serviceman's magazine, "Yank," has unearthed therin one of Sgt. George Baker's funniest cartoons. It depicts a perplexed private ripping at least a hundred multigraphed orders and notices from a regimental bulletin board and finally coming to this one at the bottom of the heap: "Notice: All men will fall out at nine this morning and proceed to cross the Delaware. (Signed) Gen. Geo. Washington."

THE DRUMMONDS

Nixon Sticks To Middle Road In Problem–Solving Approach

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — President Nixon's actions are beginning to speak louder than his words.

He is beginning to build his record and so far it is almost wholly on the side of progressive, moderate-liberal, social-minded action.

There is little in it to please the ultra-right and nothing in it to satisfy the radical left.

Evidence is mounting that Mr. Nixon is moving to hold the widest possible span at the political center and these actions show how he is doing it:

FOR THE FIRST time a U.S. attorney general has sued to close a business firm for polluting the air. The President's attorney general, the supposedly very conservative John Mitchell, brought the suit.

For the first time the U.S. Department of Agriculture is giving free food stamps to the very poor to combat hunger — a pilot project designed to be extended. Former Sec. of Agriculture Orville Freeman failed to do so, said he didn't have the authority. Sec. of Agriculture Clifford Hardin found the authority and used it.

HEW Sec. Robert Finch, after first giving southern school districts extra time they wanted to plan desegregation, is showing he intends to apply the law hard and faithfully—south and north.

Sec. of the Interior Walter Hickel has yet to prove how much of a conservationist he is, but he is proving that he is not the prisoner of the oil industry. He quickly took action to deal with the offshore drilling mess at Santa Barbara for which his predecessor, Stewart Udall, was gracious enough to say he had responsibility.

ON A MOST difficult problem — how to arrest the tide of inflation — Mr. Nixon is assuring the nation that he considers it vital not to take action which will "sacrifice the high level of employment." He intends to slow down inflation by a variety of fiscal devices but not at the expense of jobs. The President wrote a personal letter to George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, affirming this.

One reason Mr. Nixon asserts for maintaining high employment is that "it is required if we are to attain a measureable degree of success in tackling the problem of poverty."

In his first message to Congress on domestic affairs the President pledged "priority attention" in dealing with poverty, especially the lot of the nation's poorest and youngest children.

And, finally, the Nixon Administration is readying more vigorous antitrust action — not because it is antibusiness but because it is procompetition.

MR. NIXON'S actions in foreign affairs are also pleasing to the political center.

He is moving steadily to redeem his central foreign policy campaign pledge — that he would seek to open an "era of negotiation" with the Communits world. He is already acting to widen the range of talks with the Soviet Union by including political as well as arms control issues. His trip to Western Europe is not alone to strengthen the NATO alliance but through consultation with our allies to prepare the way for meeting with the Russians.

Mr. Nixon is also giving his support sooner than many expected to ratification of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty. And he is showing a significant patience with the motionless peace talks in Paris, indicating that the last thing he wants is to have to resume the bombing of North Vietnam.

THE FOREGOING can only be a tentative, interim report on the direction President Nixon is taking. Its coloration could change. Unexpected crises could throw it off balance and radically alter the picture.

But thus far the evidence is nearly uniform that the Nixon start is progressive in the Theodore Roosevelt tradition, a mix of moderate-liberal and moderate-conservative policy aimed at solving the nation's problems, not neglecting them.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Nixon Seeks To Halt Threat Of 'Soybean War'

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — President Nixon, in his top-level talks with government leaders in European capitals, is planning to discuss a wide range of vital mutual interests — including soybeans.

Almost unnoticed, soybeans have become a very vital mutual interest. Some authorities here and abroad think they could furnish the opening battleground for a damaging and disruptive trade war between the United States and the six-nation European Ecomonic Community.

The Common Market is considering a consumption tax on soybean meal and soybean oil. Common Market nations have built up a huge butter surplus, and they want to check imports of vegetable oils which are used to manufacture margarine.

A consumption tax is not technically a tariff. Nevertheless the tax is viewed here as a device to curb imports and a violation — at least in spirit — of international trade agreements.

THE AGRICULTURE Department describes the proposed Common Market action as the U.S. farmer's "most important trade problem" with respect to markets in Europe. Congressional leaders have been sharply critical.

At a White House meeting last week before Mr. Nixon's departure for Europe, the President discussed the soybean problem with House and Senate leaders.

Even before the White House meeting, Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, had offered a resolution warning of "retaliatory action" by the U.S.

CURBS on the import of European cars, typewriters and the like in reprisal for the consumption tax are what the trade experts would like to avoid. Reprisals breed counter-reprisals and the result could be a full-fledged trade war involving, among other things, additional U.S. farm products.

Illinois and Arkansas are among the major soybean producing states. Others are Iowa, Minnesota, Indiana, Louisiana, Ohio and Kansas. Production has been booming.

In 1967 the United States sent $447 million worth of soybean products to the six nations of the Common Market. That was about one-third of all exports to the European Economic Community, and it accounted for about one-fifth of U.S. soybean production.

The threat of a "soybean war" is reminiscent of a 1962 "chicken war" which developed after the Europeans acted to curb imports of broiler chickens. The U.S. responded by increasing tariffs on certain automobile types and brandy.

The memory of the "chicken war" brings no happiness to soybean producers, however. Trade experts contend the U.S. has never regained its share of the market for broilers (in Germany, for example) which was lost in 1962.

Tiburon Drug Forum Turns Out To Be Just Drug On The Market

The turnout last week for the Tiburon Peninsula's newly named citizens committee on drug abuse was disappointing for the six committee members.

Expecting a full house at the Belvedere City Hall, the committee had scheduled talks by representatives of the county drug abuse bureau, the sheriff's juvenile bureau, and local police agencies.

In the audience were two Reed School District trustees who had helped organize the committee, a school board candidate, committee chairman Gordon C. Wright's wife, and three other interested citizens.

The committee was formed last month by the cities of Belvedere and Tiburon and the Reed School District Board because of citizen concern with the growing drug use by peninsula teen-agers.

Discouraged, but still determined to confront the problem, the committee has decided to focus on education and discipline and has asked Tiburon Peninsula residents, especially parents, to express their views on how the problem should be handled. The next meeting has not been scheduled but one will be held soon, committee members promise.

HOW TIMES don't change: A belated end-of-the-year housecleaning in the Mill Valley bureau turned up these clippings: "Supervisors Act on Mired Docks" dated Feb. 22, and referring, of course, to those daisy-decorated drydocks in Richardson Bay off Sausalito; and "Saucelito Canal Gains Momentum," dated April 14, 1967. Momentum to nowhere, we'd say.

ALTHOUGH Mill Valley's a good sized city by Marin County standards (its 12,500 population outnumbers Sausalito, Belvedere and Tiburon in southern Marin alone), it still has some characteristics of the old-time small town.

One such small town touch is the Miller Avenue breakfasts sponsored monthly by the First Baptist Church at 285 Miller Avenue. Last week the February breakfast announcement was distributed as usual to Locust-Miller Avenue businessmen by Rev. John A. MacDonald, accompanied by his large Labrador retriever.

"Get acquainted with your business and professional neighbors with the help of bacon, eggs, coffee, juice and cinnamon rolls . . . A welcome is extended to anyone who has a profession, operates a business or is employed in the Miller Avenue community," says the invitation.

This month's breakfast, held yesterday between 7 and 8 a.m., included the above-mentioned cinnamon rolls, bacon and eggs, juice and coffee, all for 50 cents. It's a great way to start the day, according to the Rev. MacDonald and all those who have attended.

BELVEDERE firemen turned out at 4:40 a.m. last week with their usual dispatch (whoever arrives first at the fire station gets to drive the fire truck) only to find their early morning alarm had been caused not by fire but by a short circuit. However, all was not lost for another alarm came in while everyone was still grumbling — this one for two trees at 170 Madrona Avenue ignited by falling Pacific Gas and Electric Co. kwires during the height of the storm.

It was a rare coincidence for volunteer firemen of that small community, who seldom get more than 20 calls all year.

County Schools Budgets Ready

The special education budget is being compiled and is expected to be considered in April, Byron Mauzy, business services director at the county schools office, said.

Also on the agenda is the adoption of the 1969-70 school calendar.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

So You've Been Hornswoggled? You Ain't Seen Nothin' Yet

Fusselman

When arrangements were being made in 1965 for me to write this column, I asked just what sort of things I should write about and was told, along with a rather broad field: "You might even want to disagree with some editorials. That would be good and the readers undoubtedly would appreciate it."

Today I am not exactly disagreeing with a couple of recent ones, but see the subject matter in an additional light. The one on "Hornswoggling" brought back 12-year-old memories.

WHEN THE THEN administrator (Bruce's boss at that time) told the board that with the $550,000 on hand they could start the Civic Center building program and that there would be enough money on hand by 1961, boy oh boy was his computer out of whack.

Then a year later Frank Lloyd Wright estimated that it would cost $2,742,000 for the first unit and $1,400,000 for the second. Those figures and what they stood for were always somewhat nebulous to me.

Well, you read in the column last week the figures that Auditor-Controller Mike Mitchell presented to the board — a total of just under $20 million for the Administration Building and the Hall of Justice, and this was without the interest on the bond issue, which I listed separately — an item of $3,242,751. So, without the county fair-veterans building the figure is $24,222,009.

In another report, referred to in the editorial, Mike comes up with a figure of $3,961,731 for this "Marin County Fair-Veterans Memorial Building Project." This makes a total of $28,183,740.

MY REASON for emphasizing the "Marin County Fair-Veterans Memorial Building Project" by quote marks was this: I have a sneaking suspicion that "we ain't heard nothin' yet." Those of you who were around during March of 1958 will remember that the overall grand plan which Wright presented to the board included a three and one-half acre structure with a colored plastic roof and pyramidal pilasters to hold it up. This was for typical county fair displays. I don't believe that idea has been discarded. Certainly the veterans building arrangement is not large enough.

You see, three and one-half acres is an area equal to the courthouse square plus the I-J's property running from A to B Street on Fifth Avenue. The cost of that structure was estimated six or seven years ago as $3 million plus, which takes us considerably over the $30 million mark.

WHEN I WAS a pre-teen-age kid I would dream over and over, for years, that there would be an indefinable spherical mass floating like a balloon just in front of me and when I would reach for it, I could never reach around the thing. It seemed to expand to infinity.

That's what is happening now, folks, and we are not dreaming either. It's for real.

Last Tuesday: "Courthouse Land Swap Worth Examination." This editorial was well put together, in my opinion. The point being made that if more land was really needed out at Brasilia land acquired now should be worth more in a few years, that "everybody including county officials keep telling us that the price of land in Marin can go no way but up."

This reasoning should apply to the courthouse square as well. But is it being? I would like to discuss this soon if possible.

Red Cross Spends $600 On Storm Victim Families

Red Cross flood disaster emergency assistance totaling more than $600 has been spent to aid four Marin families who were victims of the storm which pounded Marin Jan. 17 through 21.

The money went for emergency shelter, clothing and food, according to Paul Anderson, disaster case worker for the Marin County Chapter of the Red Cross.

Two of the families were Sausalito houseboat dwellers who were flooded out and the other two were Fairfax residents, who were victims of slides, Anderson said.

The four families and one other were also instructed on how to get other aid.

A total of $30,000 was committed to aid 1,659 families after the January floods largely in Southern California and more is now being spent for families who have been forced to evacuate in the February floods.

The largest Red Cross operation is in Santa Paula, Ventura County where 1,575 people are being cared for. More than 3,000 others are being housed and fed in 26 Red Cross centers in the central valley, San Jose and Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside, San Bernardino and San Luis Obispo counties.

Citizens Ask Dixie School Budget Cuts

The Citizens Finance Study Group recommended Wednesday night that the Dixie School District's expenditures for next fiscal year be cut by between $110.500 and $130,500.

Irwin Taranto, chairman of the finance study group, suggested several cuts including reduction in capital outlay, in the portion of the budget administered by the principals and their staffs, in the summer school program, in data processing processing work, and by reducing the number of primary reading specialists.

Trustees took the recommendations under submission.

The Dixie School District trustees also:

SALARY — Heard from Kenneth Groth, chairman of the teachers negotiating council, that he will have more information on the teachers' request for salary raise at the next meeting, March 12.

MONTECILLO — Approved San Rafael's plan for development of Montecillo Road adjacent to Don Timoteo School.

WINDBREAK — Approved planting plans for a windbreak for the Oak View School site in San Rafael Park.

GROUP PIANO — Agreed to add a new group piano class at Vallecito School for the balance of this school yeal. Sherman and Clay Co. of San Rafael will provide 10 pianos, with the district to pay only for the cost of tuning, which comes to about $150 per year.

MUSIC FESTIVAL — Authorized the music staff to hold the annual spring music festival for instrumental classes at the College of Marin gymnasium on May 17.

CLOSED MEETING — Held a closed meeting to discuss six probationary teachers, whose performances had been questioned. Supt. Dennie B. Willis said no action was taken, and none of the six is likely to be dropped.

Black Students Provided Books

Textbooks have been provided 23 black students attending College of Marin through a speaking tour fund-raising drive by two college officials, Robert A. Clark reported yesterday.

Clark, assistant placement and financial aids officer, said he and Eva Turner, community black students liaison coordinator, set a goal of $2,150 for books for 43 students. Of this, $900 has been contributed, and $50 in book money given to 23 students.

The quest for money for the other 20 students will continue, said Clark. Contributors include the Black Students Union which raised $200 at its Malcolm X Day last Friday, three church groups and an anonymous private donor.

Many Teachers Not In Classroom Roles

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

The San Rafael city schools have the second highest percentage of certificated employees devoting their time to tasks other than teaching among the 21 city school districts in California.

Tamalpais High School District has the fourth highest percentage of certificated personnel engaged in nonteaching of the 88 high school districts in the state.

For every 100 teachers in the San Rafael schools, there are 25.9 certificated persons doing nonteaching duties. By contrast, in the Petaluma city schools there are only 14.1 nonteaching certificated persons per 100 classroom teachers. Statewide, among city school districts, there are 17.4 nonteachers per 100 teachers.

For every 100 teachers in Tamalpais High School District, there are 25.2 certificated nonteaching employees —nearly the same as in the San Rafael schools. Statewide among the 88 high school districts, there are 16.5 nonteachers per 100 teachers.

Among the city school systems, San Rafael's ratio of nonteachers is exceeded only by Alhambra, in Los Angeles County, with 30.4 nonteachers per 100 teachers.

Among high school districts, the Tamalpais ratio is exceeded only by Analy in Sonoma County, 26.8; Sierra in Fresno County, 35.9, and Lemoore in Kings County, 36.4.

These figures are contained in a report by Dr. Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, presented to the Legislature in accordance with a requirement of the Education Code. All figures are as of last April 1, according to the report.

Marin Junior College District is far above the state average in proportion of nonteaching certificated persons, the report shows. It has 21.3 persons holding teaching certificates but doing other jobs for every 100 teachers. Statewide among 58 junior colleges districts, the figure is 16.9 per 100.

Most elementary school districts in Marin are below the statewide ratio in such districts of 13.2 nonteachers per 100 teachers. Five of them, however, are above the state average:

Sausalito, 20.4 non-teachers per 100 teachers; Kentfield, 19.4; Mill Valley, 14.8; Larkspur, 14.7; Fairfax, 14.3.

The ratio of nonteachers to teachers varies widely. In the 507 elementary school districts listed, it ranges from a high of 31.4 in LaHabra, Orange County, to a low of zero. Two Rock District in southern Sonoma County is among those with no nonteaching certificated persons, the superintendent-principal being actually a "principal teacher."

Marin's only unified school district, Novato, reported 15.9 nonteachers per 100 teachers, just under the statewide ratio in 225 unified districts of 16 per 100.

The nonteaching certificated persons perform various jobs: superintendent, assistant superintendent, principal, sometimes assistant principals, deans (in high schools), counsellors, supervisors, curriculum consultants, psychologists, etc.

Nationwide, the percentage of nonteachers among school faculties has been increasing over the years. Figures of the U. S. Office of Education show that the number of supervisor personnel in the public schools increased from 21,000 in 1919-20 to 92,000 in 1963-64, or an increase of four and one-half times. In the same period, the number of classroom teachers increased from 657,000 to 1,625,000, or an increase of only about two and one-half times.
